Freshman Elections Coming Up

Freshmen To Elect Class Officers
On November 1

Thursday, November 1st has been set as the date for the freshmen to elect their class officers. At 8:30 p.m., the election will be held in the House-In-The-Woods on Thursday, October 31st. Voting will be by roll call and the secret ballot.

The nominations are to be posted on Wednesday, October 24th, in the Student Bulletin Board in the Administration Building. These nominations are open to all freshmen who have attended classes by October 24th, 1951. If you have not attended classes by this date, your name will not be posted.

The freshmen are encouraged to think about the qualities of leadership in their candidates. These candidates are to lead you in your activities during the coming year. It will be up to you to determine who you want as your class officers. Be thinking about your candidates, so you will be prepared to vote when your choice comes.

Big Sister-Little Sister Recognition Service

The annual Big Sister-Little Sister Recognition Service was held Thursday, October 18 at 8:30 p.m. in the House-In-The-Woods. All freshmen were present at this service. The Big Sisters and Little Sisters met in the House-In-The-Woods after the service for refreshments.

The freshmen are known as the Freshmen Honor Society. Their officers are: Nancy Nodine, Ruth Boyle, Barbara Hill, R. A. Gerber, Elizabeth Burns, and Eileen Jones. The Freshmen Honor Society met in the House-In-The-Woods on Tuesday, October 17. The feature attraction was a short talk by Mr. T. W. Hamby.

Square Dance Held For Men Students

Something new has been added to the social calendar this year. Off Limits, the social club for men, has arranged a square dance for the men students. The dance was held in the Student Center on Saturday, October 27.

The dance was a great success and all who were present enjoyed the evening. The entertainment included dancing and a brief talk by Doris Kellum. The dance lasted until midnight and everyone was invited to attend.

Honor Societies

To begin its 1951-52 season, the honor societies in the House-In-The-Woods on Thursday, October 24th. Dr. Mcfarland, the president of the college, announced the names of the students elected to membership in the honor societies.

The Hermitage: "The Heirress" To Be Presented By Sock and Buskin

SYMPOSIUM

By WAYNE JOINER

Question: While attending high school, did you ever consider joining the army, navy or air force?

Coherence Fields, Habir—"I was tired of school, and I didn't want to go to college. Now I'm here in college and I'm glad. Everyone here is very nice.

Malcolm S. Davis, Dunwoody—I thought that college would be an entirely different world than high school, strange and unapproachable. Since I have been here, I have found it really is not so different from High School. The studies are somewhat harder than high school, and the dormitory life is different from living at home, but all in all, they are much the same.

Janet Harris, Thomasville—"I've always wanted to go to college because I like the idea of learning about life and helping other people understand life. At first, I was a little nervous that it would be a lot of fun to go to college, I would meet new and different types of people and of course, study, too. I have found this to be true, but for one thing, I have had to go to the doctor just once.

Janet Fischer, Valdosta—"I thought I would just die if I ever left high school, but now that I'm in college I love it. There is much more to do in college than in high school, and I like it better than I thought. I have met lots of real nice people and made new friends. Of course, that makes me happy.

Nancy Winter, Valdosta—"I thought I would just die if I ever left high school, but now that I'm in college I love it. There is much more to do in college than in high school, and I like it better than I thought. I have met lots of real nice people and made new friends. Of course, that makes me happy.

Betty Brady—"When I was in high school I thought college was going to be all about learning. Now I realize that it is a very different world from high school. I have found that it is not too different from high school, other than that the students are a little harder. The people here are just as friendly as the people in high school, and I am really glad I came.

Babe Thrattle, Lakeland—"I think it is just swell."

Billie Jones, Pelham—"It's hard, and I love everything about college.

 inexactly how I felt when I was in high school, I thought I would like to go to college. Of course, I wasn't too thrilled over our last high school, but I like college better. The people are a lot more courteous and talk to me."

The entire affair consisted of three phases: First the outdoor Carnival, second, an indoor skit, and last, a street dance. I cannot say anything more until everything closed. I still am in doubt about the Carnival part of the event as for some obscure reason, I was assigned to the House of Horrors. I cannot say anything about the Carnival part of the event as for some obscure reason, I was assigned to the House of Horrors. I cannot say anything about the Carnival part of the event as for some obscure reason, I was assigned to the House of Horrors.

As long as I am in such an amiable mood and before I forget it, I would like to say a few kind words about the Dormitory Committee. As you may possibly know, the Dormitory Committee is responsible for the social activities of the dormitory students. They are responsible for the social activities of the dormitory students. They are responsible for the social activities of the dormitory students.

He has been told that "in the spring a young man's fancy turns to love." I do not know whether this is necessarily true for all young men, but it is true for me. The fact is, it seems that fall might be substituted for spring: what, with the girls and the boys.

Jo Dekle has replaced her KA pin with a spangled job on her left shoulder. From the point of view of anyone interested in equal representation, it is rather preponderous to pass over the fact that this writer is one of the few freshmen in the class to work on the extra-curricular activities committee.

Faye Dasher, Valdosta—"Even when I was in high school, I thought college was going to be all about learning. Now I realize that it is a very different world from high school. I have found that it is not too different from high school, other than that the students are a little harder. The people here are just as friendly as the people in high school, and I am really glad I came.

"We've even had two freshmen who completely fly the coop. Martha Jones and Jeanette Grimes. They are both from the same class and are both freshmen. But now they are both freshmen."

I suppose that is true if financial gain is all that is being considered; however, there are still people who are naive enough to attend dances for an excuse. The first two "clambakes" at VSC were woefully lacking in the latter. It's come to a state of affairs when a college of this size is without a campus. I would like to point out that service personnel are just as important as the gullible people around and will go to get a military service, not to get off a military base. It is safe to say that these dances were held on campus every Saturday night there would be no noticeable loss in gate receipts.

Just by way of passing, this writer would like to say a few kind words about the Dormitory Committee. As you may possibly know, the Dormitory Committee is responsible for the social activities of the dormitory students. They are responsible for the social activities of the dormitory students. They are responsible for the social activities of the dormitory students.

The favorite sport in Senior Hall these days is dodging the men faculty members that appear in the middle of the hall, unannounced.

Heard at the Senior Carnival: a freshman asking if she had to sign out under 5:00, "I don't live here."

"It's a real shock to go to college and find that their weekends have been foolishly given to Moody in such a way.

The answer for this was that the committee acted in the best interest of the majority involved. The dormitory students. I beg to disagree with both statements. The definition of the word, maj ority, contains "one over half." According to a Roemer of Student Body, "The majority of dormitory students and 211 others. If that constitutes a majority, everyone needs a refresher course in mathematics. As for the college's duty, we are being considered; however, there are still people who are naive enough to attend dances for an excuse. The first two "clambakes" at VSC were woefully lacking in the latter. It's come to a state of affairs when a college of this size is without a campus. I would like to point out that service personnel are just as important as the gullible people around and will go to get a military service, not to get off a military base. As you may possibly know, the Dormitory Committee is responsible for the social activities of the dormitory students. They are responsible for the social activities of the dormitory students. They are responsible for the social activities of the dormitory students.

It seems to me that the present Extracurricular Committee has no right to dictate what, or who does not happen at VSC or have them railroaded through by certain individuals. There is no balance of equal representation; a great many of the dormitory students have no idea who is represented by the Extracurricular Committee. I am convinced that on-campus cannot serve on the committee be-cause of an outmoded and entirely unworthy procedure that is past system. Just how exclusive can you get? This school is co-educational, on paper, and I have a high time for the entire Extracurricular Committee. As you may possibly know, the Dormitory Committee is the group that has representation in it. It is unfair to have the majority dictated to by a group that has no representation in it. It may be well to point out that democracy begins at home. The word, democracy, has come to signify a free and full-fledged assembly. Not why not give it a chance to work at VSC with the free speech, free press and free assembly?

ODE TO A FRESHMAN

BY SYLVIA SHIVER

Hurrang! A sharp sound cuts through the morning stillnesses.

“Thump!” And a muffled sound from under the tangled sheets.

“Somebody turn off that alarm!”

Crack! It’s to the wall. After about five minutes of earnest study one of the other of our model pair brings up the intruding subject of “boys!” and they’re off to the races again. Never stop until 10:00 — both of the morning room of the block-speed to get a coke, crackers and something for the night’s study.

“Finally the fateful bell rings and it’s to the block boots. Never stop until 10:00 — both of the morning room of the block-speed to get a coke, crackers and something for the night’s study.

“Im sure I have the combination here in my purse — now let me see — Oh no! I must have misplaced it. What on earth can I do!” (She nervously chews on her nails)

“Sorry honey, I’m not information please. You remember the old saying. “If at first you don’t succeed, try, try, again.” Now, don’t give up while there’s still a chance.

“It but may be important. Gosh, it may be from Johnny! He may have asked me to be his awful wedded wife. There is a possibility, you know. Or he may be coming home. Oh, good. Sally, I’ll just give it another try.”

Now this character has placed her books on the floor, her pencil over her ear, her glasses on the end of her nose and is bent over in a very conspicuous position, laboriously attempting to accomplish her task.

“I think she has it — she looks a little enlightened — curses! foiled again! But wait, the old saying so applies this second time you try. No, she isn’t giving up. She has seated herself comfortably in a chair and has removed one shoe. Why, this girl is the perfect picture of grace and poise.

Poor girl! The passers-by cast a sympathetic glance in her direction. She is the perfect picture of grace and poise.

“T’ve got it! Now I’ll turn it to R.” (After brief pause) “Nope, wrong again. I’ll try 65.” (Another brief pause) “Down it! Won’t I ever hit the right number?”

Poor thing, I really feel sorry for her. She comes here every day, but always unsuccessfully turns away.

“Sure I have the combination here in my purse — now let me see — Oh no! I must have misplaced it. What on earth can I do!” (She nervously chews on her nails)

Social Science Club Meets

The Social Science Club had its regular meeting last night, October 15 at the House in the person of Mrs. Ruth Dinkins, president of the club. A re-election was held for the office of Vice President and Betty Jean Spell was elected to fill this office. Miss Spell was glad to have four new members with us who were Virginia Bolin and Betty Grace Verdin.

After the business session, Mrs. Lewis McLane, the visiting teacher for Lowndes County Public Schools, gave us a very interesting talk about her work as a visiting teacher.
