VSC Adds 13 To Faculty Ranks

Valdosta State College has added 13 new faculty members for the 1963-64 academic year. The new appointments include additions in the departments of English, education, speech, history, languages, business administration, music, art and physical education.

DR. MANNELLE VINCENT JETER joins the faculty as associate professor of education. Jeter has the M. S. and Ed. D. degrees from Florida State University. Dr. Jeter served as director of curriculum for the Colquitt County schools before coming to VSC.

MISS SARA LOUISE HANES of Flowery Branch has been named instructor of English. Miss Hanes received her M. A. in English from the University of Georgia.

MISS ANN DELORIS KIRBY joins the faculty as assistant professor of speech. She holds the Master of Fine Arts degree from Auburn University. Miss Kirby served on the speech department faculty at Auburn before coming to VSC.

JOHN T. S. MELZER has been appointed assistant professor of history. Melzer earned his M. A. degree from the University of Virginia. A native of Ashland, Ohio, Mr. Melzer was formerly at the University of Virginia where he had been granted a teaching fellowship.

RAYMOND M. SUTTON JR. joins the faculty as assistant professor of business administration. Sutton received the B. S. and M. B. A. degrees from the University of Kentucky.

MRS. JANET R. ROBINSON has been appointed an instructor in music to replace Webster Teague who is on leave to attend the graduate school at Florida State University. Mrs. Robinson holds a B. S. degree in music education from Susquehanna University, and has held the position of supervisor of music at the Mt. Carmel, Pa. High School.

WILLIAM H. BENNETT JR. joins the faculty as a member of the physical education department. Bennett has the M. Ed. degree from the University of Georgia. He comes to VSC from Valdosta High School where he taught social sciences and served on the coaching staff.

MERLE DALLAS KAISER has been named associate professor of psychology. Kaiser, a native of Ohio, earned his M. A. degree in psychology at Florida State University where he will complete requirements for a Ph. D. degree at the end of the summer.

JEAN GUITTON has been appointed assistant professor in the department of foreign languages. He has the A. B. degree from the University of Caen, and the License es Lettres from the University of Paris. Prior to joining the VSC faculty Guitton taught at the Woman's College of Georgia.

CHARLES A. MCKINLEY has been named assistant professor of English and foreign languages. McKinley received his M. A. degree from Colorado University. He has done further study in his field at Aurich University in Switzerland and at Innsbruck University in Austria.

MISS KATE E. RAY joins the VSC faculty as instructor of English. Miss Ray earned the M. A. degree from Memphis State College. She comes to VSC from Troy State College in Alabama.

MRS. ELLEN HARRIS ANDERSON of Valdosta has been appointed as part time instructor in art. Mrs. Anderson earned her A. B. degree at VSC.

New Dormitory Showing Progress

VSC boys sure are lucky! They're getting a new dorm. Of course, all the girls are green with envy, but the progress on the new dorm is fascinating to everyone.

It should be fun living in a dorm as large as that. The house mother won't be able to get around as fast or as often. The metal door frames may be a warning that the doors will be metal. What will the boys do for excitement if the doors won't burn? There'll probably be metal furniture, too, but there are always the mattresses.

It's going to be awfully hard to study in the new dorm though because it's so noisy down there. Just walking by can result in a headache. But boys never study much anyway. Especially since it'll be so easy to visit the people next door. With no walls, visiting will be simple, and no floor at the moment makes "dropping in" on the people downstairs no trouble at all.

Most of the rooms have a real good view--on all four sides. Other rooms have walls and are done in grey and cement. Decorating should be no problem at all, but it is going to be rather difficult to hide those electric outlets which are suspended in space so as to be easily accessible. So far there are no closets but those orange metal beams look like they'd be perfect for hanging clothes.

So far only one wing shows evidence of having a roof. Everyone else may be out in the cold. So, boys, get your reservations in early if you plan on being among the elite.

The building of the new dorm is exciting. And perhaps the most exciting part is that girls get to see inside a boys dorm.

Dean of Students Added To Administrative Staff

Valdosta State College has added three new members to the staff for the coming academic year.

DR. A. LOUIE SOSBEE joins the administrative staff in the newly created office of Dean of Students. Sosbee comes to VSC from Vincennes University, Indiana. A native of Atlanta, he received his Ed. D. degree in guidance and counseling from Indiana University.

MRS. THELMA KING ARTHUR joins the staff as house mother for Barrow Hall on North Campus. Before coming to VSC Mrs. Arthur worked with national sororities at the University of Oklahoma A. & M. A native of Colorado, she is a graduate of the Woman's College of Georgia.

MRS. SANDRA HOWARD FALK, formerly of Madison, Florida, has been named assistant resident nurse at the VSC infirmary. Mrs. Falk graduated from the Orange Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Orlando, and was employed by the University of Florida Teaching Hospital and Clinics prior to joining the VSC staff.

Her husband, Nels Falk, is a junior at VSC majoring in sociology. They are residing in the infirmary.

Frosh Celebrate Their Fun Week

The dormant VSC campus slowly came to life on September 17, 1963, as Freshman Week began. The appearance of the traditional red and black rat h and the sea of bewildered, homesick faces alerted even the casual observer of that fact.

Tuesday morning, members of the Student Government Association and the newly organized Student Leaders Council greeted the new students as they arrived and aided them in moving into the dormitories. At 2:00 p. m. the Freshmen met together for the first time in the gymnasium for a welcome by Dr. Thaxton, followed by placement tests. The academic atmosphere of the college was penetrated Tuesday night by the lively music and dancing of a square dance held in the gym.

Wednesday morning, at a college orientation assembly presided over by Dr. A. Louie Sosebee, the Dean of Students, the 256 new students were introduced to administrative and faculty members and the leaders of campus organizations. Wednesday night, the city of Valdosta was marched on as the students, led by SGA members, hiked to a downtown theater to see "55 Days at Peking."

Thursday proved to be a hectic day, beginning with registration and followed by an assembly of the women students, the Panhellenic Tea, and, in the evening, the various church parties.

The rapid pace continued with STEP tests and Student Government Orientation on Friday morning. There was time for relaxation Friday afternoon as the Freshmen enjoyed a swim and cook-out at Twin Lakes. Friday night they were entertained at a folk concert featuring the Balladiers Two and campus talent.

Saturday, the women students were occupied with sorority rush parties, while the men snatched a few extra minutes of sleep and then participated in team sports in the afternoon. At 8:00 p. m. the annual President's Reception and Dance was held in the gym. This event formally ended Freshman Week, a fact for which the tired students gave thanks as they crawled into bed late Saturday night.

This year's orientation week, through the efforts of Dr. Sosebee and the student leaders and through the cooperation of the Freshmen, was perhaps one of the best yet.

that you haven't caused others to park improperly and receive a ticket.

Ecology Students Display Fauna

There are RATS in the VSC library!

Not only rats but other critters too; rabbits, squirrels, foxes, raccoons, and opossums.

These animals which are stuffed can be seen in the exhibition room on the second floor. The exhibit, entitled Representative Local Fauna, was prepared by students in General Ecology courses, and shows study skins of local mammals and birds.

Also displayed is a collection of mounted insects peculiar to this locality.

Library Addition Receives Approval

The University System Board of Regents gave formal approval for the construction of a $295,000 annex to the Richard Homes Powell Library at VSC. Bids for this project are to be submitted to the Regents later this year.

Completion of this addition will be a factor in the start of a graduate program of study, according to Dr. Thaxton, VSC president.

As part of a long range plan of building needs VSC officials have also requested of the Board of Regents a new science building, a girls' dorm, and an addition to the student center.

Pull Hard, Class of 1967

By now the graduating class of 1967 is rather well established in the college curriculum, and the resident students are buckling down to a routine that will not appreciably change for the duration of their time here.

The rating is over, court has been held, and sentence passed. The rats of this year are dreaming of their stunts to pull on the class of 1968. The teachers still enjoy making note of the fact that these neophytes are inexperienced ex-high school zealots, but they will ease up after this quarter.

By now this class has found that this college is not a big impersonal mass of stone, if they entertained any idea like that, they have found VSC to be a friendly and likeable school.

These freshmen will observe various things on the campus which they have seen done in different ways elsewhere, they will be confronted with violations of the honor code, of the rules of conduct, of decency, of city law, much the same as they were in high school. They had no real opportunity to do anything about these problems while in high school, but here it will be different.

At VSC there is an organization of student leaders called the S.G.A. which exists for the students benefit alone. It is qualified to help the students handle problems with undesirable characters, with over zealous professors, unfair house regulations, etc. The S.G.A. is the truth, it seldom is activated. These freshmen of 1963 Freshmen should tap this potential.

It is said that no news is good news. The person who said this is like the fellow who says money isn't everything, it isn't, so long as he has enough to suit him. This paper needs news, without it, it is dead. You help supply the news. Let your voice be heard through the Open Opinion Column or the Letter to the Editor section. Don't hesitate; he who does is lost in the rush.

You have the bull by the horns Freshmen, the world by its axis don't take it for granted, because before you realize it, your lethargy might cause it all to collapse.

Honor Code

The honor code at Valdosta State College is a traditional part of life here. It was designed to encompass all aspects of life, both classroom and extra-curricular.

The Code is absolutely dependent upon the integrity and fortitude of the students and faculty at this college. For it to function properly, students and faculty members must be willing to turn in violators to the S.G.A. If no one is willing to be the informer, then the code as it stands is defunct.

For the purpose of keeping this school out of the gutter, this system must be made to work. Too many times schools have been lax and their reputation suffered. Who wants to have VSC a crap-note school, a bum's paradise? The old and true saying about it catching up with the cheater is not mere mumbo-jumbo.

A copy of the rules and regulations of the Honor Code is supposed to be printed in the first edition of the paper every year. Your editor decided to waive this rule, since the students may very easily refer to their V-Books for this information. It would behoove all VSC students to familiarize themselves with these well defined rules.

VALDOSTA ENTERTAINMENT ASSOCIATION

Robert Maxwell

Why Study Arts?

The Valdosta Entertainment Association begins its fourth year of formal activity with four attractions planned. The hope of the group is that student participation will be even more enthusiastic than previously.

The manifold purpose of the organization is to bring to this area attractions of an artistic quality usually reserved for more populous areas. Operating capital is of supreme importance because many payments have to be made in advance.

The task is made difficult because the college administration will not take an active or passive role in this project. The students must somehow dig down in their pockets and pay for this "activity", while the activity fee goes for undisclosed purchases.

VSC fraternities and sororities have in the past supplied the ushers for the occasions, a precedent which is very impressive to townspeople, and a source of pride to the students who attend.

It is the hope of this writer that the response to this, our chance for cultural growth in the community, will be strong and widespread. If the Entertainment Association is ignored, then the purpose for studying the arts is destroyed.

This year the selection of performers is very impressive. On January 23, Carlos Montoya, world famous guitarist will be here; on February 14, the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, a 90 piece group will produce an evening of unforgettable music; Earl Wrightson, baritone and Lois Hunt, soprano, will present a program of music from operetta and musical comedy on Thursday, March 26. A fourth attraction will be announced soon.

The Association is prepared to sell season tickets, which are divided into three divisions; Center Orchestra $12.88; Orchestra $10.30, and Balcony (unreserved) $6.18.

Representatives from the Association will be on the campus in the near future, look for them and support this, the only chance for culture here in Valdosta.

THE CHURCH AND THE UNIVERSITY

The relationship between the Church and the University is a confusing one, and I have decided to raise it at the beginning of this academic year. I am aware that many have maintained there is no legitimate relationship between the Church and the University - indeed, there is a widespread belief that the relationship of the Church to all the structures of society (education, politics, economics, etc.) is a negative one. One of the greatest Fathers of the Church, Tertullian, was of this opinion when he penned the following in the third century: "What has Athens to do with Jerusalem, the Academy with the Church? What is there in common between the pupil of Hellas and the pupil of Heaven?" Let me attempt to give an answer.

The Community of Faith (church) and the Community of Learning (university) are two of the great centers of meaning, of power and of authority in the Western tradition. Both have their proper roles in society, and operate on principles adequate and relevant to themselves. That is each has an integrity of its own, and each should desire that the other maintain that basic integrity. That is, the Church and the University are not responsible to each other, but they are responsible for each other. The relationship of the Community of Faith to the Community of Learning is that each desires the other be as healthy and have as much authenticity as possible. These two great Communities are present to each other not in order to dominate each other, but in order that the other will become what it is meant to be, in order to assist and spur the other out of its lethargy and on to the task that is proper to it. Specifically, the Church is present to the University (through campus ministries, through denominational colleges, etc.) in order to offer itself as one of the means whereby the University may find, and maintain, its own integrity. The Church is not present to the University because the Church believes that the University is evil, and that men must be rescued out of it. No! It is because the Church loves the University, not because it suspicious it, that it is present to the University. The Church desires to offer itself as a means whereby the University may further its legitimate purposes: 1) a discriminating transmission of our culture; 2) research, and the search for truth; 3) developing of vocational and personal skills. The Church profoundly believes in the validity of these functions, and is present to the University not in order to draw students and faculty out of them, but to equip and sustain them to engage in them more wholeheartedly. The the Church in fact often times falls below this understanding of its relationship to the University is evidence that the Church in return needs the University, desperately, to "be present" to it, calling it to fulfill its own mission, with integrity.

Petite Yolanda Loor Exchanges Culture

It takes a little daring, mixed with much misgiving for a girl who has never lived away from home to uproot herself and travel 5000 miles to go to college. This is exactly what V.S.C.'s one new exchange student did this summer. Yolanda Loor, 19, flew from her home in Portoviejo, Ecuador, to spend nine months working on a degree in Secretarial Science. She is 5' 3" tall, has brown eyes and brown hair.

Yolanda is a Rotary Exchange Student sponsored by Valdosta Rotarians and she entered VSC as a freshman in the fall. This is her first visit to the U. S. A. and though she studied English four years, Southern colloquialism give her much trouble. Recently she confused the two words "kitchen" and "chicken" in this statement, "Oh, we're having the kitchen for dinner." She hopes to learn to speak English

Canopy Promotions

Robert Peel has been appointed Associate Editor of the Canopy by Editor Maxwell. Bob, a senior majoring in English, has served on the staff for a quarter as a roving reporter and feature writer.

His duties will vary from being in charge of preparing the copy for the printer to writing news and assisting in the make-up of the paper.

The person who will have the responsibility for handling the society section of the paper for the coming year will be Lee Hobbs, a junior majoring in education.

She worked on the staff last year, and is already finding out what the job calls for.

Lee would like to ask all clubs and organization secretaries to bring their news to her or put it in box 149 in the Student Center.

Yolanda likes poetry and American music. In contrast to the swift Latin beat her favorite band is Glenn Miller's.

Yolanda's father is a retired obstetrician and has served in the Senate of Ecuador, and her mother is a housewife. She has four brothers and one sister. Her sister Betriz is also in the United States.

Summer Students Say "Adios" to Monterrey Tec And "Hello" to VSC

The song goes, "South of the Border down Mexico Way." Four VSC students went Mexico way for seven weeks this summer. Pat Boatwright, a junior, Patricia Cochran, Roz Sprayberry and Curt Wonicker, seniors spent their summer at Monterrey Tec studying Spanish in its native background.

The four students wanted to improve their Spanish and many universities in Mexico offer a summer program with college credit. Curt Wonicker and Pat Boatwright took courses in grammar, composition and conversation. Patricia Cochran and Roz took dancing, grammar, art and history. All the classes were conducted in Spanish and the programs offered were varied so that everyone could choose courses that especially interested him.

Traveling only a few miles in our own U. S. one would find many colloquial differences, but to go 2,000 miles into another country is really a change! This Pat, Curt, Patricia and Roz heartily agree to being true.

The summer courses at Monterrey Tec were not all inside a classroom. Lessons were learned from the excursion trips provided by the school. Curt took tours provided by auto factories, glass works and silver works. He made trips to Mexico City, Horsetail Falls and Barcia Caverns, similar to Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico.

Cultural programs extended into the evening. Dances were especially attractive and the Rafael de Cordoba Ballet of Spain provided a special treat.

Perhaps the thing that impressed the students most was the weekly bull fights at "La Plaza de Toros."

Roz said she thought the bull fights bloody and didn't enjoy the sport as the Mexican people seemed to enjoy it.

Tourists are a major source of income for the Mexican people. The Chic boys capitalized on the tourists. They were small boys from 4-13 years old, usually in rags who sold gum on the streets. They were not allowed on the campus of Monterrey Tec but were waiting for the students outside the gates. Pat, Patricia and Roz found it hard to resist their sales talk.

The four VSC students who were fortunate enough to visit Mexico this summer had an experience to remember. They made friends that were hard to leave behind. Much was learned about the everyday life of the Mexican people. They are a proud people and their country is rich in tradition. After 7 weeks in the country of our nearest non-English speaking neighbors they said adios to Mexico and hello to the U. S. and home. All four agree that the summer was well-spent, profitable and enjoyable inside and outside the campus grounds.

Kermit Hunnicut VSC Basketball

As the eyes of our community and local schools are directed to-wards football, the plans for an-other successful year of "round-ball" are gradually being initiat-ed at V. S. C. Coach Colson has already held a first meeting with the prospective basketball players and from what we could tell, V. S. C. is in for another year of very fine basketball.

Most of last season's Rebels will be returning with the excep-tion of Wally Summers, who trans-ferred, and Bill Summerford, who is ineligible because of col-lege hours. These two boys were a great asset to last year's team and will be missed when the crowd flock to the gym this fall.

It is far too early to say who will be wearing a Rebel uniform when the Rebs hit the hardwood on November 25 in the first game of this season. While the Rebels have a number of veterans re-turning, there will be plenty of new players who will be compet-ing for a starting position.

We here at V. S. C. are look-ing for a very successful season in basketball and we feel confi-dent that the Rebels can and will repeat the outstanding perform-ances of the past three years. The Rebels have won the G. I. A. C. for the last three years and with proper support could easily repeat the performance. Coach Colson explained that if the Re-bels won the Conference he would try to get the N. A. I. A. Championship Tournament mov-ed to V. S. C. He feels that if the Rebels could play in this tournament at home they would have a better chance of coming out on top in this competition. However things go, the students at V. S. C. will be back of the team all of the way and we will do our part. Rebels one time..

Kappa Delta Sorority Tells News of Summer and Fall

Kappa Delta's were not idle this summer. In July, Jeffrey Waldrop, Cheryl Brantley, Betty Dow Majors and Marianne Bax-ter journeyed to New Orleans, Louisiana, the "Paris of Ameri-ca", for Kappa Delta's Thirty-fifth National Convention. The site of the Convention was the Roosevelt Hotel.

The summer months also brought a new look to the Kappa Delta chapter room. Freshly painted green walls highlight new, modern furniture and other ornaments. The new air-condi-tioner provides a comfortable at-mosphere for all their activities from business sessions to bridge games.

A retreat at Twin Lakes Sept. 6-8 reunited the KD's as they made their plans for fall rush and this year.

The first Sunday this quarter they joined together to begin the year by attending church as a united group. Working under the guidance of the membership chairman, Cheryl Brantley, the girls took the rushees on a journey to "KD Hades" and then to the more formal and serious White Rose Tea. Kappa Deltas on Sept. 26 received sixteen pledges. They were: Vann Coleman, Dietra Spooner, Nancy Smith, Carol Gilson, Perry Straughn, Kitty Thrash, Carol Ann Cannon, Catherine Daugh-erty, Millie McLane, Jo Ann Hodges, Elaine Vann, Dianne Leary, Dorothy Mears, Susan Leuck, Georgianne Jordan and Ruth Ann Roddey. Afterwards the new pledges were given sym-bolic ribbons in the traditional Green and White Ribbon Cere-mony. On Sunday, Sept. 29, the new pledges received formal pledging.

Last week at the first formal chapter meeting, Jane Maddox was officially installed and wel-come to the Council as Chapter Editor. Peggy Elliot also exe-cuted for the first time the duties of the Chapter Secretary.

Under the direction of Betty Jo Green, Social Service Chairman, the KD's have already begun their philanthropic work. Last week sisters and pledges gave their support to the United Fund.

Alpha Xi Delta News

Alpha Xi Delta started prepara-tion for formal rush last spring quarter. Plans were started for work to be distributed to the sis-ters and pledges for the summer. During the summer the sorority room was redecorated, including wall to wall carpeting, and air conditioner and a new paint job.

August the sixteenth through nineteenth Gamma Xi met at Dr. and Mrs. Stump's cabin out-side of Valdosta for a rush retreat.

For the first party of rush the Alpha Xi's entertained the rush-es with a Circus party. Rushees were transported to the party via cars and a circus train. On arri-val the girls were toured through a series of booths including a belly dancer (Sandra Riggins), Miss VSC Talent (Cindy Sessions),

"Hootenanny" Anyone?

See the first full-length Hoot-enanny musical ever at VSC. This colossal event is to be pre-sented by the Circle K Club at 8:00 p. m. on Wednesday, Octo-ber 16, in the Valdosta State gymnasium. On stage will be talent from the VSC campus and this area. Some performers will be sponsored by clubs, fraterni-ties, and sororities.

The show is promoted by the Circle K as one of a series of projects with the end result being a scholarship for some worthy stu-dent of VSC. Tickets will be on sale at the gym door. Adults-.75, Students-.50.

Hear real, live, true folk-singers sing the Hootenanny. It will be the Hootenanniest! The show will be patterned after the ones seen at the movies and on national television. This is the hottest sound around, and is sweeping the United States from coast to coast. The music will move from rabble-raising folk songs to the sweet melody love themes. The show is planned for the entire Valdosta area, so everyone, plan now to attend.

Who Cares?

Assembly programs should prove to be very interesting this year. Dr. Duvall, chairman of the assembly program committee, has a tentative program for the year planned. There will be a maximum of three programs dur-ing each quarter.

On the tentative date of No-vember 6th Dr. Kasha, Director of the Institute of Molecular Bio-Physics at Florida State University will be our guest speaker. Other tentative programs will be the Music Department, the Speech Department, Honors Day. The Intelligent Use of Credit and possibly Congressman Russell Tuten of the 8th district.
