Ten Years Ago In The Canopy

Christmas is almost here!
In the December 11, 1937, issue of The Campus Canopy, everyone was getting all excited about it; see?

Suggestions
Scenes are getting to be the new fad, and those tricky ones at Mrs. Myers' have been appropriate for any college student. The very fact that they may give one a “New Travelled look” makes them the perfect purchase for him or her.

Mittens...for looks or warmth are definitely in.

Of course, your best beauty must come in, too. If you don’t mind the glare, those striped socks, ties, hankies, and feathers, featured at Briggs are very, very new...and, oh, so outstanding.

Santa Claus is the man of the moment.

S. G. A. NOTE BOOK

In their regular meetings of the last two weeks, the Student Faculty, Committee and Executive Committee of the SGA took action on the following matters:

The cut system was discussed and Miss Jeanne Lowry, speaking for the Absence Committee, worked with the students in clarifying several details of the system. The effect on a student’s grades of cutting unannounced is dependent upon the subject matter taught and upon the participation of the individual teacher. Students should ask their instructors to explain their system of grading unannounced quizzers at the beginning of each quarter. If a teacher misses a class and wishes the student to make it up at another time, the students should remember this is “for his own benefit, not the teacher’s.” The Absence Committee has recommended to the Faculty Executive Committee that the absence regulations be clarified so that students be given full responsibility for the use of the allotted number of cuts.

Students must obtain permission from Mr. Dusenbury to use the college car. Permission to use the college jeep must be obtained from the Absence Committee and Executive Committee of the SGA. Action will be taken on this suggestion at the next meeting.

It was suggested that a point system be established to regulate the number of activities in which a student could participate. Further action will be taken on this suggestion at the next meeting.

What Do You Want for Christmas?
Remember when you used to write Santa Claus a letter and ask for a new doll, or a bicycle, or maybe a cowboy suit? Those toys were the most important things in the world to you then. Now that you are 11 or 12, you turned out to be a pretty generous fellow. When you asked for that new doll, you probably weren’t certain that you were going to get it.

You still aren’t too old to write Santa Claus a letter, and this year the good man himself, either through the very observance of this celebration or the thought of it, might take the time to write you back, if you don’t agree with it. You might ask to develop a real capacity for the ability to always see both sides of a question; for the courtesy to always respect the other person’s opinion even if you don’t agree with it. You might ask to develop a real capacity for the ability to always see both sides of a question; for the courtesy to always respect the other person’s opinion even if you don’t agree with it.

Gratitude is one of the biggest and greatest things in the world, and is an object of appreciation itself. It is something which has always typified the spirit of Thanksgiving alive throughout the entire year.

There are other observances, too, which have special significance for us. If we could keep them every year in our lives instead of only once a year, how much easier we’d be to live with!
HOW TO READ A LETTER FROM YOUR BEST BOY FRIEND

By BETTY HENDERSON

After reading the title of this article, I realize most of you are thinking 'Why dim-wit's gone as far as the third grade and knows how to read at all could read a letter from her best beau, unless, of course, if he wrote in German and you couldn't read German.'

Let me tell you of my personal experience. (You must realize before we start this that this is entirely fictional. I have never had a boy friend and thus never had a letter. And if I had a boy friend, he probably wouldn't write me!) For fourteen days after I got here, I awaited anxiously the arrival of this particular letter. I was the only one of the girls from my home town here who even had a boy friend, so they were anxious, too. I gnawed my nails, bit nails, and chewed nails. Finally on the morning of the fifteenth day it came!

I ran, screaming, down the hall, and by the time I had gotten to my room, all the girls were there. Before my very eyes, they snatched my open mouthed, I grabbed the letter, and by the time I had gotten to my room, all the girls were there. And they were standing with open mouths, I grabbed the letter,

Four Attend Mimeo Convention

GSGW was represented at a training session in the use of the Mimeograph duplicating machine, Mimeograph, and accessories, at Florida State University in Tallahassee, on Tuesday, December 2, by Misses Jeanne Lowtry, Betty Hutchinson, Adair Myddelton, and Helen Grandon.

Present plans are for a similar series of training sessions to be conducted here on campus sometime after the first of the year. In connection with Business Education, Miss Jeanne Lowtry was elected Georgia Representative on the editorial board of "Modern Business Education," a quarterly publication of the Southern Business Education Association, at a recent convention of the SBEA.

The Social Slant

BY JEAN LAND

Thanksgiving Holidays are over and the dormitories and the Town Girl's Lounge are filled with people muttering such expressions as, "I had a wonderful time." "Yes, Bob came home and we went to the game and had so much fun." Still others are heard to say, "Yes, I had a grand time at home, but it is nice to be back." (Emory toys, take note.)

Tech-Georgia Clash—

One of the highlights of the week-end for the whole state and particularly for GSGW girls was the Tech-Georgia game in Atlanta, while some were not happy over the score, they all enjoyed the game. Judy and Frankie Briggs and Morris Smith had an exciting weekend in Atlanta; Bee- pee Smith and her holiday guest, Margaret Trymahan; Margie Bush and her guest, Bobbie Lawson, all were at the game. Other less fortunate souls listened to it over the radio.

Sadie Hawkins' Day—

Sadie Hawkins' Day has come and gone but some "lucky" (??) girls got their men. Ann Smith's "husband" not only took her to the dance but also rode to Quitman to see her during the holidays. Cathy Phillips made sure she would not miss out and went to the race by tying a rock around her public. She had a little fun until she went back home. She had her ankle. Martha Jane Boatwright ' had as her date a tall blonde, Jack Watkins.

SPORT SIDELIGHTS

BY VIRGINIA BRY

The last American ball game for this quarter has been played and here’s how the points stack up.

Kappa Uppers, 5 games and a tie, 38 points.
Kappa Frosh, 1 game, 5 points.
Lambda Uppers, 3 games and a tie, 18 points.
Lambda Frosh, 3 games, 10 points.

Points for Valley Ball are tied with 25 for the Kappas and 25 for the Lambdas. One other game remains to be played and it will determine which team breaks the tie.

Those are all the plaque points available so far but watch the tennis and golf tournaments which are now in progress. Because of rain and Thanksgiving holidays, these tournaments are a little behind schedule but to date in the tennis tournament the following are matched against each other: Thad Pitts will play Joan Albright; Morris Smith will play Judy Jackson; Stony Hurn will play Joyce Bullington; and Carolyn Mathis will play Sheria Miller.

Saturday, December 6, is the date announced for the Archery Tournament. The time (or it is 11:30). The tournament will be held at 30 yards only this quarter and there will be two separate groups shooting, one of experienced archers, another of beginners. Those eligible for the experienced group are: Betty Alderman, Mayebelle Bedell, Virginia Bray, “Boo” Harrington, Fran Phillips, Morris Smith, Margaret Smith, and Betty Toler.

In the beginners group Delores Low, Mary Ann McLendon, Carolyn Bowen, Nancy Dean, Joyce Clegg, Mary Ann Powell, Maryann Seegler, and Peggy Bush are eligible.

In case of rain, the tournament will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Everybody be on hand for the big event of the quarter! Monday, December 8 is the date of the Student-Faculty Volley Ball game. Be there at 4:15 and see for yourself how the faculty can “take it” on the sports field.
