Let Them Be Apathetic And Have Your Fun

The extreme apathy of this student body has been expressed by the lack of students willing to run for SGA offices for next year. It is hard to say what caused the utter lack of concern among the student body for serving on the SGA. Some students who did not have the grade qualifications had to be eliminated from running for an office. This apathy has been taken to such extremes that there is a possibility VSC will not have a Student Government Association next year.

No student really wants this to happen. Perhaps now that students have been made aware of how bad the problem is, they will respond by taking a second thought and begin participating in the student campus activities.

The SGA has expressed concern for the apathy of the VSC student body, as have SGA's for the past several years. What it wants to do is get rid of all this apathy, preferably overnight, and have a really enthusiastic student body to inspire the SGA to do really great things.

Frankly, I don't think anybody really and truly is in favor of apathy. It's just one of those intangible problems that we would like to solve by magic, but can't. Since it can't be simply solved, I'd like to offer a positive solution to the handling of an Apathetic Student Body (ASB).

We must look at the advantages of having an ASB: at VSC the student body does not riot, demonstrate, or protest violently against local state, national or international issues. This gives a clear atmosphere for academic pursuit. When an organization tries to do something to cure the ASB, for instance sponsor a dance or try to stir up school spirit, it has a 50-50 chance of either succeeding or failing. If it succeeds it comes out smelling like a bed of roses. If the attempt should fail, nobody will do anything about it but talk.

So, why don't we operate realistically and get rid of these delusions of grandeur. Admit that VSC has an ASB and go from there. Without trying to reform the school, each club should just go its merry way and do what it pleases. Since the student body doesn't seem to want to be energetic and non-apatetic, don't force it. Each organization should do things to please itself and let the chips fall where they may.

If students respond and get rid of their apathy, well and good. If students fail to respond, then it's par for the course and no harm done. But when the ASB sees all the fun things going on just for the sake of fun without any reformatory measures read into them, chances are the initiative of the active groups will rub off on it and apathy will be done away with naturally.

Opinions Vary Concerning College Newspaper's Function, Allegiance

Varying, vague concepts, concerning the allegiance and function of the Campus Canopy in relation to the college community, were aired in a recent open Student Government meeting. The conflicting, often erroneous, opinions expressed have indicated that a clarification of the Canopy's position is in order.

A college newspaper has as its primary objective, the responsible, unbiased and accurate coverage of news for the entire campus community. As a newspaper reporting college affairs, the Canopy, while it must make certain adaptations—accepting certain limitations and also enjoying certain freedoms not accorded community papers, is still a legitimate news media. It must also be recognized that the newspaper is, and must of necessity remain, an independent communication medium, not merely an extension of, or promotion publication for any particular organization or interest group on campus.

While the paper is responsible to both the students and administration, it owes its allegiance to a certain journalistic code which must be observed even at the risk of criticism. The Canopy does not publish news arbitrarily but presents it impartially, according to its merit. Otherwise, the Campus Canopy would have no justification for its publication. The Canopy is not a club in either the fraternal or physical sense of the word, dictating campus policy.

Any interpretation of evaluation of the news is limited to personal columns or by-lined articles. While it is not journalistically correct to offer opinions in the news articles, it is perfectly legitimate to comment on news in editorials. However, each reporter is obligated to exercise good judgment in his writing and offer opinions in editorials conscientiously formulated and if necessary offer constructive criticism. Admittedly, the Canopy does make mistakes, being understaffed and having no department of journalism is a definite drawback at times. However, the paper attempts to serve to the student body as efficiently as possible as the campus news medium.

Letters To The Editor

It is the policy of the CAMPUS CANOPY to print every letter it receives. Obscene and anonymous letters will not be printed. Names are withheld upon request.

Dear Miss Powell,

I am writing this letter concerning the Campus Canopy coverage of Homecoming. I think the homecoming coverage could have been more comprehensive.

There was only one picture of the homecoming in the Canopy. I think at least the winners of the awards should have been pictured. Many people worked hard on the displays and I think the winners should have been pictured in the campus newspaper.

Many of the girls in the dorm, including myself, save a copy of every issue of the Canopy so that we may have something to remember at VSC. I think that pictures of someone in a tree and articles on Batman aren't as important as the homecoming and I think that more space could be used for coverage of campus activities such as Homecoming.

Sincerely,
Saundra White

Editor's Note: We of the Campus Canopy appreciate your interest in both the Canopy and campus activities. However, you must realize that this staff is limited in the work it can do.

Sometimes we feel that it is more important to put present or future news in the paper than to rehash past activities. As for homecoming photographs, we were unable to take more pictures that could be reproduced in the Canopy because of bad weather and inadequate equipment.

We feel that the Pine Cone covers such campus activities as homecoming sentimentally. We cover it as news.

Dear Editor:

I am writing this article to propose a change in the current SGA. The model is of a larger university where the SGA has been a hallmark of good student government. The proposed plan would have an Executive, Legislative and later a Judicial Branch.

This is why we need a change:

1. The revamping with modifications, is a workable plan.
2. The present SGA in the near future will not fit the needs of our rapidly growing college. The present SGA has 4 officers and 9 representatives. The proposed plan would have 35 members, all assigned specific tasks.
3. A more sophisticated SGA is a good step to a more sophisticated student body.
4. Better organization means more effective communication. A cabinet of Secretaries and a Legislative Council would allow this.

ETV On View Each Night In Room 33

Students may now view educational television in room 331 in the administration building. Mr. Van B. Darby, consultant for educational television, commented that Valdosta State College is the first in the system to make such arrangements. Channel eight may be watched from 6:30-10:30 each evening.

The educational television committee has asked department heads to appoint major students to represent their departments in order to create a more effective liaison between ETV, the faculty, and students. The ETV group plans to survey students and faculty to determine their knowledge of ETV and how ETV can be used more effectively.

Alpha Xi Delta Offers Scholarships To Women

Alpha Xi Delta, national social fraternity for college women, is again offering a graduate fellowship for advanced study in the field of Social Service, the grant to be $1,500.00. This annual award was first made in 1959. Alpha Xi Delta is continuing to offer this fellowship because it concurs with most Civic Authorities and Juvenile Court Officials that there is an increasing need for trained personnel to work with youngsters.

To be eligible for this fellowship award, an applicant must be a graduate of an accredited college or university, have an outstanding scholastic record and be interested in pursuing a career of working with children or youth to prevent delinquency in the United States.

Interested persons may obtain an application for this Fellowship at this time from Gail Pinkston, Converse 176, 242-9110. Completed applications should be sent to the National Philanthropy Chairman and postmarked no later than May 1, 1966.

April Brings Exciting Holidays To Celebrate

Anyone looking for an occasion to have a party may celebrate any number of noteworthy events for the month of April. On April 9 in 1845 the Great Wall of China was leased for billboards. Sunday, April 10, is Easter Sunday. On the eleventh of April in 1798, 15 barbers were shaved with a guilotine blade in Paris, France. April 12, 1579 B.C. the Phlyngian Sybil predicted the saxophone. If he had pursued his prediction, the pyramids instead of Basin Street might have given birth to Jazz.

Sociology Club Goes To Nassau

Seven students and two professors from the Sociology Club on a trip to Nassau composed the first out-of-the-country field trip ever sponsored by a VSC campus organization. The purpose of the trip was to study British culture.

The students were Jack Bridges, Neil Bell, Gail Fountain, Lewis Holtzendorff, Vickie Brown, Alex Stewart, and Gray Cook. Mr. Riedel of the sociology department and Miss Goggins of the Spanish department chaperoned the students.

The group drove to Miami last Friday and boarded the S. S. Bahama Star, the largest ship travelling from Miami to Nassau. They docked in Nassau Saturday morning and began their weekend tour.

On the Island several of the students took a surrey-ride tour, others rented bicycles, some rode in a limousine, and one student rented a Honda.

The students visited the straw market, Fort Charlotte, the water tower, the hospital, and several gardens. On Saturday afternoon they went on a shopping spree and had a new experience bargaining for prices. They took in the night clubs and toured the large hotel Saturday night before returning to the ship.

Sunday several of the students visited the underwater sea garden in a glass bottom boat.

Lack Of Interest

Peggy Herring and Nancy Turner have qualified for Ashley Hall representative and Bill Moore is running unopposed for new boys' dorm representative.

Representatives for the new, new boys' dorm, Hopper Hall, and Converse Hall are to be elected in the fall next year.

It was a great day April 13, 1312, when Onyx was dedicated in Kwoud, Congo. On April 14, 1195 in Brick, Armenia, Baron Firdge Huk freed the serfs from Sunday dinner. In 1948 on April 15, nautical history was made when "Flying Flossie" the first ship to be made of bottle caps was launched. Afghanistan Urban Tug found fossil bicycles on April 16, 1842. On April 17, 1742, Sir Lloyd Ski coined the word "and". President Bralch Orskovitch, who was a more enthusiastic decorator than politician, chose his cabinet on April 19, 1902, and decided upon Chippendale. April 19, 1162, King Arthur dented his shining armor when he bumped his leg on the corner of his round table.

Haglius, who always seemed to get in on the tail end of everything, objected to his seat in the Trojan Horse on April 20, 2879 B.C. On April 21, 1829, Percy Bysse Klips wrote his famous poem "Ode to Me."

Yort, Companions Struggle Back Home, Decide To Investigate Cafeteria Food

PART II

Weekend: College Style

As you remember in the last episode we left Yort Wayolloh in a liquified state of animation at Big Bertha's. Even though the odds were against his survival, Yort managed to overcome his temporary state with the aid of his comrades. With a great amount of vigor, his crusaders were able to maneuver their way outside and deposit his body in the car.

With a lack of dignity and honor our solemn procession departed from the promised land for the confines of home life. After what seemed like many moons to some, but in reality only a few hours, our valiant crusaders sighted in the near distance our gracious home, Valdosta State College, otherwise known as Coymac Enterprises.

After entering his plush group apartment house, as yet unnamed, and talking to the shower pole for a brief time, Yort retired to his suite in order to catch an hour's sleep before the sun swept over the moss draped pines of VSC. Soon Yort awakened and made his wade across the campus (it is the monsoon season) and staggered into the mess hall.

Because of the overcrowded conditions, it is necessitated that Yort wait in line with the other two people assembled in the cafeteria. When his turn comes, he receives his usual portion, which consists of fried grease, scribbled meat, only one milk or tea, melted ice cream. Upon glancing at this conglomeration, Yort feels a sudden rising in the upper section of his body which prompts him to haul his posterior section outside as not to add another sediment to the floor.

Seeing that others had joined him he decided he should conduct a thorough investigation into the food situation which has existed for an infinite length of time at VSC. After much consultation, Yort finds that 99 per cent of the students will be receiving anti-poverty checks due to the fact that the dining hall has been officially declared a disaster area.

Upon further investigation Yort learns that Shoney's has received word to expand their facilities in order to accommodate 100 people nightly. Strangely enough, this figure just happens to coincide with the number of students holding dining hall cards.

From this Yort draws the conclusion that there is something rotten in the dining hall. After carrying the investigation this far Yort becomes thoroughly disgusted with the situation and in order to relieve his tensions and trim his antlers, he finds it necessary to call his girl for a date late that night.

Upon leaving for his date Yort's roommate leaves him with this final phrase, "Don't get any on you," thus ending another exciting episode in the weekend life of Yort Wayolloh. Be sure to read the next episode and find out if Yort really does get it all over him.

Lack Of Student Interest May Cause Student Government To Be Eliminated

There is a possibility that VSC will not have an SGA next year if students do not respond to the petition deadline extension and qualify to run for 1966-67 SGA offices, announced Dean of Students Louie Sosebec.

When the petition deadline closed Wednesday no one had qualified to run for SGA president, Reade Hall representative, or senior boys' representative. Since Wednesday, Bill Wright has turned in his petition for president, Alice Scott has qualified for Reade Hall representative, and the senior boys' slot is still open.

"I don't know what caused the lack of concern among the students," said Sosebec. "I can't understand why the students with 'C' averages and less want to run and the 'A' and 'B' students don't seem to care about serving on the SGA."

The SGA voted to extend the petition deadline until 5 p.m. Monday in hopes that more students would enter the SGA race. Besides having to get students to run for the unfilled offices, the SGA has to nominate one opponent for each candidate running unopposed.

Gail Hutchinson is running for vice-president, and Joanie Cavan is running for secretary. Carol Alford and Jimmy Womack are contesting the treasurer's seat. The boys' town representative seat is being sought by Bryan Almond and Larry Adams, while the girls' town slot is being sought by Kay Koch, Jan Jenkins, and Jane Mixer.

Pember Exhibits Paintings At Georgia Artists' Show

Joe Pember, chairman of the VSC art department, is currently participating in the Members Show of the Association of Georgia Artists being held at Georgia State College beginning today and continuing through April 25. Pember is showing works of landscape studies painted in oil. The subjects are taken from his home in Lowndes County.

At the Arts Festival, to be held at Georgia Southwestern College in Americus, April 15-17, five VSC students will be exhibiting works ranging from still life to industrial illustrations with wide variations of approach. These VSC art students who will participate in the Arts Festival are Roger Ramplly, Ann Carroll, Price Strong, Judith Lester, and Brenda Clay.

Pember has been invited by Dr. O. C. Aderhold, president of the University of Georgia, to serve on the advisory committee for an arts program in Georgia. In 1965, Congress passed the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act. Governor Sanders has designated the University of Georgia as the State Agency to bear the responsibilities called for under the act. The first meeting of this advisory committee was held April 5 in Athens.

Election of SGA officers is to be held Wednesday, April 20, in the lobby of the ad building. Dorm representatives to the SGA will be voted on in the individual dormitories. Every student is eligible to vote for the top four SGA officers. All students but seniors vote for other SGA representatives.

Pine Branch To Come Out April Or May

Valdosta State's literary magazine, the Pine Branch, will come out in late April or early May. Literary publication used to take place in a special edition of the Canopy until two years ago when the publication of a separate magazine was begun as an outlet for the literary and artistic talents of VSC students.

According to Suzanne Evans, editor of the Pine Branch, three magazines were supposed to come out this year. But because of lack of funds only one issue is to be published.

Mrs. Lee Bennett's graphics class has already begun designing illustrations for the poems, short stories and other fiction which have been selected for publication. Students who wish to do art work for the magazine should contact either Earl Willis, the art editor, or Mrs. Bennett of the art department.

Students can still turn in short fiction pieces for publication. In the lobby of the ad building, there is a box in which students can place their work. Or they can attend the Creative Writing Club which meets every other Thursday. Helpful criticism will be given and received by students who want to read their work orally.

The petitions of students running for 1966-67 SGA offices have been turned in and an assembly program is to be held for the students to give campaign speeches.

Posters are to be placed around campus announcing when the assembly program will be held.

A meeting was held Monday night to orient candidates to the election requirements and procedures. Those current SGA members and candidates at the meeting were asked to offer constructive criticism on the operation and effectiveness of the SGA.

Bill Gable presented the idea that having a two party student division would improve interest in the SGA and encourage the organization to function more effectively.

Bob Grondahl suggested that the VSC Student Government Association should join a large organization of SGA's, publish a newsletter periodically, and completely revamp its organization (see Letters, page 2).

Seniors Capture Leads In Play

Graduating seniors, Cheryl Metts, Cindy Sessions, Jerry Dickson, and Robert Owens have captured the lead roles in the spring quarter production, "Bell, Book, and Candle."

The comedy is a modern play about a present-day witch, Gillian Holroyd, who falls in love with a publisher, Shepherd Henderson. The plot is thickened by Gillian's brother, Nicky Holroyd, and her aunt, Queenie Holroyd, and a writer on the subject of witchcraft, Sidney Redlitch.

The first weekend cast will be Gillian, Cheryl Metts; Shep, Bob Owens; Aunt Queenie, Sandra Belote.

Larry Hayslip will play as Nicky, and Glenn Sheppard as Redlitch on both weekends.

During the second weekend performances, Cindy Sessions, Gillian; Jerry Dickson, Shep; and Linda Meier, Aunt Queenie.

The play is being directed by Col. Wesley Ren Christie, of the Speech Department, with Terry Carter as assistant director.

The play also requires a live cat as one of the props. This prop will be furnished by Dr. Duval of the chemistry department.

"The play is in the third week of rehearsal and we are keeping right on schedule," commented Col. Christie.

Form To Be Filled Out For Summer

Wednesday, April 13, students who plan to attend summer school will be asked to fill out a questionnaire telling which subjects they would like to take. If there is enough demand, new courses will be added to the summer session schedule.

Freshmen Lead With 54 Students On Dean's List

Freshmen lead academically with 54 students named to the dean's list. A total of 173 students, 104 women and 69 men, have been named to the dean's list at Valdosta State College, according to Dr. J. A. Durrenberger, academic dean.

In order to be included on the dean's list, junior college students are required to have a 3.3 average out of a possible 4, and senior college students must have a 3.5 average out of a possible 4.

Those named for the winter quarter and their home towns include:

Petitions Called Now For Editors

Petitions of students who would like to edit a campus publication should be turned in to Dr. Louie Sosebec's office by Friday, April 22. Editors and associate editors for the Campus Canopy, Pine Cone, Pine Branch, and V Book are to be named before May 1.

It is desired that the publications editors be seniors, but qualified underclassmen can be named to the offices. A committee composed of four students, the current publication editors, advisors, and other faculty members name the editors and business manager for each publication.

The editor of the V Book should be a student who will be in Valdosta during the summer.
