Ambos and Bunn
Will Head S. G. A.

Ambos Ambos of Savannah and Ruth Bunn of Douglas were elected president and vice-president of the Student Government Association of G. S. W. C.

Emma Ambos has been prominent as a leader on the campus since her freshman year when she was the freshman council member. She was president of her sophomore class last year and is at present vice-president of the Student Government Association. Majoring in biology and minor- ing in chemistry, she is an honor student and a member of the Math-Science Club.

As president of her sophomore class this year, Ruth Bunn has been recognized as a leader. She is a mathematics major, a member of the Math-Science Club, and an honor student.

Other nominees eliminated in the first election were Eloise Ogletree of Savannah for president, Virginia Zippies of Savannah and Ruth Williams of Waycross for vice-president.

Deputation Team Leads Assembly

The deputation team of the Y. W. C. A. for this quarter gave its first program in the Rotunda on Wednesday morning during the assembly period. The team will also present the same program at the Trinity Methodist Church in Waycross on Sunday morning.

'Seniors Broadcast From WWL

The senior class trio sang in the Blue Room of the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans on Friday night. They were on the college night program and sang an arrangement of popular and college songs. Leonora Dufour accompanied them.

The trio consists of Pearl Wilson, also Joy Miller, soprano, and Evelyn May, second soprano.

The trio and pianist broadcast Friday at 3:00 p.m. and Saturday at 11:00 a.m. over Station WWL at the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans. In the afternoon broadcast they gave an arrangement of Georgia college songs and Saturday morning they sang "Georgia Rocking Chair," Feather in the Breeze," and "Solitude."

Jackie Studstill Makes All-American Team

Jackie Studstill, star player on the Lambda basketball team, has been placed on the All-American selections in basketball for the 1934-1935 season. The Central States Basketball Association each season sponsors Medal tournaments, in all sections of the United States. The outstanding player of each team is awarded a medal and become possible candidates for All American selection. Jackie is listed on the girls All American team as a guard. She is the only player from Georgia to receive this honor.

Freshmen Present An Amateur Night

Saturday night the freshman class initiated the Major Bowes Amateur Night Series with a successful imitation of this popular program. C. J. Morris made a very effective Major Bowes, whose witcisms kept the audience laughing.

The guest artist was Miss Grace Allen, impersonated by Virginia Smith. First place went to Margaret Carter who played and sang "Beautiful Lady in Blue." Catharine Wilson won second place with a very interesting Indian reading. Third place was won by Lou Grevenberg who tap danced. The judges came to their decision entirely through the applause of the audience.

Bunn and Ogletree Speak at Vespers

Last Thursday evening a very appropriate program was presented at Vespers honoring President Roosevelt on his 54th birthday. Eloise Ogletree gave an account of his many beneficial accomplishments during his administration.

On Sunday evening the program was based on the subject "The Sacredness of Friendship." Ruth Bunn led the services.

Math-Science Club Holds Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Math-Science Club was held last week in the House in the Woods. In the absence of both president and vice-president on the senior trip, Lois Hafford, secretary, presided. After the short business session, a program of several talks was presented.

They were: "The Meaning of Mathematics," Ruth Bunn; "How Far Can We See," Bernice Andrews; "The Story of Ore Deposits," Caroline Greene.

Following these talks refreshments were served during an informal social period.

Charm School

The annual charm school of the Y. W. C. A. will open on Monday. The programs will center around activities that contribute to the charm of college girls. Speakers from the faculty and student body will take part on the program which will last for three days.

Emory Junior Presents Artist Lecture

Carlton Palmer, noted traveler, educator, and adventurer will speak at the Emory Junior College Auditorium this evening on "The Joy of Pictures." His lectures will be accompanied by fifty illustrations, including original paintings by foremost artists. Mr. Palmer has spent a number of years travelling and collecting the pictures which form the basis of the collection. The admission prices will be 25c and 35c.

Miss Louise Sawyer will entertain the members of her expression classes by taking them to the lecture.

Chapel Sportsmanship
(Reprinted from The Crimson Rambler, Transylvania)

Good sports walk right into chapel and take their places to listen to good speakers, poor speakers, small talkers and tall talkers; and good sports listen with a respectful mind even though they cannot always be enthusiastic.

A person who "knows" that although one cannot always salvage a worthwhile thought from one speech full of boring, unoriginal phrases; one can show good breeding and follow the "do unto other" rule, by being a "good" listener.

Any speaker knows when he has lost his audience, therefore, we are not being fair to him by delving into a psychology book while he gives the best of his thought and time for our own good.

Do we know our etiquette? Are we showing the marks of well educated people? As a whole, we are not. Sixty-three per cent of the chapel audience has brought with them the chapel with notes, books or books in their lap, and occasionally writes a letter home to the family. We are missing a chance to show good breeding, good sportsmanship, and good social courtesy.

After all, life itself isn't always a perfect setup, but the man who can steer his ship wisely and well, and keep his sails up when the wind goes calm, is the man who makes the harbor safely and well. And it's always worth remembering that a college education will never do more for us than we do ourselves.—(Reprinted from The Maker Orange.)

LILY PONS WILL RIVAL GRACE MOORE

By PRISCILLA KELLEY

On February 10-11, the picture we've been waiting for—"Petified Forest"—the Breed of original Broadway, hit the stage at the Ritz. Leslie Howard is among them.

Lily Pons, the Metropolitan star who makes you wonder why you liked Grace Moore, is coming soon in "I Dream Too Much."

The Yacht Club Boys, who made such a hit in "Million Dollar" will have made several shorts. One of the best is "Vodka Boattman."

"Celing Zero" was excellent entertainment with the exception of James Cagney. He brings too much cockiness with him. Howard Hawks, the famous war ace, directed it. Perhaps that accounts for all the correct technicalities in the picture.

Supreme Court Steals Spotlight from Congress

By ARNOLD SERWER
(associated collegiate press corps)

Washington, D. C.—The Supreme Court by means of the recent AAA decision has completely stolen the spotlight from, both Congress and government executives here, from the standpoint of a monopoly of both front page news space and the daily conversation of everyone in Washington. Among the young people here who hold government jobs there is understandable sympathy for "Dnoon," however there is a great variety of opinion as to both the motives for the decision, what steps should now be taken, and as to the value of the Constitution and the Supreme Court to a nation struggling with modern economic problems.

The young government lawyers, not long out of college, are constantly being harrased in discussions by friends demanding that they throw legal light on the decision. How does the Court come to read such and such a record into such and such a clause in the Constitution? And right there the lawyers throw up their hands and say, "Your guess is as good as mine."

Older heads than theirs have failed to reconcile certain illogicalities between this decision and past decisions. One thing the lawyers agree on is that the Constitution is, as interpreted variously at different times by different Supreme Court justices, sometimes as flexible as a rubber band, and sometimes as unbending as a bar of iron. The aptest remark heard about the Constitution so far was to the effect that from the standpoint of causing controversy and the creation of dogma as to interpretations of every word and clause the Constitution has the Scriptures beaten all hollow.

The young New Deal lawyers see a confusing time ahead. The New Deal, in order to attain any of its objects, will have to write laws full of circumlocution. To move from A to B they will have to state that their purpose is to get to C, not on the direct route to B. As for an amendment, the Court cannot conceive of one broad enough to give the Administration the right to do all the things it has done and would like to do, and with the Court taking their present stand they do not feel sure that such an amendment, even if written, passed, and eventually ratified, will of which is very doubtful, would be interpreted in a manner favorable to their plans. Congress does not give up the "Million Dollar" as another way out, is also easier said than done. Any such legislation would cause a long, bitter fight between the Republicans plus the conservative Democrats versus the liberals and the liberal Democrats. Right now the anti-New Dealers feel that the Supreme Court is worth more to them than a contribution from the DuPonts.
Ohio State University Will Get Cash

Columbus, Ohio—(ACP) — Disastrous consequences for Ohio State University were narrowly averted last week when the state legislature unanimously passed a new biennium appropriation bill restoring most of the items vetoed by Gov. Martin L. Davey from the original budget submitted last May.

Because the veto included provisions for such items as fuel and salaries, fears that the university would be forced to close were commonly expressed.

Included in the state restorations were $100,000 for fuel and $2,594,000 for salaries, $50,000 for building repairs, $63,000 for educational and recreational supplies and $65,000 for other maintenance items.

Students Hang Supreme Court Dummies

Ames, Iowa—(ACP) — The six Supreme Court justices whose majority opinion doomed the AAA were hung effigy by agricultural students of Iowa State College here immediately after the “unconstitutional” verdict was delivered.

College authorities were unable to offer information helpful to the police, whose investigation proved fruitless.

Placards on the figures, which were draped with graduation gowns in imitation of the black robes of the Supreme Court, designated Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes and Justices Sutherland, Van Devanter, McReynolds, Roberts and Butler.

Song and Dance Causes Row

Bethlehem, Pa.—(ACP)—What band played Military Ball?

That’s what they are asking at Lehigh recently when it began to be rumored that an Allentown orchestra had been substituted, at the last moment, for Joe Haymes, presumably to he the financial betterment of the dance committee.

Committee members were quick to deny it, however, depositing that Haymes had been forced to use the local band’s music stands because he didn’t bring his own.

FRESHMAN QUESTIONNAIRE AND SURVEY ANSWERS VOCATIONAL QUESTIONS

How many parents of G. S. W. C. freshmen are native Georgians? What profession is most represented and which least? How much education did they receive? Will the present freshman class follow in the vocational footsteps of their fathers, and what is the favorite occupation among them? All of these questions are answered in the following account based on a recent survey and questionnaire of the freshman class.

Eighty per cent of the class have parents who are native Georgians, while twenty per cent of them have parents born in four other Southern states, five Northern states, Canada and Ireland. There are six nationalities represented: American, English, German, Canadian, and French.

Since the Georgia State Woman's College is situated in the midst of the agricultural belt, it is quite reasonable for students attending this institution to come from families whose occupation is farming. This fact at least holds true among the freshman class as indicated by the recent survey which showed that out of twenty-nine occupations, thirty-one per cent of the members of the class represent the farm. Merchants and those employed by the government tie for second place, being represented by eighteen per cent. Merchants and those employed by the government tie for second place, being represented by eighteen per cent. Thirty per cent are employed by various firms. Those whose professions are least represented, that is less than five per cent are: physicians, professional athletes, mechanics, school superintendents, architects, lawyers and ministers.

The present members of the freshman class have greater educational opportunities than their parents. There were fifteen per cent of the parents who graduated from grammar school, twelve per cent from vocational schools, forty-six per cent from high school, and thirty per cent from college. As to just what the present freshman class will make of their college training is partly revealed in a recent questionnaire given them in a freshman conference. The results indicate that the freshmen do not show as varied vocational interests as their fathers. The freshmen chose only eighteen vocations, the most popular being that of teaching—thirty-five per cent of the class wished to become teachers. The next most popular vocational is in the field of home economics preferred by twenty-two per cent of the freshmen. A most surprising thing is that out of all the members, only one wishes to be a home-maker. Nineteen per cent had rather enter the business world. The remaining twenty-four per cent of the undecided among them are rather promising actresses, artists, physicians, and even an aviatix.

Scientists Plan To Watch Corona

Cambridge, Mass.—(ACP)—Setting up their instruments east of Siberia, American scientists hope to pierce the mystery of the solar corona—that irregular "ocean of flame" extending millions of miles beyond the surface of the sun.

Visible only during a total eclipse of the sun, the corona will next put on its show June 19, but already Harvard astronomers have arranged for front row seats.

The eclipse will not be visible from the western hemisphere. Starting in the Mediterranean, the 75-mile wide belt of total darkness will sweep east-ward across Greece, the Black Sea, Siberia, Manchuria and northern Japan.

The Harvard scientists, now busy assembling apparatus near the town of Aikolak, in the southern Ural mountains north of the Caspian Sea, hope that studies of the invisible infra-red rays in the spectrum of the corona will solve the mystery. They believe that oxygen may be responsible for the appearance of the corona.

Columbia's class of 1935 is 75 per cent employed.
