There have been many additions to the Valdosta State College campus for the new Fall Quarter. One addition is Miss Roberts K. Jones, Associate Dean of Students. Her predecessor was Miss Freda S. Ogletree, whose title was Dean of Women.

A native Georgian, Miss Jones was born in Macon and brought up in Athens. She graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in Journalism from the University of Georgia. She received her Master of Arts Degree while on a work study program in student personnel at Ohio State University.

Her work while at Ohio State University was an assistantship and a staff assignment in student residence halls as well as studying related academic courses. During her first year at Ohio State, she was assistant director of a residence hall for six hundred women students. In her second year, she was the director of a Co-ed residence hall for one thousand students. Miss Jones likes her small campus with a student body that is friendly and cooperative. She stated that the VSC campus is a "refreshing change from a campus of 40,000 students." She feels that the new policies of the college initiated this fall and the philosophy behind them will make the students more responsible for their education. She hopes also to be available to the students and to help them with any problems they may encounter.

VSC Begins Grad Program

This summer the First Masters Degree program began at VSC, offering graduate study in various fields of education. Some 45 students from various states such as Georgia, Alabama, and others, undertook to work toward inclusion in specialized and professional areas.

The professional courses include Foundations in Educational Administration and Special Education. Elementary teachers may take a course which was designed with the mathematics that is being taught to them children today. At present, these were offered in the field of biology, English, history, and mathematics.

A scholastic average for admission to graduate school is 3.0. In some instances, applicants with a slightly less average were admitted subject to special standing subject to approval of the Graduate Committee. Special students completed 15 quarter hours, a committee of their instructors and the student's application for full standing.

Dr. Donald E. Gerlock, head of the Education Department, said, "Morale was high and there was much enthusiasm among the students."

Although some students are taking courses toward a master's degree this fall, most will do their work during future summer quarters. Those who went this past summer will be interested individuals to help graduate officials evaluate the program.

Art Collection Shown in College Library

Seventeen selections from the Le Moyne Avenue Art Collection at VSC are now being displayed at the VSC library. Currently, the college boasts a college in North Florida and Georgia, and artists to the Le Moyne Art Foundation in Tallahassee, may be seen up through October 20.

Highlighting this exhibit of paintings and sculpture, ceramics is "Study for Brazilian Venus No. 2," a painting by Dr. Gerlock, the Dean of Women. Miss Jones will work closely with visual art students. In addition to being Associate Dean of Students, she is the Panhellenic advisor, coordinating the work of the sororities, working with the Residence Hall Court System, and advises general academics and foreign students.

It is her aim to establish an environment conducive to the all-around development of self-responsibility of individuals. She feels that the new policies of the college initiated this fall and the philosophy behind them will make the students more responsible for their educational opportunities. She hopes also to be available to the students and to help them with any problems they may encounter.

Mac G. Grigsby Announces Increase In Financial Aid

To keep pace with increased enrollment in fall classes, student financial aid has also expanded under the direction of Dr. Donald E. Gerlock, director of financial aid.

Federal aid to the College has been increased due to the generous assistance of the VSC Foundation. The Valdosta Chamber of Commerce, and VSC alumni. "By matching the federal aid up to a point by donations, these groups made the much-needed federal aid programs possible," said Mr. Grigsby.

This new money is going into three major areas: federal grants, which, up to the limit of $30,000, National Defense Loans, 32,000, and 50,000 dollars, which is paid for by the government, and a 50,000 dollar work-study program 50 per cent for federal use and 50 per cent for federal money.

The work-study program has substantially increased the work opportunities on campus.

Grigsby emphasized a new program called the Guaranteed Bank Loan Program. A student can borrow money through a local, participating bank in his hometown to work while in school.

Major Waters further commented, "I am hoping that the school will be able to extend the number of encouraging classes to be taught in sheltered guidance defense courses.

When these classes are set up, the instructors will be Mr. Mac Grigsby, director of student financial aid, and Mr. Mississippi, assistant head, coordinator of student activities. Grigsby and Whitehead took the civil defense courses in Atlanta and are licensed to train shelter managers.

Mrs. Joseph Maddox, director of placement, wishes to remind seniors to come to the office to pick up and fill out appointment forms for future job interviews.

First interview for seniors will be October 9 with Price Waterhouse & Company for accounting majors. Upjohn Company is scheduled for October 11 and 12 followed by General Electric on October 19.

The film entitled "Where Do I Go From Here?" is scheduled for the date of its showing will be announced soon. It is particularly for seniors but all interested students are invited to see the film.

Roommates Affect Academic Performance Says Dr. Pierce

Larger Budget Granted To Understaffed Library

CAROLYN RITCHIE

The library has an additional $99,000 budget for the coming year, according to Miss Thera Hambrick, head librarian. Eighty per cent of this is to be used by the departments of the college and twenty per cent is to be administered by the library.

With this money the library hopes to acquire an additional 16,000 books making a total of 80,000 volumes, at an estimation of $8.00 per book. A complete run of the New York Times on microfilm with indexes has recently been acquired with a $21,000 federal grant.

Miss Hambrick stated that with the increased budget, a library staff twice the size of their present six librarians is needed.

The library now stays open seventy-four hours a week but needs to be open longer, especially on Friday nights when a graduate course is being taught. More staff members are needed, however, to make this possible.

For the past several years a study had been made by the library to determine the needs of the departments of the college. This study was previously made every third year, but due to increased enrollment and other factors, it has been made more often.

A formula has been devised by which the library determines what per cent of the budget each department receives. The formula is based on the enrollment of each department and the relative use of the library made by each department. For example, English, history and education use it more than math and physics.

The Campus Canopy

Student Health Service.

Colleges and universities tend to regard the provision of housing for their students as a service—perhaps more for reasons than students—rather than as an educational tool, Dr. Pierce says.

However, housing arrangements do appear to have educational implications, according to his survey of two groups of students and their roommates.

He found that the students in the fall semester of a class in introductory psychology tended to achieve at a level similar to that of their roommates, but that there were interesting differences when the group was broken down by sex and by class.

For the overall group, only men's achievement levels were significantly related to those of their roommates. Broken down by class, however, the survey showed that freshmen, "who are for the most part arbitrarily assigned to each other, tend to accommodate their level of achievement to that of their roommates.

On the basis of his findings, Dr. Pierce concluded that "among certain groups of students, school achievement correlates positively between roommates" and that "overachieving" probably accounts for a fair portion of this effect. (An overachiever was defined in the study as a student whose class standing at the end of the semester was higher than his ability as measured by College Board scores.)

CCM Hosts Films

The Campus Christian Movement is featuring in its Fall Film Festival a series of films by Ingmar Bergman, a prominent Swedish writer-director. Next Tuesday, "Wild Strawberries" will be shown in the film room of the College Student Union at 7:00 p.m.

Bergman's films delve into more profound subjects such as the meaning of life, death, love, and sex. "Wild Strawberries" deals with an old man's reflections of his past through a series of flashbacks as he searches for meaning to his life. Religious overtones permeate Bergman's films as a result of his background as the son of a Lutheran minister. Though often candid in his views he treat them in an artistic manner.

College Union Gets Two New Directors

What does a man who has gone everywhere and done everything have in common with a VSC student? Nowhere to go and nothing to do. This apathetic statement is what has faced the Student Union Board of VSC. Under the leadership of Mr. Stillwell, the Union Board has decided to rectify the situation. The board is presently planning a barrage of new activities for the students.

The old Student Center, adjacent to the Student Union, is being remodeled and converted into a recreation center. The building will house two pool tables and two ping pong tables, eating booths, a jukebox, and, by the end of Monday night, a color television with cable hookup.

Offices for school organizations that were originally planned to go into the old Student Center will now be located in upstairs new Student Union. Recreation facilities of the renovated Student Center will be supervised from an information desk. This desk will also be the center of a school lost and found department.

The Student Union Building itself may soon remain open until 12:00 each night. Free movies will be shown each Sunday night upstairs in the Union Building. There are even plans to begin bridge lessons once a week for interested students.

One event in which everyone will look forward to with anticipation is the coming of the Lettermen to VSC on February 8. The Student Union Board is composed of five students and three faculty members. According to Whitehead, director, the Union Board has a good budget this year and will be able to do many things which have not been done in the past in the way of activities and entertainment for students.

SGA Leads Orientation

Over 700 new freshmen arrived at VSC on Sunday, September 17. With the help of the APO's, the campus service organization, the new students moved into their rooms. Directly after the Freshmen arrived, Freshmen Week began. Freshmen Week is a week of orientation for new students at VSC. The week is sponsored by the Student Government Association and the administration of Valdosta State.

Freshman Week began Sunday morning with the President's Reception in the Student Union. Students and their parents were introduced to President Martin and other faculty members.

Sunday night the new students attended a convocation in the gym. The program was presented by the various campus organizations.

A series of meetings began on Monday morning designed to inform the new students of their responsibilities. Informative talks about the college were presented by the various organizations and clubs. The presidents or representatives of the organizations were introduced and were given an opportunity to tell the students about their groups. Mr. James Whitehead, Coordinator of Student Activities was introduced.

Monday night a dance was held in the gym for all new students and their dates. It was sponsored by the Valdosta Chamber of Commerce. The band playing was "Ivey's League."

SGA Leads Orientation

Dr. Ward Pafford, dean of the college, addressed the students describing the academic climate and life at VSC. He also told the students of the program of advisors offered by the college.

Dr. George Young, Dean of Students, presented a program designed to make students aware of their responsibilities. Information was given about the many services for students.

Bill Pannell, president of SGA, led an assembly to inform the students of the campus organizations and clubs. The presidents or representatives of the organizations were introduced and given an opportunity to tell the students about their groups.

Band Formed By Students

A dance band being formed under the direction of Assistant Professor of Music Sanford Campbell marks another first for the VSC Music Department.

Composed of five saxophones, three trombones, a piano, a bass, a guitar, drums and possibly one or more vocalists, this group would play any student activities ranging from dances to variety programs.

All students with stage band experience and interested are asked to contact Campbell at a Pound Hall on North Campus. Beginning its second year, the VSC band shows great possibilities," stated Campbell. From twenty-four members last year, it now has thirty-seven members who are mainly "experience players."

The band is planning, on a Christmas Concert, Spring Concert, and possibly a "Pop" Concert this fall.

The VSC Glee Club under the direction of Webster W. Teague, associate professor of music, started rehearsing for the production of the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah." Composed of sixty students the chorus is tentatively scheduled for December 3, 3 p.m., in Pound Hall Auditorium.

"I'm really pleased and have a nice group of voices this year. I am sure this program will be a success," stated Teague.

The Serenaders directed by Lavan Ray Robinson, associate professor of music, have not been chosen yet. Out of thirty-five students who tried out for the group only sixteen will be chosen.

Valdosta State.
Nursing Program Approved For VSC

The Board of Regents has approved a nursing program to be instituted at Valdosta State College beginning fall quarter, 1967. The four-year Baccalaureate program will lead to a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree, making graduates eligible to become professional nurses.

The curriculum requires majors to study academic subjects in the humanities and emphasizes the sciences for the first two years. Study in the senior college will involve classroom and practical experience in five major areas: medical and surgical nursing, maternal and pediatric nursing, mental and psychiatric nursing, and public health nursing.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bechtel, professor of biology, noted that the program has been set off to give adequate space needed for the addition.

The major areas: medical and surgical nursing, maternal and pediatric nursing, mental and psychiatric nursing, and public health nursing.

The purpose of the nursing program is to recognize those ten freshmen who scored highest on the College Board Examinations.

Dr. Stanford Addresses Convocation

Dr. Henry King Stanford, president of the University of Miami, presented the main address at the Fall Convocation held September 26 in the gymnasium. The purpose of the convocation was to recognize those ten freshmen who scored highest on the College Board Examinations.

Dr. Stanford’s speech was entitled, “What Price Fatiguing Leadership,” and contained critical statements of the present administration of Lyndon B. Johnson.

He likened Johnson to a man who does not like to take the lead role but, when he finds himself suddenly out front, he pays more attention to the dogs at his heels than he does the goal ahead.

Dr. Stanford addressed a need for “more authoritative leadership” and said that the American people today do not feel the assurance that their situation and outlook justify.

He concluded that “with vigorous leadership, confidence in ourselves, and the resulting willingness to make whatever sacrifices are necessary, we could surmount the fate of succumbing to today’s ever-increasing problems on the domestic and foreign fronts.”

Dr. Stanford knows the Valdosta area well. He was a professor here when North Campus was donated by Emory University to the State of Georgia, and was in the planning of Valdosta State College.

A native of Atlanta, Dr. Stanford has earned degrees from Emory University, University of Denver, and New York University.

Dr. Stanford was administrator of the Board of Regents of the University of Georgia, vice-president of Georgia Southern College, and president of the Women’s College of Georgia. He came to the presidency of the University of Miami from Birmingham — Southern College where he served from 1957 to 1962.

He was a graduate student from the University of Heidelberg in Germany. His extensive travels have taken him through the Arab countries, South America, Europe, and Israel.

Dr. Stanford received the Eleanor Roosevelt-Israel Humanitarian Award December 26, 1963.

Construction Underway For VSC Campus

Construction work is being done at VSC and plans are being made for future work. Many people seem to be especially interested in the work being done around Hopkins Hall.

According to Mrs. Shealy McLeod, comptroller, this is to be the largest parking area and has a capacity for 100 cars. The lot should be finished “within the next three weeks.”

The two sidewalks behind Hopkins Hall have been lowered for a purpose. The newer one will serve as a curb and drivers in reaching their cars. This was planned as a safety precaution to prevent the drivers from having to walk in the street to reach their cars.

The area between the two sidewalks has been designated as a plant area.

The sidewalk by the dining hall has been set off to give space needed for the addition of wings to the dining hall. This addition will cost approximately $65,000 and will double the current capacity.

The lot across the street will be used as a physical education field and an additional parking lot. The State Highway Department is responsible for the plans of the parking lot.

Located behind the gym, the Fine Arts building is expected to be completed for use by next September. It will take care of the speech, music, drama, and art students. It is estimated that the cost will be $1,750,000.

Aids are underway for the construction of a dormitory behind Reade Hall. Ground-breaking is expected soon. This dorm will be located close to Georgia Avenue and will house 400 girls.

Plans have been drawn up for another dormitory, which will be a high rise. This one will be located between Reade Hall and the Infirmary and will house 500 girls.

New Code Of Ethics Adopted For Fall Term

The Student Government Association has adopted a new Code of Ethics for Fall Quarter, 1967. The adoption of the new code marks a significant achievement for the Student Government, working with the college administration, to create an atmosphere of mutual respect and cooperation.

The codes require that each student be responsible for the protection of his own job and for the well-being of other students in the college. The importance of maintaining an atmosphere conducive to learning is accentuated. Emphasis is placed on the safety rules. Standards for the protection of college buildings and the observance of building hours are delineated. The responsibility for women’s duties is assigned to the male in the case of a date, and to the female otherwise. Women dorm officers must be present until 12:00 on weekdays and until 1:00 on Friday and Saturday nights.

The Student Court System has the responsibility for the enforcement of the Code of Ethics. The Student Court System is composed of the residence hall councils and the Student Council.

The residence hall councils have jurisdiction only over their respective dormitories. The Student Court, which has jurisdiction over the entire student body, is composed of a Chief Justice and thirteen members who serve for one year.

The Student Court may refer cases to the Faculty Disciplinary Committee. The Faculty Disciplinary Committee has authority to place any student on probation, suspension, or expulsion whenever necessary.

S.G.A. president, Bill Pannell, noted that the primary significance of the new code is the fact that the Code will only apply if students accept the responsibilities that go with it. “If students don’t take it seriously,” Pannell said, “the system will fail.”

Pannell commented that the Code is a good first step toward student responsibility. “We hope,” said Pannell, “that this move will be an understandable and workable honor system by Spring Quarter.”

VSC Buildings Sited As Safe Fallout Shelters

“Eleven buildings on the VSC campus have now been designated as safe fallout shelters,” says Major W. P. Waters, Jr., director of the Lowndes County Civil Defense operation.

After a survey by a corps of engineers from the U. S. Army or their representatives, certain areas of these buildings were declared safe shelter against radiation fallout and natural disasters. Emery S. Wilson, deputy director of operations, has supervised the program of licensing and tagging the buildings and storing them with emergency supplies.

At present the capacity of the combined shelters is around 2,400. Supplies to stock the shelters arrived last week and were placed in the various buildings. But according to Major Waters, there is still a snag in the program.

“With the shelter available, the supplies available, the radiological materials available, and the trained instructors available on the campus,” he said, “there is still a deficiency in shelter management and the radiological defense personnel.”

Bill Pannell Urges Students To Support Code Of Ethics

The Student Code of Ethics, that has become the official standard of the College, is more than a list of statutes built around a code of ethics. Ideally, we should need few, if any, rules that has become the official code of ethics. Ideally, we should need few, if any, rules built around a code of ethics. Ideally, the ideal is too far beyond the practical; certain rules must be made to protect the student and the institution.

The Code stops at this point, however, leaving the student virtually free to do and act as he chooses. This new freedom will bring forth the real meaning of the SCE when the student begins to make a few realizations. There is little doubt that some students will be lost because they cannot cope with new questions that will have to be answered.

Perhaps the most significant realization will be that the rules and regulations of the College will no longer make decisions for students. The opportunity that existed at college to make their own sets of values and standards is no longer an opportunity; it is now a necessity. Self-discipline is no longer a luxury for the good students; it is a virtue for everyone that wants to avoid academic problems. In the Student Courts many students will have to make decisions that will affect other people.

To the individual, perhaps the Student Code of Ethics will be an added burden, but to the student who successfully shoulders this burden the SCE will provide excellent training in the 3 Rs of citizenship—respect, responsibility and restraint.

Graduation from Valdosta State College will not be symbolic of academic attainment alone. It will now symbolize the attainment of a new personal strength as well.

Presidential Elections Look Grim For All Candidates

I encountered more than one Wallace fan, men and women alike, who felt that the Gov. of Alabama was capable of holding the country together and repairing the Viet Nam situation. Many supposed that he would try to make sure that each car-owner pays for this parking right. Greater lengths are taken to make sure that the bus service. Great lengths are taken to make sure that each car-owner pays for this parking ticket, as Gov. Wallace is not pleased with the performance of the Democratic Party now in power. He is not alone in this belief.

Many people expressed a desire to see Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York in the candidacy. He is, after all, a large sum of money, means ability, and achievement. It is now an absolute necessity for the good students; it is a virtue for everyone that wants to avoid academic problems. In the Student Courts many students will have to make decisions that will affect other people.

To the individual, perhaps the Student Code of Ethics will be an added burden, but to the student who successfully shoulders this burden the SCE will provide excellent training in the 3 Rs of citizenship—respect, responsibility and restraint.

College Needs Better Bus Service To North Campus

As election year approaches I thought that perhaps it would be interesting to gather some student opinions on the subject of possible Presidential candidates. A poll was not taken, and personal “Jimmy Chosko” fans were not in the interest of obtaining a more candid response. People tend to change their ideas quickly and use an excess of flowery syntax when they think that their exact words will be used, therefore I selected people at random in the Student Center and asked, “Who do you favor in the election?”

“Election?”

“Why, yes, the Presidential election.”

“Oh, no; Romney blew it.”

Yeah?”

Oh, yeah. Got brainwashed before a large lecture or something. I guess that means he’s out of the race. So I believe I’ll favor anyone except President Johnson and Herbert Humphry.”

“Hubert Humphry”

“Yeah. Moving on, I waited until another class period was over, so that a new flock could wander into the Union.

I singled out a face in the crowd, a young lad in a Confederate uniform. This aroused my curiosity, I proceeded to ask.

“Who would you like to see in the White House next year, fellas?”

“Nobody but George Wallace. He’s got a chance.”

“Well, the one I’d like to see is good Old George. He’ll stick up for States’ Rights, segregation, and the little man. You know, the small farmer and all.”

Bill Pannell, SGA President

To the Students of Valdosta State College:

It is good to welcome you back to the campus for the 1967-68 academic year. Many of you are new students, and for a while things may seem strange and different, but before long you will become acclimated to college life and will feel as much at home as students who have been here for some time.

We have every reason to believe that this will be a very good year at VSC. Since last year our faculty has been increased by some 35 persons, our student body has been enlarged by nearly 500, and our physical plant is continuing to expand.

The new fine arts building, on the corner of Oak Street and Brookwood Drive, is well on the way and it is hoped that this building can be occupied by January 1, 1968. With a week or two ground will be broken for a new residence hall for women, which will face Georgia Avenue near the Library. Architectural plans are being completed for an administration building and for a new residence hall for women, this one to house 300 students. This building will be located between the Infirmary and Reade Hall. Other construction will include an enlargement of the dining hall, and later, an addition to the Library. Eventually more classroom buildings and dormitories will have to be built.

Your opportunities at Valdosta State College are unlimited and it is needless for me to say that I hope you will take advantage of these opportunities. May I urge you not to dissipate these opportunities which you now have to prepare your minds and to mold your thought processes. At no time in your life will you have a better opportunity to establish the mental potential which you will use for the rest of your life. You have a tremendous responsibility to make of yourself what you will this year.

I want to assure you of my keen interest in you as individuals and as a student body, and I look forward to cooperating with you in all your endeavors this coming year.

Philosophy Established In VSC Curriculum

By RALPH HAMMOND

As fall quarter begins again, our attention is directed to North Campus and those lucky individuals who make Barrow Hall their home. Last year as a woman's residence hall, it is now a haven for some seventy to eighty furry-legged, four-legged, and two-legged students. "Our atmosphere is very relaxed, and you can relax after a long day. It's a very nice place to live," says Mr. Wayne Foster, professor of economics.

Barrow is not air conditioned, but according to one high official, it has an excellent heating system. The rooms are notoriously small compared to this reporter's old home in luxurious Brown Hall. The television room follows suit as boys have backed out near the front door when a popular program comes on.

Acoustics are generally bad and one has to raise the voices to compete with the alarm in 205. There is an out of tune piano at one end of the hall, and the noise of Barrow Hall virtuosos have either something else on their minds or we know it needs tuning. Our North Campus "student center" is the local hospital and is not a lounge. We knew that it was the hospital from the sign, and we looked around and saw who our neighbors were.

As long as the overflow from South Campus exists, Barrow Hall will remain in use as a temporary dormitory, perhaps until that day. Barrow Hall may become an interfraternity lodge that had been planned once before.

Cast Chosen

Mr. John H. Rudy, professor of philosophy, selected the cast for this quarter's production of Aristophanes' "The Birds." Lead parts were assigned to Larry Long, junior from Cordele, and Valerie Chapman, a junior from Washington, D.C. Long will play "Quintus" and Miller "Pausias," the roles he assumed in the role of "Magpie." The supporting cast includes Miss Betty Pitman, "Loulou"; Kandice Barns, Mid-dleburg, as "Elsie"; Marcin Owens, Spanish Pt., Al. as "Felice"; Elorin Davis, Cairo, as "Alma"; John Davis, Young-bany, as "Father"; and Steve Siefried, VSCOM, as "The Doctor."

Students See Europe Via Educated Thumb

BY SOU SROUPE

Hitchhiking is a common means of transportation in America for many young people, but how often do you hear of two girls hitchhiking through Europe?

Two VSC students, Jennifer Come from Cairo, Georgia and Pat Sullivan from Savannah, Georgia did just that. They departed for their excursion June 12 and returned home September 6.

The girls landed in Paris and stayed there one week before going to Madrid by train. From there they took a motorscooter ride to Nice. For Jennifer, the trip turned out to be a little out of the ordinary. She fell off her motor scooter, but the scooter did not stop. Fortunately, only her knee was bruised. From that time on, the girls were constantly on guard. They had to have a motorscooter in the middle of Nice.

In Connes, the girls started hitchhiking. All they had to do was walk out to the edge of town and there they always give them a ride. Sometimes communication was a problem, however, not in one case.

A couple who gave them a ride spoke only English. They asked Jennifer and Pat talked with them using English, French, Italian, and even a few phrases of Latin!

In Rome, the girls saw the Colosseum, the Forum, the Piazza della Repubblica, and all the people over there attended the opera as we go to football games. They also enjoyed seeing the bleachers eating popcorn and drinking coffee that came right from their own coffee pots.

They described Ireland as being the most beautiful country of the European countries. The Border countries, according to the girls, had the most beautiful scenery. These are only a few of the places Pat and Jennifer had the opportunity to see.

But according to Pat, "The greatest part of the whole trip was hitchhiking and meeting the people."
