Wilson, Smith, McGeachy and Alderman Are Elected

Sawyer to Read “Blithe Spirit”

The annual Sock and Buskin Club met on Friday afternoon, following the House-in-the-Woods Sunday afternoon from four until six o’clock, to feature Miss Sawyer’s reading of “Blithe Spirit” by Noel Coward. The Senior class as a whole has been invited to join the members of the club and the guests for the afternoon. Hostesses for the entertainment will be Christine Young, Betty Barnes, and Beth Whitaker. Henrietta Walker will act as chairman of the reception committee with Mary Agnes Wolff, Elsie Goodson, and Rachel Cunningham serving on the committee.

Party For Sophs Is Friday Night

The long-awaited party for the Sophomores given by the other classes will be given Friday night. The party will consist of a swimming party at the pool with a pool after dinner and dancing in the gym with another pool after. Refreshments will be served after the swimming party is over.

Julia Sterer is chairman of the committee planning the party. Serving on the committee with her are Bum Pretty, Miss Evangeline, Miss Glynn Hill, Emily Dekle, and Lorraine Anchors. New Bibliography Published By Odum

“Southern Literary Culture,” an annotated bibliography by Mr. Odum, has been published in the April issue of the South Atlantic Bulletin of the Modern Language Association. This annual study has more than the usual interest for the student of literature and the collector of bibliographical material. The bibliography includes rare and current works of critical and scholarly books and articles of 1942, with the added standard of Southern literature and closely related topics. It does not attempt to cover the creative writings which Southern authors published during the year. Mrs. Odum was asked to do this series of studies because of her research and publications on Southern periodicals which include the book Southern Periodicals to 1861. Included in the April issue of the Bulletin is an article, “Emory’s Joel Chandler Harris Collection” by Dr. Thomas H. Edwards. The subject of the book is the collection of the Southern Literary Culture” sponsored by Mrs. Odum on the Committee on Americans.

Officers Elected By Senior Society

The Senior Honor Society met Tuesday morning at ten-thirty in the House-in-the-Woods. President Caroline Smith opened the meeting with a series of books, and articles reviewed and classified under such general headings as Social Science, Political Science, Economic History, the Negro, the theater, the philosophy of science, and the modern world, the study is restricted to books of critical and scholarly books, and articles of 1942, with the added standard of Southern literature and closely related topics. It does not attempt to cover the creative writings which Southern authors published during the year. Mrs. Odum was asked to do this series of studies because of her research and publications on Southern periodicals which include the book Southern Periodicals to 1861. Included in the April issue of the Bulletin is an article, “Emory’s Joel Chandler Harris Collection” by Dr. Thomas H. Edwards. The subject of the book is the collection of the Southern Literary Culture” sponsored by Mrs. Odum on the Committee on Americans.

Ivey Attends P. E. Meeting In Macon

Sara Catherine Martin To Present Speech Fri.

The big day had arrived at last, with suitcases, boxes, and even flowers, contributed to an adventuring friend too, made a dash to catch the train. And what a train!!!

But all the boring part about the ride up, I’ll get on with the story. Quote:

Our first stop was to come to a station, and we stopped for the people to board. But there was no train...I saw the city. I shan’t attempt to name the places that we saw; for they were the usual ones—the same places you read about in the guide-books.

The play is a satire on the futility of life may be if we let our minds become involved with things that wall materialize and separate us from misunderstanding. And so I’ll conclude this article with a story that happened in the world today, in reality.

Ivies will be first on the program followed by the regular Executive Committee seemed to have over so many things as to think that we would have over so many things as to think that we hadn’t done much. But I just thought it was a story that avoided the complications of the morning.

There was to be a dance—but the Executive Committee seemed to have too much to discuss, so the plans were altered and we saw the town from the top of a Fifth Avenue bus.

The big day had arrived at last, with suitcases, boxes, and even flowers, contributed to an adventuring friend too, made a dash to catch the train. And what a train!!!

But all the boring part about the ride up, I’ll get on with the story. Quote:

Our first stop was to come to a station, and we stopped for the people to board. But there was no train...I saw the city. I shan’t attempt to name the places that we saw; for they were the usual ones—the same places you read about in the guide-books.

The play is a satire on the futility of life may be if we let our minds become involved with things that wall materialize and separate us from misunderstanding. And so I’ll conclude this article with a story that happened in the world today, in reality.

Ivies will be first on the program followed by the regular Executive Committee seemed to have over so many things as to think that we would have over so many things as to think that we hadn’t done much. But I just thought it was a story that avoided the complications of the morning.

There was to be a dance—but the Executive Committee seemed to have too much to discuss, so the plans were altered and we saw the town from the top of a Fifth Avenue bus.

The big day had arrived at last, with suitcases, boxes, and even flowers, contributed to an adventuring friend too, made a dash to catch the train. And what a train!!!

But all the boring part about the ride up, I’ll get on with the story. Quote:

Our first stop was to come to a station, and we stopped for the people to board. But there was no train...I saw the city. I shan’t attempt to name the places that we saw; for they were the usual ones—the same places you read about in the guide-books.

The play is a satire on the futility of life may be if we let our minds become involved with things that wall materialize and separate us from misunderstanding. And so I’ll conclude this article with a story that happened in the world today, in reality.

Ivies will be first on the program followed by the regular Executive Committee seemed to have over so many things as to think that we would have over so many things as to think that we hadn’t done much. But I just thought it was a story that avoided the complications of the morning.

There was to be a dance—but the Executive Committee seemed to have too much to discuss, so the plans were altered and we saw the town from the top of a Fifth Avenue bus.

The big day had arrived at last, with suitcases, boxes, and even flowers, contributed to an adventuring friend too, made a dash to catch the train. And what a train!!!

But all the boring part about the ride up, I’ll get on with the story. Quote:

Our first stop was to come to a station, and we stopped for the people to board. But there was no train...I saw the city. I shan’t attempt to name the places that we saw; for they were the usual ones—the same places you read about in the guide-books.

The play is a satire on the futility of life may be if we let our minds become involved with things that wall materialize and separate us from misunderstanding. And so I’ll conclude this article with a story that happened in the world today, in reality.

Ivies will be first on the program followed by the regular Executive Committee seemed to have over so many things as to think that we would have over so many things as to think that we hadn’t done much. But I just thought it was a story that avoided the complications of the morning.

There was to be a dance—but the Executive Committee seemed to have too much to discuss, so the plans were altered and we saw the town from the top of a Fifth Avenue bus.

The big day had arrived at last, with suitcases, boxes, and even flowers, contributed to an adventuring friend too, made a dash to catch the train. And what a train!!!

But all the boring part about the ride up, I’ll get on with the story. Quote:

Our first stop was to come to a station, and we stopped for the people to board. But there was no train...I saw the city. I shan’t attempt to name the places that we saw; for they were the usual ones—the same places you read about in the guide-books.

The play is a satire on the futility of life may be if we let our minds become involved with things that wall materialize and separate us from misunderstanding. And so I’ll conclude this article with a story that happened in the world today, in reality.

Ivies will be first on the program followed by the regular Executive Committee seemed to have over so many things as to think that we would have over so many things as to think that we hadn’t done much. But I just thought it was a story that avoided the complications of the morning.

There was to be a dance—but the Executive Committee seemed to have too much to discuss, so the plans were altered and we saw the town from the top of a Fifth Avenue bus.

The big day had arrived at last, with suitcases, boxes, and even flowers, contributed to an adventuring friend too, made a dash to catch the train. And what a train!!!

But all the boring part about the ride up, I’ll get on with the story. Quote:

Our first stop was to come to a station, and we stopped for the people to board. But there was no train...I saw the city. I shan’t attempt to name the places that we saw; for they were the usual ones—the same places you read about in the guide-books.

The play is a satire on the futility of life may be if we let our minds become involved with things that wall materialize and separate us from misunderstanding. And so I’ll conclude this article with a story that happened in the world today, in reality.

Ivies will be first on the program followed by the regular Executive Committee seemed to have over so many things as to think that we would have over so many things as to think that we hadn’t done much. But I just thought it was a story that avoided the complications of the morning.

There was to be a dance—but the Executive Committee seemed to have too much to discuss, so the plans were altered and we saw the town from the top of a Fifth Avenue bus.

The big day had arrived at last, with suitcases, boxes, and even flowers, contributed to an adventuring friend too, made a dash to catch the train. And what a train!!!

But all the boring part about the ride up, I’ll get on with the story. Quote:

Our first stop was to come to a station, and we stopped for the people to board. But there was no train...I saw the city. I shan’t attempt to name the places that we saw; for they were the usual ones—the same places you read about in the guide-books.

The play is a satire on the futility of life may be if we let our minds become involved with things that wall materialize and separate us from misunderstanding. And so I’ll conclude this article with a story that happened in the world today, in reality.

Ivies will be first on the program followed by the regular Executive Committee seemed to have over so many things as to think that we would have over so many things as to think that we hadn’t done much. But I just thought it was a story that avoided the complications of the morning.

There was to be a dance—but the Executive Committee seemed to have too much to discuss, so the plans were altered and we saw the town from the top of a Fifth Avenue bus.

The big day had arrived at last, with suitcases, boxes, and even flowers, contributed to an adventuring friend too, made a dash to catch the train. And what a train!!!

But all the boring part about the ride up, I’ll get on with the story. Quote:

Our first stop was to come to a station, and we stopped for the people to board. But there was no train...I saw the city. I shan’t attempt to name the places that we saw; for they were the usual ones—the same places you read about in the guide-books.

The play is a satire on the futility of life may be if we let our minds become involved with things that wall materialize and separate us from misunderstanding. And so I’ll conclude this article with a story that happened in the world today, in reality.

Ivies will be first on the program followed by the regular Executive Committee seemed to have over so many things as to think that we would have over so many things as to think that we hadn’t done much. But I just thought it was a story that avoided the complications of the morning.
The coilege In fact, as a certain noted admiral apparently shown, by the student body We have or so. Once done, it is a permanent thing, at least in this case must be a fitting one.

The name chosen not even progressed to the point where a committee can begin eliminating names. We have not all concerned would be for a student-faculty committee this summer, to ask the student body to vote on names, to submit the entire collection of names to the students for discussion next fall.

The heating plant (You count the times it's been in work. Human beings are funny, somehow; before a deadline and then break their necks to get it done. But it's all an old story to her now.) . . . and

Our editors wish you to know that this week's issue is made up of sketches and articles which were submitted by students at the Georgia State Women's College after a trip to a U.S.S.A. convention.

SPEAKING OF BRIDES—what about the list of brides-to-be . . . Ruth McAninch, of course . . . the date is May 28. Don't forget your date books! Just keep your date books handy.

A speech minor . . . Kitty will be getting her Master's. Of course . . . the date is May 18 and so he did. Better look out, "Macl . . ."

The meteor that thrusts in with needle bill. That suddenly above the bees is heard. As the uncertain harvest; keep us here. And make us happy in the darting bird as it flies, and in just a moment that sunset here for us and gave us a castles for future days. We are, in a sense, living on memories of what has been.

We don't realize that there is a today and a tomorrow, with countless opportunities for happiness and for making our lives fuller and richer than they have ever been before. But it is true; we would see so many beautiful objects of nature that are here for us to enjoy all the time. Our failure to realize that God puts the trees, the leaves, the birds, the flowers, and the stars into the sky for us to see them with, so we may enjoy. But if we don't, then the fullest extent. In his poem, "A Prayer in Spring"

Rowland Advises Us To Live Today!

So many of us live our lives almost entirely in the past or in the future. What do I mean? I mean that we can get pleasure out of life is by dreaming of things that have happened or by building castles for future days. We are, in a sense, living on memories of what has been.

"Oh, please give us the flowers today; and give us not too far away. As the uncertain harvest; keep us here. And make us happy in the darting bird as it flies, and in just a moment that sunset here for us and gave us a castles for future days. We are, in a sense, living on memories of what has been.

We don't realize that there is a today and a tomorrow with countless opportunities for happiness and for making our lives fuller and richer than they have ever been before. But it is true, we would see so many beautiful objects of nature that are here for us to enjoy all the time. Our failure to realize that God puts the trees, the leaves, the birds, the flowers, and the stars into the sky for us to see them with, so we may enjoy them.

And make us happy in the darting bird that suddenly above the bees is heard. The meteor that thrusts in with needle bill. That suddenly above the bees is heard.

As the uncertain harvest; keep us here. And make us happy in the darting bird as it flies, and in just a moment that sunset here for us and gave us a castles for future days. We are, in a sense, living on memories of what has been.

We don't realize that there is a today and a tomorrow with countless opportunities for happiness and for making our lives fuller and richer than they have ever been before. But it is true, we would see so many beautiful objects of nature that are here for us to enjoy all the time. Our failure to realize that God puts the trees, the leaves, the birds, the flowers, and the stars into the sky for us to see them with, so we may enjoy them.

And make us happy in the darting bird that suddenly above the bees is heard. The meteor that thrusts in with needle bill.

As the uncertain harvest; keep us here. And make us happy in the darting bird as it flies, and in just a moment that sunset here for us and gave us a castles for future days. We are, in a sense, living on memories of what has been.

We don't realize that there is a today and a tomorrow with countless opportunities for happiness and for making our lives fuller and richer than they have ever been before. But it is true, we would see so many beautiful objects of nature that are here for us to enjoy all the time. Our failure to realize that God puts the trees, the leaves, the birds, the flowers, and the stars into the sky for us to see them with, so we may enjoy them.

And make us happy in the darting bird that suddenly above the bees is heard. The meteor that thrusts in with needle bill.

As the uncertain harvest; keep us here. And make us happy in the darting bird as it flies, and in just a moment that sunset here for us and gave us a castles for future days. We are, in a sense, living on memories of what has been.

We don't realize that there is a today and a tomorrow with countless opportunities for happiness and for making our lives fuller and richer than they have ever been before. But it is true, we would see so many beautiful objects of nature that are here for us to enjoy all the time. Our failure to realize that God puts the trees, the leaves, the birds, the flowers, and the stars into the sky for us to see them with, so we may enjoy them.

And make us happy in the darting bird that suddenly above the bees is heard. The meteor that thrusts in with needle bill.

As the uncertain harvest; keep us here. And make us happy in the darting bird as it flies, and in just a moment that sunset here for us and gave us a castles for future days. We are, in a sense, living on memories of what has been.

We don't realize that there is a today and a tomorrow with countless opportunities for happiness and for making our lives fuller and richer than they have ever been before. But it is true, we would see so many beautiful objects of nature that are here for us to enjoy all the time. Our failure to realize that God puts the trees, the leaves, the birds, the flowers, and the stars into the sky for us to see them with, so we may enjoy them.

And make us happy in the darting bird that suddenly above the bees is heard. The meteor that thrusts in with needle bill.

As the uncertain harvest; keep us here. And make us happy in the darting bird as it flies, and in just a moment that sunset here for us and gave us a castles for future days. We are, in a sense, living on memories of what has been.

We don't realize that there is a today and a tomorrow with countless opportunities for happiness and for making our lives fuller and richer than they have ever been before. But it is true, we would see so many beautiful objects of nature that are here for us to enjoy all the time. Our failure to realize that God puts the trees, the leaves, the birds, the flowers, and the stars into the sky for us to see them with, so we may enjoy them.

And make us happy in the darting bird that suddenly above the bees is heard. The meteor that thrusts in with needle bill.

As the uncertain harvest; keep us here. And make us happy in the darting bird as it flies, and in just a moment that sunset here for us and gave us a castles for future days. We are, in a sense, living on memories of what has been.

We don't realize that there is a today and a tomorrow with countless opportunities for happiness and for making our lives fuller and richer than they have ever been before. But it is true, we would see so many beautiful objects of nature that are here for us to enjoy all the time. Our failure to realize that God puts the trees, the leaves, the birds, the flowers, and the stars into the sky for us to see them with, so we may enjoy them.

And make us happy in the darting bird that suddenly above the bees is heard. The meteor that thrusts in with needle bill.

As the uncertain harvest; keep us here. And make us happy in the darting bird as it flies, and in just a moment that sunset here for us and gave us a castles for future days. We are, in a sense, living on memories of what has been.

We don't realize that there is a today and a tomorrow with countless opportunities for happiness and for making our lives fuller and richer than they have ever been before. But it is true, we would see so many beautiful objects of nature that are here for us to enjoy all the time. Our failure to realize that God puts the trees, the leaves, the birds, the flowers, and the stars into the sky for us to see them with, so we may enjoy them.

And make us happy in the darting bird that suddenly above the bees is heard. The meteor that thrusts in with needle bill.

As the uncertain harvest; keep us here. And make us happy in the darting bird as it flies, and in just a moment that sunset here for us and gave us a castles for future days. We are, in a sense, living on memories of what has been.

We don't realize that there is a today and a tomorrow with countless opportunities for happiness and for making our lives fuller and richer than they have ever been before. But it is true, we would see so many beautiful objects of nature that are here for us to enjoy all the time. Our failure to realize that God puts the trees, the leaves, the birds, the flowers, and the stars into the sky for us to see them with, so we may enjoy them.

And make us happy in the darting bird that suddenly above the bees is heard. The meteor that thrusts in with needle bill.

As the uncertain harvest; keep us here. And make us happy in the darting bird as it flies, and in just a moment that sunset here for us and gave us a castles for future days. We are, in a sense, living on memories of what has been.
Men, And Mules, Smarties And Roommates Philosophestrized

By NELL TURNER

"When one knows women, one Finds them. When one studies men, one excites women."

This saying could be used under many different conditions. How you ever convinced a man that he's wrong? Did you ever talk your roommate into seeing a show she didn't want to see? You and mules, smarties, and roommates; they all are different—except in one respect: Can you guess?

Were you in a heated argument with a friend and having won your point, did you continue to argue? Have you ever been thrown from a horse and no matter how many times you get back on—will you? Is an umpire in a baseball game always right in your mind? Did you ever try to tell your little brother what you do not want him to know all the hope you and did it in spite of all you could say? Has anybody ever disagreed with anything you said just to start an argument?

What makes us keep our lights on after dark? and talk to the phone four minutes when we all know we have nothing to say?

According to doctors, it's insanity; according to lawyers it's tom-foolery; but that doesn't matter. There is much to be thankful for...when the sun has set. And your sunny smile that never dies, No task is too hard, that's joy in it yet.

State College, Pa. (ACP)—A collection of Bibles and other religious books and literature has been augmented by the addition of 94 volumes of rare religious works.
HAY HAVE YOU HEARD THE GOOD NEWS?

Mrs. Johny Oliver of "Lambdas" is bettter known to the students of our campus has a seven-pound boy! She will soon return from the hospital to her home at Savanne in Fredonia, Michigan, and Johnny is stationed at Camp Law near Petersburg. Some have remarked: "When his mother gets their boy up in the morning, he looks like his mother, he'll be some boy!"

WEEK-END RIDES ARE BEING SCHEDULED.

Students have expressed the desire to ride horseback without having to take it during the quarter so here's your chance! Miss Beatley has arranged week-end rides. Because winds have told us that at this time of the year, our weather can be pretty thefty, the students are called upon to sign up on the bulletin board in Converse hall and to state the time they would like to ride. The time will be two hours and at a fee of fifty cents an hour and the students are called upon to sign up on the bulletin board in Converse hall and to state the time they would like to ride.

OUR TIME IS LIMITED! OR DIDN'T WE ALL KNOW?

Plans were made for a horse ride and an aquarelle to be given next week, but members of the faculty as well as the students feel that this is the time to get the spirit for the Lambdas and that this is the time for us to get to know one another. The Lambdas are not to be held up for the month. The Lambdas and the Kappas are another successful year among the sports line. Lots of plans are being made not only to release more interest but to have more fun and when the Sports Club meets, it gives them out. That is a promise, so come next fall to new play and work, and willing to give as well as take in both.

HATS OFF TO COMPTON.

We are all looking forward to a year of good work next year or while we are given at this impression, we can also look forward to the successful work. But there must be a good team when you sign up on the bulletin board in Converse hall and to state the time they would like to ride.

Kappas Win Over Lambdas in Softball

The Kappas defeated the Lambdas by a score of 21 to 14 in the match game. The Kappas showed good sportsmanship and also improvement. The Kappas have another successful year among the sports line. Lots of plans are being made not only to release more interest but to have more fun and when the Sports Club meets, it gives them out. That is a promise, so come next fall to new play and work, and willing to give as well as take in both.