Two G.S.W.C. Girls Win Honors At National 4-H Conference

Miss Annela Wells and Miss Rhonwyn Lowry, members of the Freshman Class, left Atlanta Friday, November 28, to attend the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. Both Miss Wells and Miss Lowry won 4-H honors during their senior years in high school which made them eligible to attend the Congress.

Miss Wells, from Mt. Vernon, Georgia, represented her club in yeast-bread baking at the district 4-H conference in Statesboro last year. She won first place in this contest as well as in the state contest in Atlanta which she entered later. Also, Miss Wells was awarded the 4-H Safety Medal while in high school.

Miss Lowry has made an outstanding record at the congress, having presided over the entire group of 1400 delegates on Tuesday, December 2. She was the first southerner to preside at the Congress this year, and is the first Georgian to preside in four years. Miss Lowry was chosen to take the gavel after making a talk to the group at a session on Monday. On Tuesday she was interviewed over Station WEAU, and on Wednesday, as the guest of Thomas E. Wilson, chairman of the board, Wilson & Company, she addressed the Chicago Industrial Club, an organization of business leaders.

Besides winning the district and state championships in rural electrification during her senior year in high school, Miss Lowry has also been state 4-H champion in public speaking, essay, and dairy foods demonstration. Miss Lowry is from Moultrie.

Miss Wells and Miss Lowry will return to school tomorrow.

Democratic Party Is Theme Women Voters Forum

The program for the December meeting of the Georgia League of Women Voters was a discussion on the Democratic Party in Georgia. The discussion was led by Miss Jean Usher, treasurer of the organization, with all the members participating. The meeting was held in the House-in-the-Woods at five o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, December 3.

At a brief call meeting on December 1, membership cards and copies of the ACTION pamphlet were given to the members by Miss Edith Jones, president of the League.

Members are asked to watch the newspapers for information regarding the decisions made concerning the factions of the Democratic Party in Georgia. This news will probably appear during the latter part of next week.

Girls who have reached their eighteenth birthdays and have not registered to vote are urged to do so while they are at home for the Christmas holidays. Register at your county tax-collector's office.

The other officers and board members are Misses Betty Gunter, vice-president, Bim Ansley, secretary, and Mary Owen, Hanson Rogers, Zona Bennett, Ann Du Preist, Virginia Bray, and Isabel McLeod.

Bohler Will Play For Xmas Dance

"Christmas Season will be ushered in with a bang" says Miss Venette Morgan, President of the Sociology Club, "what with all of the 'Y' services AND the Sociology Club dance!"

This very enthusiastic senior was quite ready and willing to report on the progress of the Club toward the completion of plans for December 12 which is the night for the big Christmas formal. The time for the party to begin is 8:30 p. m. in the dining hall, and the fun will last until 12:00 mid-night. Bob Bohler and his orchestra will furnish the music.

To add to the celebration, the Club plans decorations to carry out the Christmas theme and they will serve refreshments.

Prices for the dance are set at $1.00 per couple, and $.50 stag. Although the dress for girls will be formal, the boys may come semi-formal. No corsages are to be worn.

All of the members of the Sociology Club are at work, serving on the following committees: Publicity, Miss Cathy Phillips, chairman; Misses Jean Dickson, Johnnie Stokes, Morris Smith, Sue Bell-off, Maisie Sharman, and Mary Ann Sauls; Tickets, Miss Rebecca Jennings, chairman; Misses Ann Du Priest, Julianne Johnson, and Frieda Levin, Decoration, Miss Jean Land, chairman; Misses Peggy Williams, Martha Jackson, Betty Bell, Patty Dixon, Betty Efrid, Carolyn McClelland, Marion Collins, Fay Vickers, Betty Toler, Sherla Miller, Anne Knepton, and Barbara Lee; Refreshment, Miss Hanson Rogers, chairman; Misses Mildred Manley, Helen Graydon, Marion Jones, Mary Henderson, and Virginia Cook.

Sauls Elected To GAFCW Council

Miss Ann Wilkin, Miss Vilma Ansley, Miss Mary Ann Sauls, and Mrs. Harris Mathis represented GSWC at the annual conference of the Georgia Athletic Federation of College Women. The conference was held on Friday and Saturday, November 14 and 15 in the Women's Physical Education Building on Ag Hill at the University of Georgia in Athens. Forty delegates from ten colleges attended the conference.

The purpose of the Federation is to "foster and promote ideals of fair play and interest in sports" "Present Enrichment for Future Community Service" was the theme of the conference. Miss Alethia Whitney, of GSCW, is faculty advisor for the Federation. Interesting and helpful talks were made by Miss Whitney and by student speakers. The topics of some of these talks were: "College Woman's Place in Community Recreation" and "Increasing Number of Girls' Sports." Miss Vilma Ansley reported on the activities of the Sports Club at GSWC.

In a business session of the conference, Miss Mary Ann Sauls was elected to be a two-year state council member. She will attend preliminary meetings of GAFCW at which plans for the annual conferences are made. These plans include the selection of the theme of the conference, the selection of student speakers, and the topics on which they will speak. Miss Sauls, from Albany, Georgia, is an outstanding member of the Sophomore Class. Besides being a Lambda team captain on the Sports Council of the Sports Club, she is also a member of the Sociology Club and the Sophomore Council.

Miss Ann Wilkin, president of the Sports Club, was the outgoing secretary-treasurer of the Federation, and Miss Leonora Ivey is its former faculty advisor.

Bazaar Held By Fine Arts Club

Do you have Christmas shopping problems? Is there someone on your list who "has everything"? Do you like Christmas crowds? Has inflation curtailed your Christmas buying?

If these were your problems you, if you were smart, solved them at the Fine Arts Bazaar which was held yesterday and today. At this Bazaar, the Club had gifts for everyone. Jewelry, earbobs, hair bands, novelty pins; stuffed animals for the children; hand painted stationery and place cards; footwarmers; peasant belts; stamp boxes; sachets; clever pot holders; aprons—almost anything anyone could possibly want. In addition to these, there was a complete line of Christmas wrapping paper, seals, ribbons, and hand painted Christmas cards.

Committee chairmen for the Bazaar were Miss Hilda Crum, Commercial Products; Miss Miriam Powell, Arrangement of goods to be sold; Miss Ruth Templeton, Table Coverings; and Miss Mary Owen, Finance.

Register Now for Winter Quarter

Students may register now for the winter quarter of 1948. Registration consists of two parts; checking your schedule with your advisor or major professor and paying your fees.

Schedules should be checked by December 10 at the latest. Office hours of the faculty advisors and major professors are posted in the glass case on the Ad Building bulletin board.

Registration day, for payment of fees, is January 5. However, students who wish to do so may Hanging of The Greens to Usher In Christmas Season at G.S.W.C.

The Hanging of the Greens and the lighting of the Christmas tree in the Rotunda of Ashley Hall will mark the first of the series of annual Yuletide programs at GSWC. This traditional YWCA service will take place on next Thursday night at 6:45.

Other events of the Christmas season will include a student-faculty Christmas party, a recorded carol service at Compline, Freshman carols, and a joint carol service with Emory Junior.

Participating in the Hanging of the Greens service will be members of the Senior Class who will decorate the Rotunda with holly wreaths and candles. Miss Betty Gunter, president of the YWCA, will be the speaker. Miss Doris Bateman, YWCA vice-president, is planning the service.

Decorating the Christmas tree is a project of the Sophomore Council. Miss Hulda Jones, chairman of the Council, headed the committee on decoration.

Highlighting the season will be the annual formal Christmas party for all students and faculty members on Tuesday, Dec. 16, at 8:00 P. M. In the past this party has been in the form of a dinner, but due to the lack of kitchen facilities the party this year will include a program in the auditorium and a reception afterwards in the college dining hall.

Taking part on the Christmas program will be students of the Speech Department, and members of the Dance Club and Glee Club.

The Freshman Speech Class, under the direction of Miss Louise Sawyer, will give a series of choral readings. They will be A CHRISTMAS CAROL, A CHRISTMAS PUDDING by M. A. Campbell A VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLAS by Clement Clark Moore, and TWELFTH NIGHT CAROL, Waits' Greeting.

The Glee Club, directed by Mr. Raimonde Aubrey and accompanied by Mrs. Martha Carrington Aubrey, will sing several traditional Christmas carols—"New Moon

The folk dancing class will offer an original dance by Mrs. Phyllis Valente, instructor in dancing, with music written by her husband, Mr. Richard Valente.

The carol services are all sponsored by the YWCA. The program of recorded carols will be given at Compline on Sunday night, December 14. The Freshman Carol service will be the morning of the same Sunday. At this time the Freshman members of the Glee Club will sing carols in all dormitories at daybreak.

Pine Cone Will Go To Press Dec. 20

Miss Betty Keene and Mrs. Carolyn Bowen Christian, co-editors of the yearbook, have announced that the 1947-48 PINE CONE will go to press on Dec. 20. According to the present schedule the PINE CONES should be ready for distribution by May.

This year the PINE CONE will contain a large and varied feature section. Dale Wallace, a local photographer, is making club and campus pictures and Olin Mills studio is making the class pictures.

Miss Rebecca Jennings, business manager, and her staff have already solicited ads from local merchants for use in the advertising section.

Members of the PINE CONE staff include: Literary Editors, Misses Betty Gunter and Gladys Thames; Activities Editors, Misses Jean Land and Charlene Bowen; Lay-out Editors, Misses Mary Elinore Crea and Bety Jean Smith; and Picture Editors, Misses Ray Jean Norman, Ann DuPriest, Miriam Powell, Jean Mayo, Frances Hurn, and Mary John Rodgers.

Working with Miss Jennings on the business staff are Misses Hanson Rogers, Pauline Jordan, Marjorie Nichols, Mary Henderson, Sherla Miller, Betty Toler, Morris Smith, Elizabeth DeLoach, Joyce Moon, Peggy Williams, and Martha Jackson.

The PINE CONE has been an annual publication of GSWC since 1925.

Two Seniors To Graduate in Dec.

Two Seniors, Mrs. Virginia Freeman Kilcrease and Miss Virginia Hagan, will complete the work towards their college degrees in December. Both will return to GSWC in June to receive their diplomas at the regular graduation exercises.

Mrs. Kilcrease, a Humanities major with an English emphasis, is from Valdosta and will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree. She has been a member of the YWCA, Sports Club, Valdosta Club, English Club, and League of Women Voters.

Miss Hagan, also from Valdosta, is receiving her Bachelor of Science degree in Home Economics with a minor in Art. She has been historian of the Home Economics club and of the Fine Arts Club, and a member of the Valdosta Club and YWCA.

Home Ec Club To Give Faculty Tea

The Home Economics Club will give a tea for the faculty members Wednesday afternoon, December 10, at the House in the Woods. Following the tea, a party has been planned to honor the new members of the Club.

During this quarter, the big sisters of the Home Economics Club have been giving their "little sisters" small presents, while keeping their identity secret. At this Christmas party gifts will be exchanged between the big and little sisters thus disclosing the identity of the sisters.

The arrangements for the tea and party are under the direction of Miss Ray Jean Norman, president of the Club. The Food Committee is composed of the members of the Beginner's Food Class; Miss Hilda Crum is in charge of the Decoration Committee; and Miss Virginia Smith is in charge of the Supply Committee.

Redecoration of Chapel Completed

At the Thursday night Vesper Service this week, the newly redecorated Chapel was used for the first time this year.

The Reverend Clifton H. White, Dean of Chapel, was the speaker. His talk was entitled "Chapel Symbolism." Misses Betty Gunter and Doris Bateman were in charge of the service and Miss Jocelyn Matthias was soloist.

Also at this service, the present Y cabinet presented a leather-bound, pulpit Bible for use in the chapel.

The Chapel has been completely repainted, the color scheme being the same as that of the Upper Rotunda. The walls are light green and the woodwork is walnut. A new altar cloth and dorsal curtain have been purchased, the rugs have been cleaned, and the cross and candlesticks have been repainted. A picture of the future chapel, to be built on back campus next to the House-in-the-Woods, will be hung in the back of the chapel.

Would You Like The Point System?

Student activities records for 1947-48 show that GSWC students are veering toward two extremes in their extra-curricular activities. They are doing too much or too little. The first group appear to be "professional joiners" who spend their waking moments dashing from one meeting to another while the other half are "professional dodgers" who do as little as they can get by with. The "middle of the roaders" are few and far between.

The suggestion has been made that a point system for extra-curricular activities, patterned after the system used at W. C. several years ago, be re-established. Club offices, membership, etc. would be evaluated and students would be allowed to carry only a certain number of points each year. Awards would be made to seniors who had accumulated a designated number of points during their four years to signify their ability as campus leaders.

Such a system would not only divide campus offices among a wider group of students, but would also improve the quality of the campus clubs.

It seems that students become so accustomed to electing certain girls to offices that the same few are chosen over and over and many potential leaders are never given a chance to prove their ability.

The character of the departmental clubs would be greatly improved by this system because the membership would consist of girls who were really interested in the purpose of the club and had chosen it in preference to others. It would eliminate those who joined just because it made them feel important to belong to a large number of clubs.

Your ideas and opinions about this proposed system will be helpful to student government officers in setting up plans for regulating extra curricular activities. Talk to your class president about it before the next Executive Committee meeting.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
Why is it that the best seats at Student Artist Series concerts are always reserved for town people and thus restricted to college students? If this is a Student Artist Series—paid for and patronized by the GSWC students, they should at least be given an equal chance to enjoy the choice seats by putting them on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Ten Years Ago In The Canopy

By BOBBY LEE

Christmas is almost here! In the December 11, 1937, issue of the Campus Canopy, everyone was getting all excited about it ... see?

Suggestions
Scarves are getting to be the new fad, and those tricky ones at Mrs. Whitt's are appropriate for any college student. They certainly give one a "New travelled look."

Mittens ... for looks or warmth, are definitely in.

Of course, your best beau must come in, too. If you don't mind the glare, those striped socks, ties, and hankies, featured at Briggs' are very new, and oh, so outstanding!

S. G. A. NOTE BOOK

In their regular meetings of the last two weeks, the Student Faculty, Committee and Executive Committee of the SGA took action on the following matters.

The cut system was discussed and Miss Jeanne Lowry, speaking for the Absence Committee, worked with the students in clarifying several details of the system. The effect on a student's grade of cutting an unannounced quiz is dependent upon the subject matter taught and upon the practice of the individual teachers. Students should ask their instructors to explain their system of grading unannounced quizzes at the first of the quarter. If a teacher misses a class and wishes the students to make it up at another time, the students should remember that it is for their benefit, not the teacher's. The Absence Committee has recommended to the Faculty Executive Committee that the absence regulations be clarified and that students be given full responsibility for the use of the allotted number of cuts. If a student uses all her cuts and then overcuts for any reason, she will be placed on cut probation for that quarter and the next quarter.

Students must obtain permission from Mr. Dusenbury to use the college car. Permission to use the college jeep must be obtained from Mr. Brown or Mrs. Myers. The car and jeep are to be used only for college business and must be returned immediately upon completion of this business.

It was suggested that a point system be established to regulate the number of activities in which a student could participate. Further action will be taken on this suggestion at the next meeting.

There is to be a regular meeting of all monitors every other Monday night at 11:00 p. m. in the Rotunda. Attendance is required.

What Do You Want for Christmas?

Remember when you used to write Santa Claus a letter and ask for a new doll, or a bicycle, or maybe a cowboy suit? Those toys were the most important things in the world to you then and usually Kris Kringle turned out to be a pretty generous fellow. When you asked him for something you were pretty certain that you were going to get it.

You still aren't too old to write Santa Claus a letter, and this year why not ask for something more durable than a doll, or a new dress, or stockings. Think of something unusual. You could ask for an attitude of sincere tolerance towards all races and all creeds. You could ask for the ability to always see both sides of a question; for the courteousness to always respect the other person's opinion even if you don't agree with it. You might ask to develop a real capacity for friendliness that would make any selfish traits in you impossible.

Of course you can ask Santa Claus for these things, because Santa Claus is the spirit of Christmas and the spirit of Christmas is God.

GUNTER

Post-Mortem On Thanksgiving

If you're saying "It's a little late for Thanksgiving," then you're the very one for whom this is intended.

I read an article a short time ago in which Thanksgiving was spoken of as "the day set aside for giving thanks for our manifold blessings." I began thinking how much the very observance of Thanksgiving in such a manner emphasized our UN-gratefulness—after all, one day out of three hundred and sixty-five isn't such a big percentage. Even at this, however, I dare say I am not wrong in believing that too few of us kept the true spirit of Thanksgiving; instead we thought of it as a holiday that gave us a few days off from school.

What am I getting at? Just this. The observance of Thanksgiving is fine and just as it should be IF we practice and carry through the aspects of that occasion EVERY day. How? As I see it there are two very simple ways. First, by the most obvious of methods, giving thanks to God. Don't stop with grace before meals—although that should be as much a part of meals as eating itself. There are many other times and ways of showing gratitude to Him. I should think the best way of all would be that of using these lives of ours in as acceptable manner. The second way, perhaps more tangible, is showing gratitude and appreciation to those around us. What a short time the saying of "thank you" takes—and how seldom that time is taken!

Gratitude is one of the biggest and greatest things in the world, and is an object of appreciation itself. Cultivate this virtue in yourself and keep the spirit of Thanksgiving alive throughout the entire year. There are other observances, too, which have special significance for us. If we could keep them every day in our lives instead of once a year, how much easier we'd be to live with!

BOWEN

Atomizes

On Monday of this week the United States Army announced that it had established a special testing ground for atomic weapons. This testing ground is to be Antiwietok Atoll in the South Pacific.

When the army made this announcement it did not say that it would be a testing ground for "atomic bombs" but for "atomic weapons." This statement would indicate that the atomic bomb is only the beginning in the development of weapons for atomic warfare.

It was just five years ago this past Tuesday, December 2nd, that the scientists saw for the first time how the energy of the atom could be harnessed. This memorable event took place at the University of Chicago. On this day scientists who were present saw the infinite possibilities, both good and bad, that could come from this discovery. As yet, only fear and destruction have come from it. But it has become so powerful that it has changed the history of the world.

Experts also agree that they cannot be optimistic about insuring world peace until the United Nations establishes some sort of control for atomic energy.

But there are such untold possibilities for atomic energy! All of us have heard stories of how there is enough energy in a glass of water to propel an ocean liner across an ocean several times; how one lump of coal could heat a whole town. While all of these things are true, there are so many pressing needs that could be alleviated NOW. This energy could help teeming, impoverished millions in China, the hungry poverty stricken peoples of India, the natives in Africa—there are so many people whom it could help in so many ways.

And so while these atomic energy tests are going on at Antiwietok Atoll in the South Pacific, we, the people back here at home, must divert our energies toward building a better understanding between nations so that some day we may have an atomic instrument of peace. What are you doing toward building this better world?

HOW TO READ A LETTER from YOUR BEST BOY FRIEND

By BETTY HENDERSON

After reading the title of this article, I realize most of you are thinking that any dim-wit who's gone as far as the third grade and knows how to read at all could read a letter from her best beau, unless, of course, if he wrote in German and you couldn't read German.

Let me tell you of my personal experience. (You must realize before we start this that this is entirely fictional. I have never had a boy friend, and thus never had a letter. And if I had a boy friend, he probably wouldn't write me!)

For fourteen days after I got here, I awaited anxiously the arrival of this particular letter. I was the only one of the girls from my home town here who even had a boy friend, so they were anxious, too. I gnawed my nails, bit nails, and chewed nails. Finally on the morning of the fifteenth day IT came!

I ran, screaming, down the hall, and by the time I had gotten to my room, all the girls were there. Before my very eyes, they snatched the letter from my trembling hands, and examined the stamp, the handwriting, the return address, all the while sighing tenderly and mournfully.

Summoning every ounce of self control, I shouted, "Gimme that!" and, while they were standing with open mouths, I grabbed the letter, dived under my bed, and lay among the dust, light cords, bobby pins, and a lost shoe, eagerly reading the contents.

So you see what a time I had. My advice to each and every one of you is to sneak up the steps, padlock your room, and read your letter with ease, when and if you get one.

Four Attend Mimeo Convention

GSWC was represented at a training session in the use of the Mimeograph duplicating machine, Mimeoscope, and accessories, at Florida State University in Tallahassee, on Tuesday, December 2, by Misses Jeanne Lowry, Betty Hutchinson, Adair Myddelton, and Helen Gradon.

Present plans are for a similar series of training sessions to be conducted here on campus sometime after the first of the year.

In connection with Business Education, Miss Jeanne Lowry was elected Georgia Representative on the editorial board of "Modern Business Education," quarterly publication of the Southern Business Education Association, at a recent convention of the SBEA.

Bits From Books

By "BOOTS"

MUSIC IN THE MIDDLE AGES by Gustave Reese is one of the most valuable music books published in America in many years both for the general reader and for the student of music. It is a continuing narrative and a list of phonograph records.

The background of the Christian, Syriac, Byzantine, Russian, and Gregorian chants is treated separately and the history, rhythm, modes, and forms of the last of these are discussed individually.

Gustave Reese is Professor of Music in the Graduate School of New York University. He has spent many years in study for the preparation of this book in important libraries and musical institutions in Europe and America.

Gladys Miller, author of FURNITURE FOR YOUR HOME, is a noted lecturer, author, decorator, home furnishing stylist and has been an advisor to such manufacturers as F. Schumacher & Co., Erskine-Danforth and others. She has considered furniture in its relation to living both here and abroad.

Nearly every girl, Home Economics major or otherwise, will enjoy this colorful and informative book on furniture. There is a glossary of unfamiliar terms in addition to hundreds of photographs, line drawings and charts.

The contributing artist, Harriet Meserole, is known for her sketches in Vogue and for her exhibitions at the Museum of Modern Art and Pratt Institute Gallery.

The Social Slant

By JEAN LAND

Thanksgiving Holidays are over and the dormitories and the Town Girl's Lounge are filled with people muttering such expressions as: "I had a wonderful time." "Yes, Bob came home and we went to the game and had so much fun." Still others are heard to say, "Yes, I had a grand time at home, but it is nice to be back." (Emory boys, take note.)

Tech-Georgia Clash—

One of the highlights of the week-end for the whole state and particularly for GSWC girls was the Tech-Georgia game in Atlanta, while some were not happy over the score, they all enjoyed the game. Judy and Frankie Briggs and Morris Smith had an exciting weekend in Atlanta; Bee-jee Smith and her holiday guest, Margaret Traynham; Margie Bush and her guest, Bobbie Lawson, also were at the game. Other less fortunate souls listened to it over the radio.

Sadie Hawkins' Day

Sadie Hawkins' Day has come and gone but some "lucky" (??) girls got their men. Ann Smith's "husband" not only took her to the dance but also rode over to Quitman to see her during the holidays. Cathy Phillips made sure she would catch Charlie Merck at the race by tying a rock around his ankle. Martha Jane Boatwright had as her date a tall brunette, Maring Daniel, and Peggy Phillips was escorted by that cute blonde, Jack Watkins. Polly Walker and Lucy Bush didn't participate in the race because they already had dates for the dance with David Gensberg and Ben Reid.

Mary Ann Sauls' date, Freeman Kinard, and Jean Tucker's date, Frank Carter, really helped things along at the dance by calling some old-fashioned square dancing. Charlotte Goodwin was an able Mistress of Ceremonies and the skit put on by some of the talented members of the Freshmen Class was the highlight of the evening. Among the couples who seemed to be enjoying the activities were Martha Ann Morgan and Ted Wood; Celeste Purvis and Bobby Wilson; Frances Bowen and Gerald Wordsworth; Ruth Black and Jim Tunison; and Marjie Nichols and Buddy Dasher.

Did You Know That

Sherrie Grow and Jay Gardner have found they have more common interests than just being in the play cast of "Stage Door" . . . Harriette Folsom's "George" came to see "Stage Door" Tuesday night and then took her home to Hahira . . . Jackie Talton's picture was on the front page of the Atlanta Journal magazine section . . . Rhonwyn Lowry and Annella Wells are at the National 4H Congress in Chicago and that Rhonwyn presided over one of the sessions of the Congress?

Dances, Dances, Dances

There will be a formal dance at Emory tonight . . . Emory entertained last night at a banquet . . . the 'WC formal will be next Friday . . . and the following Tuesday the annual Christmas program will be held with a reception following. All these will be formal, gals, so drag out those evening dresses.

The last American Ball game for this quarter has been played and here's how the points stack up.

Kappa Uppers, 5 games and a tie, 28 points.

Kappa Frosh, 1 game, 5 points.

Lambda Uppers, 3 games and a tie, 18 points.

Lambda Frosh, 2 games, 10 points.

This gives the Kappas 33 points toward the plaque and the Lambdas are trailing 5 behind with 28 points.

Points for Volley Ball are tied with 25 for the Kappas and 25 for the Lambdas. One other game remains to be played and it will determine which team breaks the tie.

Those are all the plaque points available so far but watch the tennis and golf tournaments which are now in progress. Because of rain and Thanksgiving holidays, these tournaments are a little behind schedule but to date in the tennis tournament the following are matched against each other: Thad Pitts will play Joan McIntosh; Morris Smith will play Judy Jackson; Stony Hurn will play Joyce Bullington; and Carolyn Mathis will play Sherla Miller.

Saturday, December 6, is the date announced for the Archery Tournament. The time for it is 11:30. The tournament will be held at 30 yards only this quarter and there will be two separate groups shooting, one of experienced archers, another of beginners. Those eligible for the experienced group are: Betty Alderman, Maybelle Bedell, Virginia Bray, "Boo" Harrington, Fran Phillips, Morris Smith, Margaret Smith, and Betty Toler.

In the beginners group Delores Law, Mary Ann McLendon, Carolyn Bowen, Nancy Dean, Joyce Clegg, Mary Ann Powell, Maryan Segler, and Peggy Bush are eligible.

In case of rain, the tournament will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Everybody be on hand for the big event of the quarter! Monday, December 8 is the date of the Student-Faculty Volley Ball game. Be there at 4:15 and see for yourself how the faculty can "take it" on the sports field.

IRC Plans Series Of Programs

During the next two quarters of this year, twelve GSWC students are going to "visit" Russia, Mexico, France, and China! At their December meeting the members of the International Relations Club decided to devote the programs at the remainder of the meetings this year to the study of these four countries. The group will not only have a program and discussion on the history, government, and current conditions of each nation, but they will also plan, cook, and serve a meal which is typical of meals in that country. Information regarding its customs, music, literature, and art will also be exchanged.

The January meeting will be devoted to Russia. Misses Charlene Bowen and Betty Jean Smith are to present the program. They will discuss the origin and form of the present Russian government, the geography and resources of the country, and its music, and literature.

Misses Latrelle Carter, Jean Mululis, and Carolyn Wheelchel will prepare a Russian dinner for the group.
