

Students Vote Monday On New Amendments

The SGA has proposed, by a unanimous vote, several amendments to the SGA Constitution which are to be voted on Monday May 27, by the student body.

1. Article V, section 1, is amended to read that all members of the student body shall be eligible to vote in special elections of the Association. In general elections all students may vote for the four SGA officers. All students except those graduating in June or August may vote for their respective class officers and SGA representatives.

2. Article VI, section 6, is amended to read: (g) To interpret the Association's Constitution.

3. Amendment III is amended to read that a student must have an overall average of "C" in academic work to be eligible for any office on campus. Averages will be determined in the same manner as they are for graduation.

4. Article IX, section 1, is amended to read that nomination for officers of the Council, and representatives to the Council shall be made by a petition signed by 15 members of the student body who are qualified to vote for that prospective candidate. These petitions must be in the hands of the Secretary of the Council by 4 p.m. Wednesday two weeks before the general election to be held on the third Wednesday in April. These petitions will be reviewed by the council, the qualifications of each candidate being presented and discussed. A candidate wishing to withdraw from an election must submit a written statement of his intention to withdraw from an election to the president of the Council at least 24 hours before the election. He may not re-enter the race once this has been done.

5. Article XI, section 6, is amended to read that there shall be a copy of the rules of the Honor System printed in the "V" Book. Each new student entering the college will be given a copy of the Rules and By-Laws of the Honor System and will be informed by the Council as to the functions of the Honor System and his or her duties towards the Honor System.

6. Article XII, section 3, part (e), is amended to read: that a publications committee shall be appointed by the President of the SGA with the approval of the Council, for the purpose of naming staff members for the three publications at VSC. The Committee shall be composed of four students, who may or may not be members of the Council, plus the editors of the three campus publications, plus two faculty members, who shall have had experience as advisors for student publications.

7. Amendment V is amended to read that a representative to the Student Government from a class, dormitory, or town should meet with his constituents in a mass meeting whenever necessary.

Gabard Awarded Ph.D. From Tulane

Professor William Gabard who is chairman of the Department of History at VSC received his Ph.D. degree May 22, 1963, at graduation exercises at Tulane University. Mr. Gabard also studied at the University of Tennessee and Northwestern University.

The subject of his dissertation was "Joseph McKey Brown: A Study in Conservatism". Brown was a participant in the bitter Brown-Hoke Smith campaigns which were noteworthy for the techniques used—the rancor and bitterness which divided the Georgia Democrats into two factions.

As a personal note, Mr. Gabard stated, "I would prefer to be called Mister right on."

He becomes the 12th member of the faculty to attain this coveted educational title.

Class of '63 Buys Gas Lights For VSC

The Senior Class of 1963 has voted to purchase three gas lights to be placed between the library and Converse Hall.

The total cost of the lights will be $180, there is already $67 in their kitty.

Norman Bennett says that the assessment will be $1 per member of the class.

Six Receive Fellowships

Six Valdosta State College students have been awarded graduate fellowships at five major universities.

Noel Wisenbaker has accepted a fellowship at the Institute of Paper Chemistry, Appleton, Wisconsin. The fellowship, in the amount of $12,600 is for four years of study leading to the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in paper chemistry.

Philip Barr of Valdosta has accepted a graduate fellowship at Emory University, an award worth $1100.

Angela Terry has received a graduate assistantship in zoology to the University of North Carolina, worth $2000.

Frances Rigsby of Tifton has accepted a graduate assistantship in history to Arizona State University, an award worth $1600.

Neill Graham received a graduate scholarship in physics to the University of North Carolina worth $2200.

Earl Wade of Bainbridge has accepted a graduate assistantship in history to Auburn University in the amount of $1600.

Other VSC students recently accepted in graduate school include Harvey Roddenberry, Valdosta and Charles Hobby, Douglas, who will enter the Medical College of Georgia at Augusta.

Brigadoon Scores Hit During Night Stand

When the enchanted village of "Brigadoon" came to life on the VSC stage the audience was delighted from opening chorus to final line.

In the story of Brigadoon, Tommy Albright and Jeff Douglas stumble on Brigadoon and become involved with the people there. Tommy falls in love with Fiona McLaren and Jeff is entangled by Meg Brockle.

Jean McLaren and Charlie Dalrymple are to be married that day. The only thing that mars the pleasure of the occasion is Harry Beaton who also loves Jean.

The wedding goes on but as the day draws to a close Tommy finds the secret of Brigadoon too great a price to pay and returns to New York. In the final scene Tommy realizes how great his love is and by a miracle is reunited with Fiona.

Jane Meeks played Fiona and Ronnie Davis was Tommy Albright. Jane and Ronnie gave an outstanding performance. Their duet "Almost Like Being In Love" was the high point of the show.

Phillip Barr was excellent as Jeff Douglas. His dry humor and quick wit provided the audience with laughs through the play.

Lusty Meg Brockle as played by Barbara Walker brought gales of laughter with her attempts to ensnare Jeff Douglas. Her two songs "The Love of My Life" and "My Mother's Weddin' Day" were sparkling.

John McCarty as bridegroom to be Charlie Dalrymple was particularly good as he sang the tender love song "Come to Me, Bend to Me."

The rest of the cast were good in their roles. Susan Branch played demure Jean McLaren, Joel Boatwright as Harry Beaton, Freddie Lawrence as Archie Beaton, Jerry Dixon as Andrew McLaren, Patsy Newkam as Maggie Anderson and Jane Ashton, Grady Mills as Mr. Ludie, James Meeks as Angus.

28 VSC Students Display Art in College Library

The Department of Art opened the Student Exhibit, the last in a series of five shows, Tuesday in the exhibition room of the VSC library.

The exhibit, featuring works by 28 students, includes paintings in watercolor, oils and mixed techniques; sculpture in terra cotta, sculp-metal, plaster, wire and stoneware; ceramics done in glazed stoneware; and slumped glass decorated with enamel.

Mr. Joe Pember, head of the art department, said, "the important characteristic of the Student Art Exhibit is the variety of creative expression demonstrated by the cross section of VSC artists". He added, "this is a sign of the broadening awareness of the visual world."

Valdosta students exhibiting their work include Georgia Swink, Kitty Coppage, Cleon Phillips Jr., Sharon Lancaster, Mrs. John Sineath, Franklin Parrish, Emily Leonard, Chris

Smokers Inferno

The classrooms at VSC serve most students 15 hrs a week, with another hour or so spent going and coming to class. It seems strange that these places of learning should remind one of garbage dumps. The average smoker consumes half a dozen cigarettes in the general area of the classrooms, or in it, and a conservative guess would have it that 50% of the butts are found in the floor.

This is a sickeningly flagrant violation of the rules. The instructors ask that ashtrays be used, and some students oblige, they use anything from partially filled paper cups to soft drink bottles and even some paper ashtrays devised by the more ingenious ones. These articles usually remain in the rooms around the desks until the instructor finds time to clean them up. The stench emitted from them is enough to stifle a mule.

Since the rules are clearly defined, there should be no situation as this. The grinding out of cigarettes on the floors is against the rules, and smoking in the classrooms must be permitted by the instructor.

There has been some talk by the Student Government of putting these regulations into the honor system, but that certainly will be a last resort because VSC students would have the character to take care of things like this without a lot of rules being put on them.

A profound effort should be made to correct this situation, visitors to our college are not too well impressed by these filthy classrooms and hallways, and the clientele of this school should not admit to the world that they are content to live in such an unclean situation.

Staffers Needed

The Canopy would like to announce that it will need all the help it can get from the students next year. There will be positions open ranging from reporters to columnists, to editors of departments. The position of society and sports editor in particular will be available, and typists will be needed badly.

Anyone interested in working on the staff is asked to come to the organizational meeting which will be held at the first of fall quarter. This paper is not a closed corporation.

Time Will Tell

Travelling on U. S. Highway 129 in Wilcox County, Georgia, one can readily detect the effect of industrialization in Georgia. Upon crossing the county line at a place called Bowen's Mill the landscape undergoes a complete change as compared to its neighboring county of Ben Hill.

What once used to be a thriving farming county is no more. The highway is in good condition but it offers no picturesque scenery.

On the 12 mile track from the county seat of Abbeville the country side is an almost completely eyesore. Homes and tenant houses have been abandoned and are crumbled to the ground.

The corn fields have given way to young pine trees. The once beautiful rolling fields are now filled with under brush.

The small farmers have been pushed out by the big farmer and industry.

Abbeville, once a booming trading center is now virtually a ghost town.

Wilcox is not the only county in Georgia that is faced with the problem of de-populating. Abbeville is not the only town that is boarding the windows of its stores.

What will happen to these towns scattered throughout Georgia? Will their few citizens witness a rehabilitation?

Only time will tell!

Robert Maxwell

Liberal Or Conservative

The situation the liberal thinkers of this country are putting the conservative ones in is very serious, since the future of our democratic system is in peril.

The liberals shout "progress, at all cost, the time has come", while the conservatives are certain that too much too soon will end us all in a socialistic welfare state.

Since the states are not as willing to go into debt as the federal government, the radical liberals are attempting to put the states in a subordinate position that will enable the President to progress without the constitutional checks intended by those conservatives who drew up the document.

The liberal candidates for the presidency of the United States are wealthy, hypocritical people who can hardly sympathize with the common man since they are certainly not "plain folks". The conservative candidates are hard working citizens, with no string of college degrees or books to their credit, just a record of hard work and abstinence. The liberals would give money without restraint if these conservatives did not hold them down.

The liberal attitude towards segregation is a good example of their hypocrisy. They that can possibly afford it send their children to private, while schools and live in all white districts. Yet, they enact legislation to condemn others for this attitude.

Government controlled press, diabolical lies, secret agreements with hostile countries, flagrant abuses of the U. S. Constitution, are all evidences of the trend towards autocracy.

We as students would read all we can about current politics so that we may form our own ideas and pitch in and help block that which we see as dangerous to our conceptions of government. There can be no pity for those unwilling to help themselves.

Life

By Moselle Vincent

By Moselle Vincent

What is life? This question has many answers, because people have so many different ideas about the subject. To me life is a most unusual gift.

What is this gift? It is the majestic and towering forests and mountains. Life is the many contributions of man in all fields, such as art, music, electronics or engineering. It is the love between a husband and wife and the hate between powerful enemies.

It is the sunlight sparkling from the leaves of a tree, and the stars twinkling in the sky at night. It is the reflection of the moonlight on the beach, the tiny crystals of phosphorus glittering in the water. Life is the picture of an old woman kneeling and praying in an immense and beautiful cathedral. It is the flash of lightning displayed in a thunder storm and the colorful rainbow discovered afterwards.

What is life? Life is a miracle

Summer Thoughts

When each of us leaves here this summer, he will wonder in his heart if he will be fortunate enough not to lose any of his friends through accident or illness. Those thoughts do not worry him too much at first, but as the summer wears on thoughts of "I wonder how Cathy is getting along", or "I guess Herman has either made it back from out west or is not coming".

Some of us will not return, for different reasons, but as a word of caution, please take extreme care in all activities, as without your presence there will be much sorrow.

What Is A Saint?

Sally had just completed a vacation in London with parents. While there, they had toured the great cathedrals whose spires pointed toward heaven as if to remind them of the God they stood so proudly to serve. It was a beautiful day and once inside, the sun blazed through the stained glass windows in such an exciting way that while her parents looked about she just stood there transfixed. It was lovely! So vivid were the men there, on the windows that she could not look away. Her parents, when ready to leave, called for her to come.

"Mommie, who are those pretty men?"

"Well, honey, those are saints."

The Sunday after they returned from their vacation, Sally was in her Sunday School class. They were discussing Saint Paul when one of her class-mates asked the question, "What is a saint?" She remembered what she had seen in that cathedral in London--the morning sun shining through those pretty men and she said, "I know! A saint is somebody who lets the light shine through."

In my opinion this is a great thought. Jesus said, "The Kingdom of Heaven is within you." He was not speaking to one particular man but rather to the human race. For most of the students on this campus, the only thing that stands between the person you now are and the person you would like to be is not the need for more divine knowledge, nor greater spiritual enlightenment, but rather the courage to live up to that light which is already within you.

Who knows. You may be a saint in hiding.

As the Walrus said, it is "time to talk of many things" in this final column for the Canopy.

First, I must confess amusement at a letter written to the Canopy by two defeated SGA candidates. These gentlemen sought to gloss over a violation of mass communication ethics by charging the Pi Kappa Fraternity with pettiness in protesting such action. They also seemed to feel the Pi Kapps were displeased about the initiative they displayed during the campaign. This is not the case.

The Pi Kapps have traditionally loved a good political fight. The letter was not erroneously signed. It is true that I attempted a few feeble words, but my brothers of the fraternity passed final editorial judgement on what was printed.

I feel all the balm in Gilead will not bind up some of the bickering by groups on this campus, and like William Faulkner's Dilsey, I have "Seed de first en de last" of these episodes unresolved in my years as a student here.

I think these little challenges are good for college students. Standing around with no challenge, no struggle in life is like dying a little every day.

I congratulate the gentlemen for writing their letter. Rob Maxwell, the new Canopy editor, is going to encourage more such student discussions in his paper next year. I feel the publications committee was wise in selecting him for this important role as an editorial gadfly.

During Homecoming, when the air conditioners first began belching forth cool streams of air and splashes were heard in the pool, an alumni group met and decided to help Gary Colson get some scholarships for deserving boys who want to play basketball here.

The group, twelve recent male graduates, pledged themselves to further efforts of service to VSC. This is good. It is time for graduates of VSC to stop tinkling tea cups and tasting sweetbreads once a year. George Wallace of Rome, Georgia, a 1958 graduate, is head of the sports scholarship group.

He feels the alumni organization should serve the college in a stronger capacity and I agree. It is tragic that only 200 VSC alumni out of an approximate 3,000 graduates are dues paying members of the association. Is it time for these people to help VSC during the school's throes of growth.

For example, Mrs. Bette Adams, the public relations director could establish 10 alumni chapters in Georgia for a minimum of $500. Financial support and alumni leadership is needed. We hope what the group began here in March will develop into a concerted movement of support for VSC.

"Sunset and evening star and one clear call . . ."

With apologies to Mr. Tennyson, let us say that it is now the sunset for VSC seniors. The ritual on the gym stage next week will bring them into an anxious, troubled world which seems at times to be heading towards a nuclear apocalypse.

We would hope that the work there has prepared these people in some way to cope with the complexities which they will encounter. It is also our hope that the seniors will not fear that their life shall end, but rather that it shall have a beginning.

That beginning is at hand. Robert Frost, who drank some apple cider and mended a wall or two, said it best:

" . . . I have promises to keep and miles to go before I sleep."

We all now have miles to go.

Let us have purpose on this trip.

The beach parties are over. Last week-end was the time when everyone enjoyed fun in the sun and excitement. The white Florida sands was the sight for these gatherings throughout the United States, and the most popular Florida beach, according to the Alpha Delta Pis, Alpha Xi Delta and Tekes was Daytona. The Kappa Deltas, Sig Epps and Pi Kapps invaded Panama City. Now that the fun is over, it is time to settle down for this last important week of school.

After the last performance of "Brigadoon" a party was given by Philip Barr to all members of the cast. From what I have heard, this was quite a party - full of fun, food and clowning. By-the-way, it seems as though the most popular scenes in the play were those portrayed by Jane Meeks and Ronnie "Doc" Davis. I do not think it took a great deal of acting for those scenes, right Ronnie?

A few weeks ago Patricia Herrington was awarded the Alpha Xi Delta Honor Ring. In order to be eligible for this award a member of sorority must attain an academic average of 90% or above in three and one-half years of college work, or the equivalent thereof, and who has contributed to the advancement of her chapter and has taken part in campus activities. The Honor Ring is a tangible symbol of recognition by the college chapter with approval by the National Fraternity. Congratulations, Pat!

On April 27 the sisters and pledges of Alpha Delta Pi sold first aid kits in the downtown area and at a roadblock. Proceeds from these sales went to the Georgia Sheriffs Boys Ranch.

Curt Wonicker has been chosen as the Alpha Delta Pi "King of Diamonds".

Other accomplishments by Alpha Delta Pi are: the recent initiation of Carol Ann Rainwater, Joy Roberson, Sue Ellen Sheffield, Mabel Shirling, Susan Clark, Carol Williamson and Sandra Speir; and the Founder's Day celebration was held last Wednesday night at the House-in-the-Woods.

Finals begin Tuesday, so study hard everyone and come through those tests with flying colors.

So, until next year this is your Society Editor, Roz Sprayberry, saying, "have a wonderful summer and we'll see you next year. Good luck and happiness to our graduating seniors."

The high point of the musical program was Mrs. Lancaster's playing of the first movement of the Grieg Concerto with Mr. Teague.

Our Government Still The Best Says Pannell

Charles M. Pannell, chief of field representatives of the Georgia Income Tax Unit, spoke to members of the Business Club at Valdosta State College on Tuesday, May 14.

Pannell pointed out inequities in the federal and state tax structure, and told the group that "the power of the government to tax is the price we have to pay for good government."

He accused the federal government of ignoring the simple ways to change the tax rates, such as raising the $600 exemption. Instead, he said, they work on complicated time-consuming changes that take years to write into law.

"A good tax program must be economically sound, must furnish sufficient revenue to pay for desired services, and be administered by honest people," he said.

In closing, Pannell assured the students that "our government—even with its stinking tax laws—is still the best."

SPE's Aid JC's In Voter Drive

The Georgia Gamma Sig Eps have been helping with the voter registration drive spearheaded by the Valdosta Jaycees the past few weeks. Two Sig Eps have worked with the team of businessmen for the past three weeks from 1 to 5 p. m. They have been very successful in this endeavor, this is another of the community good will projects the social fraternity has participated in.

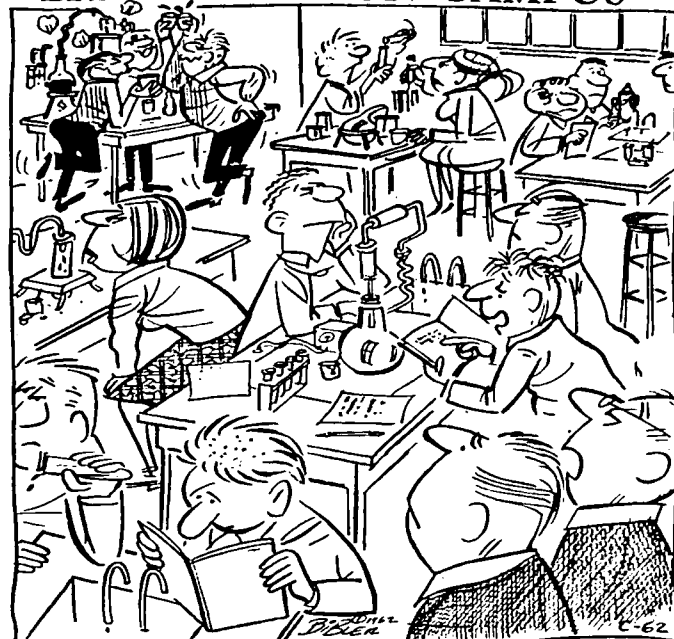

Sandspur Stadium

Sandspur Stadium, which has been the setting for many intramural events at VSC is slowly becoming past history as bulldozers turn up the turf and the new boys dormitory gets underway.

Mr. Shealy McCoy, the college's comptroller-general reports that an amendment which advocates air-conditioning has been added to the building contract.

The 200 boy dorm was begun May 6, and its completion is anticipated by September of 1964.

Valdostans Hold Sociology Posts

The VSC Sociology Club has elected officers to serve for the next school year. All of the students are from Valdosta.

Wayne Sanders will serve as president, with Ted Catakos taking the vice-presidential position. "Andy" Spieler will assume the dual post of secretary-treasurer and Sandra Sessions has the responsibility for scheduling the programs.

Four Instructors Leave To Continue Advanced Studies

Beginning this summer a number of instructors at VSC will commence work on their master's or Ph. D. degrees. Some will be on leave for the next year, while others will only study this summer.

David Lewis, Assistant Professor of Business Administration, will be working on his Doctor of Philosophy in Business Administration at the University of Tennessee for a year.

Mrs. Lucretia Morgan will study for her doctorate in English at the University of Georgia.

Mr. Alva Spenser Jamnigan has been on leave this quarter for study leading to a degree in Guidance and Testing at Florida State University.

Mr. Don Gerlock has finished his class work and is preparing his dissertation. He expects to receive his Doctor of Education degree in December of this year.

FSU Opera Given Here

The Valdosta Opera Guild sponsored the Florida State University Opera, "Don Pasquale" on the evening of May 23, 1963.

The Guild has been formed with the three-fold purpose of sponsoring a FSU opera each year, promoting a community voice and opera program, and offering music scholarships to promising students.

The membership fee is five dollars annually, and this includes one ticket to the Opera of the Year.

Since this is the last issue of the paper for this year, I think a summary of Valdosta State College sports is in order. We, as students, can be proud of each version of the Rebels for 1962-63.

I can see no let down in the VSC sporting program. With the possibility of full scholarships in the near future, the Rebel fighting spirit, and with the fine coaching staff at VSC, sports should be on the up swing.

The Rebel basketball team won the G.I.A.C. championship for the third year in a row. Colson, the coach, had to start almost from scratch in molding this year's team. This should speak well for the future with all the first year men getting valuable experience.

Colson also started the season with an inexperienced tennis team and a tough schedule. The entire team improved with each match and Bill Roberts finished second in the GIAC singles championship held at Rome, Georgia. The entire team returns next year with an added year of experience. They should be much improved.

The baseball team played a tough schedule and due to an accident in which several players were bruised and shaken up, the remaining Rebel games were cancelled. We will have to wait and see how the team fairs next spring.

Chris Gleaton, senior, informs Kate Culpepper that she is to head the Women's Athletic Association 1963-64.

own Captures Championships

Town finished the season with a 7-1 won-lost record to easily win the regular season intramural championship in softball.

Several important games that led to important developments were played during the last week of the regular season by a two run margin.

In other action BSU dropped two games. This allowed a three way tie for second place among BSU, TKE and the Pi Kaps. The Sig Eps handed the BSU their first loss of the week in a game played during a steady downpour. This was the first win for the Sig Eps team. Sig Ep led after three innings by a 15-5 score. BSU fought back but was unable to overcome the large Sig Ep lead.

The final score was 18-15. In other action TKE defeated Pi Kap to keep them from taking over sole possession of second place.

In the final game of regular season play, town continued their mastery by defeating BSU 9-1 in 7 innings. BSU held Town scoreless over the last four innings. Part of this was accomplished by a triple play going from David Caroli to Mike Tabb to Louis Sheffield. This was the only triple play of the season by any team.

Clean-up Campaign

A campus cleanup campaign seems to be underway on the VSC campus. For the past several days workmen have been sawing dead limbs off trees near the library and behind Converse Hall.

The trees were damaged as a result of the extreme cold experienced during the months of January and February. It was evident that they were in danger of falling at any moment.

9 AWARDS PRESENTED AT ATHLETIC BANQUET

Monday night the athletic department of VSC held their annual sports banquet to honor the athletic teams here.

Head Coach Bennie Dees from Abraham Baldwin College was the principal speaker for the occasion.

Nine awards were given to outstanding athletes from VSC, in basketball, baseball and tennis.

The tennis award went to Tom Milner who competed in both singles and doubles play for the Rebels. He accomplished the highest winning percentage on the team.

The baseball award went to Tommy Johnson, a combination pitcher and infielder for Coach Grant's Rebel team. Seven individuals were given awards in basketball. The most valuable player award went to Ray McCully, a guard on the Rebel team that captured the GIAC Championship for the third year in a row. McCully was also voted the best team playmaker. Ruston Hodges, a 6 foot 3 inch junior, was voted the most improved player on the Rebel squad.

Mike Perry won the Rebel spirit award. He was the leading scorer for the Rebels this season. Bobby Ritch, a sensational freshman, had the best field goal percentage on the team. He hit on better than 50% of his field goal attempts.

Wally Summers had the best free throw percentage, hitting better than 75% of his charity tosses. He was runner up to Perry as leading scorer.

Chuck Bonovitch was the teams leading rebounder. He was selected to the all GIAC and all Georgia teams this season.

Car Loses Roof In Freak Accident

On a recent trip through Mississippi, Dr. Robert Owens experienced a freak accident which left him more dismayed than afraid.

He was driving down a lonely stretch of highway about 6 a.m. in his small foreign car when, without the slightest warning, the slide back roof panel just above his head disappeared into space in a split second. There was no other damage to the car, it was as if the two foot square piece of steel has been removed by a master mechanic.

"I really didn't know whether to pray or swear", the language department head murmured, "I think I did a little of each". At the moment his prime concern centered around trying to convince his insurance adjuster that the panel had "gone with the wind". He searched fruitlessly for several minutes after the occurrence, but soon gave the project up as hopeless.

Dr. Owens has been a little hesitant about telling this story because of the obviously strange circumstances.

Colson Named G.I.A.C. Coach Of The Year

Valdosta State College's coach Gary Colson has been named Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference basketball coach of the year.

This the second year in a row that Colson has received this honor. Last year, after winning the GIAC championship for two straight years, he was also selected.

This past season Colson's Rebel basketball team overcame all odds and won the conference crown in an overtime playoff with Shorter College. Three first string players were not able to play in the overtime due to the foul out rule. Only the fighting Rebel spirit and good confident coaching gained the victory.

Coach Colson took an experienced group of boys and molded them into conference champions. Who deserves "Coach of the Year" more than the VSC coach? Congratulations on a job well done, Mr. Colson.
