Rebel Businessmen Gain $26,000 In 2nd Period Play

The Valdosta State College business management team took top honors in second competition to the Mid-America Academic Conference. Earnings of $26,000 during the period enabled the VSC student team to move into second place in the intercollegiate league.

SGA Holds Holly Hop Tomorrow In VSC Gym

With holly making for hopping and mistletoe making for mulling, the annual Christmas dance will be held in the gymnasium tomorrow night from eight to twelve.

VSC President J. Ralph Thaxton extended the invitation in connection with plans for the 50th anniversary of the institution.

Regents Meeting Planned For Tomorrow

The Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia in their November meeting voted to hold a two-day session Jan. 8-9 at Valdosta State College. VSC President J. Ralph Thaxton extended the invitation in connection with plans for the 50th anniversary of the institution.

Vocal Groups Present Annual Yule Program

By Karen Clary

Under the direction of Lavan Robinson, the Glee Club and Ses-quenniwill will present a Christmas program, Pound Hall, Dec. 10 at 7:30 p.m. Soloists will be Joe Allen, tenor; Jane Meeks, soprano; and Ed Donaldson, tenor.

Vocal literature of the 16th through the 19th centuries will be the source of music for the program. Highlighting the program will be selections from "The Messiah" and familiar, traditional anthems. On the traditional Christmas carols, audience participation will be expected.

A special feature will be the presentation of "The Gifts of Heaven," a choral written by Mr. Robinson. The origin of this choral was a poem written by Lutheran Pastor Fred Stemke.

There is no admission, and the public is invited to attend the program.

Cartoon Books Can Be Bought

The all-new Little Man On Campus cartoon book is being offered for sale by The Campus Canopy. Three other editions are planned.

They may be ordered for $1 from the business manager.
12 More Days
Time really moves, doesn't it? Here we are only 12 days before finals start. Needless to say, that is an unpleasant statement. It is an important one, though.

Some of us are approaching final exams for the first time; others are seasoned veterans. This is not an attempt to scare the freshmen, but we do wish to emphasize the need for being prepared. These are the most important tests of the quarter. It would be a shame to spend two and one-half months in school only to lose it all in a three-day period.

Of course, the best time to begin studying for finals is at the start of the quarter. Just in case you are not among those who began their preparations then, consider this suggestion. Begin studying this weekend instead of waiting for the next one. It will be sure to pay off on Dec. 12, 13 and 14.

Shame On The Sig Eps
Each organization on campus has a responsibility to uphold the dignity of this school. Valdosta State College is a respected institution. We object to anyone doing anything that takes away any of this respect.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity has a practice which not only will harm the school, but it is also offensive to most of the students. A Sig Ep cheer, which is proudly chanted by the brothers at the top of their voices, contains some very objectional profane words. Now, we don't expect fraternity boys to stop saying things which are offensive. However, we feel that they should stop getting them in public. The presence of women, and, indeed, the name of God with their profanity, is a great embarrassment to those of us who do not conduct ourselves in such a way in the presence of ladies.

We made the following recommendation concerning this: First, that the Sig Eps compose a new chant, omitting words which contain the word "God." Second, that if the Sig Eps continue to use such profanity in public that the college administration suspend the charter of the VSC chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon until they indicate a willingness to be gentlemen.

Some colleges annually give a "Club of the Year" award to the most outstanding organization on campus. Perhaps such an award at Valdosta State would encourage and challenge our students to be even more active.

Emily Leonard
A Big Blank Space
Well heck, I've sat here an hour trying to get an inspiration for a story but I can't think of a thing to write about.

That's about par for the course, though, and sure is disgusting. Take for instance when study time comes, I sit and sit, pondering a little, coming somethin', consumin' somethin', after much wasted time, I study.

So here I sit, worrying. Thought about writin' a letter to my folks in that other world. But I didn't make it. Of course, it's a good thing. I don't wish to lose my mind. So I'll just sit here and stare. It's a lot. Finally, after much wasted time, I study.

As Josh finished putting his sweater on, thought to himself, "Why does she have to do that? Why does she have to feed me breakfast?" He needed it more than I did. Oh God, make the Dreaming Tree's need it, not me.

"Josh, you hurry up or you'll be late for breakfast." "Aw, Mom, I don't want any breakfast. I'm not hungry." "Josh, you come here and eat. Ye haven't been in the kitchen yet, you know." "So what!"

"Now Josh, you sit right down here and eat your grits and eggs and drink your milk!" "Yes, ma'am. But I'm not hungry!"

"Almost 6:30, so hurry. Staying up past your bedtime, I know you."

"Josh, you haven't finished your breakfast yet!" That's no way to go to school!"

"Goodbye Mom. I'll be back after I find my horse and saddle. I'll be back at Worth's yard, said Josh as he was out the door with his books under his arm. That was the way it was: this is how it had to be. If he could eat all his breakfast Mom would wish it quicker, she needed the food; he, too. Josh's mother looked down the street after he went off to school. "That boy, thought, "he wants to do so much. If I knew, but I wouldn't believe he is capable of anything."

She entered the wooden house to the room where she looked down at the remains of the food. Why, he hardly ate his food; no, he looked so skinny. She'd have to give him. He was such a good boy though, bringing his money earned after school home.

As she started eating the last of Josh's: fast she remembered. He couldn't do it. I wouldn't let Josh do anything. Even if I could manage to save enough to help him, I'd be one of the others who--he looked so skinny. What does a Negro do in the South? To other Negroes, work in service stations and fields. How about Jim Simmon's? A slave degree in English, cleaning yards. That's about par for the course though, and it sure is disgusting. Take for instance when study time comes, I sit and sit, pondering a little, comingsomethin', consumin' somethin', after much wasted time, I study.

"Goodbye Mom, I'll see you after school."

As Josh finished putting his sweater on, thought to himself, "Why does she have to do that? Why does she have to feed me breakfast?" He needed it more than I did. Oh God, make the Dreaming Tree's need it, not me.

"Josh, you hurry up or you'll be late for breakfast." "Aw, Mom, I don't want any breakfast. I'm not hungry." "Josh, you come here and eat. Ye haven't been in the kitchen yet, you know." "So what!"

"Now Josh, you sit right down here and eat your grits and eggs and drink your milk!" "Yes, ma'am. But I'm not hungry!"

"Almost 6:30, so hurry. Staying up past your bedtime, I know you."

"Josh, you haven't finished your breakfast yet!" That's no way to go to school!"

"Goodbye Mom. I'll be back after I find my horse and saddle. I'll be back at Worth's yard, said Josh as he was out the door with his books under his arm. That was the way it was: this is how it had to be. If he could eat all his breakfast Mom would wish it quicker, she needed the food; he, too. Josh's mother looked down the street after he went off to school. "That boy, thought, "he wants to do so much. If I knew, but I wouldn't believe he is capable of anything."

She entered the wooden house to the room where she looked down at the remains of the food. Why, he hardly ate his food; no, he looked so skinny. She'd have to give him. He was such a good boy though, bringing his money earned after school home.

As she started eating the last of Josh's: fast she remembered. He couldn't do it. I wouldn't let Josh do anything. Even if I could manage to save enough to help him, I'd be one of the others who--he looked so skinny. What does a Negro do in the South? To other Negroes, work in service stations and fields. How about Jim Simmon's? A slave degree in English, cleaning yards. That's about par for the course though, and it sure is disgusting. Take for instance when study time comes, I sit and sit, pondering a little, comingsomethin', consumin' somethin', after much wasted time, I study.
Letters To The Editor

Reader Rebutes Newsom

(Guest's Note: The following was received in reply to a recent column by Tommy Newsom.)

Mr. Newsom:

Should we judge a man on one statement alone? Yes, if he is a man of high integrity and is held in esteem by scores of people—unless he was drunk when he made the statement, which with Faulkner was most likely the case.

I agree that it is the irrational men who bring shame and disgrace to their home-land. These people are in a minority, but to read your isolated quotes alone is to see a majority.

Is the South alone decaying? Yes, according to modern means of communication. Mr. Faulkner said that the South is decaying because of these minorities. Are not these races found in West and the West? By virtue of the crumb—the South due to race re-

Mr. Faulkner has left a impression on the minds of pean and American read-not these minorities of men who have no respect for race found elsewhere? Isn't part of the United States and Europe it not common to see mixed marriages? Still I say this is a minority, and found not only in the South a Mr. Faulkner implied, but everywhere.

Another question, Mr. News-

Andrus

(Continued From Page 2)

You expect, though, if you were really, you had your place and you stayed in it, you were black; you weren't white; you didn't have a chance.

Well, Mr. Reader, about it? What kind of chance does a Negro have in this country? Let's hear from you! Let's hear what you have to say about that ques-

We are specializing in Evening Wear and Shirt Laundry Service

STAN BISHOP’S

We are specializing in Evening Wear and Shirt Laundry Service

ONE HOUR MARINIZING

STAN BISHOP’S

1310 N. Patterson

Ask About Your Student Discount

STAN BISHOP’S

Pepsi Cola Bottling Co.

Valdosta, Georgia

Say “Pepsi Please”

We are specializing in Evening Wear and Shirt Laundry Service

STAN BISHOP’S

1310 N. Patterson

Ask About Your Student Discount

STAN BISHOP’S

Pepsi Cola Bottling Co.

Valdosta, Georgia

Say “Pepsi Please”

Now its Pepsi

for those who think young

INTERNATIONALS

Attend Retreat
At Toccoa Falls

Three international students from Valdosta State College attended the International Student Retreat at Lake Louise, Toccoa, Georgia, during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Sernabete Ulloa of Cuba, Doug Murray of Chile and Allie De Leon of Mexico were among the more than 200 students from 40 nations representing the major religious traditions of the world.

The students were invited by Georgia's Baptist Student Unions to go to the retreat, which featured fellowship and a study of the Christian faith.

Program personalities included a scientist, Dr. Lewis Salter, physicist of Wabash College, and two theologians, Dr. Calvin Ruben of Andover-Newton Seminary and Dr. L. D. Johnson, pastor of First Baptist Church, Greenville, S. C.

Education Dept.

Hosts Conference

The VSC Education Department is holding its annual fall follow-up conference for 1962 education graduates. The conference will begin at 10:00 a.m. Dec. 8 in Room 106 of the Administration Building.

All of last year's graduates who are now teaching have been invited to attend this meeting and share their recent experiences in the classroom.

During the conference the teachers will be given time to renew acquaintances with their friends now in college and with those who were graduated this past summer.

The S & K Drive-In

WELCOMES YOU

Every Tues. - All the Southern Fried Chicken you can eat - 99¢
Every Wed. - All the Breaded Veal Cutlets you can eat - 99¢
Every Fri. - All the Fish you can eat 89¢

-Management Team Gains

provided additional realism to the textbook description of America's business world.

Most of the colleges found that second period decision-making was not as disastrous as the initial encounter Oct. 26 when all nine schools suffered large losses.

In predicting a business increase of about 2.1 percent for the next quarter, L. W. Waters, professor of transportation at Indiana and head of the I. U. "referencing Team," warned the students that "the prospects of this forecast materializing are no better than the prospects of any business forecast coming to pass."

The Valdosta State team is composed of Jimmy McKinney, Phillip B. Barr and Charlie Clark of Valdosta; Carlton Wingate and Darrill Bell, Quimatin; Larry Lewis, Cordele; Jerry Demott, Moultrie, Kelley Raulerson, Statenville; and John Hanks, Kansas City, Mo.

David P. Lewis, associate professor of economics at VSC, serves as team coach.

Half the world doesn't know how many things the other half is paying installments on.
Pine Cone Staff Work On Yearbook

The Pine Cone staff is busily preparing the college's yearbook, which is due for distribution near the end of spring quarter.

The staff members are now arranging to get pictures taken of all campus organizations. The picture-taking schedule is under the direction of Jane Garwood, with Bookman's Studio of Valdosta handling the photography.

According to editor John McCarty, the staff has been divided into groups responsible for a different section of the yearbook.

A theme committee has been appointed to choose the central theme for the 1963 Pine Cone. Plans call for a short history of Valdosta State, the theme in connection with the 50th anniversary of the college.

I Wonder . . .

... what Doug Eason and Betty Dow Majors were laughing about in the cafeteria one Sunday? John, you know Dottie was

... why John Powell was so rude in the cafeteria one Sunday? Wonder...

... why Joy Roberson thinks Ashley Hall is so quiet?

Betty Dow Majors were laughing about the 50th anniversary theme for the 1963 Fee Cone.

50th anniversary appointed to choose the central topic for the yearbook.

... why John Powell was so rude in the cafeteria one Sunday? Wonder...

... why Joy Roberson thinks Ashley Hall is so quiet?

50th anniversary appointed to choose the central topic for the yearbook.

SLEEPING BEAUTY — Right, Linda? A Campus Cone photographer caught senior Danny Blackstock of Richland asleep. Man, like when does a college student find time to sleep?

Stargazing with "Frank Lynn" Scharf

UHURU, which means "freedom" in Africa, is the title of a new book by the same author who wrote SOMETHING OF VALUE, Robert Ruark, Ruark's new work has already startled the best-seller list, a feat already accomplished with the other book. UHURU, an epic of Kenya in 1960, deals with the conflicts between the natives and the white colonials. Ruark's first book was great; the pattern is followed in this new work.

Other books to read: THE PRIZE by Irving Wallace, a fictionalized account of the annual Nobel Award ceremonies in Stockholm. The author had been editor in the CHAPMAN REPORT, recently made in a novel.

ONE MAN'S FREEDOM by Edward Bennett Williams; CLOSE TO HOME by Estelle Frank :

A SHADE OF DIFFERENCE by Allen Drury, author of ADVISE AND CONSENT.

Best-selling records this week are:

1. BIG GIRLS DON'T CRY. Four Seasons. 2. RETURN TO SENDER. Elvis Presley. 3. ALL ALONE AM I. Brenda Lee. 4. ONLY LOVE CAN BREAK A HEART. Gene Pitney. 5. MINUS ROCK. Chubby Checker. 6. MONSTER MASH. Pickett. 7. DON'T HANG UP. The Orlons. 8. HE'S A REBEL. The Crystals. 9. BOBBY'S GIRL. Blaine. 10. NEXT DOOR TO AN ANGEL. Neil Sedaka.

BROOKWOOD PLAZA BAKERY
PARK CENTER BAKERY
Our Pies, Cakes and Rolls are baked fresh daily. We do complete Catering for Weddings & Parties

Barnes Drug Store
BROOKWOOD PLAZA
Phone 242-4743

We have the Widest Selection of Cosmetics in town
We carry Men's Supplies, Books and have Fountain Service

Merry Christmas

Bystanders

(ALCP) A battle named I'goes to the edge of Gwen Mapes, blonde coed at North Texas State University, Denton, Texas.

The University Press: CAMPUS CHAT, says Gwen discovered Jorge, a jeweled earring bleu into his back, in a near North Mexican. Purchase price was $2.

She has a small earring with a stone pin at the end at affixing on her shoulder, which Jorge grooms during the day. At night she stays in a cardboard box in my room, she explained. "He eases bull wood in small quantities."

Society

Quite a few of the girls around campus seem to be having trouble with their left hand. Why? Well, it could be the dazzling engagement ring. Those people filled with the intoxicating joy supplied by the diamond are: Sandy Smith and Bill Palmer, Lizzie Helms and Lt. Bob Barton and Avid Sue Hagan and Gunter Roche.

Ashley Hall seems to be the place where a variety of talent may be found. One talent recently discovered is Janice Postell and her exclusive Egyptian dance. Quite a dance from what I have heard, Janice.

The Alpha Xi Delta sorority recently enjoyed a speck-the-night party at Mrs. Menille. Naturally, not many people actually slept since some of the girls brought their musical instruments which provided the perfect background for singing.

Other books to read: THE PRIZE by Irving Wallace, a fictionalized account of the annual Nobel Award ceremonies in Stockholm. The author had been editor in the CHAPMAN REPORT, recently made in a novel.

One Man's Freedom by Edward Bennett Williams; Close To Home by Estelle Frank.

A Shade Of Difference by Allen Drury, author of Advise and Consent.

Best-selling records this week are:

Brookwood Plaza Bakery
Parker Center Bakery
Our Pies, Cakes and Rolls are baked fresh daily. We do complete Catering for Weddings & Parties.

Barnes Drug Store
Brookwood Plaza
Phone 242-4743

We have the Widest Selection of Cosmetics in town
We carry Men's Supplies, Books and have Fountain Service.

Merry Christmas

Bug Bystanders

(ACP) A battle named Jorge goes to the edge of Gwen Mapes, blonde coed at North Texas State University, Denton, Texas.

The University Press: CAMPUS CHAT, says Gwen discovered Jorge, a jeweled earring bleu into his back, in a near North Mexican. Purchase price was $2.

She has a small earring with a stone pin at the end at affixing on her shoulder, which Jorge grooms during the day. At night she stays in a cardboard box in my room, she explained. "He eases bull wood in small quantities."
Rebels Take Second Place
in Rome Tournament

Valdosta State College's Rampaging Rebels took second place in the Rome Tipoff Tournament at the charges of Coach Gary Colson opened the 1962-63 season.

The Rebels lost some big men from last year's GAC championship team. It will be hard to find replacements for Jim Nichols, Doug Winters, Robert Bailey and Bob Anderson.

But as one takes a closer look at this year's squad and schedule things seem somewhat brighter. Several boys return from last year's team with the added experience of last season's varsity play and should be much improved this year. Coach Gary Colson's squad this year also has several promising transfers and freshman players.

Another factor in the Rebels' favor is that the first conference game is not played until Jan. 7. By this time the boys will have had some games under their belts. This should give the team a mold into a smooth working unit. The Rebels have won two conference championships in a row. This should give them the initiative to strive to win again.

The student body is behind you, Rebels, to make it three consecutive GAC championships.

Rebels Top Alabama Christian

INTRAMURALS STANDINGS

Three Games
End Regular Intramurals

In the last game of the intramurals flag football regular season play Sig Ep defeated TKE 12-0. Sig Ep had to win to keep their playoff hopes alive.

In the second quarter Rusty Deavors swept left end for 60 yards before he was overthrown on the three-yard line. From this point Jack Deavors pushed the ball across for the score.

In the fourth quarter big Jim Nichols intercepted a TKE pass and raced untouched into the end zone. Both tries for extra point after the touchdown failed. The game ended with neither team scoring again.

In the two other games played Town took victories over Pi Kap and TKE. The game between Town and Pi Kap was a tight one.

scores pass. Douglas swept right end for the extra point. The game ended a few minutes later with SigEp threatening again.

Monday night Valdosta State College's Rebels improved their season record to 2-1 by defeating Alabama Christian College 55-36.

VSC pulled ahead 8 to 6 after three minutes and fifteen seconds elapsed in the game and never lost the lead again. By half time VSC had stretched their lead to 7-15.

In the second half VSC continued to increase their lead. At one point VSC led by 26 points.

The entire team saw action, including the freshman players.

VSC combined good field goal accuracy and a strong defense to overpower Alabama Christian. The rampaging Rebels fired from the free-throw line to only six of ten for VSC.

The Gold Wave jumped off to an early lead and at one time had a 13-point lead. With less than 1 minute left in the game VSC cut Shorter's lead to only three points, but the visitors rallied to win by a 12-point margin.

In the final game of the tournament Shorter used a superior free throw shooting accuracy and a tough defense to gun down the boys from Valdosta.

The Gold Wave jumped off to an early lead and at one time had a 13-point lead. With less than 1 minute left in the game VSC cut Shorter's lead to only three points, but the visitors rallied to win by a 12-point margin.
National Science Body Offers Graduate Awards

The National Academy of Sciences - National Research Council has been called upon again to advise the National Science Foundation in the selection of candidates for the Council's program of regular, postdoctoral, and postdoctoral fellowships in Arts and Sciences.

The awards will be made to study in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological, and engineering sciences; also in anthropology, psychology (excluding clinical psychology), geography, economics (including business administration), sociology (not including social work); and the history and philosophy of science. They are open to college seniors, graduate and postdoctoral students, and others with equivalent training and experience. All applicants must be citizens of the United States and will be judged solely on the basis of ability.

Applicants for the graduate awards will be required to take the Graduate Record Examination designed to test scientific aptitude and achievement. This examination, administered by the Educational Testing Service, will be given on Jan. 19, 1963, at designated centers throughout the United States and certain foreign countries.

The annual stipends for graduate fellowships are as follows: $1800 for the first level; $2000 for the intermediate level; and $2200 for the terminal level. The annual stipend for postdoctoral fellows at $5000. Limited allowances will also be provided to apply toward tuition, laboratory fees and travel.

Further information and application materials may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N. W., Washington 25, D. C. The deadline for the receipt of applications for regular postdoctoral fellowships is Dec. 17, 1962, and for graduate fellowships, Jan. 4, 1963.

Around Campus With Ann

By Ann Powell

Chivalry may seem dead at VSC, but there have been an entertaining male show on campus lately. A waiter named Jerry has been seen carrying a woman in a dress up and down the hallways, while the students write down the answer which they think is correct.

If you were at the opening night of "The Tender Trap" you may have kept a lookout for "Jeannie Hoyle, you stop that!" as the curtain went up on the first scene.

Our school flags seem to be like the postman. "Neither rain, nor sleet, nor snow, nor gloom of night, etc." keep the postman from his rounds or the flags from flying.

If you have trouble opening your mailbox there may be someone here who can help you. Two boys who share a mailbox found out that they were each using a different combination to open their box, and both combinations worked! A student working on a sociology project worked industriously on a set of graphs and tables for her report and after hours of eye-straining work came to the startling conclusion that 50 percent of all married people are women.

Patronize

Campus Canopy Advertisers

Babcock Speaks In Quitman On New Math

The Quitman Elementary School PTA heard a Valdosta State College professor discuss a new conception in mathematics at its November meeting.

Professor Leroy Babcock, math instructor at VSC, made the talk in response to requests by parents for information on the field of "The New Mathematics".

Babcock told the group that mathematics remained virtually unchanged for centuries until the 1940's when educators realized that a new concept must be used. For instance, the advancement was to be made in the field. "Changes in high school math courses have forced a change in the elementary school," he said.

Babcock explained to the parents and teachers that Modern Mathematics is a way of thinking rather than a set of rules. A course on the subject was taught recently in special night classes at the college.

Intras End

(Continued from Page 1) now being offered at VSC and the displays will involve some of the material in the course and the equipment now available.

VSC has a better than average collection of atomic energy equipment. These facilities were made possible through financial grants by the Atomic Energy Commission.

This event will be celebrated by universities and colleges all over the country at the same time.

—Open House

(Continued from Page 1)