Carson Sweeps Votes in May Queen Election; Kelley is Maid

Evidence that students prefer blond queens, at least on this campus, was proved at the election of May Queen held Wednesday, when Frances Carson was decisively voted to rule at the An­ held Wednesday, when Frances Carson proved at the election of May Queen

Kelley, who received the next highest number of votes was maid-of-honor. Miss Carson, who comes from Talbot­ ton, Georgia, is about five feet four inches tall, has long golden-blond hairs, and grey-green eyes.

Miss Kelley, of Savannah, is about five feet two, a medium blond, with grey eyes.

This election was based on three qualities,—beauty, poise, and charm. Consideration was also given the personality of the girl, and how much of her time as well as herself she had contributed to campus life.

The four girls receiving the next highest number of votes are in order: Catherine Morgan, Pembroke; Josephine Joubert, Savannah; Ruth Williams, Waycross; and Margaret Dalton, Valdosta. In all nineteen seniors was given one or more votes for May Queen. Miss Leonora Ivey, Director of the Physical, will have charge of the May Day program through her department. This festival will be held in connection with Play-Day, May-Day, the latter bein­ ing in the afternoon of the appointed day.

Five Faculty Members Sponsor Program

VICTORIA REGINA IS SUBJECT TO THOMASVILLE

Lawrence Housman and his play “Victoria Regina” were featured by faculty members of G. S. W. C. at a meeting of the Womans Club in Thomasville on Thursday afternoon. Miss Gertrude

Gilmer offered a constructive criticism and review and Miss Louise Sawyer read three excerpts from the drama which is currently starring Helen Hayes in New York.

Victoria Regina is now in its second year of an almost phenomenal run on Broadway. It depicts episodes in the life of the great English queen which span the years of her lengthy reign from youth to old age.

The musical score on for the afternoon was given by Miss Clara Bancroft and Mrs. Frances Pardee. Miss Bancroft sang “Dawn” and “When I Have Sung

My Songs” by Charles Ernest. Mrs.

Pardee gave a violin solo. They were accompanied at the piano by Miss Gladys

Warren.

At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served by the Woman’s Club.

When the faculty members started to leave for Valdosta they were presented with a number of Azalea cuttings which they said “were to be planted in front of the new dormitory.”

“Nuts” Says the Faculty. Not

Valentine, Just Plain Nuts

“Mamma, was all those folks drunk?” asked the Ocean Pond inn-keeper’s little daughter of the Faculty-Nutty Party which was last Saturday night. Of course not, but our dear faculty had one more grand time that night.

Nutty costumes cloaked these participants—Dr. Phelan had a very red nose, and Mr. Dusenbery not to be outdone, came with a very red face that showed him ready for a fight. His monocle perched ever so nicely in his left eye, while the sideburns and English tweeds made him all round Englishman.

Dr. Punke came in the guise of a temperamental artist with a gaitet, while

Dr. Reade made his appearance with a charcoal moustache, and a huge scarf around his waist—Mrs. Reade was a typcical country bumpkin in a high black hat.

Miss Bush had on a cunning straw hat (farmer style) with an apron—Miss Race was too cute in a quaint old-fashioned bonnet of the gay nineties.

All the women on the committee were smocks and earrings with vivid makeup

while the men on the committee wore smocks with berets.

Miss Bancroft came as an old-fashioned grandmother, but Miss Warren made her appearance in a big hat and apron—Dr. Farber came in an Indian turban—Miss Calloway found an apron and beret that were quite fetching.

Among the young flappers of the evening were Mother Farber, Mother Gulli­ er, Mother Warren, and Mother Hawks. They were attired in glamorous costumes, set off by hair ribbons, bright make-up, and beauty spots.

Before supper, Dr. Punke hid nuts all around the lodge that were to be hunted for later. Just before entering

Miss Sawyer Presides

Over Georgia Speech Meeting in Atlanta

As president of the Georgia Association of Teachers of Speech, Miss Louise

Sawyer left today to attend a meeting of the organization to be held February 12 and 13 at the Winceoff Hotel at Atlanta.

The program will begin at ten o’clock

Friday morning with a business meeting, over which Miss Sawyer will preside, and will close with the election of officers on Saturday morning. Other colleges represented at the meeting will be Abra­ am Baldwin Agricultural College, Georgia State College for Women, Shorter College, Besse Tift College, University of Georgia, Armstrong Junior College and Agnes Scott College.

Vice-Presidency is Between

Abernathy and Perkins

When the polls for voting on Student Government officials were closed at noon Thursday, it was found that Virginia Zipplies had defeated Frances McLain for the office of president.

The vice-presidency will be settled by a run-off between Margaret Abernathy, Moultrie, and Dora Ida Perkins. The other nominee for this office was Mary Hudson.

These new officials will take over the duties of their offices some time in April.

In the meantime Miss Zipplies will accompany the out-going president, Emma Ambos, to a convention of The Southeastern Division of the Student Government Associations being held at Converse College in Spartanburg, South Carolina. This meeting will come dur­ing Spring Holidays.

Miss Zipplies, who is from Savannah, is president of the Junior Class, pianist for the Y. W. C. A. deputation team, member of the Sock and Buskin Club and Math-Science Club, as well as of the Phi Lambda Athletic Club.

When interviewed Miss Zipplies offered the summary of her feelings with a quick smile:

“I appreciate the honor the student body has shown me, and feel it a prer­ ige to serve in the capacity of President. My first wish is that the feeling of cooperation will prevail to make next year’s program a successful continuation of the spirit built up by the students in the past.”

YW Deputation Team

Has Charge of Vespers

Vespers last evening were in charge of the Y. W. C. A. deputation team. The Bible reading was given by Anna Richter, chairman of the team. Edith Bennett sang a solo and Frances McLain spoke on the problems that the youth of today faces.

"NUTS" SAYS FACULTY. NOT VALENTINE, JUST plain NUTS

the Feasts of the Nuts all were given an Intelligence Test, which was as silly and sillier than those taken by the freshmen. If the test was made out correctly, it would say "Refreshments are ready." Nuts engaged themselves in a nut hunt. They divided themselves into teams of three . . . The dogs, the cats, the donkeys, the ducks, and the sheep, each having a captain. Prizes were given to the team having the most nuts. Janie Bush's team was almost thrown out by the gang, as they found a box of nuts that they weren't supposed to come across.

Miss Sawyer then put on a dramatic production with all the faculty playing various parts, as the curtains, chairs, pop, mom, hero, heroine, floor (Janie Bush) villain, lamp, and table—after everything was situated Miss Sawyer then announced that it was the Gathering of the Nuts. Nutty bank night followed the drama and nutty Stock Exchange came later in the evening—Nutty golf was enjoyed by The Nuts, also the Animated Nutty Snells Match. Thus they had their fun-bedeked, tantalizing and deceivingly—The Frolic of the Nutty with Miss Leonora Ivey as chairman.

Freshmen Will Honor Juniors With Country Club Formal Dance

Honoring their seniors, the Freshmen and Sophomores will entertain with a formal dance of the Junior class, which will be held next Saturday evening in the Faculty Club House.

This will be the second formal of the year. The State-By-State College Orchestra from Garden City will be held next Saturday evening in the Faculty Club House.

Laura Duncan, president of the Freshman class, and Virginia Zipples, president of the Junior class, will lead out at the formal. Their escorts will be John Daniel Davis of Quitman and Woody Dennis of Valdosta.

Heart Sisters Rival National Scout Day for Good Deeds

Two new units of the G. S. W. C. Traveling Library have been completed and are now ready for use. They will be sent out sometime this week to Naylor and Lake Park to replace books in circulation there now. People in these communities have enthusiastically received the books and magazines and are literally clamoring for new reading material. The traveling library is under the direction of Miss Lilian Patterson and the work of binding and repairing the books is done by NYA students. The Valdosta Times has recently donated book covers for covering repaired books.

Do We Appreciate Our Library?

By Katherine Moore

Do those of us who use the library ever consider the hard work which goes on behind a smoothly run organization of this type? We only realize when things go the least bit wrong what would save our energies and direct them toward the library. If that is true you still have provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917. Authorized January 20, 1919.

When you rush through the rotunda on your next "passing," drop upstair and look at the Art Exhibit that the Fine Arts Club is sponsoring in the upper Rotunda. Looking at the guest book we find that the number of town, and out-of-town guests, number as high as the number of student guests, almost. Among the towns registered from are: Waycross, Gloucester, Massachusetts, Valdosta and Athens.

The exhibit is an extremely interesting one of Southern subject by Southern Artists. All of the paintings are painted on the same size linen canvas, with the identical type of oils.

Usually the words open forum mean very little to the average person, but if they would only realize—it is the one place they can express their opinion and depend on having the general public hear it. Not always, for there's some, sometimes a pretty rose, and sometimes a tiny bowl of violets or pansies. If you are still interested look on top of the art exhibit. If you have been harboring any illusions about the way the student government is run, or have any questions to ask, be assured that this is the place to do it.

Cinema Cynic

Martin Ray's latest trade mark, saying, "Take it, Jackson." Not that anyone knows what it means but she uses it constantly and of course everyone laughs at anything she says.

There's a sign over the automobile entrance to the Paramount studio which has directed no little amount of kidding at the studio because it sounds like a warning to theatre-goers—"Paramount Pictures—Slow." It reads.

There is a new resort fad among Hollywood folk—for winter sports they are trekking now to Sun Valley, Idaho. After weeping for scenes in Call It a Day for some thirty-six hours, devoted production by going into genuine Hollywood Whispers: Olivia de Havilland after weeping for scenes in Call It a Day for some thirty-six hours, devoted production by going into genuine Hollywood and in a place she hated, he able to look at his country with the critical eyes of a foreigner and to see the faults as well as the good qualities. He was so wholly given to his missionary work that he forgot to give of his love. In this tragic story, however, the people sometimes act as absurd as we know from you and I do. Thus, it can be enjoyed in any mood and by everybody.

To complete the picture of Chinese life, we have chosen My Country and My People, by Lin Yutang, a young Chinese who has a wide knowledge of Western culture. He gives us a true insight into the spirit and personality of his country, and also a knowledge of the characteristics of his Chinese brethren. Although he is a true native, he is able to look at his country with the critical eyes of a foreigner and to see the faults as well as the good qualities. His book, written in English, is divided into two parts: the first concerning the general aspects of the people, and the second pertaining to the life of women, and the social, political, literary and artistic life of women and men.

Pearl S. Buck, in the introduction to the book, says, "It is the truest, the most profound, the most complete, the most important book yet written about China. And best of all, it is written by a Chinese . . . This is surely the best English prose any Chinese has ever written."

A Moment Before

Not a breath of air is stirring. The dark clouds are low and heavy. The still earth is dry and hot. The cattle group and shift uneasily. The grass has turned a sickly yellow, and in a place she hated, he had been working on the stars in- come-tax situation. It has just gotten out that Mae West sent New Year's messages to President Roosevelt, Duke of Windsor, Mussolini, and other biggies. Universal has begun work on a picture entitled Class Prophecy. I can't wait!
