Demure Gail Bazemore, a sophomore from Valdosta majoring in English, has been chosen by the students at VSC to reign over the homecoming weekend festivities for this year. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi social sorority. Her court will consist of Misses Betty Dow Majors, a senior from Folkston majoring in elementary education; Betty Jo Greene, a junior from Valdosta majoring in education; Susan Branch, senior majoring in French, all of these girls are members of Kappa Delta social sorority; and Adrea Hobbs, freshman from Cordele, majoring in English, an Independent. These girls are not put out in runner-up, or place winners.

This year's Homecoming Queen is a continuation of the trend here at VSC for younger girls. Her court will consist of Misses Betty Dow Majors, a senior from Folkston majoring in elementary education; Betty Jo Greene, a sophomore when elected; and Adrea Hobbs, freshman from Cordele, majoring in English, an Independent. These girls are not put out in runner-up, or place winners.

The VSC cheerleaders will begin the pre-game spirit with a bonfire today at 3:00 in front of the Ad Building. Three bands, Valdosta High School, Jasper High School and the Shriners will create the marching rhythm. (Continued on Page 4)

Parade

This afternoon at 4:15 Homecoming VSC 1964 will be officially opened by the Homecoming parade. Carl Odom, parade coordinator, will line up the forty entries at 3:00 in front of the Ad Building. Three bands, Valdosta High School, Jasper High School and the Shriners will create the marching rhythm. The procession will travel down North Street to Patterson, down Patterson to Hill Street. It will then go down Hill to Ashley and north on Ashley to Gordon where it will end.

Float themes, built around the B.C. theme for all Homecoming, will be entered by most organizations on the campus. The KD's plan to "Lick Lagrange." The ADPI's have captured "B.C. The TKE's will demonstrate the latest in B.C. travel. The PKPhi's will cure some B.C.ills with their B.C. medicine. The SigEp's have a "hot float," the latest in fire prevention and the ADPI's will live it up in their cave dwelling. The Education Club will bring it out with old and new ways of peace. Alpha Psi Omega will present a B.C. drama and the WAA will entertain with B.C. sports. These are among the other entries which with the cars, and the Homecoming Queen and her court will make up the parade.

Parade Marshall Odom says, "We hope the parade will add to the success of Homecoming at VSC." The floats will be displayed during Homecoming. Also there will be the competition between dormitories with displays in front of the dorms.

Preparations for the Homecoming Dance tomorrow night have been underway for several weeks. The dance will be in the gymnasium. The gym will be transformed into the past by "paper mache," cardboard, crepe paper, paint and creativity, not to mention the hard work that members of the Student government are providing. The decoration committee will decorate the gym and make it recognizable pre-historic for the music of the "Createm" from Atlanta, who will play at the dance, which is formal.

The Homecoming Queen will be crowned, and prizes will be awarded for the parade and dormitory entries.

The Rebel's Title At Stake Tonight

The Rebels play LaGrange tonight at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium. They must win this game in order to keep their tie for first place in the conference.

Their defeat last Monday by Oglethorpe did not affect the conference record of the Rebs, but did put a dent in the team's confidence now totaling 15, to 6 defeats. The final score was 76-66.

HEAVEN ON EARTH

By DOVE VINCENT

Have you ever thought about how wonderfully it is to be in college? Do you realize that we, as college students are in the prime of life, and that these days will be remembered and cherished dearly the rest of our lives? Do you enjoy your studies and the privilege of being able to listen to educated speakers every day? Do you enjoy your frequent trips to the library in search of material for a term paper? And do you despise studying for tests and term papers? And is this all well, why not commit suicide? Pretty good idea, huh? Seriously though, you don't appreciate college, you'd better learn to, for it won't last forever.

College is heaven on earth. There are some things possible for are the grades we get the job of keeping our characters and personal ties out of trouble. Of course we will have to maintain our employment, and those who layoffs for the same families happy. But the majority who have no jobs and have very minimal problems and few responsibilities compared to what life will be like out of school.

In the first place, we have opened our homes to boarders because it is a huge home, and we only clean this once a month, if then; the dean of students and the dean of men are in the other bed. Such a life! We don't have to wash clothes, make beds, or anything. We have no dishes to wash. We have handy drug stores and bookstores where we can buy what we need. We have no ducks to wash. We have no library, we have no dishwashing problems and few responsibilities compared to what life will be like out of school.

Also, if we really need to get somewhere, we can take the bus and escape to the library where we can study and read. If we need to get something else, we are in a closely-knit community so that we are very much a part of it. In fact, we're so close to them, that they are in a sense, and gradually take the places of our families that we have left back. And we have a nice, quiet, countryside, in a sense, and gradually take the places of our families that we have left back.

Thus, we really have no problems to worry about. We have no intensive exercises in the long run they have little power over us, and we don't have to worry about some of the problems we have at home. We have no dishes to wash. We have handy drug stores and bookstores where we can buy what we need. We have no ducks to wash. We have no library, we have no dishwashing problems and few responsibilities compared to what life will be like out of school.

Also, if we really need to get somewhere, we can take the bus and escape to the library where we can study and read. If we need to get something else, we are in a closely-knit community so that we are very much a part of it. In fact, we're so close to them, that they are in a sense, and gradually take the places of our families that we have left back. And we have a nice, quiet, countryside, in a sense, and gradually take the places of our families that we have left back.

There is no changing from light to dark as experienced in most of the world. It is simply, suddenly, totally black. And after dark, people are seldom tempted to sit from within the protective walls of home. There is a something forbidden; almost frightening about the silence, the rigid bleakness. With the absence of movement, the night requires a sinister character.

This cycle is repeated from day to day with little deviation. The world is a world to us with spring with great impatience.

In spring we begin thinking of outdoor activities—tennis, golf, baseball—and love. But the favorite pastime for many people has become—no bridge, chess or ping pong but Ouija. For all those who have not met the Ouija, let me introduce you. To Ouija successfully you must do certain specific things. Two people (it works much better with a boy and a girl) sit facing each other with their knees crossed. They place the Ouija board across their knees. On the board is found all the letters of the alphabet plus the words "yes," "no," and "good bye." With a pointer mounted on felt legs, placed on the board Ouija is ready for the question. Each person places 8 fingers (4 from each hand) on the pointer and the pointer moves across the board and answers the question. Responses to questions vary from specific to very vague answers. It will name a date, hour and year for a marriage or avoid the question entirely.

Sig Eps Initiate

The Georgia Gamma Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity has recently initiated into its brotherhood sixteen new members. This is the largest number to be initiated at any time since the chapter was installed on the VSC campus and brings the total number of brothers to forty-two, an all-time high. Those initiated are: Eddie Bentley, Jerry Bentley, Bill Bridges, Bill Chandler, Charles Chitwood, Johnny Dishman, Mike Fletcher, Wayne Fulcher, Inman Grimley, David Hargis, David Lloyd, Richard Howard, Bobby Overman, Bobby O'Neal, Johnny Register, and Ernie Yates.

During the initiated period the new brothers were honored at a Headquarters' and at a dance held at the Valdosta Shrine Lodge.

Names In The News

The past three Tuesday nights have found interesting Vesper programs. Charles Rhue told of his summer's work. Mrs. John Longden spoke on happy home life and the Christian ministrers of Jimbo Smith, Porky Grady, and Bobbie Minnick sang spirituals and folk songs.

A few people who have really been working to make a success of Homecoming were Maryelle Smith, Carl Odum, our cheerleaders, the entire SGA, and a fine basketball team.

Coach Colson and our basketball team can be justly proud of the three GIAI banners on the wall in the gym. If you will notice 1961 is in the lower center so that it can easily be moved to the left of 1962 to balance out 1964 that seems to be heading this way.

Assembly programs like the one presented by Mr. Robinson, the Glee Club and the Serenaders would not have to worry about an empty audience.
Four Freshmen Indicate Their Value

By PAYE DAVIS

The two hour concert by the Four Freshmen at VSC last Tuesday night marks a new high in big name entertainment for this school year. The Freshmen, a highly skilled, versatile group of long standing on the American scene, gave a concert which will long be remembered around here.

The crowd showed the results of some intense advertising by the SGA, whose responsibility it was to get up the money for this performance. Many older people, middle age and then some were there, and all were heard to voice their pleasure at the end of the program.

The Four Freshmen, as distinguished from the Four Preps who visited the campus a few weeks ago, are a more sophisticated and mature group who are very proficient in ability to play several musical instruments, plus their ear straining harmony which is almost piercing at times. They use a trombone, a trumpet, a bass fiddle, or as one of their quips is, "a violin with harmonies," and a drum set which included symbols.

"We endorse Bardol, Julie London, and Conway Twitty guitar straps, and we get our kicks on "Route 66." That about sums up 'swooshin' Ken, Rosy, Bob and Bill, who, by the way, as one member of the audience was overheard to say, "just like more like third quarter juniors than freshman than." Their comedy routines ranged from cute anecdotes to a sping tingling pantomime using a guitar to stimulate the sound of a hair being pulled out of one’s head and stretched. Their humor was always of a sober style, never drooping to the obscene or distasteful.

All in all, a very enjoyable evening for everyone. The clapping was continuous, which indicates that we could stand to have just as many type groups as the SGA can manage to procure.

Follies Need Men

The Valdosta Junior League's 1964 Follies have gotten off to a good start, but they are lacking some complements.

This annual farce is in need of single men who like to dance. They want as many college students as half way qualified to come and join in the fun.

The practices will last only 30 minutes a day, with the production slated to come of February 27 and 28 at the Valdosta High School auditorium at 8 P.M.

There are only a few that can do this, but perhaps you can control fast those four words: "Red leather, yellow hair.

Valdosta State College Moves Forward

By ROBERT MAXWELL

Valdosta State College's chances of coming up to the standards already attained by most colleges in the University system have been visibly strengthened. This has been accomplished in two ways, first, by the forming of a foundation dedicated to VSC, and second, by the appointment of a Valdosta man to the Board of Regents.

The foundation was formed by the citizens of Valdosta to secure some concrete advantages for our growing college in the area of expansion, faculty salaries, and scholarships. It is composed of leading business men and professional men and women in this area, with VSC's Gertrude Odum a charter member, along with President Thax.

The Foundation intends to solicit the help and consider the views of all people interested in furthering the future of VSC. Cash contributions will make up the most of the material for this non-profit organization.

It was with the idea of helping VSC that they have asked the students here to contribute $1.00 each for the foundation to use in its program. Various clubs and organizations are going to be asked to get their members interested in a contest that will give a prize to the club contributing the most money per member. It is hoped, therefore, that the students, will make a concrete effort to support this plan.

Mr. John Langdale is our new friend in Atlanta. It is he who will in the next seven years put a great amount of his time into getting more concentration of money into VSC. In a personal interview with the Canopy, he advanced the opinion that this college's enrollment will double in the next six years, and a few years after that day, 1962, will come the graduate school and most other dreams of the Four Associates.

He realizes that he will need the help of everyone at the college while a regent, as money hungry larger units have a way of getting the lion's share of the allocated funds. One way we students can help is by making good records after leaving here, whether in graduate school, or business. He mentioned a committee the Regents have that is studying the role of each unit, and its needs, and the money for the future will be distributed, based upon the finding contained in this report.

Mr. Langdale mentioned such additions as an enlargement of the student center, a new girls' dormitory, new science building, and several others. Plans are being completed and construction will start in the near future.

The sky is the limit for VSC, a graduate school or two or three, is now more than a dream, thanks to such devoted people as the Foundation represents. In the next few years enormous changes will be made at this school. It is the hope of Mr. Langdale that this progress will continue unchecked until satisfaction is achieved.

Rebels Defeat Vikings

In a game especially close to the hearts of the Rebels who had only two weeks before lost to Jerry by two points, the boys went on to sweep over the visitors by a 98-87 score.

By Robert Maxwell

In a game especially close to the hearts of the Rebels who had only two weeks before lost to Jerry by two points, the boys went on to sweep over the visitors by a 98-87 score. They set a new VSC one game scoring record, set at 113 three years ago by the Rebels against the College of Charleston.

The rampaging Rebels also avenged a 65-67 licking suffered three weeks before at the hands of the Braves of Carrollton.

The Rebels hit 52 of 89 shots from the floor for an average of 58.4% to 43.5 for the West College team, plus leading in rebounds with 53-31.

This game was one of the few in which all the team got to play, with the second team seeing action for six minutes before the end, and scored 21 more points. At various points in the game the reserves were allowed to play, and four of them scored in the double figures, adding mightily to the monstrous score which shined on the computer, and the crowd had their part in it shouting for the Rebels to go to a hundred. They obliged.

As a Senator, President Lyndon Johnson once described himself as "a free man, an American, a United States Senator and a Democrat—[in that order]." The President said this self-assessment in a Reader's Digest article reprinted in the January issue of the magazine. He went on to say of his political beliefs, "our political philosophies, I have found, are the sum of our life's experiences. God made no man so simple or his life so sterile that such experience can be summarized in an adjective."

Heart disease does not attack suddenly but develops slowly over many years, the January Reader's Digest reports. Autopsies performed on youthful American soldiers killed in the Korean war revealed early stages of the disease in an astonishingly high number.

CLASS MENAGERIE

By FAYE DAVIS

"The play's the thing." Do you need any proof of this? Just ask Cindy Sessions, an attractive sophomore who plays Laura in Tennessee Williams' "Class Menagerie." The Glass Menagerie is to be presented by the VSC Speech Department beginning on March 6, 7, and 8. In an interview, Cindy's own words of enthusiasm summed up the feelings of the entire cast.

"There are only four members of the cast. Gale Thomas plays Amanda, the mother who is trying to push her daughter into the society world. Joel Boatwright is the narrator and the older brother of Laura. Dr. Owens is the gentleman call. I play Laura."

"What kind of girl is Laura? She's very shy. She lives in a world of glass animals, but they are real to her. Her mother wants Laura to date, but she is too self-conscious of her limp. The climax of the play comes when a gentleman calls on Laura."

"None of the characters are realistic—they are all trying to be something they are not. Laura has such speaking lines that I have to play her from the inner, emotional aspect, not from the outer interpretation. Sometimes, I feel as if all of this is because of the emotion I have to build up."

Anyway I would have liked to have been there.

THE SOCIETY DEPARTMENT

Prisoner Study Draws Attention

The Sociology Department at VSC recently released a report on Research Study in Prisoner Rehabilitation. The completion of this report marks a significant step for the Georgia Prison System.

This is the first time in Georgia State Board of Corrections that a project of this magnitude has been conducted. The board permitted to extend research within a prison community on a limited scale for a period of time. It is also the first time that under-graduate students have been used exclusively in a significant research project.

The study of prisoner rehabilitation began in 1963 when the Lowndes-Chatham Prison Division was selected to participate in the Georgia State Board of Corrections to conduct this pilot project. Subsequently, professors L. A. Raulerson and A. J. Riedel of the Valdosta State College of Education were contacted to aid in establishing an experimental guidance and counseling program. All the offender Rehabilitation Sociologists were selected through the use of the students who assisted in preparation are Jane Garwood, Adeline Vest, and Tom Wilkinson. Six other students were listed in the report contributors.

The objective of the program was to provide a group of male prisoners an opportunity to learn and practice through counseling, educational testing, and education. The program was conducted under the supervision of Ward, D. J. Devane of the Lowndes-Troupville Prison Branch, Professor A. J. Riedel of the VSC Sociology Department, and for a limited time, Professor L. A. Raulerson who was Director of Testing and Guidance at VSC when the study was begun.

Copies of the report have been distributed to the Georgia State Board of Corrections. Copies have also been mailed to request of interested Sociological and Counseling workers across the country.

It is hoped that this study will provide valuable feedback to prison rehabilitation and that others in Georgia and in other states will profit from this effort by the VSC Sociology Department.

Dr. J. A. Durrenberger is Chairman of the Department of Sociology at Valdosta State.

CIRCLE K ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

During the regular meeting of February 18th Jo Bryan was elected to the presidency of the Valdosta State Circle K club. Miss Bryan, a freshman, succeeds Nancy Shipman as the favorite girl for the boys.

Also during the meeting on the eleventh the club was honored with the presence of Walter Harrison, president of the Valdosta Kiwanis Club. At the last meeting Jimmie Copeland spoke to the members. The Circle K's all seemed to have sprouted freckles for the occasion, and before the meeting was over the twenty members presented quite a variety of talent ranging from a rousing medley of humorous monologues; from baton twirling to the group's song, "Happiness," and a wide selection of songs.

Jo Hodgens, the winner in the girls' division, sing folk songs and accompanied herself on the ukulele. She sang "House of the Rising Sun" and a song she wrote. 'The boys' winner, Mike Jarvis, presented a self-composed fifth comedy routine, "What It Was, Was Football," and delighted the audience with his antics. The winners in the Group Division were Jack Murray and Jack Murray who sang a duet, "I'll Grow Old Too."

TEMPLE REVIEW

Wednesday night, February 21, members of the VSC in Great Britain, a literary society, held their annual dinner and dance at VSC. The entertainment included a modern day Dogpatch routine developed and performed by the Temple Review. All seemed to have sprayed freckles for the occasion, and before the meeting was over the twenty members presented quite a variety of talent ranging from a rousing medley of humorous monologues; from baton twirling to the group's song, "Happiness," and a wide selection of songs.

Jo Hodgens, the winner in the girls' division, sang folk songs and accompanied herself on the ukulele. She sang "House of the Rising Sun" and a song she wrote. 'The boys' winner, Mike Jarvis, presented a self-composed fifth comedy routine, "What It Was, Was Football," and delighted the audience with his antics. The winners in the Group Division were Jack Murray and Jack Murray who sang a duet, "I'll Grow Old Too."

In keeping with the Dogpatch theme, the girls' songs were sung by the Circle K, and the audience in their tour through Dogpatch, interpreted them, but the theatre and acting were incomparable. No matter what, all of us don't mind. I was dancing the night away, yet I should perform the performance. I wonder which song will be interpreted at the performance? We've just heard "Happiness.""
