ercises, will recently receive their diplomas when final grades are filed. These girls constitute the second class to graduate under the accelerated program. The program was inaugurated at G.S.W.C. in the 1941-42 school year, the first regular summer session being in 1942. The graduates and their majors are:

Maye Copeland, Sociology
Mary Frances Donaldson, English
Mildred Griffin, Mathematics
Kathleen Harris, Sociology
Gables King, Foreign Languages
Antia Hunt, Sociology
Julia Frances Knapp, Art
Evelyn Mcrane, French
Julie Storer, Sociology
Jean Bredeweg, English
Jean Williams, Art
Caroline Young, Humanities
Laura Mae Youngblood, Biology

Sociology Teacher Will Join Faculty Here Next Quarter

Tuesday Dr. Frank R. Read announced that a new sociology teacher would be added to the faculty next quarter. Mrs. Frank Crane, a native Valdostaian, will teach two classes of Sociology 112.

Mrs. Crane was born in Valdosta, later moving to Doxville, then to Chattanooga, Tennessee. She returned to Valdosta and graduated from Valdosta High School. She attended Shorter College in Rome and the University of Georgia in Athens, from which she graduated in 1940 with an A.B. degree in sociology.

Her family lives in Barney, Georgia, and her husband is a Captain stationed England with the U.S. Army.

Dr. Olive M. Stone, head of the sociology department, will remain on campus, conducting private research.

Frosh and Faculty 100% for Red Cross

It's hats off to the Freshmen of Converse Hall! With their 100% goal met in the Red Cross Drive on March 6, the freshmen take top goal reached in the Red Cross Drive of that check for the team captain.

$275 had been donated by faculty, students, and others who came around to see you.

On March 1-6, the freshmen take top goal reached in the Red Cross Drive of that check for the team captain.

Representatives from all the classes have been elected to work with the Head Government official in rewriting the General Regulations and the regulations for specific classes. These representatives will also offer suggestions from the classes to Student Government, and the suggestions will be evaluated and considered.

A committee composed of the Student Government Officers, Martha Goodwin, Emily Doby, and Mary Creecy, and the presidents of the classes, Kitty Harms, Betty Peters, Jean Rosell, and Jean Martin, are the representatives of the class.

A vote of the constitution will be presented to the student body next quarter. The members of the President's Council will explain it to the student body, which will be divided into classes for this purpose.

A Code of Ethics, a result of the one week study by the Freshman, will soon be instituted for all students. It is announced.

Speech Class 302 Gives "One Acts"

The Speech 302 class, which is acting and directing plays, has finished its Winter one-act plays.

Two of these plays were presented Wednesday night, and three were presented Thursday night.

The plays were presented before members of the class and visitors. Two of them were directed by Nina Harris and Betty Peters.

Each member of the class selected a play and acted as director. The cast was selected from the student body by the director, who also had charge of costumes, makeup, and staging.

Members of the class are: Mary Frances Donaldson, Ruth Hendrickson, Anita Hunt, Jeannette Whitehead, Mary Melvin, Mary Agnes Wolf, Hildreth Davis, Betty Peters, and Christine Young.

Artist Series Programs Bring Varied Problems

By BUNNY BLOUNT

"What time is it? Something told me I shouldn't have gone to the show this afternoon, but I guess we were having an Artist Series program tonight. Now I'm afraid I'll never guess it is time in the future when I want to go to the theater."

Oh, well, I don't have time to re-do my hair. But I meant to go to the show anyway, and I can patch up this coat and nobody will know the difference."

All times of my hair to re-do it.

Now I guess I'll be all right, I mean. I won't care a bit!"

"Now I might find that dress in a hurry..."

My, doesn't everybody look pretty, I wonder if all the girls have as much trouble dressing as I do. Why, when I ate my hair and put on my blue evening dress after I wore it once."

I just can't put up my blue evening dress."

I went to the regular meeting of the Red Cross Club. Tuesday evening. These two were directed by Nina Harris and Betty Peters.

By the way, if you are ready after all times, I'll just use leg make-up."

It is half past eight."

Oh, anyway, where is my blue evening dress?"

 pleaded when he was, and still is, to resent student opinion. Since that time every editor has attempted to uphold this policy, but the maintenance of this policy depends upon the interest and the help of the students.

Plans were made, and by every editor since,
to have a space for publishing student letters, but the paucity of these letters is appalling. Students want your letters—letting us know what you think about closed doors and in privateball sessions, rather than present them to the student body.

This is the wrong thing to do. No progress can be made without plans can be made. Nothing can be accomplished. Why keep your ideas to yourself? Express them publicly through the columns of your paper.

The Canopy is and will continue to be, YOUR paper—the paper edited by the students for the students.
It has never been a censored newspaper, carefully scrutinized and edited by the faculty. It blows to YOU. Support it and uphold its policies.

It is the intention of the present staff to maintain this policy of reflecting student opinion. We want your letters—letters telling us what you think about any subject pertaining to our college.

Signed letters will be accepted, but names may be withheld upon request. The staff wants to present the facts as they are, but we need your ideas and opinions. Take up your pen and write.

Dodd, Ga. Art Head Discloses Plans for Spring Art Exhibit

Mr. Lamar Dodd, head of the Art Department of the University of Georgia, in Athens, has announced tentative plans for the 1944-45 Georgia Art Students Exhibition. As plans now, the exhibition will be held during Spring quarter.

Art exhibition is a state, from the first grade through Junior college, spring quarter. The show will be in the gallery of the Fine Arts Building in Athens. The gallery will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., afternoon.

Mr. Dodd has stated that the purpose of the exhibition is to recognize annually the art being created in the schools of Georgia, to encourage students to consider art as a career; and to award prizes to those whose work is outstanding. The time of this exhibition will be in May, and further details will be published in the Canopy.

Vesper Program to Be Lead by Allen

Vespers Sunday night will be held at the House-in-the-Woods at seven o'clock, Helen Allen will lead the group singing. This is one of the features of the Vesper Choir and the spring outing of the choir. The spring outing, the choir will go to the House-in-the-Woods at five o'clock. The choir will be in the house in the Woods at seven o'clock.

Mr. White Speaks to Students at Chapel

Mr. White, a student at G.S. W.'s favorite instructor, was invited to speak before the student body in chapel, Wednesday, March 8. The subject of his talk was "On the Wings of Illusion". The vespers choir, consisting of L. Anchors, J. Warren, G. Hill, M. Goodwin, E. Powell, B. Renz, C. Garbutt, M. Mims, H. B. Wolff, and C. Collins, sang the Doxology.

This inspirational little talk was the second in a series being commemorating the season of Lent. The series of programs to be held during this season will bring more Lenten discussion and activities. The Vesper Choir, under the direction of Helen Allen led the singing.

Sketching

In the presence of her friends and admirers, Miss Martha Harris, the well-known artist, painted a picture of her pet hare in the art studio of the student body. The picture, which took the prize in the annual spring art competition, will be exhibited for the students' viewing. The picture, which was painted in the presence of the student body, was given to the student body by the artist.

Did you know:

The exchange editor is Dorothy Glenn, and the associate editors are Dorothy Remson, and Betty Peters. Mr. Lamar Dodd, head of the Art Department, announced the appointment of these officers will bring more awareness to the student body. The Art Department staff is working hard to make the Canopy the best it can be. The Canopy is published weekly by the student body. The Art Department staff is working hard to make the Canopy the best it can be.

Canopy Staff Has Supper Wed. Nigh

Wednesday night brought the ways of the student body to the Canopy. At a hamburger supper sponsored by the Women's Circle, Mary Frances Donelson, editor of the Canopy, took the opportunity to introduce the Canopy staff. The Canopy staff is working hard to make the Canopy the best it can be.
