V.S.C. Represented At Workshop In Milledgeville

The Home Economics club was well represented at the Georgia Home Economics Annual Workshop which was held on the Georgia State College for Women campus in Milledgeville on October 20 and 21. The delegates from this campus were Bobbie Jobe, Barbara Howell, and Miss Sara Weems, advisor to the Home Ec. Club.

The theme of the workshop was "Enlarging the Sphere of Home Economics." In addition to the regular scheduled meetings, the delegates report that they were entertained with a tour of Milledgeville, art exhibits, teas and banquets.

One of the meetings which was found to be most interesting and beneficial was the Committee Meeting. There were various committee meetings which offered many helpful suggestions. They were all concerned with helping local Home Ec. Clubs with their work.

The guest speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Ferrell C. Winn, Georgia Home Economics Association president.

The VSC delegation gathered much helpful information which they hope to put into action here on campus.

The fog comes

About the time of examinations
And sits
On silent haunches
Looking over desk and chair
And then moves on . . .

Varied Programs Are Presented

One of the most interesting and informative programs this year has been the one given by Dr. Gulliver recently on the background of Korea. Dr. Thaxton introduced him in a very clever and unique way. He began with a survey of a book which thousands of children have read over the years and ended with "Gulliver's Travels." Up to that point everyone was puzzled as to how he would bring the introduction around to Dr. Gulliver.

The background of Korea and its people was discussed by Dr. Gulliver in a very interesting, and, in parts, most humorous talk. He related some of his army experiences, particularly those related to horses. Dr. Gulliver gave a very informative and entertaining program.

The assembly program the next week was presented by Mrs. John Jenkins, Dean of Women. Mrs. Jenkins planned a program on education, but gave only a brief outline of this. She devoted the majority of her time to the subject of college etiquette and manners.

Father John J. Kennedy spoke to the students and faculty of V.S.C. on the subject "In Our Time." His title came from a verse in the book of Proverbs, "A word in time is best."

Father Kennedy's talk consisted of the results caused by the wrong things being said at the wrong time, and what an encouraging word at the right time can do. He said that more good can be gotten out of a person by an encouraging word than any other method. Although we should not encourage everything, we should point out the right method of procedure.

His advice to the younger generation was this: Remember that others are willing to help you, and unless you are prepared to heed the advice of the older, more experienced people, it may not be long before you are soiled inwardly or morally.

He also said that to live de-

U. N. Flag Presented To College

The Home Economics Club of Valdosta State College, in cooperation with the American Legion Auxiliary, made and presented a United Nations flag to the college in a nation-wide observance of United Nations Day and Week.

Presentation was made to Dr. J. Ralph Thaxton, president of the college, by Miss Ann Murdock, president of the Home Economics Club. Holding the flag for presentation were Ann Tygart, and Miss Ruth Miller, students who represented the American Legion Auxiliary.

The ceremony was held during the assembly program on Wednesday, October 25.

cently in this world today is a hard task but if we would put the principles of religion into practice, we would preach the greatest sermon ever preached.

November 6 Is Date For Artist Series

The second Artist Series program will be presented Sunday, November 6 at 8:30 P. M. The program will be presented by Nadine Conner, soprano star of the Metropolitan Opera.

Miss Conner is one of America's leading prima donnas. She has gained laurels in both the United States and Canada in recitals and as soloist with symphony orchestras. Miss Conner has been heard as regular or guest star on countless programs on the airwaves.

The third Artist Series Program will be the original Don Cossack Chorus. This will be presented on Friday, January 26 at 8:30 P. M.

The latest of the Artist Series programs will be on Wednesday, February 21 at 8:30 P. M. when the Touring Players, Inc. will present two of George Bernard Shaw's plays, "Man of Destiny" and "Dark Lady of the Sonnets."

All of the concerts will be in the Valdosta High School Auditorium.

Horrors! Fun! Food! Dancing! All this and much more will be yours at the Halloween Carnival which is presented by the Senior class. The date for this stupendous event is Saturday, October 28. The place is the campus of Valdosta State College just south of Converse Hall.

The Carnival will begin at 7:30, and will offer Bingo, a cake walk, and a new addition, a pie walk, and many games of chance. You can have your fortune told by one of the most noted palmists living today. Those who like can pitch pennies, knock down ten-pins, or play a version of ring toss. Or if you are the type person who always wants to win you can "fish" for prizes. Those who are very brave can risk their enrvs lives by going through the gruesome House of Horrors.

Anyone who feels that they are very fond of good food can buy hot dogs made by the world's champion hot dog makers. There will also be a supply of ice cold cokes.

After this, there will be a first class, old fashioned Vaudeville show in the auditorium. There will be lovely chorus girls, top grade singers, excellent actors, an orchestra of the best type, and many other attractions.

In addition to all of this everyone will be invited to a street dance in front of Senior Hall.

The admission prices to all of these attractions is negligible; twenty-five cents for gate fee and another twenty-five cents for the Vaudeville. The street dance is absolutely FREE.

The entire Senior class has been cooperating in making this one of the best Halloween Carnivals ever to be presented on this campus. Thadyne Pitt, president of the Senior class has appointed Betty English, Sammie Steedly, Mary Brand, Betty Buckner, Sally King and Dot Keefe as chairmen of the various committees for the carnival.

All the proceeds from the Halloween Carnival will go into the Senior class treasury to be used for a class trip. The class of 1950 went to Cuba for their class trip and this is the goal of the class of 51.

Everyone go to the Carnival and have a wonderful time.

Hither and Yon

To the soft and melodious strains of "Going Home" the freshmen announced to the world that they were doing just that—going home for their first week-end of their college careers. This was proof that Freshman Orientation was really over—no more having to have cards approved, no more having to go to town in pairs and such things.

This was an event which was very significant for the freshmen students, but soon, in the near future, there is another important event. This is that gruesome thing known as "mid-quarter!" With the middle of the quarter come semi-final exams in some classes and the sending out of grades in all courses.

Only those grades which are C—or below are "sent out." This is to give parents and students a view of the work being done in each class. It will give you an opportunity to see in which subjects you need to concentrate more of your effort.

The only unfavorable comment which has been heard concerning the recent Artist Series program was that it just wasn't long enough. With this in mind everyone should be somewhat happier over going to the next program. Miss Nadine Conner, who is to be our next performer has been given a good build up and nice notices. Maybe you feel that NO soprano could be good, but consider this: other people, with probably more knowledge of music than any of us have, have thought her very good. So go to the next program with an open mind and if you feel you must be just a little prejudiced let it be more that you will enjoy the program than you will be bored to death.

Last year the Student Government Association awarded a loving cup to the class with the smallest number of court warnings over a quarter's time. This did not seem to be too strong an incentive to the proposed plan for this year is to make it a more permanent thing, and to have the basis for grading not just the number of court warnings, but the participation in the various activities of the college. Every student should help their class to win, not just because it is winning something, but because in cooperating with the organizations on campus in their various activities every student will be able to lead a fuller, more interesting college life.

Notable were the number of men students who tried out for and got parts in "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." All the made parts in this play

KING

Ten Years Ago In The Canopy

Oct. 4, 1940—First foreign student, from Germany, creates sensation.

An editorial compares the library to a morgue and expresses a wish that it stay that quiet always.

Oct. 11—An appeal is made to paint those "ghastly" green lawn chairs white (Aren't we glad they did!)

A suggestion is made by a college professor that textbooks should be abolished in American colleges. (Might not be a bad idea, but then what could we doodle in the margins of?)

Oct. 25—Preliminary plans have been made for a building to house a tea-room, book-store, and post office (Whatever became of it?)

An editorial states that "vital statistics show that sixty-three percent of the average college audience come to assembly with plans other than paying attention on their minds. A glance around our auditorium during assembly is sufficient evidence of this fact."

If You Think V.S.C. Is Strict—

(Excerpts from the November 1, 1940 issue of the Campus Canopy).

In the early days of S.G.A. if one were lucky enough to receive a box from home, this box must not contain meats of any kind and must at all times be kept in the box office in the hall except immediately after meals.

Another ancient rule was the requirement that each student bring her own knife, fork and spoon to each meal. Imagine the horrors of arriving at dinner practically starved, only to remember you had forgotten to bring your implements! Incidentally, this accounts for our present conglomeration of silver; one year the students turned kindhearted and donated their silver to the college so future enrollment-increasers would not find themselves in the above predicament.

Excerpts from the code book of '22.

An Explanation

It seems that an explanation concerning the Campus Canopy is due everyone. The scheduled time for the Canopy to be issued was last Saturday, October 21.

A conflict had arisen because the company which prints the Canopy also prints the Emory Spoke. At the first of the year when the first Canopy was printed the staff of the Spoke had planned to have a paper also. Since both papers are bi-weekly a conflict developed.

For this reason the staff of the Canopy decided it would help straighten out the situation if the date for issuing of the Canopy was moved a week. This is why the Canopy is a week late.

"Alarm clocks are out of order. Borrowing a prennial, vulgar nuisance in dormitories as elsewhere.

a. Just don't.

b. If a student feels she must borrow something, she first gets the approval of the Head of the House; and then "checks" the permit when the article is returned.

"As students of the college correspond with only those men who are approved of their parents, and as there is no reason why proper mail should not be posted in the dormitory box, it is necessary to regard the posting of letters outside as evidence of bad faith in the student as the college may ask the student to withdraw." Many students went to court for mailing letters in town. And in gay 1926 one young lady was sent to court for waving to a young man. In that same year Seniors were given the wonderful privilege of dating on the terrace and campus in front of Ashley Hall.

It seems that the favorite punishment was "walk alone without reading or eating from 7 to 7:30 A. M. from the entrance of Converse to the entrance of Ashley. This punishment was administered for visiting during quiet hour, receiving visitors over a "Do Not Enter" sign, hanging hose in the window, chewing gum, or cutting a meal.

One student was campused for "sleeping with another", one for having food in her room, and one was back campused for shopping in town on Saturday afternoon.

Some of these rules and regulations and punishments are amusing to us today (1940) because of the practically unlimited freedom we have. Perhaps this will give you some idea of the progress made by our Student Government Association in cooperation with the college administration. The grass may look greener on the other side, but did you ever stop to look on this side?"

Evidence of the fact that the Seniors have been very busy working on the Halloween Carnival was Edwina Ford Friday night at supper. She had been sewing on a costume and wore her thimble to supper.

Said Miss Fink to Mrs. Odum: "Mrs. Odum, that is a very good question."

If Senior Hall has a quarantine placed on it any time in the near future, it may be attributed to Jo Dekle's fine case of "Itch."

One of the signs in front of Ashley proudly and maybe somewhat optimistically proclaimed "The Grass."

The college may soon boast another noted musician. Mrs. Spear's Economics class reports that he has been serenading them during tests.

Greek Letter Fraternities At Valdosta State

Recently there has been some discussion among the men students in relation to Frats being organized on the campus. This will be the content of this article.

First, let me say that the President of the college agrees and approves of this idea wholeheartedly, as do most of the other faculty members.

Fraternities are permitted in the University System under certain regulations, as follows: The organization must have the recommendation of the faculty, after this recommendation has been secured application has to be made to the Chancellor and to the Board of Regents. If the application is approved then the fraternity can be organized.

The subject of securing a charter after the recommendation has been approved has been put forth very ably in the following statement which comes as a suggestion from Dr. Thaxton, "To organize a local group not affiliated with any other national or state group." After this group has been on the campus and functions for some time to apply whatever national fraternity this group chooses for a charter. This seems to have been a very practical and sensible suggestion for securing this charter and surely the speediest and most convenient.

In the city of Valdosta we have many members of practically every national fraternity that is predominant in the South.

Here are a few statements made by some of these people. Mr. Gene Jenkins, Lambda Chi, University of Georgia, "I personally think it would be an asset to V.S.C. to institute fraternities.

Mr. Billy Peoples, Emory Univ. S.A.E., "If the enrollment calls for such a thing I think it would inspire leadership, but one must remember a fraternity can be either helpful or harmful, this is especially true of a school with a small enrollment."

Mr. Will Strickland, S.A.E., "I think fraternities would be a little premature considering the enrollment of V.S.C."

Personally, I have the same feeling that Mr. Jenkins has about this subject. It could and would be an asset to this campus. For organization and fellowship are some of the fundamentals of college life and it is my belief that well governed fraternities give us this in every aspect.

Our president, Dr. Thaxton, has already talked to the Chancellor in relation to this subject. He has also talked to several fraternal agencies, these agencies prefer a larger student body than we have at present, but this does not mean that we are unable to secure national fraternities on this campus.

These fraternities could do for us men what living in the dormitories do for our fellow students, the females—make us into a well organized and a closely knit unit socially and politically. The female students are very closely associated in the dormitories and they get to know each other quite well and are able to organize. But males live in town and see each other only in classes and therefore do not get to know each other as well and are unable to match our counterpart, the girls in organization.

are being played by students of V.S.C. This should serve as an incentive for more of the men students to participate in the club activities on campus.

The Senior Class has been working hard to make the forthcoming Halloween Carnival a success. It can be successful only, if all the students cooperate. The seniors are working with a goal in mind—a trip to somewhere, preferably to Cuba. Everyone go to the Carnival and help them reach their goal.

The meetings which have been planned under the sponsorship of the Y are designed to get the members of the two upper classes and the two lower classes into more closely knit groups. The Freshman-Sophomore and Junior-Senior meetings give all the students a better chance to know each other and meet to have a good time and fellowship. This is also a chance for the boys to get more into the "inner circles" of the various classes.

Faculty Fable

By HENDERSON

This is a story about WHITTLE Red Riding Hood.

One KNIGHT, Little Red sat in her room, MULLIN over the fact that she hadn't seen her Dear Old Granny in some time. "I wonder how she's PHELAN? I FINK I'll go see her tomorrow and CARTER some 'goodies,'" thought Little Red.

Tomorrow dawned, and Little Red took her basket in hand and started out. As she was MOSELY-ing down the road, a great big Wolf stepped out in front of her. "Ah, Miss Hood! I SAWYER coming down the street, and I said THOMAS self, ROOKS like this is the girl for you! You're WHITE a girl, you know."

But Red just turned up her nose, and replied in acid tones, "SPEARS like to me that you're barking up the wrong tree. If you don't stop annoying me, I'm GUNTER call a policeman."

The Wolf, his pride SHRIVAL-LED up, slunk away, swearing to get even with her at any PRICE, and THAXTON his brain, he finally hit on a plan. He'd go to Granny's house by a short cut, and GULLIVER her up and pretend to Red he was her Granny!

So away to Granny's penthouse he went. When he got there, the elevator was out of order, and he had to climb the stairs. Finally, he got to the top, all out of breath, but his en-DURRENCE was wonderful. He knocked on Granny's door. "Who's there?" she asked. "It's your little Red, Granny. Don't you re-PEMBER me?" replied the Wolf, in falsetto tones. "O, DUM on in, Red," called Granny. "I can't get up and let you in myself because HAMBRICK in bed." The Wolf bounded into the room and DEAVOR ed her all up. Then he put on her nightie, and crawled into the bed.

Petty soon, there was a knock at the door, and Little Red called, "Granny?" "I'm not feeling PERRY well, dear. Just come on in," replied the Wolf, talking just like Granny, only MOORE hoarsely.

Red walked over to the bed. "IVEY bringing you some goodies, Granny," said Red, "but it WEEMS to me like you aren't DUENBURY well. In fact, I've NEVIN seen you look worse."

This was MORGAN the Wolf could stand. "MYERS dear, I told you I would have revenge. I have et your Granny, and now I am JENKINS to eat you!"

Red screamed, and out in the hall, a detective HERNDON noise, came rushing in. Seeing the Wolf, and COTTINGHAM by the collar, he went LOGAN him to jail and BABCOCK-ed him in a cell, because he had a WARREN for his arrest for a long time. "Oh, PAR-DEE me, Sir!" cried the Wolf, trying to wriggle out of it.

VALENTE way, the moral to this story is, I DURRENBURG-ER-lieve in Strange Wolves talking to Red Riding Hoods. You'll do PATTERSON, and you too, Daughter, to mind your mother, and when you haev a daughter, TREANOR in the right way.

Romance Language Club Adopts French Child

The Romance Language Club, which was reactivated last year by Dr. Treanor and Irene Wilson, issued bids this week to eleven new language students.

The club is a small organization at V.S.C. composed of members who are either students of French or Spanish or those who are interested in the languages and the countries from which they come. One of the main purposes of the club is to stimulate interest among the students about our foreign neighbors.

The project that the club boasts of is the support of a little French girl, Ginette Christy, whose father was killed in the war, leaving her mother to care for and educate Ginette and her little brother, Jean-Pierre. CARE packages are sent to Ginette about every two months and the letters that he club receives from Madame Christy express their appreciation for the interest and the help of the Romance Language Club.

This year's officers are Ann Bryant, president; Rebekah Culbreth, vice-president; Sue McDonald, secretary-treasurer.

The match games which were postponed on account of the weather were played on last Monday afternoon. The Kappas took the volleyball game, but this may be attributed to a stroke of fate. At the half the score was 22 to 13 in favor of the Kappas. The final score was 36 to 24. As the whistle which ended the game sounded, the Lambda server had already started to serve.

The speedball game ended in a 2 to 2 tie. The Kappas scored a field goal in the first quarter and the Lambdas made their score in the second quarter. Cornelia Ashley took the scoring honors for the Kappas and Sister Griffin for the Lambdas.

Both were very good games. We are off to a roaring start—let's continue the good work.

You can still make a team if you will come out for practice even after the match game. Come out so that you can make team and be on your way to getting a letter.

Archery—

The large number out for archery is very promising, but we would still like to have anyone who is interested come out. Archery team counts toward a letter the same as speedball or volleyball.

Team Sweaters—

If you don't have your team sweater and would like one you may get one from Sylvia Zeigler, Ann Stubbs, Luceil Bauer, or Ruth Dinkins.

Recreational Swimming—

The pool is still open for recreational swimming. It is open during the week in the afternoons from 4:00 to 5:00, Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 3:00 to 5:00, and Saturday mornings from 10:30 to 12:30. There is a life guard on duty at the above times. If you want to do extra swimming for class, have these life guards sign your practice slips.

To swim at any other than scheduled times you have to have a life guard with you. No swimming is allowed within an hour after meals and no one is to swim alone at any time.

The above regulations are set up by the P. E. Department and are to be strictly enforced.

Upon looking at her annual books one Senior was heard to remark "I've spent two dollars and four years for THIS".

By MARY ANN DYKEN

The dining hall of V.S.C. was transferred into the "Magnolia Room" of a fashionable night club Saturday night when the Sophomore Class sponsored an informal dance. Silk top-hats with canes and gloves and pink champagne glasses topped with bubbles adorned to walls. Giant cigarettes with matching lips gave the atmosphere of sophistication.

The floor show consisted of an assortment of talents. Mary "Peggy" Lee, the well-known blues singer, the famous dance team, Lanie and Ann, "Tallulah" Ford and "Charles Boyer" Hackett, Bettye "Nadine Conner" Jackson and her accompanist, Rebekah, all en route to engagements in New York were so gracious to share their talents. And of course the famous Mistress of Ceremonies, Jackie Mathis, was heartily welcomed. Billy Rose sent four of his lovely cigarette girls, Betty Jan, Peggy, Betty Grace, and Martha to add just the right touch. And to bring back the "Roaring Twenties" era were Jackie, Marianne, and Jane, the ukelele trio.

Chaperones for the occasion were Miss Gunter, Mr. and Mrs. Spears, and Mr. and Mrs. Babcock.

The Sophomores wish to thank everyone for their wonderful spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm.

Big Sister-Little Sister Service Held

The annual YWCA Big Sister-Little Sister Recognition Service was held Thursday night, October 26 after supper. All Big Sisters and Little Sisters, dressed in white, met in the Rotunda at approximately 6:45 and marched out onto the golf course for the service. Membership blanks were given to all Little Sisters and after the service all those who wished to come into the fellowship of the YWCA will receive membership.

The service was originally planned to be held on October 19 but due to unfavorable weather, was postponed.

The program for the Recognition Service was as follows:

Processional — "Now on Land and Sea Descending"

Talk — Betty Buckner

Song by Chapel Choir — "At Worship"
