Drive Yields Books For Powell Library

Operation Book Drive, a project to increase the number of volumes in the Richard Powell Library at Valdosta State has now collected more than 2,000 books. Dr. Loyce Turner, Foundation board member in charge of Operation Book Drive, said that members of the group hope that this number multiplies many times before the program is complete.

At the present time, the VSC library has 60,000 volumes, but needs 200,000 to meet the needs of the increasing enrollment and the graduate studies starting this summer.

The books collected thus far have come from approximately 25 residents in and around the Valdosta area. Seven VSC students have been appointed to collect books from their hometowns. These students are: JoAnn Cason, Homerville; Gloria Gattis, Waycross; Charlie Howell, Lakeland; and Alice Kennington, Thomasville.

Others are, Susan McLaughlin, Moultrie; John Romine, Quitman; and Beth Taylor, Nashville.

Promises have been given for other book collections and home libraries to be contributed at a later date. The Wymodausis Club of Valdosta made a $25.23 cash donation toward the purchase of new books in Operation Book Drive.

In addition to books and cash, Operation Book Drive received a map collection from Dr. L. C. Holtzendorff, a dentist in Valdosta. This collection, consisting of 26 pieces, dates back to 1735. It is reported to be the second largest private collection of Georgia maps.

"With spring, there always comes a time for cleaning-out in the home, and we hope everyone will give thought to releasing books they aren't using to Operation Book Drive," said Dr. Turner. "This is a great opportunity to move out those books that are just collecting dust, and put them to good, active service."

House Opens For Students

Initiative, hard work, and determination has helped a small, new Valdosta State organization to earn a home. The Collegiate Christian Association at VSC will hold open house Sunday from 2-5 pm in their new $37,500 home at 1608 North Oak Street.

The organization, which is only a year old, hopes to establish areas for recreation, study, and a library. It is also hoped that they can establish a Bible chair at VSC to teach Bible for credit.

The home will be open for summer session, but activities will be limited. Primarily, the group will concentrate on furnishing the home, and it is hoped that they will have a director by fall quarter.

Valdosta Christian Student Center, 1608 N. Patterson, opens to students this summer. The center is operated by the Church of Christ.

'Flags' Offers Job Openings

Applications are being taken for the over 1,000 unfilled jobs at Six Flags Over Georgia which will open June 16. Applicants may apply to Six Flags Over Georgia in Atlanta. Interviews are held from 9:00 am - 5:00 pm Tuesday through Saturday at the Six Flags grounds.

Students will be paid $1.35 an hour for a 40-hour week. Because of the long working day and seven days a week operation, students could arrange work and summer study. Uniforms will be provided and meals may be bought at a discount.

Jobs as captains for the Jean Ribaut Riverboat Ride, the SIX FLAGS' R.R. conductors, attendants for the Astrolift, ticket sellers and collectors are available.

Organizations Form Christian Movement

Four campus organizations have joined together to form the Campus Christian Movement. The sponsors of the new organization are Canterbury (Episcopal), Newman (Roman Catholic), Wesley Foundation (Methodist), and Westminster Fellowship (Presbyterian).

"What this means is that all our activities will now be done ecumenically," said O. C. Dean, director of Wesley Foundation. "The focus will be on issues and action, rather than on denominational programs and religious interests of one particular group."

"Anything we do will be open to any student, no matter what religious label he happens to wear. A wide cross section of students will increase the depth of the CCM program," Dean stated.

The decision to form the CCM is the culmination of several weeks of consultation and many quarters of cooperative programming. The four sponsoring groups are all members of the University Christian Movement

Students, Alumni Plan Fall Graduate Studies

Several students and alumni will be attending graduate school this fall to work toward a higher degree. Dr. Connell of the biology department announced that Larry Russell Norman will attend the Medical College at the University of Georgia this fall. John Suber, a biology major, and Alfred N. Wah-nish, a history major and award winner, will attend the University of Louisville Dental School. Mrs. Velma Baxley, who was a graduate of VSC in 1962 and who is a special student here now, will attend the University of Georgia Medical College of Georgia Graduate School with emphasis on microbiology.

Several history students will attend law school, according to Dr. William Gabard, of the history department. Linda Fay McKay and Ronald Thomas will go to the law school at Mercer. John Guy will attend Florida State University. Clifton Patty will go to Emory and Ernest Yates will attend the University of Georgia.

Roger Roberts, a math major, has received a teacher assistantship at Florida State University where he will teach 5 hours and study 10 hours. In addition, he will be paid $300 a month.

Perhaps the most significant award was a NDEA-Title IV Fellowship for the doctoral program in history at the University of Georgia which was awarded to John D. Lancaster, a 1964 graduate of VSC. The three year fellowship is totally worth $12,000. At VSC John Lancaster won the history department award. He was a member of Sigma Alpha Chi and Alpha Chi, and he graduated with departmental and school honors. His over all average was 3.75, and he wrote a history of Moody AFB which he presented to the Secretary of the Army while at VSC. He also received offers from Northwestern, Tulane, Duke and the University of North Carolina.

A. H. Edens To Deliver Commencement Speech

Dr. William R. Cannon, Emory University, and Dr. Arthur Hollis Edens, formerly of Duke University, will speak at the graduation exercises slated for June 6 at 11:00 a.m.

Dr. William R. Cannon, Dean of the Candler School of Theology at Emory University, will speak at the Baccalaureate Service Sunday June 4, at 4:00 p.m.

Dr. Arthur Hollis Edens, former president of Duke University, will deliver the principal address at the commencement exercises to be held at the Mathis Municipal Auditorium, June 6 at 11 a.m.

A native of Willow Grove, Tenn., Dr. Edens was educated in the Clay County public schools of Tennessee. He attended Cumberland Mountain School (now Martin College), and received his B.Ph. and M.A. degrees from Emory University. He also holds the Master of Public Administration and the Ph.D. degrees from Harvard University.

Long recognized as one of the outstanding educators and administrators in the nation, Dr. Edens is the recipient of eight honorary degrees from Emory University, Davidson College, University of North Carolina, Wake Forest College, Roanoke College, American University, Northwestern, and the University of Chattanooga.

Dr. Edens holds membership in the Academy of Political Science; American Political Science Association; American Society for Public Administration; Phi Beta Kappa; Omicron Delta Kappa; Sigma Chi Century Club; and Rotary Club.

Club To Sing At Pound Hall

"Listen to the Lambs" by Dett and "As Torrents in Summer" by Elgar, two numbers beautifully rendered by the VSC chorus on Honors Day, will be included in the chorus' spring concert May 23 at 8:15 P.M. in Pound Hall.

Specially selected from chorus members, the Serenaders will also perform at the concert. Format of the concert is popular music and light classics.

Mr. Lavan Robinson, Associate Professor of Music, directs the chorus and the Serenaders. Mrs. Lavan Robinson will accompany the program.

Included in the Serenaders' selections are "Faraway Places" by Leyden, "Sunrise Sunset" from the New York Broadway play "Fiddler on the Roof," Hammerstein's "My Funny Valentine," "Ruben and Rachael" as arranged by Fred Waring, and "Inchworm" from the movie "Hans Christian Anderson."

In addition to the aforementioned numbers, the chorus will sing "Stardust" by Hoagy Carmichael, Grieg's "Land-sighting," and "What Shall We Do With the Drunken Sailor," an English sea chantey.

Pafford Announces Additions To Faculty

Dr. Ward Pafford, Dean of the College, has announced the addition of 35 to 40 new faculty members. He said a majority of the new people have been identified and will be coming, but that the college was not at liberty to publish their names pending final approval by the Board of Regents. There will be new faculty members in all departments including a professor of philosophy, the first at Valdosta State.

Dean Pafford said that the administration was "quite excited over the significant and impressive additions to the faculty; many have their doctorates." He disclosed the names of three new faculty members who have been approved by the Board of Regents. He said they are "examples of the type people we are getting here at VSC."

Dr. Donald L. Duncan, B.A., M.S., University of Missouri, the University of Florida; and since 1962, he has been at Georgia State. He has had extensive business experience including work with Union Carbide. He will become the new chairman of the (Continued on Page 4)

Baptists Meet At Ridgecrest

Ministry is the theme for the 1967 student conference at Ridgecrest, North Carolina. The conference is an annual event which is attended by many Baptist students from the eastern states.

The conference begins June 8, and lasts one week. Bible study, lectures, and discussions will be emphasized at the meeting.

Charles Boddie, president American Baptist Seminary, Nashville, and Duke McCall, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, will be main speakers for the occasion.

Pills Pose Threat To Students; Misuse Dangerous To Health

As final exams close in upon the students at VSC, many will resort to staying awake 24 hours a day. As pressure becomes greater and greater, students have to find something to keep them awake. The recent incident of a VSC student selling "pep pills" on campus has become a cause for concern among school officials. Students often fail to realize that these amphetamines (benzedrine or dexedrene), commonly called "pep pills," are potentially dangerous if taken without a prescription. Dr. George Young has suggested several alternatives to the "all night vigil." He recommends No-Doz, coffee, or study periods distributed over shorter periods of time.

No-Doz tablets contain 0.1 grams of caffeine, about the same as a cup of strong coffee. For the non-sleeper, No-Doz are economical, too. The pills cost about 2½ cents apiece.

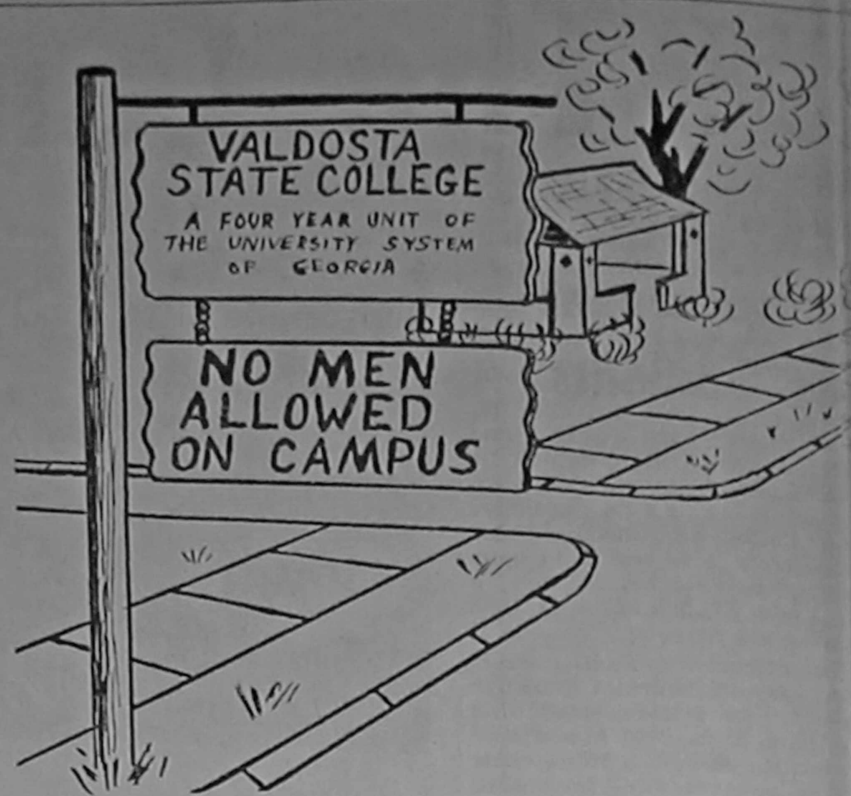

The Council on Pharmacy and Chemistry warns against the use of amphetamines in the treatment of sleepiness and fatigue in normal individuals because of the possible danger of high blood pressure. There is a danger that the warning signal of sleepiness in individuals who are overdoing may be eliminated by the drug. The drug may become habit-forming and cases of collapse have ensued when the drug has been used for the purpose of staying awake.

Depending on "pep pills" during a final exam may lead to very serious problems. The drug will keep a student awake during the crucial night, but what about the next night? It has been proven that these pills are habit forming, and a student may come to depend upon them as he would a pack of cigarettes.

"Pep pills" if taken in excessive numbers become hallucinatory and, for all the extra vitality they impart, a period of depression follows.

Drugs of all kinds are dangerous. They should be avoided in all cases except when prescribed by a medical doctor. In many cases, the advice given here will not be needed, but it is hoped that each student will use common sense and refrain from taking chances with his health by using pills indiscriminately to make up for his lack of discipline in study habits.

Women May Replace Men In Lowndes Hall Next Year

By BILL CRIBBS

There is a rumor circulating on campus that the administration is planning to convert Valdosta State back into an all girls college. This is probably not true, but if you are a boy and you are planning to continue your education at VSC, then you had better start looking around for a place to hang your hat fall quarter. Lowndes Hall, the newest boys dorm is being miraculously transformed into a dorm for young ladies.

According to Dr. George Young, Dean of students, applications from qualified female students have been particularly numerous this year. The college is not able to refuse admission to these qualified young ladies.

Since girls must be bound by iron-clad supervision, the college had no other alternative than to make facilities available on campus by confiscating the newest boys dorm and literally forcing the boys off campus and into the streets. Most of the boys will thus become the victims of high rent apartments which they can ill afford.

It has been argued that it is much easier for boys to obtain adequate living facilities off campus than for girls to do so. The truth of the matter is this: there is very little living space to be found, no matter what sex you may be.

Even though the future looks rather dim, students must not take a narrow view of the situation. The new girls dorm being planned, a high rise dorm will partially alleviate the housing problem. Until future arrangements can be made the only available solution to the problem is the one chosen by the administration, the conversion of Lowndes Hall into a facility for young women.

As Dean Young so aptly put it the present situation has the college up a tree—a palm tree no doubt.

Letter To The Editor

Who are those that state bluntly that today's modern generation is nothingness? Every day articles can be read that declare that our mis-guided youth are irresponsible, unreliable, carefree creatures without goals or ideals directing their actions.

Surely those who advocate this negative view of youth today have never closely examined, through direct observation, the average college student. Care and concern, worry and frustration, greatly influence his daily activities.

A large part of his campus conversation concerns his academic life in some way which might range from opinions and techniques of instructors to a recent examination.

Thorough learning to overcome the many obstacles of the learning process by perseverance, determination, and the drive to attain a real and special goal, set by himself, the student will succeed.

By an impartial analysis one must conclude that the youth of today will be prepared to meet the great challenges demanded of him tomorrow.

Lax Communications Create Decrease In Student Interest

Valdosta State College represents a community of young adults striving to mature and progress as individuals and as an institution. But, somehow the students do not represent the school. The reputation of Valdosta State among students of other colleges is becoming more and more one of respect, but our students seem to lack respect for this college. In analyzing the problem it is hard to determine whether this results as a lack of unity.

One would be inclined to believe that the problem lies in a lack of unity simply because people who live at least five days a week in one environment are usually aware of that environment. Actually, by looking closely at student activities, the lack of unity is evident. Many campus organizations are virtually unknown. Many students never read the minutes of the Student Government Association which are posted in the Student Union. The debate team hosted one of the most progressive and successful debate tournaments in this part of the South, but not many students expressed awareness of this activity. Departmental clubs have been active all year, but their activities are unknown. Students at Valdosta State seem to be active and involved, but they seldom communicate their activities and accomplishments.

Actually, there is a great potential for communication and unification. The most obvious utensils are the school publications. Organizations should take advantage of the mediums provided for their news. A bulletin board on the second floor lobby of West Hall is provided for student contributions. Clubs could designate reporters which would be of tremendous help to the staffs.

Publications are not the only potential for unification. A centralized bulletin board should be maintained for interschool announcements. This would eliminate having to go to the Student Center for fraternity-sorority news, to the gym or West Hall for sports schedules, and to Nevins Hall for academic events, and any possible location for other announcements. Perhaps if students knew what was going on, they would participate more, and if they contributed to interschool communication, they would be more aware of campus activities.

newspaper should be fun to work on and to read.

To do these things the Campus Canopy will need more support from students and the administration. Since the paper is going to be the representative of the students, it should be respected as such.

The major problem that the Canopy has is that students are not willing to work on the staff. At the conference in Callaway Gardens, the VSC delegation was embarrassed to find that we have a smaller number of students working on our paper than any other college paper in the Georgia Collegiate Press Association. Many junior colleges have more staff members than does the Campus Canopy.

I would like to urge students to support their paper by working on the staff or by letting the staff know what you want in your paper. By working together, we can make the newspaper the effective newspaper that it should be. I would like to see many of you on the staff next year.

Conference Stresses Need Of Voicing Student Opinion

I recently attended the conference of the Georgia Collegiate Press Association at Callaway Gardens. A point which was continuously being stressed was that a college newspaper should give the students what they want. This will be the policy of the new Campus Canopy staff. We will try to find what the students want in their paper and we will try to print—that is, anything this side of libel and pornography.

The conference also brought out the fact that the college paper should represent the students. This will involve the reporting of news which will be of interest and variety. Students have problems and opinions. The newspaper should voice these problems and opinions with student solutions.

The new staff of the Campus Canopy will work at making the paper the representative of the student body. We would like to have something of interest for everyone. We would like to see our number of readers double. A

Tekes Finish Testing Of VJHS Students

When the members of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity at VSC set out May 1 to administer the Youth Fitness Test Program to all students of Valdosta Junior High School, their goals were to demonstrate their interest in the community of Valdosta and to ascertain the effectiveness of the physical education program at VJHS.

The project is now over and what remains is to compile and analyze the results of the testing. Testing took two weeks, the first week being devoted to boys and the second to girls.

Seven tests were given: pull-ups; sit-ups; shuttle-run; standing broad jump; 50 yard dash; softball throw for distance; and 600 yard run-walk.

Ronnie Davis, Albany, Ga., chairman of the TKE Physical Committee, was originator of the idea to give the needed tests to students of VJHS, the largest junior high school in southeastern Georgia.

The program is administered nationally by the President's Council on Physical Fitness and American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation.

In charge of compiling test results into percentile scores was Jimmy Boland, Cordele, Ga. Thus far, only the scores for the boys of VJHS have been determined because they were tested first.

The results showed that in all but one of the tests, the boys on the average did lower than fifty per cent of those taking the tests in junior high schools nationally. It was not all bad, though. Six of the boys have qualified for the President's Physical Fitness Award. To do this they had to score at or above the 85th percentile on all the tests and be recommended by the school principal.

According to Boland there is a "need for a modified physical fitness program" at VJHS. Representatives of TKE are going to meet with the coaching staff of the school to discuss what improvements are needed.

Fraternities Elect New Officers

Pi Kappa Phi has elected officers for the coming year. Jeff Hiers, Jesup, was elected president. Hiers will also head the Inter-fraternity Council next year. Other officers include Charles Corbit, Willacoochee, secretary; Fred Gowdin, Warner Robins, treasurer; Richard Nijem, Valdosta, warden; and Johnny Jones, Thomasville, historian.

Thomas Brooks, Kirk Bunn, and David Wikoff, all of Atlanta; Wyndall Walters, Ocilla; James Copps, Thomasville; William Arnold, Albany; and James Jackson, Valdosta, were recently initiated into Pi Kappa Phi.

Thomas Places First In Forum; Wisham Captures Second Place

By PEGGY RIGGLE

The Second Annual Quarterly Speech Forum sponsored Tuesday night by the Sock and Buskin Club was proven to be an established, meritorious entity of the Valdosta State College Speech and Drama Department. Jane Thomas, a sophomore from Fitzgerald, was named the best speaker for her speech "Freedom Preservation," and Sandra Wisham, a freshman from Ashburn, Ga., was named second speaker for "Red China and the U. N." Mrs. Earle McKey and Alex McFadden of the English department and Lamar Pearson of the history department were the judges, while Dr. S. Walter Martin, president of the college, presented the awards.

It was interesting to note that two Baptist preachers participated in the competition. Glenn Sheppard, senior, who is the associate pastor of the First Baptist Church in Valdosta, and Leroy Clark, junior, from Mt. Zion spoke of "The Death of the American Funeral" and "Juvenile Delinquency" respectively. Nancy Turner (a junior from Barwin, Jamie Stell, a freshman from Atlanta, and Jane Thomas struck similar themes of Americanism in their speeches, "Patriotism," "Politics," and "Freedom Preservation." Sandra Wisham and Brad Hendry, a sophomore from Blackney, Ga. delved into more complex subjects of Red China and the U.N. and the Nike-X anti-missile defense system.

Jane Thomas' speech illustrated good analysis and very inspiring content. It is interesting to note that Sandra Wisham was able to persuade the judges of Red China's right to be a member of the U.N. when American leaders and political analysts cannot be persuaded.

The entertainment provided by Sandra Belote and Charles Lang, members of Sock and Buskin, was especially pleasant. Sandra's recital of Benet's "Nightmare at Noon" was an inspiring account of American unconcern with war. Charles Lang, a freshman, proved to be a very talented reader with his interpretation of Negro poet Johnson's "God's Trombones." His authentic dialect and costume gave vigor and excitement to his performance.

Students Give Senior Recital

Two Valdosta State College seniors, Phillip Larry Adams, and Ruth Marion Bridges, gave a student voice recital on May 11 at Pound Auditorium. Both Adams and Miss Bridges are students of Lavan Robinson, associate professor of music. Both students are native Valdostans.

Adams, tenor, took selections from Monteverdi, Schubert, Handel, and other renown composers for the recital. Some of his best selections were My Song is of the Sturdy North, by German, and I Love Life, by Mana-Zucca. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams of Valdosta, Adams plans to enter the Air Force after graduation in June.
