Senior Weekend Scheduled for March 6-8; Big Crowd Expected

Sock And Buskin Staging Antigone

The Sock and Buskin Club will present Jean Anouilh's play, "Antigone," at 8:15 p.m. on March 4 and 5th at Pound Hall on North Campus.

Admission will be 50¢ and $1, "Antigone," written in the Frenchmen Jean Anouilh and adapted for the English stage by Lewis Galante, is a modern version of Sophocles' great tragedy.

Created in 1943, Anouilh's "Antigone" reflects the opposition of France to her subjugation by Germany. The Germans are reflected through the dictators Creon and France becomes the heroine Antigone, who is martyred by Creon.

This play should be one of the dramatic highlights of the current offering.

Appearing in the Sock and Buskin production under the direction of Mrs Louise Sawyer are; Fred McDonald as Chorus, Dixie Lee as Antigone, Joe Vinson as the seer, Leslie Harris as Iermene, Wayne McPherson as Hammon, Jerome Crig as Creon, Bessey Mitchell, Allen Pendleton and Gabriel Saliba as the three guards, Wayne Fowler as the messenger, Ed Pike as the page, and Marjorie Brooks as the messenger, Ed Pike as the page, and

Rebels Close Winning Year Stop Gators

Last Monday night VSC's Rebels brought their regular season to a close by taking the University of Florida Junior Varsity by a score of 47 to 8.

This marked the first time in history that a Rebel team has won more games than it lost. Their record stands at 11 won and ten lost.

In the Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference the Rebels finished with an 8 and 8 record to finish in third place.

What should this have been an outstanding year for VSC. In our last game the Rebels beat Eastman in the first game history. All season Jerry Studdard has been a scoring threat at the top place in the South. He has been the leading scorer in the South all season.

Friday, March 6, marks one of the highlights of the Rebel's season. This is Senior Weekend, which lasts through Sunday, March 8th.

As all "old timers" know, Senior Weekend is the time when high school seniors are invited down to look around the VSC campus and compare it to other campuses they may have visited. At this time they are briefed on the rigors of college life, as well as recreational programs and social activities.

On top Friday, after check in at 3 p.m. to meet the VSC professors and discuss their college careers with them. Following then they will be served coffee at the "House in the Woods."

After dinner they will attend a panel discussion presented by the Student Government Association. The topic will be, "What is college really like?"

Saturday night the seniors will be treated to a Student Talent Show at 7:30 and an informal dance in the Student Center at 8:30.

Sunday morning transportation will be provided for those who wish to go to church downtown. At 1:00 p.m., Sunday the members of the faculty will be in the Rotunda of A-hall to meet these students and their parents.

This year we hope to have more than the 75 high school students who attended last year's Senior Weekend. When they see what Southern Hospitality really means.

Many Activities Planned For Visiting Seniors

One Hundred Fifteen Alumni Return To VSC For Annual Banquet, Making It The Most Successful Ever

One hundred-fifty alumni returned to V.S.C. at Homecoming to attend their annual banquet and establish a new attendance record. This was the most successful Alumni Banquet ever held here.

Featured on the program was Mrs. Lee Walsh, the first editor of the Campus Canopy. Mrs. Walsh is now women's editor of the Washington D.C. Star.

Dr. Thaxton welcomed the guests, presented the faculty, and recognized as groups the reunion classes.

After the dinner, Mrs. Odum presented Walsh to the alumni as one of her former students.

Mrs. Walsh delighted the guests with a description of an evening at the White House, attending a dinner in honor of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip of England. She also referred to Washington as being noted for "protocol, alcohol, and Geritol."

Mrs. J.C. Parrish, president of the Alumni Association, announced that the alumni will continue for one month their drive to raise $300 for funds to erect an archway at the North Patterson Street entrance to V.S.C.

New Painting Placed In VSC Library

Every few weeks the Art Department places a new painting in the library for the enjoyment of library habitues. These drawings and paintings are changed at regular intervals.

A new drawing has just been placed there. The work of Sandra Stanfield, it is a brush drawing in charcoal. The subject of the study is simple, merely some sea grass in a vase designed by Lee Bennett. However, the drawing is outstanding for its delicacy and balance.

Sandra is a member of the "Drawing and Composition" class (Art 120).

Visitors Expected To Frequent the Library

If you are going to frequent the library in the next few weeks, remember that this picture is there for your viewing pleasure.

Ministerial Association

Members of the Ministerial Association are reminded that the next regular meeting will be held at activities period on March 3rd. All members are urged to attend. Everyone interested in any phase of the Christian work is invited into the association.

AS I SEE IT...

Spending is almost in the air as brief notices of sum weather appear to the delight of many. It is the season known to sporting enthusiasts as “spring training” for the baseball squad.

If you care to take a stroll outside, Pendleton Park one of those afternoons you will probably be confronted by a school of fish fleeing. Here are the sharp crack of timber meeting in the tide, the dull thud of a nine-oumph slamming into a leather gloved hand, the sound of a baseball game, the “chatter” sound. Then again you may see the graceful skill of two infielders playing double play, with the shortstop dragging a slow grounder, flipping the second baseman who relays the ball to the firstbaseman, completing the routine.

We would like to witness the whistling speed of a screenin line drive, the disgusted look of a batter who “breaks his bat” on a change-up, or the precision and timing of a well-planet.

Whether you realize it or not, the Rebel nine has been practicing for two weeks — realizing that the best ball player is in the shape of the physical, the passer of time will show how well the Rebels do on the field this year, but one thing is certain — they will give it all and the morale will be second to none.

The annual “softball” series, “playball,” being in the stands rooting for the boys, and enjoy the nation’s greatest athletic pastime — baseball.

Math-Science

We wish to thank Mr. William H. Warlick, 1812 North Patterson Street, for loaning us the truck used by the Math-Science Club and Honor Societies for their float in the Homecoming parade and Bill Warlick, Junior, for driving and taking care of the truck. The committee responsible for the float consisted of Edward Gandy, chairman, Miriam Barnes and Gene Deel. They are to be commended for an effective portrayal of Indian Life as it was during the heroic struggle of the American Indians.

Among our “science” homecoming guests were Billy Collins Salerno (Mr. John Salerno) and family and also her sister Ava (Mrs. Lewis Collis) and family. Billy is now a registered medical technologist and is employed by the Kit Carson Hospital.

The Chemistry Department was privileged to have the services of Dr. Walter B. Keighton, Head of the Department of Chemistry at Temple University, plans to spend the summer in Switzerland.

Sig Ep Sweetheart, Pam Paulk
Elected Homecoming Queen

The Sig Eps are just getting over the tales of Homecoming Week-end.
It was one of the most enjoyable affairs this group has had.
We started our weekend off with a bang by capturing third place in the Float Contest, being the only fraternity on campus to place in that contest. Our float consisted of a covered wagon, in western fashion equipped with d the western paraphernalia.
The float was an Indian attack
in front of the judges stand.
The next thrill the Sig Eps experienced was the announcement of the Homecoming Queen, Queen
Pam Paulk is also the Sweetheart of the Sig Eps, and needless to say, it made us all proud to know
she was chosen the school's Queen
as well as ours.
The climax came Saturday night at the Homecoming Dance.
There the Sig Eps enjoyed the fruits of fraternity life. Among the glowing lights of the Sig Eps heart, the chatter and laughter of the Sig Eps could be heard. With the presentation of Queen Pam and a presentation of a gift to her by the Sig Ep brothers, we wrote the 1955-56 Homecoming into the pages of History.

Mrs. Lee Bennett and Mr. William Gabard
Featured Personalities Of The Week

This week's personalities represent the other half of a college group, the faculty. These two faculty members have the kind of leadership and friendship that is vitally important between the student and his instructors.

Attractive Mrs. Lee Bennett has come a long distance from her hometown in Oklahoma, where she obtained her B. A. in art at Oklahoma State and taught for five years. She also taught art at the Louisville Art Center in Louisville, Kentucky, and is presently working for her Masters
in Painting under Carl Zeber at Florida State University in Tallahassee.

In addition to her work here at school, Mrs. Bennett has three children, two boys and a girl, to keep her busy. For hobbies, she paints first painting but also enjoys crocheting and sewing. Her pet peeve is the misuse of the word
"modernize" for "modern.

The other personality is quite well known on the campus, even by students who have not had him for an instructor. Originally from Tennessee, Mr. Gabard obtained his B. A. at the University of Tennessee, his M. A. at Northwestern and is a candidate for his PhD at Tulane. Mr. Gabard has achieved a high position in the field of education, and has taught at Tulane and Northwestern and is presently working for his Masters
in Painting under Carl Zeber at Florida State University in Tallahas-
see.

In addition to his work here at school, Mr. Gabard has three children, two boys and a girl, to keep him busy. For hobbies, he likes to talk and dominate in a manner that is quite different from that of the average student. He likes to know both what one knows and what one does not know.

VSC Band
Operating But Needs Your Help

The V. S. C. Band was scheduled to appear at the basketball game February 23, but due to being unable to do so. Their pres-circumstances being beyond their control, none would have done much for school spirit.

Although there are only six active members in the band at present they practice regularly and are currently trying to call any student who has ever played a musical instrument or is interested in learning to play one.

Kappa Delta Takes First In Homecoming Float Contest
Sports Club Attendance
Up This Term

The Sports Club, which meets Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 for the past few weeks has had an exLeent turn-out. Mrs.
Valets, advisor and instructor for the club, reported that the attendees was better now than it has been since the beginning of the term.
A letter of resignation from Pam Paulk, president, was read at the last meeting. Pam resigned her position because of so many other activities, that she felt she couldn't do her best. A student to take the presidency will be chosen at a later date.

it is to be with people who enjoy
the same interests as ourselves.

Man-at-his-best, what is the use of knowing about music?"
From The Bench...

Basketball has almost reached its culmination here at V. S. C. Only two more home games remain on the tab. One is with Shorter and the other with the University of Florida's Freshmen.

These students who watched the tiglethorpe game saw the Rebels at their best. Their tremendous effort came very near to upsetting Carl Sand's "Stompy Petrels." With less than two minutes to go the Rebels had a five point lead. Tiglethorpe defeated the Rebels in overtime.

You could not single out any specific player for an outstanding night, because they were all good. Wayne Studdard led the scoring attack. Perhaps this was the first time in the season that the Rebels demonstrated their potential.

Now the Rebels have a 9-10 won lost record and they are shooting to come out in the 500 percent area.

This year we have not seen necessarily a great team, but we have seen a very good one. It has given the students and fans of this area something to be proud of. These men have jelled into a smooth working unit.

The tournament begins in LeGrange this week. If you can possibly make it, as many fans as possible should attend. Several guys have mentioned the trip and their intentions of going.

Before I wrap this story up lets turn a hopeful eye toward the coming baseball season. Detroit no longer fields a professional baseball team, in Valdosta so the Rebels and the High School have the diamond to themselves.

Valdosta State has several returning lettermen this year and several other proven competitors to form the nucleus for the team this year.

This year we have returning Ben Wood, Willard Griffis, Mike Hampton, Joe Tarpley, and Lamar Pearson. Newcomers are Thomas, Buck Ethridge, James David, Johnny McIntyre, James Hewitt, Wayne Studdard, Hansel Faulkner, and others that we do not have the names for.

This year the Rebels should be strong on the mound with Hampton, Ethridge, and Thomas firing the ball and we have depth behind the plate with both Buck and Joe Tarpley catching the pads. Power should be found in abundance! Sonny Hewitt hits the long ball, as well as Faulkner and Ethridge.

Most of the teams around the loop have lost most of their players. Under Gary Cole the Rebels have a better than even chance to win the conference.

Look more for the Rebels next issue as we shall have a rundown on all the players.

PoBoy saw the center of the square was a big coffin which contained two dead Bears, Lean and Stable.

Leaving Muskox, PoBoy went into the country. Here he met a famous poet named Bevins Karloff, who wrote about Dr. Frankenstein. Mr. Karloff couldn't make any money from his poems because the Bears said it would make him a Texas.

PoBoy went still further into the country. PoBoy came at last to a big farm that looked like Cape Canine. Here he saw a lot of big silos. The Bears put a dog in one of the silos, so when no one was looking, PoBoy sneaked a fireplug into the same silo.

PoBoy saw that one of the silos was named "The Grave Digger," so he decided to see what it was in. He found a shovel, which he threw out because the silo was too crowded for it and him both.

Before he knew what was happening the silo, too, began to shake. When the silo stopped moving PoBoy crawled out. He found that the silo had landed in a small hole behind a big white house owned by Smilin' Mike, the Good Humor man.

Because he had thrown the shovelful out of the silo, PoBoy was given the Goibel Pizza Pie. And after the whole world called him a hero.

Conductors say—"To live in the company of Men-at-their-best is the finest thing possible. How can a man be considered wise if, when he has the choice, he does not live in such surroundings?"

Conductors say—"When you see a man of the highest caliber, give thought to attaining his stature. When you see one who is not, go home and conduct a self-examination."

Conductors say—"Do not worry about not holding high positions, worry rather about playing your proper role. Worry not that no one knows of you; seek to be worth knowing."
