Seniors Win Student Government Cup Contest

GSCW Celebrates Sacred Season With English Festival

For the first time since the war, GSCW will have its annual Old English Festival. This traditional festival, which dates back to the first Christmas of the College, will be a combination of the old and the new, built around the Christmas customs of "Merrie Olde England." It will be a part of a family activity with all of the students, faculty, and college staff participating.

On Tuesday, December 13, all of the guests, in Old English costumes, will assemble in the Rotunda. When all are there, the activities will begin with the Yule Log Processional. The Yule Log is brought in by a group of carolers, who place it on the fire as a symbol of good luck during the coming year. Then, following a toast to the Yule Log by the "Lord of Misrule and the Fool" the group will go into the Rotunda. There will be the Processional into the feast hall.

The carolers usher in the Boar's Head and the feast itself begins. As soon as the final course is eaten, the carols sung for the last time. The entire group will sing the carols as they leave the feast hall.

The carolers will be men from the College and women from the Junior class. The carolers will be dressed in their characteristic costumes, and the feast hall will be decorated with wreaths and placed candies around the Christmas tree and the lower Rotunda.

Seniors Conduct YWCA Service

The annual Hanging of the Greens, sponsored by the YWCA, was held on December 8 in the Rotunda. The Senior girls hung greenery and placed cards among the greenery. Miss Eloise Yancey, president of the Y, was the speaker for the service. Those participating were dressed in white evening dresses. The Sophomore Council was in charge of the Christmas decorations.

The freshman members of the Glee Club will parade the upper classmen on Sunday, December 11. Mr. White is going to play Christmas music recordings at Compline. Everyone is requested to sit in the lower Rotunda.

Joint Vesper Service with English Junior will be held on December 15. The service will be around the Christmas tree and the Christmas story will be told and carols sung.

The following seniors will participate: Sue Beilott, Brookline, Massachusetts; Ellen Odum, Albany; Ann Kennedy, Thomaston; Mary Ann McLean, Broomwood; Erma Norton, Boston; Margaret Tryanham, Broxton; Jo Anne Story, Albany; Patricia Southernland, Atlanta; Amanda Bone Loaf; Irene Wilson, Waycross; Joyce Childs, Thomasville; Margaret Smith, Waycross; Evelyn Smith, Covington; Mary Owen, Athens; Claire Mobley, Moultrie; Marian Hayes, Saasas; Miriam Girman, Denton; Mildred Massey, Griffin; Frances Palmer, Valdosta; Barbara Clarke, Moultrie; Irene McFadden, Valdosta; Marjorie Noell, Valdosta; Mary Warren, Donaldsonville; Gaye Hemingway, Valdosta; Eloise Yancey, Brunswick; and Regina Geiger, McTea.

Students Register For Next Quarter

Advance registration for the Winter Quarter is now being held. The Registrar's Office requests that all students see their advisors or major professors as soon as possible in order to check Winter Quarter programs. Advance registration should be completed not later than today, Saturday, December 10.

Those students who have checked or revised their programs by that time may, if they wish to do so, pay their Winter Quarter fees during the week of December 12-17 and thus not have to wait for registration on January 2. Dormitory students completing registration which includes checking schedules and paying fees, will not have to report on campus until class time on January 3. However, it is required that everyone plan to be in the dormitories on Monday night, January 2.

Freshmen Place Second in Race

The class of 1950 has topped the outgoing students of GSCW in the SGA cup race. The contest ended with the freshmen having the lowest percentage of court warnings.

After a quarter of counting court warnings, Miss Polly Mann, first vice-president of the Student Government Association, reported that the Sophomores and Juniors have the highest record for court warnings for Fall Quarter. A Sophomore class has led this race for the past several weeks. Their percentage was 60.

With 28 Seniors in the dormitory, they have fought their way to the top over the persistent freshmen. Of these 28 graduates, 18 have received a single court warning.

Miss Owen stated in making the announcement that the Sophomores had "gone over well." She also said that the Seniors had "gone under well." In addition to the court warnings, Miss Owen stated that the Men had won 43 percent to the third place while the Sophomores held the lead in the Sophomore category.

The 226 students in the dormitories received 62 court warnings giving them an average of 0.62 court warnings per student during Fall Quarter which was about 75 days in duration. Miss Owen expressed the hope that the percentage could be lowered during the Spring Quarter so each class will work harder to lower their percentage.

Class Beauties Named at Annual Christmas Dance

The annual Holly Hop Christmas ball, sponsored by the Pine Cone of GSCW, was held in the Women's Building across the street from the campus. The decorations were a festive event. The building was decorated with red berries and candles and garlands of holly. Santa Claus was present with his well filled sack.

The high lighting feature of the dance was the presentation of the class beauties. The lights were selected by the students during the last 25 beauties were chosen. The class beauties are Miss Ann Kennedy, senior; Miss Elaine Chester, Junior; Miss Nora Dell, Sophomore; and Miss Peggy Gordy, Freshman. Their escorts were selected by the students and their escorts had the honor of performing a special no-break dance.

The announcement of the class beauties was made the evening of Christmas Eve. The dance was scheduled at the Christmas ball which was a formal event.

Ben Shorty's orchestra furnished the music for dancing. Misses Elizabeth Atkins, Mary Bproof, and Miss Lucy Bush presided at the punch table during the evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson and Dean and Miss J. A. Durrenberger were present, and George Moore chaperoned the dance.

Presented at the Holly Hop Ball sponsored by the Pine Cone of GSCW are the following beauties elected to represent their class at the Christmas Ball.

The Little Things Count

With the announcement in this issue of the paper of the winner of the Student Government Association cup race, some will probably just turn aside and say, 'That's the end of the story, they couldn't have done anything but win.' But there are thousands of students at the Georgia State Woman's College who have found out that the little things really count.

Santa Claus is coming.

There are usually those unavoidable times when it just couldn't be helped, but next time try to see that it can be helped. If there are rules that are not understood, ask before breaking them.

“We’ve got to get rid of some of this extraneous noise,” sniffed a professor. He then walked calmly out of the room. Thinking of the extraneous noise had just left, some of the students rose to follow. Their professor had smiled. The professor had cold feet on the floor and he shouted with more vigor.-The Daily Tornado

The truth came out yesterday. A cobb in the back of the room raised her hand and asked a question.

The professor cleared his throat and began his lesson. Fifteen minutes later, he finished, added: “I’m not sure I’ve answered your question, however...”

“Oh yes,” said the bright young man in our audience, “yes, you did.”

“Well,” Professor began modestly, “if you have to talk long enough, you’re bound to say something.”

I love the paper, I think it’s swell. On Saturday mornings I pull out the mail then, and read it. Read each line, the stories and columns. I think they’re fine. I laugh at the jokes, I read all the ads; I look at the comics, I take up the fads. When I pray on Sunday, I pray for the people who laugh, I’m really most loyal— I’m on the staff.

’50 Graduates End Successful Fall Quarter

Dressed in most anything and everything, the seniors celebrated with their class party last night in the House in the Woods. TheFaculty dressed up in various clothing, wearing everything from sweaters, pajamas to skirts and sweaters. Games were played and refreshments were served during the course of the evening. No diploma program was planned.

Highlights of the “come as you are” party, was the unwrapping of the gifts. Each senior drew a name a few weeks ago and cheap, inexpensive things were given.

The seniors are very active this week as they, the Student Rester in all dormitories and Ad Building. Those are lists of every student and faculty member on campus and they have been popular at Christmas time for all those in sending cards.

At a recent meeting of the Seniors it was decided that the candy rings and pins for this year will become the standard ones for G.S.W.C. The other cloths have had the cost of the rings and pins cut down. Also it will make it possible to have something on the college on the side of the ring.

Sock and Buskin Club Has Party

On Sunday, December 11, the Sock and Buskin will have its annual Christmas party in the gymatorium. The members of the club have drawn names and will present each other with expensive and foolish gifts.

Gloria Johnson, president of the club, is in charge of the preparations. This will make of the appropriate noises and carol singing.

Lavars Jones, Martha Barr and Peggy Good are in charge of the decorations. The members of the club will be chosen from among the group, and will present to each other with expense and foolish gifts.

Pianists To Be Presented Tonight

A duo-piano team will be presented on December 10 as the third in this year's Artist's Series. Luboshutz and Nemenoff, both pianists of world renown, combined their talents in honor of their marriage, first for pleasure, later for concerts. Today they perform with a feeling of unity that is labeled "unison" by many critics. This performance is, perhaps, one of the most eagerly awaited of the series.

Their program consists of the following selections:

Now Comes the Gentle Saviour
Sonata in D Major, Allegro con spirito; Andante; Allegro molto—Mozart.
Rondo—Chopin.
Suite Champerret; Bourree; Aria et Ecossaise; Gigue—Vitoorio Retti.
Scaramouche, Vif; Moderie; Brelzlera—Milhaud.

The remaining performance of the Artist's Series is the classical comedy, "The Imaginary Invalid" by Molier, which will be presented at The Barter Theater on January 31.

Dr. Durrenberger Attended Meeting Houston, Texas

Dr. J.A. Durrenberger, Academ-Le Dean, has returned from Houston, Texas, where he represented the college at a meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Over a thousand representatives registered at the twenty-fourth annual meeting, which was held November 27 through December 1 at the Rice Hotel in Houston.

At the first general session of the Southern Association, Harold E. Eitzen, prominent Republican and president of the University of Pennsylvania, delivered the main speech. The subject of his address was "Education of Free Men."

Dr. Durrenberger said that one of the outstanding papers read at the meeting was "The Pedagogy of Self-forgiveness," delivered by Dr. T.W. Smith, director of the Maxwell Graduate School of Citizenship and Public Affairs of Syracuse University.

Dr. Mildred Thompson, dean emeritus of Vassar College, was the speaker at the luncheon meeting of representatives of the Southern Association of Colleges for Women.

The piano duo of Luboshutz and Nemenoff will appear here tonight at the third presentation of the Valdosta Concert Association. The concert is scheduled in the high school auditorium.

Jane Gibson Completes Work On AB Degree

Miss Elizabeth Jane Gibson of Donalsonville is the only Senior graduating this quarter. Miss Gibson has completed four years work in three years and one quarter with two summers of work.

Jane, as her friends know her, is majoring in Humanities with an emphasis on English. She has been active in the clubs and organizations on campus since her freshman year. This year she has been the president of the League of Women Voters, having only joined the League work last year. She also served on the staff of the Pine Cone and the Campus Canopy. She was a member of the English Club and the 1, R, C.

Miss Gibson is planning to teach in high school beginning in January.

Vital Statistics

By BETTY KING

The U.S. Bureau of Vital Statistics has compiled an interesting survey on the subject: "What do college girls do during study hour?" (That is from 7:30 to 10 o'clock, if you read it.)

The results follow:

Studying: 17; Washing: 1; Washing face: 1; Getting ready for date: 2; Rolling up hair: 1; Putting in nose drops: 1; Making coffee: 1; Lying on bed staring at ceiling: 2; Playing solitaire: 2; Eating peanuts in the middle of bed: 1; Quote: "Not a durn thing" Unquote: 2; Writing to boy friend: 1; Sitting on desk looking at University of Georgia cata goue: 1; Making a poster: 1; Reading "True Romances": 1; Working on Loom: 2; Knitting a tangerine and listening to radio: 1.

While this report may not be the most accurate in the world, we seem to be a very studious group—but you can draw your own conclusions!!
