V.S.C. Students Complete Civil Defense Course

By Kathy Worthington

On April 18, eleven members of the student body and staff spent eight hours in one of the sheltered buildings on campus, פליאד at the shelter. The eight-hour stay began at 8 a.m. and ended at 4 a.m. Friday.

The purpose of the course was to train shelter managers to staff the shelter that exists on campus in the event of a nuclear attack. Under the direction of Mr. Mac G. Grigsby, each member was assigned a certain responsibility for the welfare of the group.

Bill Bennett was appointed Manager of the shelter and coordinated all activities.

Information Deputy

John Ard was Information and Deputy of Training. He was responsible for informing the shelter occupants of outside information concerning the amount of radioactivity in the area; his job also included training the occupants for shelter living.

The Deputy of Supply and Maintenance was Dyllwll Wiggins, who was in charge of all supplies and was responsible for maintenance of the shelter. In charge of recreation was Laura Arnold, whose job included group activities for the occupants. This would be vital in actual shelter living since some people would not have designated responsibilities.

Religious Guidance

Religious affairs was the duty of Jimmy Boland. In the event of a nuclear attack, many occupants would be in need of counseling and guidance. The religious leader in this area would be most helpful.

In charge of feeding was Mrs. Clara Chappell. The government supplies each official shelter with enough crackers per person a day. They also furnish large barrels for drinking water. The local government is encouraged to place additional food in each shelter.

Health and sanitation was headed by Mrs. Mary Rogers. The packages should be addressed to: CCLM College Judges Council of Literature for the current academic year 1967-68. The winners of the contest are chosen for literary merit, technical excellence, and general scope. The winning magazines will be announced in September, 1968. The first prize winner will receive a cash award of $500.00 and a rotating plaque. Second and third place winners will receive cash prizes of $150.00 each.

The packages should be sent in one package, together with a brief statement of information about the undergraduate status of the editors and the status of the contributors.

The packages should be addressed to: CCLM College Contest, Suite 610, 1825 K St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006, by June 1, 1968.

Two Will Serve As Journeymen

A Valdosta State College graduate and a VSC senior are among 73 young men and women who will work alongside career foreign missionaries in the South American jungles. Rebecca Odom, of Valdosta, a 1966 graduate of VSC, and Linda Smith, of Alabaster, Ala., a senior at the college, are journeymen, under 27 years of age, with skills in demand overseas who will work alongside career missionaries.

Miss Smith has been employed for teaching in Selma Jo Goriuki, Kitanakata, Japan. Miss Odom has been elected their officers for the term started on Friday.

Dr. Reade Replaces Pound
As VSC’s Third President

By Joe Richardson

(Ed. note: This is the second in a series of articles about the Presidents of VSC.)

When Dr. R. H. Powell was made Dean of the Coordinate College in Athens, the Board of Regents appointed to the Presidency of Georgia Southern Women’s College Dr. Jere M. Pound, who was then President of the Georgia Teacher’s College.

Dr. Pound was born at Liberty Hill, in Pike County, Georgia, on March 23, 1864. He received his A.B. and LL.D. degrees from the University of Georgia.

Coming to Valdosta with a varied background, he was a teacher at Atlanta’s Boy’s High School, Principal of the Fort Valley Institute, three times President of Barnesville’s Gordon Infant, Superintendent of Public Schools of Macon and Bibb County, Superintendent of East Florida Seminary, and Superintending Engineer of Schools in Georgia.

Dr. Pound was a member of Kappa Delta Alpha, the Coordinate College, Kappa Delta Pi, and a lay leader in the Methodist Church.

Mr. Joe Pember

Dr. Jere M. Pound

Dr. Pound lived in Valdosta a short time before he fell ill, performing the functions of his office for less than one year.

He was placed on sick leave and died in February of 1935.

In 1934, Dr. Franke Roberson Reade came to Valdosta as Executive Dean-Elect of Georgia Southern Women’s College, and upon Dr. Pound’s death, he succeeded to the Presidency.

Dr. Reade was born in Atlanta, Georgia, July 12, 1895. He came to Valdosta with varied experiences like his predecessors.

A teacher in the Episcopal High School at Alexandria, Virginia, and editorial writer for the Atlanta Constitution, he soon became Professor of English at Georgia School of Technology.

He held the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Virginia. Dr. Reade had memberships in the Raven Society, Phi Kappa Sigma, and Omicron Delta Kappa. He also served in the American Expeditionary Force.

Dr. Reade brought to the college the outlook and attitude of a typical conservative Episcopalian, and Virginia gentleman, plus a keen sense of humor, a love of sports, and an outgoing personality which invited the confidence of students and faculty alike.

Dr. Reade kept the college on an even keel during a depression and war. Under his administration, the New Deal legislation brought the college considerable funds for new buildings and part time work for students.

New Deal legislation helped build the Log House in the Woods, which was torn down just recently, the Amphitheatre Reade Hall, the swimming pool, and the Richard Holmes Povel Library.

President Reade fell ill, unable to carry out the duties as President of the college, in the summer of 1947. The Executive Committee performed this duty until late in 1948 when Dr. Ralph J. Thaxton was appointed Acting President.

On March 9, 1949, Dr. Reade retired from active duty, and Dr. Thaxton became the fourth president of the college.

Dr. Reade remained as President Emeritus until his death in 1957.
Wynn Carwells Captures "Miss Valdosta" Crown

by Vicky Brown

The Miss Valdosta Pageant got underway last April 22 at 8:00 p.m. in the Maibis City Auditorium. The theme of the pageant was "Roman Holiday." Miss Carol Wynn Carwells, a senior here at VSC from Waycross, Ga., was crowned as Miss Valdosta of 1968. She sang "Serenade," a selection from the Swiss Alps. Wynn has been taking voice lessons for nine years.

Wynn has won many titles besides that of "Miss Val­dosta." Among them are "Miss Waycross" and she was first runner-up in the 1966 Golf contest. She was also crowned Miss Georgia Pageant in 1968.

She was the annual queen at Georgia Southern College, Miss Refector. Wynn's favor­ite hobbies are basketball, swimming, cooking, and dancing. Her special interests are singing and dancing.

The most exciting thing Wynn did after she was crowned was turning to college next year to continue her studies in music. She hopes to get a Masters Degree and teach on a college level.

First runner-up was Miss Nancy Lee, a freshman at VSC from Lakeland, Georgia. She is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority. Her talent was the portrayal of the character "Cheri" from the motion picture "Bus Stop." Nancy's interests include play­ing the piano, modeling, and dancing. Her special interests are dramatic reading, music, and history.

Also included in the top five finalists was Linda Reddick, a freshman at VSC, whose talent was a dance, which she choreographed herself to the song "More." Her special interest is "Miss Con­geniality."

Trophy Awarded

Miss Charlotte Cunningham, a first quarter sophomore at VSC, was awarded a trophy for "Most Talented Finalist." Her talent was singing a patriotic song using her own lyrics to the tune of "Try to Remember." Linda reminisced about her year as Miss Valdosta, and said one of the most fun things she experienced during her reign was the Jaycee's Annual Soap Box Derby.

Miss America Participates
In Miss Valdosta Pageant

By Kathy Worthington

Miss America 1968, Debra Dene Barnes, arrived in Val­dosta April 21 to participate in the Miss Valdosta Contest. Miss Barnes is a junior at Kansas State College, and plans to re­turn to college next year to continue her studies in music.

Local Beauties & Miss America

The Valdosta Jaycees do a wonderful job each year in pro­ducing and staging the Miss Valdosta Pageant. With the as­sistance of many others including Mrs. Leroy O. Carter and the Pepsi Cola Bottling Co., the pageant is always a deligh­tful event.

Wynn was the Miss Valdosta 1968, Linda reminisced about her year as Miss Valdosta, and said one of the most fun things she experienced during her reign was the Jaycee's Annual Soap Box Derby.
Golfers End Season; Rebels Host Tourney

VSC's golf team, coached by Mr. Bill Grant of the Physical Education Department, ended its 1967-1968 season with a record of 11-3. Included in the victories were wins over Mercer, LaGrange, and Armstrong, as Southern Georgia Southwestern, and Jacksonville University.

David Coley, Hawkinsville, paced the golfers with the team season average of 75. The other starting greensmen and their averages are: Valdostan Axel Clark, 76; Bill Arnold of Albany, 75; Leonard Rigdon of Tifton, 78; and Larry Buchwald of Valdosta, 79.

Coley also shot the low season round with a 71.

Jay Livingston of Madison, and Jim Slaughter of Carville rounded out the team.

Matches were scored by comparing the totals of the top four scores of the opposing team. Each team enters five players in the match competition.

The Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Golf Tournament is scheduled, May 9-10, at the Valdosta Country Club.

A conference championship is expected to participate this year, in addition to VSC, are Piedmont, Berry, West Georgia, Shorter, LaGrange, Armstrong, and Georgia Southwestern.

Winners will compete in the national tournament in Bemidji, Minn., June 4-7.

Baseball Season Ends; 20-13 Score

A double loss to Jacksonville University—previously beaten twice by the Rebels—completed a good, but disappointing, season for the VSC baseball team.

Coached by Tommy Thomas of the Physical Education Department, the team compiled an overall season record of 15-9 and a conference mark of 5-4.

Conferece championship hopes waned with a doubleheader loss to West Georgia on April 27 by scores of 8-0 and 2-1, a 10 inning contest.

Georgia Southwestern dealt the Rebels their third straight defeat with a 5-1 victory on April 29.

By Kay Williams

Mr. Thomas E. Hart, assistant professor of Economics at VSC, was named "Teacher of the Year" at the Honors Day program held May 6. He was named the outstanding faculty member as a result of voting by the student body.

Mr. Hart, a native of New York City, holds the Bachelor of Business Administration and Master of Arts degrees from the University of Georgia. He came to VSC in January of 1966. Before this, Mr. Hart held an assistant teachership at the University of Georgia.

Mr. Hart said that he feels honored at being named Teacher of the Year, but he added, "If I feel it is based more on the teacher's personality and rapport with the students rather than the teacher's ability or competence in his field."

He believes that a class should be run informally with a chance for students to ask questions and discuss at any time during the lecture. "I never use lecture notes or read to the class," he said. "Our best students at VSC are as good as they are at any other college." He commented further that slower students can accomplish much by working on their own. "Regardless of a student's IQ, he will be an F student unless he has the motivation to work."

In September, Mr. Hart will work on his Ph.D. at the University of Kentucky.

Phillips Signs With Falcons

The Atlanta Falcons have announced the signing of Valdosta State College basketball forward Bryan Phillips as a free agent.

Falcon officials said that the 6-6, 245 pound Phillips will be tried as a tight end.

Phillips was named to the third team of the National Association of Inter-Collegiate Athletics All-America squad this season.

Phillips was a stand-out football performer at R. L. Osborne High School, Marietta, but has not played football since high school days.
McMurry Announces Negro History Course

By Cherri Collins

A "History of the Negro Race" will be a new course offered in the fall, according to Dr. Richard M. McMurry, history professor at VSC.

"This has been a largely neglected field," Dr. McMurry stated, "and is just now filtering down to the colleges."

Few people believed that the Negro race had never done anything, not even built a city," Dr. McMurry continued. "During the period we call the Middle Ages, the civilization in Africa had surpassed and advanced universities, for example, the university at Timbuktu."

"It wasn't until he came into contact with our day's culture that his civilization began to decline."

Bullard Cops SGA Position

Ann Bullard, a freshman from Waycross, will be the secretary of the SGA next year, scoring 340 votes to 299. She had originally polled 12 votes for her slate, giving away her worldly possessions, even as she ostentatiously gave away his worldly possessions, could not be mistaken.

Carolyn Sirmans Reviews

"Becket" Merits Praise

Cast with a studied perfection, this ambitious production sets exceedingly high standards for succeeding college dramas. Johnathan McDonald's audience will long remember his sincere search for himself as "Becket."

As he neared a decision, Becket found he could not serve both God and his king. Becket's struggle with love, with friendship, and with duty were entirely believable, as his sincerity, even as he ostentatiously gave away his worldly possessions, could not be mistaken.

King Henry's barons could easily have stolen the show had not the direction been so deft. Audiently bearded, brashy, and loyal, they were the conquerors of story books as they paraded into Paris.

The entire production crew handled most carefully. Intrigue within the church makes any audience a bit apprehensive. However, this was done with taste and conviction.

Jimmy Womack, as Bishop of London, performed memorably and lent credence to all the maneuvering within those circles.

The outstanding junior college speech major is Roger Ray Whitfield, of Valdosta. The outstanding senior college speech major is Elaine Snipes, of Sylvester.

The American Association of University Professors award, presented to the Junior who has the highest scholastic average, went to Betty Beasley Rich of Adel.

"COME IN . . . . . LOOK AROUND"
Richard Nixon Leads In Choice 68 Election

About 1/3 of the students at Valdosta State College prefer former Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency this year, revealed student voters in Choice 68.

VSC is among approximately 1,500 colleges and universities throughout the country that participated in Choice 68—a national campaign financed by Time, Inc., to measure presidential election results on college campuses, and to elicit a student response to the campus primary.

National Scope

Choice 68, conducted April 21 at VSC and on other campuses throughout the country, gave students chances to poll straw votes to determine who is the leading political candidate for the presidency this election.

The announcement was made by R. Conley Salyer of Lexington, Ky., senior pre-law student at VSC, who served as the Choice 68 coordinator at VSC.

A total of 627 VSC students cast votes in the straw poll ballot, and Mr. Nixon was the leading candidate with 187 votes.

Wallace Popular

Former Alabama Governor George Wallace was second at VSC with a total of 140 first place votes. Senator Eugene McCarthy received 88 votes and Senator Robert Kennedy polled 83.

Others on the ballot were Charles Percy, Nelson Rockefeller, Ronald Reagan, Harolot Stassen, and Fred Halstead.

A total of 222 VSC students registered as having no party preference as opposed to 184 students who registered as Democrats and 117 who registered as Republicans.

Also, more than 40 per cent of the students voting believed that the U.S. should intensify the bombing in Viet Nam and shouldn't put forth an all-out military effort in the Southeast Asian country.

On the homestand, about 45 per cent of the VSC students voted that they believed education should receive the highest priority in government spending in confronting the urban crisis in the U.S.

College Recognizes Individual Accomplishments In Academics

Carolyn Ritchie, of Iron City, a senior at Valdosta State College, received the coveted Annie Pove Hopper Award at the annual Honor's Day Convocation at VSC May 1.

The Hopper Award is given to the senior who stands high academically and best exemplifies the traditions of the College. The award is given by the VSC Carolyn Ritchie Alumni Association, family, and friends of Annie Pove Hopper.

Honor Student

A 20-year-old mathematics major at VSC, Carolyn Ritchie is a member of Sigma Alpha Chi, a member of the band and the physics club at VSC. She is a graduate of Seminole County High School, Donalsonville, Ga.

Marga & Mac

The Marga and Mac Awards, given by Sigma Alpha Chi Honor Society to the Most All Round Man and Woman students in both Junior and Senior College, went to Charlie Howell, of Lakeland, Ga., the Mac of the Junior College; Jayne Spill, of Lyons, the Marga of the Junior College; Richard Nijem, of Valdosta, the Mac of the Senior College; and Maxine Newberry, of Arlington, Ga., the Marga of the Senior College. These awards are presented on the basis of leadership qualities, other Awards

Others receiving awards were Roger Rampley, of Valdosta, an art award for creative achievement in painting; Craig Kelly, of Moultrie, an art award for creative achievement in ceramics; Jimmy Ray Norton, of Valdosta, a biology award; Charles L. Simpson, of Moultrie, the local CPA's award to the graduating senior with the highest standing in accounting; Dwight Reuel Norris, of Statesboro, the Wall Street Journal Student Achievement Award, presented to the graduating senior in Business Administration - Economics who has attained the highest level of academic achievement.

Conservationists Visit Proposed Park Site

Several members of the VSC community attended the April meeting of the Georgia Conservancy, Inc., which was held on Saturday, April 27, on Cumberland Island.

The purpose of the meeting was to enable the members of the Conservancy to see at first hand the island, which has been proposed as a national park by the Department of the Interior.

Making the trip from the college were Mrs. Mary C. Norwood, secretary of the Biology Department; Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Dechert; and the following members of the History Department: Mr. and Mrs. F. Bruce Westerberg; Dr. and Mrs. William M. Gabard; and Richard M. McElroy, Professor McMurry is a member of the Conservancy's Board of Trustees.

The Georgia Conservancy was founded in January, 1967, a means by which private individuals can effectively seek to preserve wilderness areas and historic sites, as well as work to solve such problems as air and water pollution, erosion of farmland, and the protection of state and national parks and monuments.

It is a non-profit organization with membership open to all Georgians. It is one of the first conservancies to be founded in the nation.

College of Week

Valdosta State College will be the site of the week of March 10 through May 10 as "College of the Week" on WSB Radio in Atlanta. The on-campus radio station will feature highlights of the college's history, some of its present activities, and plans for the future throughout the week.

Valdosta State College is one of Georgia's outstanding institutions to be honored in WSB Radio's College of the Week series.
Student Apathy Hinders Effectiveness Of SGA

The Student Government Association is the only link the students have with the administration. The S.G.A., in fact, is the voice of the students. In order for it to function properly, the students must give the full support and cooperation of the student body.

Certainly everyone cannot be an S.G.A. officer, but it is everyone's privilege, as well as responsibility, to vote for the leaders who represent them.

The S.G.A. election was held recently. Only 706 students bothered to vote in the election. This number is equal to only about 25% of the students enrolled at VSC this quarter. What happened to the other 68%?

The other 1527 students?

Last spring quarter V.S.C. had only 1743 students enrolled, yet 884 students voted in the S.G.A. election. This means that 50% of the student body cared enough to vote last year. This is not a very high percentage, but it is certainly better than this year 32%. It is possible that state of mind when not even one out of three students care enough to vote for the leaders of their Student Government.

I am very much hoping students can claim that even though we are adults, we are treated like we were still in high school. They complain that the school's policies are unfair, the rules are too strict, and that the students deserve a voice in the administration. We deserve exactly what we are getting. Not until we show a genuine interest in the school can we hope to have any real voice. How can we expect the administration to listen to an organization that it knows represents only one-third of the student body? How can the S.G.A. by itself have any real power? Not without the backing of every student can it function really effectively.

DAVID STROUPE

EDITOR EXPRESS OPTIMISM

In many newspapers the editor offers his parting comments and observations on the past year in a column in the last issue under his direction. Such is the case now as I look with optimism toward the future.

Wayne Stephens and I, as co-editors, have sought to strengthen the foundation of the newspaper on this campus. We have tried innovations, such as 8 page spreads, and contribute more pictures in order to increase the breadth of the newspaper.

We feel that next year's leadership having more experience, will be better able to express the thoughts and feelings of VSC's student body. If we did not generate any controversy or intellectual thought through this year's newspaper, Wayne and I are satisfied that at least we are able to see the paper through this " interim" period and cover as faithfully as we can, life at V.S.C.

My sincere thanks to all those who helped on the newspaper this year whether by working directly on the paper or by giving us news tips. It was a collective effort and could not have been done without their help. I hope they realize that they have benefited from their time and trouble. A sense of accomplishment is their only reward.

The newspaper at VSC could have a decided impact if we can generate some interest and involvement in the administration and contribute more political comments, has come to a halt.

No one believes, however, that a few people on the newspaper staff can claim to speak for minority or majority interest of a student body—especially if the case again occurs where more letters to the editor are received from faculty than from students. Letters and contributions from students, and also faculty and administration, are needed before a newspaper can truly claim to represent a college. The Campus Canopy post office box is 207.

23-member Educational Advisory Committee forms to provide Better Education

In announcing the organization of this important committee, Dr. Martin said, "The formation of the Educational Advisory Committee is another step in our continuing effort to do a better job of training and providing more qualified teachers for Georgia's public schools."

"We believe that the Educational Advisory Committee will prove invaluable in providing advice and counsel as VSC seeks to create even better relations between the College and public schools in our section of the state," he continued.

The President further stated, "The purpose of the Committee is to discuss ways in which the College may make contribution to public education in Georgia."

Mandella Makes Debut on Campus

Mandella, a new magazine owned and published by students and catering to literary endeavors and social and political comment, has come to the VSC campus.

Copies went on sale in Valdosta April 22, and can be purchased at the VSC Bookstore, Creative Interiors, the Music Building, and from any staff member. The magazine sells for 25c.

Mandella is edited by Gerald Joiner, a VSC junior majoring in English. Joiner, along with associate editor Ed Lightsey and contributing editors, are the founders and owners of the magazine.

The staff sells the magazine in order to pay operating costs. The "Mandella did not arise out of a desire to make money," Joiner stated, "but the cost of paper, printing, and supplies mounts quickly."

Subscription rates will be arranged and published in the June issue, which will come out May 22.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

appointed junior Academic Adviser

Dr. Raymond A. Cook, Chairman of the English Department and Humanities Division at V.S.C., has probably done more than any other person to preserve the literary heritage left to Georgians by the North Georgia poet Byron Herbert Reece.

During the two years 1964-1966 that Dr. Cook was president of Young Harris College, he established the Byron Herbert Reece Memorial Collection, which is in the Reece Memorial Room in the new library on the campus of Young Harris.

In addition to this, Dr. Cook organized the Reece Memorial Lectures at Young Harris, wrote several articles, and lectured throughout the state on Reece and his poetry.

His most recent lecture was in February of this year when he lectured at Georgia State College in Atlanta.

Dr. Cook's most recent contribution to the long list of articles and lectures undertaken to preserve the memory of Byron Reece and to assure his place in American literary history is a fifteen page article in the Spring 1968 issue of the Georgia Review.

Valdosta Theatre Guild
To Present Fantasticks

By Judy Larson

Students will have an opportunity to see the Valdosta Theatre Guild's production of "The Fantasticks" May 10 and 11 at Pond Hall. Curtain time is 8:00 p.m.

Building the record for the longest-playing musical in the history of the New York Theatre, "The Fantasticks" has been produced by over 600 non-professional groups. It deals with the young man Mott and the young lady Luisa who fall in love, although separated by a wall which their seemingly hostile Fathers have built.

The seven-member cast includes Miss Wynn Carwell, VSC junior and currently "Miss Valdosta" as the young lady Luisa, and Mr. Nelson Hitchcock, VSC speech and drama department professor, as the desperado El Gallo.

Tickets may be purchased at the Pond Hall box office the night of the performance. Reservations will not be taken.

Price is $1 for students and $1.50 for adults.

Mott, right, battles El Gallo in order to prove that he is worthy of Luisa, center.

Mrs. Stillwell Retires From Direction Post

Mrs. Dora Stillwell, a native of Thomasville, will retire from the position of Acting Director of the Student Union at the end of the summer. She took over the job of director when Jim Whitehead left second quarter. Mrs. Stillwell has been social director at the Student Union.

Mrs. Stillwell must schedule all meetings held in the Rebel Room and Student Union.

The Rebel Room, with 2,233 people using it, and the Student Union, with 236 meetings and 10,620 people attending, were coordinated during winter quarter.

Twenty-six clubs, placement representatives, and eleven organizations have regular, planned meetings in the Student Union, besides scheduled special events, such as the Graphic Art Display and sorority parties.

Mrs. Stillwell works in conjunction with the Cultural Committee, who brought the Letter Men to Valdosta.

Besides being Director of Christian Education at St. Thomas Episcopal Church for eight years, Mrs. Stillwell was a housemother at FSU.

"I like Valdosta State because it is a small, growing school, and I like the fellowship and co-operation of the students," she said.

Fery enjoys football; Prefers Iran's King

By Vicky Brown

Pezeshk Fereshteh came to the United States from Tehran, Iran five years ago to attend college. She is petite with brown eyes and brown hair, who comes from a medium sized family, having one brother and one sister.

VSC's Iranian student attended South Georgia College for two years and the University of Georgia for one quarter before coming to Valdosta last spring.

Her major is business administration, Fery plans to use her business administration degree in government work.

When she graduates from VSC in August, she plans to go to Niagara Falls and to California before returning home.

One of her favorite pastimes is skiing, which she hasn't been able to do for five years. She has acquired a great interest in watching the football games on TV. She said she now understands almost everything that goes on in the game, whereas at first she was quite confusing to her.

Fery belongs to the predominant religion in Iran, which is Mohammedism. She has visited almost all of the different religions here in America. She would like to visit a Negro church.

She commented on the civil rights movement, and said that she didn't think that rioting and looting were the solutions to this problem.

"Iran's government is ruled by King Shah, who is fair and good to all the people," Fery said she liked our system of government basically because "all of the people are entitled to voice their opinions, but she also liked the system of government in Iran because they have a just king.

Fery enjoys football; Prefers Iran's King

By Vicky Brown

Pezeshk Fereshteh came to the United States from Tehran, Iran five years ago to attend college. She is petite with brown eyes and brown hair, who comes from a medium sized family, having one brother and one sister.

VSC's Iranian student attended South Georgia College for two years and the University of Georgia for one quarter before coming to Valdosta last spring.

Her major is business administration, Fery plans to use her business administration degree in government work.

When she graduates from VSC in August, she plans to go to Niagara Falls and to California before returning home.

One of her favorite pastimes is skiing, which she hasn't been able to do for five years. She has acquired a great interest in watching the football games on TV. She said she now understands almost everything that goes on in the game, whereas at first she was quite confusing to her.

Fery belongs to the predominant religion in Iran, which is Mohammedism. She has visited almost all of the different religions here in America. She would like to visit a Negro church.

She commented on the civil rights movement, and said that she didn't think that rioting and looting were the solutions to this problem.

"Iran's government is ruled by King Shah, who is fair and good to all the people," Fery said she liked our system of government basically because "all of the people are entitled to voice their opinions, but she also liked the system of government in Iran because they have a just king.
