Idea's Challenged

Chaplain Douglas Turley, head chaplain of Georgia State Mental Health Institute, visited our campus last week at Religious Student Activities. He spoke around the age old topics of race, war and sex and the chaplain introduced the students to different forms of thought and, for others, continued endless thought which have been long taken for granted.

To talk to my friend about the upcoming religious week, he said, I was not sure if I replied, "sex, war and race." He exclaimed with glee, "Chaplain Turley has gone outside his comfort zone."

SGA Approves
The Independent Social Society was approved by a 14-2 vote Tuesday, January 18. You may remember that it was thwarted by a group of student s alke said that they did not want to have to go to a dance with them around the campus.

As a result of this hearing, the dormitories were returned to the students the scenes of their activities. Campus ministers and student leaders alike said that the group discussion were a tremendous success. In these discussions at the Student Government, all were continued.

Righteous Brothers
To Appear April 29
The SGA has voted to sponsor a concert by The Righteous Brothers at the Smith Gymnasium on April 29. The concert will feature a three-phase, state-wide movement.

To COUNTERACT VIET OBJECTORS

GOVERNOR, SENATORS

Advisory Group on Viet Nam
The purpose of this group, recently initiated at Emory University in Atlanta, is to show once and for all, the support of our nation's commitment to Viet Nam. This goal is being achieved by a three-phase, statewide movement.

RUSK SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY

The first step will be to take a comprehensive look at the residents of Georgia regarding their opinions of the U.S. commitment in Viet Nam. On Feb. 14, a massive assembly will be held at Emory University, where the results of the statewide poll will be presented to the audience. The Assembly will be sponsored by the SGA, SGA, and the SGA's Representative on the Governor's Council.

The second phase will involve a civic group on the history of Viet Nam. The enrollment of untalented fingers on the keys of a keyboard will be increased by the cause of the majority of those who consider the United States' involvement in the war to be an undeniable and irrevocable one.

The opinions of the minority cannot be obscured by the voice of the minoritv. This minority has a right to be heard and, indeed, should and must be heard. However, there rests with the majority the task of making known to the world that our nation's commitment is supported by her people and will be fulfilled. This task can no longer be ignored.

Fellow students, if this is heaven, on the night of Jan. 12, this reporter had the most horrid dream I have ever had. I believe, if my recollection of hell were accurate, my experience must have been heaven was at Mathis Auditorium. The General's Georgia Tech, Georgia State, Agnes Scott, Spelman, and Oglethorpe student bodies.

The chairman of the program is Jeter M. Jones, Jr., a 24-year-old business administration major at Emory University.

Although the organization consists entirely of college and high school students, it has received strong support from the Governor's Council, business, and the press.

Would You Fight To Switch
By JIMMY WOMACK
In Mark Twain's book, Letters From Earth, he is describing how much untalented men expect to die and immediately, at the metaphysical transfiguration of their spirit, harp celestial and singing. He said: "Can you imagine the deepening sound coming from those millions of unlearned voices, and can you conceive of the gliding of the soul coming from those millions of untalented fingers on the keys of a keyboard?"

Demonstrating: The American Way

By TROY HOLLOWAY

Baseball at one time was considered the most important American sport that a person could possibly participate in as a citizen, but today, due in large part to our recent cultural achievements, it is no longer our number one pastime. The American pastime of today is Demonstrating. Yes, Demonstrating. Demonstrating for certain radical ideas or against such ideas. You can dress up in white sheets or walk around with nothing on carrying a sign which reads in big letters "DOWN WITH CLOTHES." You can lay in the middle of the sidewalk or you can stand in the middle of a train station. Some of our dear "robohats" have even burned themselves to death. This too, can be very effective, especially for very important offenses such as the sale of too much clean furniture.

It's American to Demonstrate. According to the National Extremist, a magazine for demonstrators, the most American thing you can do today is to participate in a demonstration, and if you don't, you're just not with it. I'm sure most of us have participated in a demonstration at one time or another against our favorite grievance, but for those unfortunates few who haven't I'm going to give you an insight into three of the classic fundamentals of demonstrating. They are as follows: Formation of the demonstration, Organization of the demonstration, and most important of all, Procedure of the demonstration.

Formation of Demonstrators

Berkeley instructs Demonstrators

In the formation of a demonstration you should first contact Berkeley, Calif. This is the capital city for all extremists in our fine demonstrating America. You may contact almost any professor in California and he will be more than happy to give you much needed information on how to start a demonstration. He will probably write back and find out about all the problems that are pressing in your community. These professors will be very happy to send you a few extremists from California who are indeed qualified to protest almost any of your local problems. Next you must visit all the colleges in your community and more than likely you will meet many extremists who will be of a great help to you in carrying out your demonstration.

Make Loud Signs

You must form a committee to make signs for your demonstration. Without the signs the public wouldn't know what you are demonstrating for. These signs don't have to be artistic, but they must get the point over. Pictures are often used to get the public's attention. Loud signs can be seen by the people that are hanging out of windows or standing on top of buildings. It is important that these people read the signs because they are usually responsible for all the objects that are thrown into such a turmoil that it probably will make it into a much bigger success. This also keeps the demonstration from becoming dull; something different happening all of the time.

Leader Must Be Seen

When you organize the demonstration you must have a leader and since you are the one that is forming the demonstration you should be the leader. You may signify the fact that you are the leader by wearing a red sweatshirt with the word "Leader" on it or by carrying a sign with "LEADER" in big bold letters.

Next you must form different committees for every area of concern. These committees will be to make up of people who are well-educated in the field of demonstrating. You should put your chief in charge of each committee. These people should be specialized in a certain field of demonstrating.

Warriors Influence Community

In order to carry out your demonstration you must have "warriors" (better known as "S.S. Troops"). They are responsible for all the brain washing. They must go out into the community and try to get the point over. Troops are also very important. They are the elderly people in your demonstration. They may run into a policeman and fall down on the ground, they may turn the demonstration into a violent fight. A great many of them will not know what you are demonstrating for.

Chants will help to raise the morale of your group and display your bravery. There is usually a fight between the ones demonstrating for the mighty cause (that is your group) and the citizens of the area demonstrating against your demonstration. Be sure to chant loud and vigorous about this. It always feels good for you and displays your bravery. There is usually a fight between the ones demonstrating for the mighty cause (that is your group) and the citizens of the area demonstrating against your demonstration. Be sure to chant loud and vigorous about this. It always feels good for you and displays your bravery.

Meet On Main Street

The final step is the publication. You must have a place in which your group may meet. Coffee houses, parks, or if you are in the sporting mood you may meet in the middle of the main street in town. City Hall is the preferred meeting place.

"Jail? Don't Worry"

Again the police and State troopers will break this up after a violent fight. A great many of them will not know what you are demonstrating for.

Drop VSC To First Place Tie In GIAC

The Shorter College Hawks blemished a perfect conference record at Rome last Saturday in edging the Valdosta State College Rebels 62-60. The win upped the Hawks record to 22 while it dropped VSC into a first-place tie with Berry and LaGrange, all owning identical 3-1 records.

It was a disastrous night for the Rebels at the foul line as they managed only 10 of 10 atttempts. Shorter, on the other hand, racked up 20 of their 22 charity tosses.

Scoring leader for the game was VSC's Bobby Ritch who managed 18 points followed by Gwend­ MCMC with 12. Earl Driggers paced the Hawks with 17 point effort while Rainey and Joe Kingery had 13, and David Simpson garnered 11.

EVERY WEDNESDAY

5 P.M. TO 9 P.M.
The Valdosta State College Rebels snatched their first GIAC victory with a hard-fought 78-73 win over Shorter College Hawks. A fierce defensive struggle was in doubt until the final minutes, and had the crowded gymnasium on its feet.

Leading the scorers was VSC’s Bobby Ritch who turned in a 21 point performance. He was followed by Gwendell McSwain with 10, Mike Terry with 9, and Tommy Johnson with 7. High scorers for the Hawks were Jim Chastain with 15 points, and Earl Driggers with 12.

Valdosta owned a 35 to 23 advantage in rebounds with McSwain grabbing 9, Ritch grabbing 7, and Paul Weilmann and Mike Terry each pulling in 6. For Shorter, Earl Driggers led with the game, and teammate Chastain had 8.

PIEDMONT FALLS

Close upon the heels of their conference opener, the Rebels took on Piedmont College of Demotte to win their second GIAC encounter. The score was a désastreux 100-83 for the Rebs.

An air-tight defense and a precisely balanced attack proved to be an overwhelming advantage. Valdosta placed no less than six men in the double figures column. Leading the scorers were VSC’s Ben Bates and Bobby Ritch who both garnered 16 points. Paul Weilmann chalked up 14 markers, Mike Terry had 12, and Leton Plant grabbed 10 points. Scoring leaders for Piedmont were Bud Carrol with 15 points and Tim Sanders with 10.

The Rebels pulled in 67 rebounds to far outpace hapless Piedmont who managed to grab 17.

VIKINGS SUFFER

Next on the list of conference foes to taste defeat was Berry College of Rome. The Vikings were undefeated in league play and had put on one of their strongest showings in years. VSC wrested the lead from them in a 55-42 win.

Bobby Hitch jumped to a quick lead but the Rebels hardly overcame the deficit and were never headed after that. The Vikings closed to four points late in the game but VSC sharpshooting widened the gap to a 13 point winning margin. VSC’s Bobby Ritch paced the winners with a 21 point performance and grabbed 16 rebounds to lead in that department. He was followed by Mike Terry who scored 13 points and Leton Plant with 8. Gwendell McSwain and Mike Terry each pulled in 6. For the Rebs. High point man for Berry was Doug Price with 15 points while Bobby Brannon snatched 12 rebounds.

Growth For VSC; South Ga.’s Only Senior College

By GRAY COOK

On Dec. 6, 1965, members of the House University System headed by Rep. Chappelle Matthews of Athens were inspecting the VSC campus for a possible 10,000 students in the next ten years if the facilities were made available.

Valdosta State College is fast becoming another Florida State University. This is very possible because the school is the only senior college in South Georgia. Because of this fact, VSC is losing its students to FSU or the University of Florida.

The problem is finding enough space to put all these students. But a new campus is needed. This is caused by the demand for students.

Valdosta is a 1,000 in the near future. Plans have already been made for a graduate school of 7,000 students.

Parking Problems

(ACT)—A University of Iowa graduate student had parking problems. He drives a motorcycle.

“It’s not a bike so it can’t be parked in bike racks,” he said. “It could be parked with cars but I can’t get a sticker.”

Finally, he figured out a way: “I drove it in the back ramp of the chemistry building—I work there—and took it up the elevator. Then walked it to my lab... Here I parked it next to my lab bench. It’s tiny, and doesn’t hurt anyone...” But by 3:05—that’s what it says on my ticket—I got hit.

The offense? There were four: “No sticker, no parking zone, parked against traffic, and not within the lines.”

masses. The sound drove them. The dances were not sick, beyond comparison. People listened slightly, they left ear and went away mad. The students have no right to be upset, disgusted, angry or otherwise. This music is what they want and they got it square in the face. I ask the students is that what you want to continue? Are you going to continue to challenge the Student Government Association to subject this can be done in this type of entertainment.

When asking several friends their opinion of the signers they cursed; when I ask their opinion of the dancers they asked then their opinion on the value of the show they laughed.

The Student Government did an excellent job on this show. People from South Georgia, Valdosta, ABAC and small towns and cities from around about attend. It is thought that groups of officers and representatives are to be commended for doing an excellent job. The show made a $20 profit. This would be remittable. To the SAO we give sincere congratulations. Good work and good luck. A job well done. The SGA and the council. The VSC students.

To the students I say well done. The SAO group that did well know what the limits are. They are to do as they will. Don't complain if you aren't going to fulfill your obligation. I'm sure that my opinions expressed, the things given the ideas contributed would be highly appreciated by the SGA. Students, would you rather fight than switch or had you rather fight to switch?
Everybody Loves A Parade

Homcoming should reflect the spirit and personality of VSC as a school. Unfortunately, students are getting more and more indifferent towards homecoming, especially when it comes to floats for the parade.

Instead of being the focal point of their participation, many students are doing the bare minimum, showing up without a great deal of enthusiasm. However, students who do participate are doing something positive for the school, as well as themselves.

Students who participate in homecoming can benefit in several ways. Firstly, it is an opportunity to express their school spirit and pride. Secondly, it is an opportunity to build team spirit and camaraderie among classmates.

In conclusion, students should be encouraged to participate in homecoming activities, as it is an opportunity to show school spirit and build a sense of community. By doing so, students can help create a positive atmosphere on campus and contribute to the overall success of homecoming.
What Strikes Fear In The Hearts Of VSC Students

By Lyn Blanton

Two words strike fear in the hearts of all Valdosta State students. It's not exams, which are mild in comparison. It's not math classes, which can be gotten used to in time. It's not 8:00 classes, which can be laughed off in comparison to this Dreaded Day.

It's Registration Day, commonly known as R-Day. R-Day can make great big basketball players shudder in terror. Even fans who had no intention of coming to Valdosta musters up the courage to attend the morning classes. Even these fans are apprehensive about the long lines of students who race menacingly toward the quaking instructors who brace themselves for the onslaught, protected only by a frail table and their reputations.

Loud are the cries as students find out that all their chosen subjects have been closed out and they must choose among math 300, physics 250 and advance library paper writing.

And outside, the long-suffering "C" and "D"sIBM card holders await their turn to squeeze through the gym door.

After the "Pick Three Subject Marathon" is over, the 500 yard walk-run to the Ad building begins. There the "Exchange Your Cards" game begins with the nice woman asking, "Are you sure you don't have a car on campus this quarter?" After that comes the fast sprint downtown where, after reaching the last of 23 lines that day, the student hears these famous words, "Come back at two. We're closing for lunch now!"

After it's all over, students make their way painfully back to the dorms to rest. Loud and long weeping can be heard on campus. It's not mild in comparison. It's not something that can be gotten used to in time. It's not an easy thing to laugh off. It's not truly "B's" thundering toward them, their eyes glazed from having been in line at the gym doors. It's not sun-up, their hands tightly grasping mutilated IBM cards, and their feet great with swollen bruises. The thundering lines race menacingly toward the quaking instructors who brace themselves for the onslaught, protected only by a frail table and their reputations.

It's not students sun-up, their hands tightly grasping mutilated IBM cards, and their feet great with swollen bruises. The thundering lines race menacingly toward the quaking instructors who brace themselves for the onslaught, protected only by a frail table and their reputations.

Computers Used In Parking Problem

Every school is having its parking problem. University is no different. The students officials feel the problem is so grave, in fact, that they have computerized it.

Officials say the new system will allow the business office to compute within 24 hours a list of parking offenders. Disciplinary letters will be prepared automatically by the data processing system and will be mailed to an offender within 24 hours.

According to the parking and traffic regulation office, "Any student who receives three or more parking violation tickets during a school year will receive the following disciplinary actions."

"Three violation tickets — a warning letter."

"Four violation tickets — a 30-day suspension of parking privileges on campus property."

"Five violation tickets — dismissal from the university."

Selection will be made for a traveling show to visit high schools in the South Georgia area.

The next are show will be in February when two members of the VSC art faculty, Mrs. Harold Bennett and Mrs. Harry Anderson, will exhibit their work of this past summer. Mrs. Bennett's work is in graphics in which she used experimental media, such as wood blocks, metal plates, and direct transfers from nature (leaves, roots, branches) combined with colored paper pieces. Mrs. Anderson's work is in ceramics, particularly glazed and unglazed earthenware. She employed some experimental decorative treatment with wax resist and applied relief.

Director DeHart Sports Beard For Shakespeare Roles

By LYNN BLANTON

Contrary to the former belief of this reporter, Valdosta State's speech instructor Stan DeHart does not own a long, white beard or a motorcycle, or a trumpet. After hearing many interesting tales about DeHart and his teaching techniques, it was a disappointment to hear the dramatist say he 'never did anything exciting.'

"I did live in Greenwich Village for six months," said DeHart. He lived in the Village while studying acting at a studio in New York.

If you have not had DeHart's speech class, you might wonder about his black Macavellian beard. He explained that in February or March he is to appear on closed circuit television in Miami. He is to do two Shakespearean plays. Hotspur from 'Henry IV' and Romeo from 'Romeo and Juliet.' According to DeHart, the students did all the work, even filming the play.

While he was teaching Theater Appreciation at a high school class at FSU, the class wrote, directed, produced, and starred in their own movie 'The Serpent's Tooth.' According to DeHart, the students all did the work, even filming the play.

DeHart said, "Students complain about seeing the same cast every time on the FSU stage, but they won't come and try out. The plays aren't first for speech majors. They are for people who have never been in a play before but would like to. If they would come, we can teach them how to act."

In DeHart's speech 105 classes, many unorthodox things have been known to happen. During one session, students were instructed to distract the speaker in any way they could. Some wore hats, as the class, students led cheers and marches, and DeHart himself used a canapé to fire at the students. DeHart is also coach of the Jaybirds, the VSC debating team.
