Forty-six Students Make Dean's List At Valdosta For Winter Quarter

by Joe Webb

Forty-six students made the Dean's List for the Winter Quarter. The greatest representation was from the Sophomore Class with seventeen making the grade. The Freshman Class followed with fourteen and the Junior Class with eleven. Only four students from the Junior Class made "the list".

Those representing the Senior Class are: Norma Jean Connell, Lightsey, Lornedra Davis NeSmith, and William Robert Watson. The Junior Class made "the list" with fourteen and the Senior Class with eleven. Only four students from the Sophomore Class were represented. The Sophomore Class included several speeches on various phases of the teaching profession, as well as special entertainment by several VSC organizations and tours of the campus.

Mrs. S. C. Patterson, Director of Teacher Recruitment for the State Department of Education, addressed the group, taking as her topic "Teaching — The Greatest Profession." The meeting was in the rotunda of the Administration Building.

Mr. Pendleton and Mr. Deal will announce that two such scholarships are being awarded this year, one to a student from the Albany area and the other to a student from the Valdosta area. The scholarship will be flown to New York for a five-day visit with \textit{CANOPY} and will then be photographed by the editors and staff. The winners will be notified by June 1.

The greatest representation was from the Sophomore Class with seventeen making the grade. The Freshman Class followed with fourteen and the Junior Class with eleven. Only four students from the Junior Class made "the list".

Those representing the Senior Class are: Norma Jean Connell, Lightsey, Lornedra Davis NeSmith, and William Robert Watson. The Sophomore Class included several speeches on various phases of the teaching profession, as well as special entertainment by several VSC organizations and tours of the campus.

Mrs. S. C. Patterson, Director of Teacher Recruitment for the State Department of Education, addressed the group, taking as her topic "Teaching — The Greatest Profession." The meeting was in the rotunda of the Administration Building.

Mr. Pendleton and Mr. Deal will announce that two such scholarships are being awarded this year, one to a student from the Albany area and the other to a student from the Valdosta area. The scholarship will be flown to New York for a five-day visit with \textit{CANOPY} and will then be photographed by the editors and staff. The winners will be notified by June 1.
Ah, Springtime...

One English writer said that Spring was the time when a young man’s fancy turned to the thoughts of love, and still the profoundness of the philosophy pertaining to Spring and its wonders.

Some say that the sap rising in the trees is responsible for the liaisons that one encounters during March and April, but I believe that the weather and the birds’ song are the cause, we never completely understand it.

It’s just psychological, the air is different, the light is different, the plants are different, and all the other things that aid in ending another school season and starting a new one.

For the student, it’s a time for “getting out” in the latenights for a quick game of tennis, a dip in the pool, a walk through Drexel Park with a charming companion (before darkness dominates), or a plain, old fashioned bull session in front of the dormitories about the faculty and other “prospects” on campus.

With Spring comes the baseball season, blistered noses, warmer weather and the anticipation of a new season. The birds are chirping, the flowers are blooming, and all the other things that aid in ending another school year perfectly.

The birds chattering in a tree (or gossiping about the couple on the bench below), the flowers bursting forth in full bloom, the buds that are growing into leaves, the warm sunshine (although this locality has been deprived of its share), the fresh, fragrant air makes one kind glad he’s still around.

BE SURE TO VOTE

The Spring quarter will be filled with elections such as those of Student Government Association, Senior Class, Junior Class, Sophomore Clubs, Fraternities, Sororities, and various Clubs.

Perhaps the most important and student-stirring will be the S. G. A. election for the coming school year. Music, games, dance, basketball, and other activities will be included in the slate. The Spring quarter is the time to get involved in campus affairs.

Perhaps the only reason you need to consider seriously the candidates’ qualifications is that you possess the characteristics of a leader that will represent you in your duties. The election is a matter of your choice and the decision is in your hands. You will be choosing the people to represent you on campus.

Remember that unless you vote, you do not have the right to complain about the outcome of the election.

Furnace Tabulation

By Alan Pendleton of WJEM

This week’s tabulation finishes some new lists on the top ten music hits. The top ten is always a good place to get your foot in the door of the music world. The Top 100, however, is a bit more difficult to get into.

Dan White, the musical director of the Top 100, has some advice for those who wish to succeed in the music business. He says, “The key to success is persistence. Keep working and keep trying until you succeed.”

Parade of Opinion

Would you like to see a student-panel discussion in the Campus Canopy? Would you like to see more differences of opinion between these groups of students? Would you think this should be debated in such a program?

Something ought to be done about reckless driving. It would be good to have some kind of relations to have such a discussion.

Jim Varner—Yes, but I would not want to be on the panel. People who are interested in the subject should be informed on changes that are made. The State can’t pave them be- cause it is tied up elsewhere. It depends on the discussion now.

Ben Perkins—Yes I think the State would have to be involved in the discussions, and that we have the right to know what is going on, since we are paying to go to school.

Lawrence Bishop—No. If they think it’s their job to make sure they don’t discuss them out in the open.

John Smith—I don’t know. I think they should work out something different about double-I.

Wayne Fowler—I think such an election is only as strong as the one who organized it.

The Tank of Wisdom

Only a leading student on campus has entered the race for student government. To Joe Patterson, it’s a matter of personal interest.

The sweet smell of dogwood blossoms fills the air. It’s a perfect day to take a stroll down the campus each day, carried on the sweet wings of a warm Spring breeze. The sun beams down from its perch in a sea of blue, while the birds chirp with bright color in the woods and parks, bursting buds of color. The Spring season is here and everyone seems to be at peace with the world.

Not even a “tetch-uped” abise rule or a six period class provokes a student who can later get into a hot game of tennis, or the old, fashioned bull session in front of the dormitories about the faculty and other “prospects” on campus.

With Spring comes the baseball season, blistered noses, warmer weather and the anticipation of a new season. The birds are chirping, the flowers are blooming, and all the other things that aid in ending another school year perfectly.

The birds chattering in a tree (or gossiping about the couple on the bench below), the flowers bursting forth in full bloom, the buds that are growing into leaves, the warm sunshine (although this locality has been deprived of its share), the fresh, fragrant air makes one kind glad he’s still around.

The Spring quarter will be filled with elections such as those of Student Government Association, Senior Class, Junior Class, Sophomore Clubs, Fraternities, Sororities, and various Clubs.

Perhaps the most important and student-stirring will be the S. G. A. election for the coming school year. Music, games, dance, basketball, and other activities will be included in the slate. The Spring quarter is the time to get involved in campus affairs.

Perhaps the only reason you need to consider seriously the candidates’ qualifications is that you possess the characteristics of a leader that will represent you in your duties. The election is a matter of your choice and the decision is in your hands. You will be choosing the people to represent you on campus.

Remember that unless you vote, you do not have the right to complain about the outcome of the election.

Furnace Tabulation

By Alan Pendleton of WJEM

This week’s tabulation finishes some new lists on the top ten music hits. The top ten is always a good place to get your foot in the door of the music world. The Top 100, however, is a bit more difficult to get into.

Dan White, the musical director of the Top 100, has some advice for those who wish to succeed in the music business. He says, “The key to success is persistence. Keep working and keep trying until you succeed.”

Parade of Opinion

Would you like to see a student-panel discussion in the Campus Canopy? Would you like to see more differences of opinion between these groups of students? Would you think this should be debated in such a program?

Something ought to be done about reckless driving. It would be good to have some kind of relations to have such a discussion.

Jim Varner—Yes, but I would not want to be on the panel. People who are interested in the subject should be informed on changes that are made. The State can’t pave them be- cause it is tied up elsewhere. It depends on the discussion now.

Ben Perkins—Yes I think the State would have to be involved in the discussions, and that we have the right to know what is going on, since we are paying to go to school.

Lawrence Bishop—No. If they think it’s their job to make sure they don’t discuss them out in the open.

John Smith—I don’t know. I think they should work out something different about double-I.

Wayne Fowler—I think such an election is only as strong as the one who organized it.

The Tank of Wisdom

Only a leading student on campus has entered the race for student government. To Joe Patterson, it’s a matter of personal interest.

The sweet smell of dogwood blossoms fills the air. It’s a perfect day to take a stroll down the campus each day, carried on the sweet wings of a warm Spring breeze. The sun beams down from its perch in a sea of blue, while the birds chirp with bright color in the woods and parks, bursting buds of color. The Spring season is here and everyone seems to be at peace with the world.

Not even a “tetch-uped” abise rule or a six period class provokes a student who can later get into a hot game of tennis, or the old, fashioned bull session in front of the dormitories about the faculty and other “prospects” on campus.

With Spring comes the baseball season, blistered noses, warmer weather and the anticipation of a new season. The birds are chirping, the flowers are blooming, and all the other things that aid in ending another school year perfectly.

The birds chattering in a tree (or gossiping about the couple on the bench below), the flowers bursting forth in full bloom, the buds that are growing into leaves, the warm sunshine (although this locality has been deprived of its share), the fresh, fragrant air makes one kind glad he’s still around.

The Spring quarter will be filled with elections such as those of Student Government Association, Senior Class, Junior Class, Sophomore Clubs, Fraternities, Sororities, and various Clubs.

Perhaps the most important and student-stirring will be the S. G. A. election for the coming school year. Music, games, dance, basketball, and other activities will be included in the slate. The Spring quarter is the time to get involved in campus affairs.

Perhaps the only reason you need to consider seriously the candidates’ qualifications is that you possess the characteristics of a leader that will represent you in your duties. The election is a matter of your choice and the decision is in your hands. You will be choosing the people to represent you on campus.

Remember that unless you vote, you do not have the right to complain about the outcome of the election.
Society News

Betty Lou Eldridge Elected Proxy of Gamma Xi Sorority

Gamma Xi chapter of Alpha Delta recently elected its slate of officers for the coming year. The new officers are as follows: Betty Lou Eldridge, president; Ann Strickland, vice-president; Erika Brown, secretary; Angela Smith, corresponding secretary; Dorothy Harriss, Laura Nell Bowen, membership chair and chaplain, and Eleanor Leonard, historian.

A recent project of Gamma Xi was to help the local Lions Club by distributing raffle tickets to the Florida State University Aerial Circus, which had a great performance in Valdosta on March 15th.

Mr. Charlie Smith Addresses Business Club on March 25

Mr. Charlie Smith, manager of the Georgia Employment Agency in Valdosta, was the guest speaker of the Business Club on March 25 at the House-in-the-Woods. He is a graduate of Atlanta University and the University of Georgia. Before coming to Valdosta in December, he served with the Georgia Employment Agency in Thomasville and was Public Relations rep­resentative for the Atlanta Division of the Department of Labor.

Mr. Smith, a native Georgian, has served two years in the business of the B. S. U.

Refreshments were served and the meeting was adjourned.

Canopy “Spotlight” Portrays James B. Dales, Business Dept.

By Sandra Stanfield

The Canopy throws it’s spotlight on a faculty member that all the B. A. Majors know, Mr. James B. Dales, head of the Business of Administration Department. He may be seen between classes, dashing down the hall, and is known to be smoking a pipe, a quick smile of hello to the students or fellow faculty. If you ask him closely, he will tell you that he wears dashing tie-pins; even though he was born and reared in Kansas City, Missouri, a bit of his Texas living shows.

Mr. Dales first college days included Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Tri-State Indiana, S. U. Dallas, and Sul Ross State, Alpine Texas. Upon completion of his work at Sul Ross State, he received his B. A., and M. A. degree which is also in Business Administration. He has also done graduate work at the University of Texas, at the Graduate Center of Little Rock Arkansas. He began his teaching career in the Texas State University, in San Antonio, from there he became a fellow at the University of Texas. He has taught at State Colleges and several other colleges. During this time he operated a credit bureau of his own, and has the honor of being past president of the credit bureau of the State of Texas. From the time he finished college, until he came to the Business of Administration, his work included accounting, experimenting and teaching. During World War II he was employed by Continental Motors as a designer of engines. He was employed at several other engineering firms, and also he worked at Republic Air Craft in the North West area.

When asked for his personal likes and dislikes, he merely smiled and said, “My dislikes are few and my likes are many, such as grading papers, smoking a pipe, but as for hobbies, I am interested in photography.

Since he has been at V. S. C. (1956), Mr. Dales has continued to teach his outside interest in the business world. At present he is teaching a night class on trades and interest in the T. V. T. screen. The students are interested in photography. The remaining of the hour was heard, not seen. The moral of the story is that if you give it a chance it won’t work, have been radio near by so you won’t miss the climax of the program.

Around 12 o’clock all the awards had been given except the best all around movie picture of the year. When the reading of the movies began, the ears of the students strained to hear who had won. The students had ears, not eyes because just about this time a dark blaek ray appeared in the middle of the T. V. screen and then the entire set went white. The students laughed at the jokes, swooned when the stars appeared, and clapped as the awards were given.

As the show progressed theate was made by Bob Hope that the movie industries were paying to help the local Lions Club with their current fundraising campaign.

The Big Wheels Title Goes to Senior Alice Cook, Soph. Wayne Adkins

The Following Organizations Submitted No News

(The For This Edition Of The Canopy)

Math - Science
Serendipers
Glee Club
Sock and Buskin
Education Club
English Club
International Relations
Circle K
Photography
Thispiclan
Filli Fortuna
Taa Kappa Epsilon
Sigma Epsilon
Gamma Mu
Delta Theta
Sigma Alpha Chi
Women’s Recreational Association
Fins and Flippers
Letterman’s Club
Y. M. C. A.
Y. W. C. A.
The B. S. U.
The Wesley Foundation

W H Y ?

OVER 400 VISITORS

(ACP)—A taproom serving beer in the under-age—maybe other drinks has opened. The University of Michigan’s student union might not be a bad idea, thinks U. M. deen of men Walter B. Bea, campus to drink.

Although Wayne may look like a football player, his favorite sports are swimming and tennis. Tennis, girls?

By Gene W. Deal

The Big Wheels selected for this issue are Alice Cook and Wayne Adkins.

The charming young lady is best known around campus as Alice Perry, which was her name until March 29, when she changed it to Mrs. Adkins. Her husband is a former student at V. S. C. and is now engaged in protecting our country as a U. S. Marine.

Now 20 years old, Alice is a senior, who this month completed her term as president of Gamma Xi. She is a native of Valdosta. She is a graduate of Valdosta High School.

The petite (5 feet 4 inches) Colonel belles says that she likes to dance, and greatly dislikes con­ceited people. Her favorite athletic pastimes are watching football.

And speaking of football, there is a young man attending school here who looks like a star half­back, standing 6 feet 1 inch and weighing 190 pounds. Wayne Adkins can be called (overworking an overworked phrase) a "local yokel" for he was born in Valdosta 19 years ago. Though only a sopho­more, Wayne is already recogniz­ed as a leader. Last year he serv­ed on the SGA, and recently term­inated his duties as president of Sigma Epsilon Fraternity. At present he is treasurer of Sigma Epsilon.

Wayne loves food (as if he weren’t big enough already), but although he is a good eater, he has no objection to petit medochennes a la Brigitte Bardot. But he professes a dislike for polka dots.

Broadcasting is one of the passions that has attracted Wayne to American University. Although Wayne may look like a football player, his favorite sports are swimming and tennis.

Tennis, girls?

Walter B. Bea,
Dean at UM
Advocates Plan
To Lessen Illegal
Use of Alcohol

(B)A.—A taproom serving beer in the under-age—maybe other drinks has a student union taproom. Dean Bea said there it seemed “to be working very well.” He added, “But I don’t think it will ever go to the level of the campus to drink.”

No minor can drink at the university without “breaking some rules”, he said. Moves to relax drinking rules at other universities has been made, he explained, but have died not. A request from a group can start a move to change the rules. Dean Bea added.

Sometime student comments were these:

“Could pass a law to the under-age—but they are those under 21 from those over 21.”

“I came here to study, not to drink!”

“Excellent! There’s quite a bit of drinking anyhow and it seems unfair to those over 21.”

“Would be easier way than having to go off­campus to drink.”

University of Wisconsin (where beer has also been legal) has a student union taproom. Dean Bea said there it seemed “to be working very well.” He added, “But I don’t think it will ever go to the level of the campus to drink.”

No minor can drink at the university without “breaking some rules”, he said. Moves to relax drinking rules at other universities has been made, he explained, but have died not. A request from a group can start a move to change the rules. Dean Bea added.

Some student comments were these:

“It could pass a law to the under-age—but they are those under 21 from those over 21.”

“I came here to study, not to drink!”

“Excellent! There’s quite a bit of drinking anyhow and it seems ridiculous not to have it at the union.”

“Walter B. Bea,”
Dean at UM
Advocates Plan
To Lessen Illegal
Use of Alcohol

ACP) — A taproom serving beer in the under-age—maybe other drinks has a student union taproom. Dean Bea said there it seemed “to be working very well.” He added, “But I don’t think it will ever go to the level of the campus to drink.”

No minor can drink at the university without “breaking some rules”, he said. Moves to relax drinking rules at other universities has been made, he explained, but have died not. A request from a group can start a move to change the rules. Dean Bea added.

Some student comments were these:

“Could pass a law to the under-age—but they are those under 21 from those over 21.”

“I came here to study, not to drink!”

“Excellent! There’s quite a bit of drinking anyhow and it seems ridiculous not to have it at the union.”
Sporting Around
by Sidney Patch

Sick...

Bachelors Unite!

(ACP)—These terrifying figures come from the Ohio State University Lantern.

There are more than 19,000,000 unmarried women in this country and every last one of them is out to get a man.

Last year women spent $30,000,000,000 for perfume. How much more they spent for lipstick, rouge, eyebrow pencil and false eyelashes is not known.

On the basis of these facts a number of eligible men throughout the country have organized into a Bachelor’s Protective Association to insure themselves against marriage.

The BPA is currently circulating its literature on our campus. For a small fee the BPA insures an unmarried man against marriage for a full year.

That is probably the “catch” to the whole organization. Insurance is costly and if you want insurance you will have to shell out. What price freedom?

Charlie Brown Comes To College

(ACP)—Charlie Brown, Patty, Pig Pen, Linus, Snoopy, Schroeder and Beethoven were at University of Minnesota this month, brought by their creator Charles Schulz.

The cartoonist creator of “Peanuts” talked about his characters “if they were real people, not the products of a grease pencil”, reported the MINNESOTA DAILY IVORY TOWER magazine.

Schulz drew as he talked.

“Lucy says you can draw Charlie Brown’s head by using a pie plate”, Schulz said as he drew something that looked very much like it could be drawn with a pie plate, “but this is not necessary...”.

He put a sad little face in the circle, drew a much-too-small body under it and introduced Charlie Brown. Then covered the drawing with vertical streaks.

“That’s rain”, he explained. “Charlie Brown says, ‘It always rains on the unloved.’”

The strip, says Schulz, “depicts high-toned saying jampacked down into their speech. ‘I’m ignorant as far as fine arts...’”

Lucy, author of “I Was a Poor Budget for the FBI” complains about Pig Pen, “Schulz says, ‘Pig Pen replies, ‘Yeah, but I got clean thoughts.’”

Schulz has a hard time thinking up ideas for Pig Pen. “They’re planning a Pig Pen doll, you know,” he told the Minnesotans. “When you set it down, a little cloud of dust rises.”

He has trouble, too, with Schroeder, mainly because of the Beethoven hunt on his piano. “I have a hard time drawing Beethoven. Sometimes he looks like James Mason and sometimes like Elia Maxwell.”

Says the TOWER, Schulz has some of the emotional problems the Peanuts clan does. He is motivated by the belief that few people like cartoonists, writes reporter Todd Hunt, and he “can’t stand” people who use their suggestions.

His wonderment was matched on one occasion by that of little Linus. Clutching his “security blanket”, Linus listened intently to the story of Sambu and the Tigers. When the story was over, Linus looked puzzled and asked the question ono might expect any normal child to ask: “Now in the world could anybody eat that many pancakes after undergoing such an emotional experience?”

De gustibus
non est disputandum”—and, quite literally, there’s no question about it—when it comes to taste, Coca-Cola wins hands down. In Latin, Greek or Sanskrit, “Have a Coke” means the same thing—it’s an invitation to the most refreshing pause of your life. Shall we?

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by Valdosta Coca-Cola Bottling Works, Inc.
Valdosta, Georgia