Robert Schrade Will Perform Here

Robert Schrade, talented soloist and pianist, is scheduled to appear in a college gymnasium on March 23 at 8:00 p.m. sponsored by the Civic Music Association. Confirmed as one of the more brilliant artists in America today, Mr. Schrade will appear in Carnegie Hall in New York City. His first appearance here in Valdosta was during their stay and of certain interest to high school students in the region.

Since his debut at Town Hall in New York in 1949, he has won universal praise of critics across the country and in Europe, both as soloist with symphony orchestras and as a recitalist. In 1956 he played the 15th Anniversary Concert at the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C. Following which Paul Hume of the Washington Post wrote, "He commands the essential elements of the big style which we associate with the music of the romantic composers ... fine tone, solid technicians."

He made his first tour of Europe in 1960 playing in Amsterdam, Hamburg, Milan and Athens. His performances were termed as unprecedented success and he was awarded the golden medal of the city of Athens. He has also made extensive musical studies with the renown Frederick Meyer.

Each VSC student will be admitted free upon presentation of student identification cards.
The Roots of Education Are Bitter

While walking down the halls of VSC the other day, I happened to overhear a conversation that went something like this: "Boy, I will ever more be glad when June comes and I'll get out of this place." I think that as a student and are anxious to see the day of graduation; but the question is, are we just coming to aid us in living our lives? Dick森 said this about college education: "A college education is what streamlining is common sense." The sad side of the education of its youth." The value of our schooling is just what we say "Oh, if I were only back in this statement about a college written by a very brilliant statesman. One has said this about our education: "The roots of education are bitter, but the fruits are sweet." I have heard numbers of students miss this year of graduate study. The winners are 1243 scientists and mathematicians among them. A list of their names, fields of study, and graduate schools has been sent to the deans of all graduate schools in the United States and Canada. Most are in the Humanities or Social Sciences but there are also 224 scientists and mathematicians among them. A list of their names, fields of study, and graduate schools has been sent to the deans of all graduate schools in the United States and Canada. The awards are also given to the recipients of the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship for 1960-61. Gene Deall of VSC received an honorable mention according to the announcement. The announcement was made by Senator Talmadge, President of the Foundation and Dean Emeritus of Princeton University's graduate school. The awards are expected in the United States and to Canada. The winners come from 355 universities and colleges in the United States and Canada and were selected from 8,800 applicants representing 811 institutions. They will study at 87 different graduate schools in the United States and Canada. Most are in the Humanities or Social Sciences but there are also 224 scientists and mathematicians among them.

The shortage of qualified college teachers is one of the most critical problems facing American education today. It is estimated that 30,000 new college teachers will be needed each year during the next decade to take care of the growth of college students. The Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Program was established in 1945 to recruit promising students for the college teacher profession and to support them during their first year of graduate study. In 1957 the Program awarded a $24,500,000 grant from the Ford Foundation to increase the scope of its operations and to intensify its search for college teachers. The winners named today bring to more than 4,000 the total number of students started on the road to college teaching careers at VSC. It is hoped they will add about 1500 more during the next five years.

The importance of this Foundation as an instrument for the identification and recruitment of prospective college teachers goes far beyond the mere provision of 1200 fellowships annually. The announcement was made by Senator Talmadge, President of the Foundation and Dean Emeritus of Princeton University's graduate school. The awards are expected in the United States and to Canada. The Latest Word

Another quarter is about to come to an end and everybody is madly rushing around to get those last minute term papers in and the thing about it, it is also about to start getting those last cram sessions in before finals. I don't know what this quarter has gone, but it has really flown. Somethings I think it is good cut it goes so fast, but in other cases does it. I hope to see everybody's name on the "black list." Let's all wish these the best wishes and a sad farewell to three wonderful girls.

I think everyone owes a big hand to everybody, for Alpha Delta Pi Sorority for their very fine fashion show which was held on Thursday night, Feb. 25. It was chosen to be membership chairmen, and Ann Charlotte Olstedt of Stockholm, Sweden. (Ed. Note: Mr. Tirado and Miss Olstedt were not available for an interview at press time.)

Alpha Delta Pi Fashion Show

"Younger than Springtime" was the theme and younger than springtime were the fashions viewed by students here at VSC on the night of February 25 at the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority Fashion Show. Under the direction of the sisters and pledges of ADPi, pretty young girls showed the audience a preview of spring in the way of clothes. Dorothy Carter, acting as fashion narrator, described each girl's attire as they walked across the stage amid crepe paper streamers and balloons.

Fashions for the very young misters and misters were shown by the group consisting of some of the ADPi alumni. Wearing a two-piece spring suit of light green, and white checks, Susan Slade, also of Alpha Delta, showed the group the "thing" for Easter Sunday.

Women's wear was previewed by Robin New as the modelled a black backless swimsuit with a white trim and Patricia Herring Smith, also of Karpe Delta, added as fashion narrator, described each model's attire as they walked across the stage amid crepe paper streamers and balloons. Summer fun was previewed by Robin New as the modelled a black backless swimsuit with a white trim and Patricia Herring Smith, also of Karpe Delta, showed the group the "thing" for Easter Sunday.

The answer to the question "What can I wear to the party?" was answered as Leslie Brown, Alpha Delta, modelled a white sheath cocktail dress, and Mary Slade, also of Karpe Delta, added her ideas as she came out attired in a beautiful white and peach colored party dress with matching accessories.

Math-Science News

Ted Swindle and William Kent have been notified of their acceptance for admission to the September, 1960 class at Emory University's School of Medicine.

On Friday William Kent received his letter of acceptance to the Medical College of Georgia in Augusta.

John Seasholtz is now attending North Missouri State College, the University of Georgia, and has been at VSC since September.

John's brother, James E. Seasholtz, a former VSC student, who has a B.S. in Pharmacy and a B.S. in Chemistry, is now a junior medical student at the same Missouri Medical College, the University of Georgia, and has been at VSC since September.

FROM THE BENCH

Basketball has concluded at VSC and attention is now being focused on our national pastime, baseball. Basketball did not have the success the Rebel fans had anticipated at the beginning of the season, but considering the handicaps they played under most people would have to agree that they had a fair season. More than any other factor, the injury element played the greatest role.

Baseball for 1960 will begin Friday for the Rebels on March 7 and 8 when they play the Moccasins of Florida Southern. This school, being greatly supplemented by northern athletes should give the Rebels a good fight, but I pick the Rebs to win both of them.

Team should be strong this year with the best looking infield that I have seen for a college of this size in a long time. With performers such as Emory Mobley, Hansel Faulkner, and Buck Ethridge the Rebels should present a well-groomed (carpet crew).

In the outfield there are also many capable performers fighting for a position. John McIntyre, Willard Griffin, Jimmy Harrington, and Jerry Norma will all be vying for the three positions.

More will be presented on the Rebels in the next issue.

Future Business Leaders Met, Elected Officers

Election of the 1960-61 officers for FBLA Chapter 1890 was held at the last regular meeting on March 2.

Those elected for the coming year are: president, Jerwaan Phillips; vice-president, Jackie Hiott; secretary, Patricia Luke; treasurer, Doug Calhoun; public relations chairman, Melony Gray; and co-social chairman, Maxie Payne and Jim Stevens. Installation of the new officers will be held at a later meeting.

After all business was taken care of, the speaker of the evening, Mr. Comer Cherry, was introduced by Doug Calhoun. Mr. Cherry is manager of the local Credit Bureau, a laudable speaker, and has a most interesting background.

A graduate of Georgia Military College, he came to Valdosta in 1936. Since coming here he has served as president of the local Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, and the Country Club. He is the founder and first secretary of the Valdosta Boys' Club, and an active member of the Associated Credit Bureau of Georgia for four years, president of the Associated Credit Bureau of the Southeast in 1956, and as a member of the Board of Directors of the Associated Credit Bureau of America.

The club was indeed fortunate to have had Mr. Cherry deliver an informative talk on credit in general, and a discussion on how a Credit Bureau works.

The annual State Convention of the Georgia Future Business Leaders of America will be held at Rock Eagle 4-H Club Camp during the weekend of March 11-13. It is hoped that a representation of the local chapter will attend this meeting.
