The Christmas Story

1: And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.
2: (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)
3: And all went to be taxed, everyone into his own city.
4: And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David:)
5: To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.
6: And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.
7: And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.
8: And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.
9: And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.
10: And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.
11: For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.
12: And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.
13: And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,
14: Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

DeVane, Powell Picked Class Sweethearts

By Beverly Ingram

In recent elections, the senior class has selected Miss Ann Powell as their sweetheart and Betty DeVane as junior class sweetheart. As a math major and physics minor, Ann asked “Who has time for hobbies?” But she does like swimming and is currently helping with the typing for the magazine that the Wesley Foundation is publishing.

Betty DeVane, the junior class sweetheart, is also from Valdosta. She is president of the junior class and is in Panhellenic Council. She is a member of the University of Oklahoma. For two years, she was on the staff of the Campus Canopy as sports editor, and she is a member of Flins and Flippers. Betty says her hobbies include playing the piano, ping-pong, and all types of outdoor sports, but her favorite pasttime seems to be a senior named Carey Hathaway.

We Want Your Views

This newspaper not only welcomes but desires letters to the editor. Since The Campus Canopy is the college's student publication, VSC students should take all opportunities to make their views known.

An avenue of expression is open to you. We have made this offer previously and we are making it again. Space has been allotted for a column entitled "Open Opinion." This is open to all students and is not the property of any one member of the staff, except the editor, who is responsible for the selection of what shall appear on this page.

The recent production of the "Miss VSC Contest" by Kappa Phi fraternity was a credit to the college and its producers. A well-planned program, built around an interesting theme, filled the minutes of those in attendance.

As always the girls were pretty--this year was no exception. As we will be to get home, one thing must be remembered: not to become terrors of the highway

As We Go

Come Dec. 14 VSC students will be hitting the old trail homeward for Christmas vacation. Eager as we will be to get home, one must thing that may become terms of the highway human road runners. Our families will wait for us.

A blessing to travel in Georgia is the new highway system that has been completed. It is a fact that if misused, for with the convenience of it comes temptation; a least foot. With the loss of common sense comes the danger. What can be said about the other highways of Georgia, as kept be careful.

A major cause of highway accidents is mechanical failure of the car for granted. Have it checked before leaving.

We will be getting out of classes in plenty of time to get home in a sensible, way. So drive carefully and have a merry Christmas, and I'll see you in 1963.

Sig Eps Refute Article

Editor: We of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity realize that criticism is required by any organization, social or otherwise. In many instances criticism may be constructive. Therefore, we do not understand why so many members of Sig Eps are so quick to criticize. Sig Eps has done in the last edition of The Campus Canopy, we must protest.

As an article in the above mentioned edition falsely accused fraternity as a whole, with insinuation of unseemly reflection on the Sigma Phi Epsilon organization, discrediting our school and the name of God by using His Name profanely in one of its publications, for the first time did the Sig Eps fraternity feel that an article so written should be answered.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity has a responsibility to uphold the dignity of our school. Therefore, we do not take a practice of protesting the over-all campus life at VSC. We feel that the article tends to magnify the severity of the situation out of its proper dimensions so that many students have the wrong idea and have made unjust assumptions.

Editor:

Sig Eps Fraternity has contributed a great deal to the well being of campus life at VSC. Your audacity is appalling in suggesting that the fraternity charter be suspended. I am sure that you are only concerned with the seriousness of such a recommendation.

The CAMPUS CANOPY is a forum for public expression, but I hope that it will always strive to maintain the interests of the college community as a whole.

Editor:

An article entitled "Shame on the Sig Eps", which appeared in the Nov. 30 publication of your periodical, most assuredly demands a comment. The purpose of this harshly condescending article is attacked on the campus life of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, using a basis for his attack a cheer which he maintains is profane, obscene, objectionable, and harmful to the good name of the school. In that article he asserts that, if the Sig Eps continued to use such "profanity," he would press his demand to have the charter until they indicate a willingness to be gentlemen.

By the way, Mr. X, who ratted your cage?

Editor: It seems to be a harmless, euphemistic version of the word "yes", and contains no more offensive phrases than "hot toddy", "hot chocolate", or "hot soup". It was merely the use of cetera verba, a common phrase in the English language in the 19th century.

"The Tender Trap" Hit by Rudy

Editor: This is a note of thanks from the cast and crew of "The Tender Trap". Your review of the play was complete, concise, objective and to the point. We felt your effective use of the pause, the epigram, and implied superlatives, and your finesse and subtlety in using a quiet style of complimentary prose, was perfect.

While the cast and crew spent a long six weeks and several weekends on this production, we felt it was worthwhile when we read your last issue. We hope you will continue to work on your college paper and we would like to submit part of it page two next to the "Tombstone". We think your placement between "Cartoon Book" and "Big Blank Space" was the beat you could do under the circumstances. Isn't it time that we get back to the press can do with offset printing?

Your whole approach was unique and above all beyond the pale.

That Greasy Profit Stuff

(ACP) -- William Cole, 19-year-old junior at Emory University, Atlanta, says he expects to become a good doctor. But in the meantime he is willing to give the business world a whirl.

Cole and a friend from the same hometown, Miami Beach, Fla., put together a hair tonic consisting of methylcellulose, artificial scent and water. They called it, to take advantage of a competing product's TV ads, Greasy Kid Sniff.

They bottled and labelled enough to be in business, and they are conferring with a magazine to see if the company will buy an interest in the product.

The University's newspaper, THE EMOY WHEEL, notes that Cole's inventiveness did not begin with the hair tonic. Last year he designed Aes which he took to advantage of a competing product's TV ads, Greasy Kid Sniff.

John Spooner Speaks At Student Assembly

"The Russian people are a friendly people, they don't want war," stated John I. Spooner, provost of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia and board chairman of agriculture. Mr. Spooner was guest speaker at Emory on Wednesday, Dec. 5.

Mr. Spooner is from Donaldsville and is a graduate of the University of Georgia. He holds a degree in agriculture.

He was among a group who took a 21 day trip to the Soviet Union last spring. During the stay in the Soviet Union the group was allowed complete freedom with one stipulation: they were not allowed to take pictures inside Lenin's tomb or the airport.

Sporner judged the Soviets to be 25 or 30 years behind the U.S. in agriculture. Despite the rich soil, the growing season is short, there is little rainfall, there is a lack of both technical knowledge and of incentive. However, Mr. Spooner said, the Soviets rank far above the U.S. in the moral standards of the people and in the unlimited education program.

Sporner showed some of the 700 slides which he took while in Russia. Among these were Krushchev's home, the Grand Hotel in the Kremlin, and a Russian department store. Pictures of various landmarks in Moscow were shown also.

The people are supplied with the necessities of life but they do not know luxury. According to Spooner, the Soviet people are friendly but somewhat pressurized; they do not seem happy nor do they appear unhappy.

Is There A Santa Claus?

(Adapted from an Editorial published in 1897)

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginian, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge. CAMPUS CUT-UPS

If professors think some of their students are a little off-balance, perhaps they should know whose example students may be following. For we have seen any students recently wearing only half of their glasses--the half that covers the left eye. One faculty member did.

And another faculty member went to lunch one day decked out in an Indian war bonnet.

One faculty member was wondering what kind of minds his pupils have because when he wore a hat which is a sensible head covering to me his students all laugh. The professor neglected to say that the hat is a golf hat.

A boy asked the Dean of Women if girls could stay out as late as it took to return from the PSU game. The Dean replied they could if everyone drove safely, "Drive safely, and leave the faculty behind," quipped the boy.

Besides a picture of "teacher" drawn on a blackboard were these words of explanation--"Not Dr. Johnston or Mr. J. They smile."

Library Makes Survey Of Use By Students

The VSC Library is conducting a survey to find out which makes the most. The immediate purpose is to determine the apportionment of book funds to each department. The apportionment is presently decided by a formula based on enrollment in the various departments and the use made by each department.

The library staff is working in conjunction with a sub-committee on the library's annual "Miss Pine Cone." The survey is being made by keeping statistics on books checked out and by circulating a questionnaire at various times to the students in the library. The questionnaire includes these questions: "During any part of his high school, are you using library materials? "What subjects are you studying?" and "Circle your classification."

The students are asked to participate in the survey as it will affect the objective apportionment of the book budget to each department.

Sig Eps won the intramural playoff championship in flag football by defeating Town 18-0. The entire game was played in a steady rain. All points were scored in the first half.

Sig Ep and Town reached the playoff finals by beating MCA and North Campus by 14-7 and 12-6 scores.

In the championship game, Sig Ep's defense and offense was overpowering. Town was unable to make a single first down in the first half and never penetrated Sig Ep's 35 yard line during the game. Sig Ep was never forced to punt.

Sig Ep scored their first touchdown in the first quarter on a 30 yard pass from Jack Deavors to Roger Douglas. The intramural champs scored again in the second quarter on a 50 yard pass from Jack Deavers to Johnny McIntyre. Sig Eps scored their final six pointer on a half back pass from Johnny McIntyre to Rusty Deavers. All tries for extra points failed.
