Dr. Swalter, president of Valdosta State, has announced a number of changes in the academic curriculum of the college. "These changes will be effective as of April 1," said Dr. Swalter. By popular demand, Swalter announces an unlimited-cuts policy on class attendance. According to him, this is due to "the large amount of controversy on campus caused by the fall ruling on class cuts, which required students to attend classes. This controversy has gotten out of hand," he said.

"Besides," he pointed out, "police patrolling the campus looks bad to visitors at VSC and projects the wrong image of this lovely college."

Another change will be the innovation of the Pass-Fail grading system at VSC. "Actually," explained Dr. Swalter, "I caused the $40,000 IBM machine to break down while the grades for winter quarter were being processed, and it just didn't look right for the secretary to be picketing the Registrar's office."

This will simplify grading immensely.

As an added feature, a teacher evaluation program will begin this spring at Valdosta State. Students will be given an evaluation sheet mid-quarter and at the end of the quarter to rate professors. Categories of the evaluation include class attendance, punctuality, appearance and presentation of the material.

Keyhole Makes Movie Schedule For Sundays

Keyhole, an honorary society on campus for senior men, has scheduled a series of movies to keep students on campus, rather than having them go home to Morven, Barney, Quitman, Pavo, Manor, Argyle, and Bellville to watch Saturday Night at the Movies.

Clark Gable, president of the club, said that the movies will be shown on Sunday afternoons in the old student center. "The administration has donated a large 3' x 4' screen and a projector for these movies," Gable went on.

The movies that will be shown are as follows:

Sunday No. 1 — "Grapes of Wrath"
Sunday No. 2 — "Some Old Good Passionate Something"
Sunday No. 3 — "How Do You Succeed in Business With a College Degree?"
Sunday No. 4 — "Breakfast at Tante Shang"
The Movie that was scheduled for the fifth Sunday, "Gone With the Wind," was eliminated from the list by the Board of Censors, because it is "racy, suggestive, and prejudiced."

Gable advises all students to bring their own trash baskets, as the infirmary can cope with only a minimum number of cases.

Coed Gives Opinions On Current World Affairs

In this age of turmoil and discovery with the highly developed means of communication available, some knowledge of current events is almost inevitable, especially among college students who are so intensely interested in the world today.

To discover the extent of the world awareness of an average student on this campus, a typical coed Martha Fedder, a junior, was interviewed.

When asked how she felt about the possibility of war in Viet Nam, after being assured that the war was not still being fought, she ventured, "Well, I'm sure they're all fine, upstanding young men, after all, they even have Truman on Christmas and other religious holidays."

When asked about her stand on Civil Rights, Miss Fedder giggled, "I think the KKK rallies are kind of cute with all those mustaches and funny hats. Of course, she admitted, "it is rather dangerous to burn crosses in this dry weather we've had lately."

Questioned about the effect of the "God is Dead" controversy on the modern church, she replied that as she understood it, Altizer was protesting the current involvement of the clergy in pressing social reforms.

"I asked if she had any preference in the 1968 presidential election, she said, "No, not really, as long as he's a college graduate I can't see that it would make any difference."

Before another question could be posed, Miss Fedder excused herself saying she had an urgent study date at the Rebel Room.

"Have to keep up that average for Sigma Alpha Chi," she blushed and sped off to her next intellectual appointment.

Minutes Reveal Crucial Topics: Faculty Discusses Many Problems

In an effort to improve student-faculty communication, a resolution was passed last month to publish the minutes of the faculty meetings, edited in grammar, and to make them available to students at the library.

A three-week study of the last published minutes revealed some crucial topics of discussion. A detailed discussion on the proper procedure for interoffice memos evoked some pertinent observations from those present. Many professors expressed their concern over the illegibility of their colleagues' handwriting. A few professors rushed to the defense of illegibility in memos, saying it was a necessary precaution in case the memo fell into alien hands.

Professor Wiley Acumen pointed out that by the time a professor had to trace the sender of the memo to decipher it, the purpose of the memo was negated. However, the problem was never satisfactorily resolved and the discussion was terminated when Dr. M. T. Pokkets, comptroller, remanded the faculty of the &#39;59,009 spent in printing the memos.

Another burning issue discussed was the subject of air pollution from the smoke at faculty meetings. Among the faculty there were a sufficient number of those who would rather fight than switch to chewing gum. Ash trays clinked ominously as Dr. Tusper Lott, professor of physiology, gave a terse warning on the evils of smoking. At the end of his stirring talk the non-smokers all coughed in violent approval.

Then Mr. Winston Tiparelli, professor of agronomy, surrounded by a halo of smoke rings, expounded on the merits of organic farming and reminded the faculty that this is Marborough Country.

Tactfully ignoring a suggestion from the rear of the room that those who objected to smoke should avoid breathing, the president compromised in order to maintain health and harmony and said that in future meetings non-smokers would wear gas masks rented from Civil Defense and that faculty members who were lily-livered would sit on the opposite side of the room.

After restating the entire issue for those who had fallen asleep during the discussion, the president continued to the next order of business which was Miss Dina Eaton, the dietitian, to send over supper for the faculty.

The point of the next order of business remained somewhat vague even after detailed study of the remarks and myriad recapitulations on the subject by some of the faculty.

Just as a professor was raising a question about the current student riot, the meeting was dismissed by the president at 5:30 p.m.

"How to make your graduation ceremony memorable and the discussion was terminated when Dr. Illegibility in memos, saying it was dangerous to burn crosses in this dry weather we've had lately," said Dr. Gasser Lott, professor of agronomy, surmised that as he understood it, Aldizer was protesting the current involvement of the clergy in pressing social reforms.

Seniors Update Exercises Wear Minidresses, Madras

By a unanimous vote, the senior class of 1967 passed a resolution to update the outdated graduation exercises which will be held June 7 at 4:00 p.m.

Wll Wyong, leader of the Faculty Government Association, said that this year's graduation "will be the biggest and best blast that ever hit VSC."

Seniors will waive the traditional attire of caps and gowns for the ceremonies in lieu of silver sequined minidresses for the girls, and madras pants in tones of red, purple, and gold with paisley print shirts for the men.

The graduation ceremonies will be held at the Shang: "We picked this site because that's where most of the students are anyway," said Wrong. Bobby Baker was selected to be the speaker for graduation. His topic will be "How to make your first million in one year."

Baccalaureate exercises will be held the morning of the 7th. The commencement speaker will be the Reverend Malcolm Boyd, noted religious enthusiast.

Entertainment will be provided between the Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises. The Copperpone Review has been engaged to present two concerts on the 7th for students and parents.

Students Should Learn Important Facts About U.S. Culture For Travel Abroad

American college students are often accused of having a seri­ously limited knowledge of facts and figures about their native country. For students who are planning to visit foreign coun­tries anytime in the near future, here are a few basic facts and figures that will help give that American student do in­deed have a sound knowledge of important events in their na­tion's history.

In 1904 the Summer Olympic Games were held in St. Louis, Missouri, and the 2,500-meter Steeplechase was won by James Lightbody of the U.S. Also, in the same vein of thought, the American Welterweight Champion from 1892 to 1894 was "Mysterious" Billy Smith.

Statistics have shown that while 226,000 Americans got married in June of 1965, only 102,000 were married in January of that year, indicating that most Americans feel there are better ways to start off a new year than marriage.

Georgians traveling abroad should know that the geographic center of their state is located in Twiggs County, eighteen miles southeast of Macon. All Americans should be aware of some of the more historical holidays celebrated in the United States. For example, in Suffolk County, Massachusetts, March 17 is Evacuation Day, and in Arizona, February 14 is Admission Day, as well as Valentine's Day.

Other important holidays are Huay P. Long's birthday, August 30, usually celebrated only in Louisiana; Organic Act Day, ob­served in the Virgin Islands on June 22; Colorado Day on August 1, observed mainly in Colorado, and Christmas Day, gener­ally observed on December 25 throughout the entire United States.

The Fiofy Interviews Person;
Gets Astonishing Answers

The following interview was made by Paul Hempvalley, Fiofy staff member, with Lunar Peron, associate professor of History at VSC.

Q. Mr. Person, do you think you are qualified to answer some general questions concern­ing
the campus, state, national,
and international current events?
A. Yes, but just because I say something, that doesn't mean
I really mean it.

Q. Are you satisfied with the way VSC is being run, i.e.,
would you make any changes?
A. I have some definite feelings about that, but since I don't have my Ph.D., I had better not answer.

Q. Do you think the city of Valdosta is being governed too much by the ministerial alli­ance?
A. Ask me that question again
when I get my Ph.D.

Q. Do you think Lester Mat­ dox is being effective in his polcies concerning higher educa­tion?
A. I am not qualified to anter that question because I do not yet have my Ph.D.

Q. Do you think that President
Johnson is playing a decisive role in the Civil Rights Movement?
A. I don't think I should make any rash decisions on that before I get my Ph.D.

Q. How long do you think the Viet Nam war will last?
A. I shouldn't speculate before I get my Ph.D.

Q. As an incidental, what do you think about LSD?
A. I cannot judge on such subjects until I get my Ph.D.

Q. Would you like to become head of the History Department?
A. Yes.

Before Plays Lead Role Of Joan In Spring Play

Sandra Belefe has been named to play the part of Joan in the spring production of "Saint Joan." The role will be played by Belefe, who is a junior this year. The production will be held at the Student Union on April 19.

Library Gets Extra Books

Approximately 150 light and scholarly books have been received from the Library of Congress. The books include government documents, and have been given to the Library of Congress. The books are from various departments of the government and include books on Civil Rights, The Civil Rights Movement, and the movement of "Saint Joan." The basic question to be discussed is what should the church take on Civil Rights and the Civil Rights Movement. The cost of the library will be $27,800 per year and the library will be available to the public. The reservation fee must be in by April 1. Applications may be obtained from the English department or in the Wesley Foundation. According to Dean about 30 VSC students are already planning to go. VSC hopes to have the largest delegation ever in the Wesley Foundation Bus.

Conference Has Glasse Bond As Special Guest

Julian Bond, Representative to the Georgia Legislature, and James Glasso, Professor of Practical Theology, Vanderbilt University, will be the featured speakers at the university. The conference, April 7, at Camp Gladstone, Dahlonega, Ga., will feature the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee, and Glasse, strongly interested in social ethics, will speak both individually and in dialogue at the conference.

GDC Exhibits Art In Union

The Valdosta State art department is sponsoring an art exhibit, "The Georgia Designers Craftsman in Room 2 of the College Union. The exhibit will continue to be open from 9:30 a.m. and from 3-9 p.m. daily.

Included in the exhibit are several pieces of stoneware, porcelaneous, printed textile, wood, metals, clay and glass.

Applications Due For Staff Posts

Applications for managerial positions on the staff of the college publications, the Campus Canopy and the Wesley Players, are due by April 9.

Students here at Valdosta State College are beneficiaries of a "grant product give-away" by manufacturers of various brand-name products. The students are using this means to get their college to obtain as many additional students as possible. The gifts from Mr. Mobley, who is the College President, are being made available to college publications, the Campus Canopy, and the Wesley Players tour.

Dean Shortens Academic Week; Now Only Four Days In Week

Concerned by the sharp rise in nervous disorders due to academic stress among students, Dr. Swalater, the Dean of the College, has shortened the academic week to four days. Classes will run Monday through Thursday. The weekend will begin as early as the college is concerned, on Fantastic Friday, which is set to be confused with Wonderful Wednesday now celebrated by liberal Emory scholars. The weekend will extend through the weekend, so named because it heralds Morbid Monday.
