REBELS SPORT GIAC QUALITY DURING GAMES

Southern, independent: Albany State, S.I.A.C.; and Bethune-Cookman of the S.E.A.C.

According to Coach Melvin, "This is the smallest club VSC has had but possibly the quickest. Pete Smith and John Trimnell rate with the best we have ever had."

Sporting a sparkling 7-0 conference record, the Rebels will face two more conference opponents - West Georgia on Jan. 31 and LaGrange on Feb. 1 during the remainder of the season.

Praising the student body, Coach Melvin noted that "the student support has been tremendous this year."

Dr. Robert C. Moore, a newcomer to the VSC math department, will be conducting seminars each Wednesday and Friday during ninth period in room 227 of Nevins Hall. The subject of this quarter's seminars will be from the book, INTRODUCTION TO THE FOUNDATION OF MATHEMATICS by Raymond L. Wilder.

Seminars Differ

These seminars are to be conducted each quarter and the subject is determined by the interest of students attending. Dr. Moore has tentatively suggested Gelbaum and Olmstead's COUNTEREXAMPLES IN ANALYSIS for next quarter.

Graduate Course

Interested students can earn from one to three hours credit in Math 495, a first year graduate course, depending upon their participation.

At present, there are seven faculty and two students attending the seminars.

Dr. Moore is a 1954 graduate of Huntington High School in Huntington, Pa. He received a Bachelor of Science degree Summa Cum Laude in Mathematics from Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa., and the Master of Mathematics from Brown University, Providence, R.I., in 1961.

Topology Major

He received the Ph.D. degree from Pennsylvania State University in 1965, with a major in topology; his Ph.D. dissertation was primarily concerned with the study of continuous, multiplicative functionals.

He is a member of the Mathematical Association of America, the American Mathematical Society, Phi Mu Epsilon, and Sigma Xi.

A total of 262 students has been named to the Dean's List at Valdosta State College for the fall quarter, according to Ward Pafford, dean of the college. The list includes:

Martha K. Howze, Pelham; Wanda D. Morell, Pelham; Peggy A. Wheeler, Thomasville; Mary L. Whitley, Douglas; Kenneth T. Griffin, Ochlocknee; D. Harrell, Bainbridge; Dorothy E. Pittman, Carrollton; Lynn V. Bass, Moultrie; Linda A. Garner, Moultrie; Judith C. Golden, Dawson; Gayhia J. Gay, Moultrie; Pamela E. Gulick, Lakeland; John W. Harris, Adel; Carolyn E. Herin, Moultrie; Mary J. Jackson, Quitman; John R. Lee, Waycross; Nancy E. Lee, Lakeland; Linda K. Luke, Ocilla; Tommy M. Norman, Normal Park; Jan Powers, Jesup; Nancy L. Ross, Millner; Rebecca J. Rushin, Fitzgerald; Rosemarie A. Nili, Albany; Marvene Truesler, Blackshear; James E. Hall, Blackshear; Mary N. Wolf, Waycross.

The officers include President Walter Harvey, of Waycross, from Moultrie; Vice-President John MacLeod, of Barre VT; and Secretary Duncan B. Blackshear, of Waycross.

The Valdosta State College Veterans Association is now an official campus organization. The announcement was made by Walter B. Harvey, Jr., president of the VSCA, after SGA approval was given to the organization's constitution.

"The purpose of the VSCA is to promote the interests of the veterans on campus and to participate in campus activities," said Dr. Harvey.

Elections were held Jan. 22. The officers included President Walter B. Harvey, Jr., a senior from Moultrie; Vice-President John MacLeod, of Barre VT; and Secretary Duncan B. Blackshear, of Waycross.

Carroll Walters, of Ray City, was elected treasurer, and Lightsey, a junior from Valdosta, was elected public relations officer.

Membership in the organization is open to all veterans on campus. News letters will be sent to all veterans with information concerning the Association and the date of the next meeting.

Education Major To Run For State SGEA Office

by Cherri Collins

A VSC junior, Daniel Avery, will run for the position of first vice-president at the Student Georgia Education Association Convention, to be held in Atlanta February 14 and 15.

"I'm interested in the future of education in Georgia," he said, "and I feel that the education trend is on an upward swing, never to be stopped." A native of Bainbridge, Daniel has attended both SGEA conventions and Leadership Training conferences, which are held in the fall.

The elementary education major wants "to relate to the students of Georgia and to help them to understand the kind of career they are going into."

Promotes Interest

"I hope to promote the interests of the teacher profession," he continued, "and to bring the status of the teacher profession, and to bring the status of the teacher-image up."

The elementary education major wants "to relate to the students of Georgia and to help them to understand the kind of career they are going into."

Office Arranges Exit Interviews

All National Defense Loan recipients should be sure to arrange to have an Exit Interview before permanent leaving VSC. Go by the Student Affairs Office in West Hall and make an appointment if this applies to you.

1968, was first runner-up Mr. Baldwin at ABAC, served as vice-president of his sophomore class, was vice-president and later president of the Student Education Association, and was a member of Mu Alpha Theta honorary math club, Circle K, Student Council, and College Disciplinary Committee.

Completing his second quarter at Valdosta State, he is deputization chairman at the BSU and a member of the SAEA, and likes to hunt, play the guitar, and practice basketball.

Participation

"Education students are definitely depriving themselves of an understanding of the profession by not being members of the SGEA," he said, and urged education majors to participate in the club.

"I believe," he continued, "that my profession is one of the best, and that I can best aid it by serving in the office."

The primary purpose of the student financial aid program is to provide financial assistance to students, who, without such aid, would be unable to attend college.

Financial insecurity is often the determining factor in preventing a student from attending college. Recognizing this problem, Valdosta State has developed, through various public and private resources, several programs of financial aid for assisting deserving students.

dr. Martin pointed out that the largest portion of the new building will be laboratory space, leaving quarters of the chemistry, physics, biology, and mathematics departments to be housed in Nevins Hall.

Financial insecurity is often the determining factor in preventing a student from attending college. Recognizing this problem, Valdosta State has developed, through various public and private resources, several programs of financial aid for assisting deserving students.

In order to obtain basic standards, the financial department requires a Parents' Confidential Statement, prepared by the College Scholarship Service, to be filed with the office.

Current students must file renewal applications by April 10. Late applications will be considered only if funds are available after consideration of applications received on time.

The following is a random sampling of the assistance that the office may grant:

Educational Opportunity Grants - given to "exceptionally needy" students, in amounts up to $600 a year.

State Teacher's Scholarships - given to B average or better students who are majoring in teacher education, and are required by the Georgia School of Education.

State Scholarship Commission - grants to Georgia residents studying college career teaching, dental hygiene, dentistry, dietetics, exceptional children, hospital administration, inhalation therapy, law, medical illustration, medical records, medical technology, nursing, occupational therapy, school psychology, social work, X-ray technology, and related fields.

Physics Scholarship - awarded to an applicant, planning a future career in physics, for S1000 distributed over three quarters. Valdosta Chamber of Commerce, provided by merchants and organizations, given to Lowndes County students with at least a C average.

National Defense Loan Program - provided by merchants and organizations, given to Lowndes County students with at least a C average.

Pajama Spree Highlights VSC Winter Production

by Kay Williams

Sirokin, the male lead in "The Pajama Game," Keith is a pre-med student. Sally O'Leary, a junior transfer student from Atlanta, will play the leading female part of Babe Williams.

As the play opens, Sid Sirokin is the new superintendent of the Sleep Tite Pajama Company where the factory workers are planning to strike for a 7 1/2c raise.

Sid falls in love with Babe, the head of the Grievance Committee. Though they love each other deeply, their loyalties are on opposite sides of the bargaining table, and Sid is forced to fire Babe from her job at the factory.

Sid discovers that Hassler, the boss, has been juggling the company's books. Threatening to reveal his knowledge to the Board of Directors, Sid forces Hassler to grant the 7 1/2c raise.

Fred, played by Ed Green from Jacksonville, is the president of the union. A married man, he has an eye for women and takes advantage of any situation that arises.

Hines, played by Steve Sayfried from Valdosta, is the enviously jealous boyfriend of Gladys, a secretary at the Sleep Tite Pajama Company. Gladys is played by Diane Stewart, a senior from Albany.

"The Pajama Game" will feature many big musical and dance production numbers, including "Seven - and - a - Half Cents," "Once a Year Day," and "Hernando's Hideaway."

Other songs in the show will include "Hey There," "I'll Never Be Jealous Again," and "Steam Heat."

Mr. Robert Spell is directing the show, with Elinor Davis, a senior from Cairo, acting as assistant director.

Mrs. Gaynelle Spell is musical director, with Mr. Sanford Campbell serving as conductor of the VSC orchestra.

Other songs in the show will include "Hey There," "I'll Never Be Jealous Again," and "Steam Heat."

Mr. Joel Boatright is the technical director for "The Pajama Game." Gary Cloud is the show's choreographer. Additions to the cast include Jimmy Hicks, a sophomore from Macon, and Larry Long, a junior from Valdosta.

Deshaies Exhibits Art

An exhibition of prints by Arthur Deshaies is being shown in the Lowndes County Public Library until February 10.

Born in Providence, R. L., the artist began to create his own prints at the age of ten.

Breaking traditional concepts and barriers in the print medium, he has participated in almost every national print exhibition. Since 1963, Mr. Deshaies has been an associate professor of art at Florida State University at Tallahassee.

Howie Hanger Trio To Present Concert In Gym

by Ray Williams

The Howie Hanger Trio will perform in a concert Feb. 7 at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium. The program is being sponsored by the Student Religious Council.

The Trio plays music classified as "Sacred Music for Secular Man," but the group plays all types of music, from an eighth century plain song to "Hang On Sloopy." Dave Brubeck's "Take Five" is often followed by Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." To the group no music is either "Sacred" or "secular" but nearly all is used as a vehicle for worship.

Howard Hanger, a senior in the Candler School of Theology, is the group's leader and pianist. Mike Givens, a student of business administration at Georgia State College, is the guitar and bass player. Paul Reeve, percussionist, is a pre-dental student at Georgia State.

Now in its third year, the Howie Hanger Trio continues to experiment and promote creative expression through the Church. As the chaplain on a Florida University campus put it, "Forms must change; the Trio shows how exciting change can be."

The Trio has performed at colleges and universities throughout the Eastern Seaboard, Midwest and much of the West. The group is making plans for a European tour in the future.

Larry Mann, Ricky Pounds, and Tommy Glenda have their shoes polished by KD's Becky Scarborough and Brenda Martin.
THE HUMAN CARE PACKAGE

There is a man somewhere who has nothing. Maybe you'd like to give him something. Here are some suggestions.

Send him patience. He'll appreciate it for the rest of his life.
Send him understanding. It's something he can use.
Send him kindness. That's something that'll never go out of style.
Send him the one thing only you can give him. Send him you.

The service will coordinate the efforts of various colleges to meet the demands and needs of students and public school systems.

Develop Courses

The group will develop a band of courses to be offered in any institution, to provide service teaching, and to standardize credit transfers to other schools.

The first course approved will be offered in February, reports Dr. Gerlock. “It is hoped,” says Dr. Gerlock, “that this sequence will certify instructors for the teaching of mentally retarded students.”

Brooks Fills Vacancy

In Comptroller Post

Samuel W. Brooks, III, has been named acting comptroller at Valdosta State College, according to VSC President S. Walter Martin.

Succeeds McCoy

Assistant Comptroller since 1967, Brooks succeeds Shealy E. McCoy, comptroller for the past 18 years, who has been promoted to vice-chancellor for fiscal affairs of the University System of Georgia. Brooks' appointment is effective since Jan. 15, President Martin said.

A native of Boston, Ga., Brooks holds the Bachelor of Science degree from Valdosta State, and the Master of Business Administration from the University of Georgia. He came to VSC in 1965 as a member of the faculty in the business administration department. He was acting head of the department for the academic year 1966-67, until named assistant comptroller on July 1 of that year.

Association Member

Brooks is a member of the American Accounting Association, Georgia Business Education Association, and the American Association of University Professors. He served as treasurer of the Valdosta Chapter of the latter organization in 1966-67. He is a member and faculty advisor of Delta Chi social fraternity, and a member of the Boston Methodists Church.

VSC Senior Opinion Poll
Reveals Student Attitudes
by Glen Breland

Recently a number of questions pertaining to the rules, regulations, attitudes of professors toward teacher-student contact and attitudes of students on campus issues were asked of a group of VSC seniors.

Because of the nature of the questions asked, the answers reflect directly on all phases of VSC student and faculty involvement.

In an opinion poll such as this the answers do not necessarily denote a general consensus, but it is interesting to consider the implications presented. The following are representative questions of the survey.

PART I
QUESTION
Students are given the opportunity to try out a variety of course areas before deciding on a major. Course offerings are designed to accommodate a wide range of educational-vocational career plans. Juniors and seniors are given considerable freedom in choosing their courses.

After reading these questions what conclusions do you develop? Does there seem to be, at least on the student side, a slant toward non-involvement? Although only one group was used in this particular survey, do you think that the circumstances would not be considerably varied if more students were used? How many people do you know that are deeply or even moderately involved in any campus issue?

If there is anyone who wishes to write on any of the material, please write to Campus Canopy, VSC Box 207.

Fate Rejects Most Volunteers

The first time my friend Tom Rogers volunteered, he was the best of his pants. The first time I did I was bitten by a horse. I suppose there wasn’t any particular connection or hidden meaning in either incident. Tom wasn’t an ex- camp vandal, but he did accidentally sus- ceptedly punish myself for crying my mother and father into letting me stay at camp two extra weeks. Actually, Tom’s parents do show us little rules rule our later lives.

Actually, Tom probably would have wet his pants anyway. He was that kind, always waiting until the last minute to do his homework. It was the morning of Tom’s tragedy, I had come by as usual to walk to school with him, and, as usual, Tom was still in bed. At any rate, when Tom is in bed, he has to get up for a half hour of homework and an hour of history without a recess.

When the bell rang, Miss Brown began talk- ing about the school pageant again, how much fun it was going to be and how historical it was and how we all had to do our best. Then Miss Brown went down the room listing all the absent boys; what she thought was best was to be a fate worse than death.

That was the second horse I rode that fixed a lifelong fear of volunteering in my mind. Her name was Jenny, and we came to terms with one another at camp. Every summer I got to go to camp in the mountains near Prescott, Arizona.

There was something special in going to camp, particularly the second time, because by then you were a member of The Rising Sons (the pun is too awful to think about today) and, if you were lucky, as I was, the Council of Chiefs (read “big boys”) made you Warrior of the Tent.

Then the tent wasn’t perfect, the tents weren’t really tents (they were old CCC buildings) and that being such a Warrior meant you had to make sure the smaller boys were tucked in at night, had clean beds, etc. I was the only one in the group who didn’t like me because she was a horse or because she was a female.

That was the same thing from Miss Brown, the principal, the Sunday School teacher, and our parents. There was a power struggle.

The part of George Washington was simple enough. Every class has its best student, the marching, the perfect papers, gold stars for attendance (somehow he never got sick) and, if you were lucky, you were the one who got to go to camp in the mountains near Prescott, Arizona.

I was asked to write an editorial about the Greek System on Valdosta State College’s Campus. I can not in honesty write an editorial about the Greek System because I believe that it is not fair to pull a fire alarm.

Recently the biggest joke on campus has been constant pulling of fire alarms.

On the surface this act may be terribly humorous and thrilling to the persons concerned. However, in reality, this is childish, thoughtless, and endangering the lives of others.

There are many other hazards involved with pulling fire alarms. Panic may occur, resulting in some bad mishaps, which could prove fatal if ignored. For example, a person may be taking a shower, and could very easily slip and injure himself.

In addition, one must remember the health aspect. The weather is prone to being very cold in bad colds or even pneumonia. No one likes to stand out in the pouring rain or freezing cold for fifteen or twenty minutes.

It is very possible that a person may also have a heart condition, and the shock or stress may cause him to have a heart attack. As one great philosopher said, “Think before you act.”

Dr. Carter Leaves Legacy Of Devotion To Education

Majoring in physical education and only minorin in biology, Marjorie Estelle Carter graduated from William and Mary College in 1927. Although most people knew Dr. Carter as a fine biologist, few realize that her first teaching assignment at VSC was in horsemanship. Served 33 years She was admired and respected by all who knew her. Dr. Carter, as observed by one of her former students and colleagues, through the constant drive and determination she exhibited, set the atmosphere for student study. During her 33 years of service she held varied positions at VSC. From 1935-1955 she was assistant to the Dean of Women, and during the same period she was director of Ashley and Converse Halls. She was also academic advisor to pharmacy and dentistry majors, and only they can tell what great help she provided. Although Dr. Carter originally taught physical education courses, at the same time she taught some survey biology courses. In 1941 she received the M.A. from the University of Virginia in biology, and by 1944 she was an instructor in that subject. Six years after receiving her Ph.D. in biology, also from the University of Virginia, she was appointed professor of biology. Dr. Carter prepared her doctoral thesis on “The Postembryonic Development in Three Species of Harpacticoid Copepods.” Smithsonian Wongs Recently the Smithsonian Institution expressed a desire to publish her thesis. After the final arrangements are made, it will be published and added to the collection of the Smithsonian.

Dr. Carter belonged to many organizations. She was a member of the Lecture Series, patron and donor to the Valdosta Entertainment Committee. Professional organizations included: American Association for the Advancement of Science, American Association of University Women, American Microscopical Society, American Association of University Professors, Association of Southeastern Biologists and the Georgia Academy of Science.

Fred Godwin, president of the VSC chapter, said that many VSC and Pi Kappa Philosophers attended the event, along with two national figures connected with the fraternity. Although most people knew Dr. Carter originally for her teaching, she was also a very cultured woman, interested in the arts, especially in literature. She was certainly a credit to our institution, and will long be remembered and honored.
