Blackout At Sunday Noon

The usual hour of a blackout is some time after the sun has gone well behind the horizon, but the blackout at the Valdosta Scopera was last Sunday, as about the Supt. of the community, and the selection of stunning "blackout fit" has begun among the student body.

Among those present were Margarite Laidlaw looking very chic in a black dress, black buttons, and black scarf, and Miss Lillian Patterson, senior student, who was among others trying to make their evening look as much as possible like an evening gown. Miss Lillian Patterson's outfit was a black evening gown with white shoes and white gloves. A bit of heaven adorned some of the students in this evening, and many, Belgium and so- cieties in France, England, Ger- many, and French efforts and sol- ities in France, England, Ger-

Diana Psaki Crosses Troubled Atlan ta From Greece To Attend American College

BY EUNICE FAIRCHILD

Interesting, vivacious, pretty—all these adjectives seem inadequate to describe Miss Diana Psaki, who recently arrived from Athens, Greece, Diana Psaki, Hardly had Diana set foot on the campus than she had won a place in the hearts of the student body. Diana is an American citizen, born in New York City and living there until the age of three, at which time she with her family returned to Athens, Greece, where her father, a noted psychologist, was under a three-year study.

Diana's ambition is to marry a "pretty doctor." From the looks of the future of a young Greek surgeon on her dressing table, it appears that the ambition will be realized.

The love of medicine is born in her. Diana says she was six when her mother was operated on in New York.

"Then she feels that she is "giving her mother a "pretty doctor." From the day she was three years old, at which time she was operated on in New York, she never set eyes on a doctor except a pretty one. As a result, she is the most enthusiastic and devoted student in the Medical School. She is the immediate to the Internation House and fell quite in love with the city. She says, among them the one word she always finds in New York is "ballymore." "It is our patriotic duty to stay on our jobs," Miss Drew said, "and this is the time to do lots of extra curricular activities." She has been a staunch supporter of the U.S.O. and U.S.O. dances, and has participated in many of them very much, especially the U.S.O. center on Fire Island, just opposite Long Island, she participated in the U.S.O. center on Fire Island.

Another thing she adores about the city is the city's dress lines. Here they are much larger than she is accustomed to. She tells of the many hours she spent in New York. She says she is still in love with the city, and that she will return to it as often as possible.

While staying at the Internation House, she visited the U.S.O. center on Fire Island, just opposite Long Island, she participated in the U.S.O. center on Fire Island. She has been a staunch supporter of the U.S.O. and U.S.O. dances, and has participated in many of them very much, especially the U.S.O. center on Fire Island.

Diana says she likes to go out for a walk, and that she has a special affection for the New York Central Park. She also enjoys the New York Central Park, and says she has a special affection for the New York Central Park.
Reid To Coach American Ball

American Ball, which is sponsored by the Sports Club this quarter, will be played on Monday and Wednesday nights at 4:15. It is coached by Miss Ruth Bond of the Physical Education Department. She is assisted by Marcella Forney, Louise Oghun.

The first practice on Monday was designed for introducing the simple fundamentals of the game. On Wednesday the first scrimmage was held, in which the players were given an opportunity to put their instruction into practice. However, a scarcity of upperclassmen was noted. The game was played for the freshmen alone, but for all who are interested and upperclassmen are sponsored to come out and take part in these practices.

After a large attendance was present at Wednesday's practice, this is a very interesting game either to watch or to play. The coaches invite you to come out and either to sign up or to play. Hie coaches for those who are interested in playing to sign up Watch for notices posted in the dormitories. Forrester is coaching these sports for any one who is interested. Pat are urged to come out and take part in the fun.
