Hargett To Head VSC Public Services Dept.

Earl F. Hargett, former president of Brunswick Junior College, will join Valdosta State College in August as Director of Public Services, according to an announcement by VSC President S. Walter Martin.

"The position Mr. Hargett will fill is new and takes in a wide range of programs and projects," Dr. Martin said. "Valdosta State College has needed a Director of Public Services for some time, and we are fortunate to have obtained the services of Earl Hargett."

Mr. Hargett's work will be involved in the areas of continuing and adult education, community services, educational institutes, educational projects on and off the campus, institutional research, federal projects, grants and contracts, and special assignments.

"Mr. Hargett has a sound educational background," Dr. Martin said. "He has been a junior college president and was recently involved in a special research project for the Board of Regents. He is familiar with all areas of the educational system and this familiarity will benefit him in his job here."

Mr. Hargett received his B.S. degree from State Teachers College in Florence, Ala., and the M.A. degree from Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn. He is currently working on the Ed. D. degree at the University of Tenn. and expects to receive his doctorate in July.

After teaching for several years in Alabama, Georgia and Miss., Mr. Hargett was named the first president of Brunswick Junior College in 1964.

Mr. Hargett is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, American Association of Junior Colleges, National Education Association and is director and vice-president of the Georgia Adult Education Council. He is the author of many

VSC Offers 9 Internships For South Georgia Region

Valdosta State College, in cooperation with the Southern Regional Education Board and Area Planning and Development commissions in the South Georgia area, is making available at least nine internships open to full-status juniors, seniors, and graduate students for Summer Quarter 1969.

Internships essentially involve working directly with resource development agencies and community action programs in the South Georgia region. Internships require full-time work for the summer quarter. Tuition-free stipends range from $840 to $960 plus basic travel expenses. Academic credit not to exceed five quarter hours might be allowed if desired.

Interns will be chosen from any academic area on the basis of academic achievement, social and intellectual maturity, writing ability, and capability for independent work.

Application forms are available in this office (Dean Pafford's) or in the office of Dr. David P. Lewis, Department of Economics-Business Administration.

THE DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS IS WEDNESDAY, MAY 21. Internships for the coming summer will be awarded shortly after this date.

Nursing Department Receives Scholarship, Loan For Majors

The Department of Nursing at Valdosta State College, in its first year as a four-year course of study, has received a "shot in the arm" in the form of a scholarship loan and a scholarship award which will become available fall quarter 1969.

The Kate Bentley Scholarship Loan of $1,000 and the Kate Bentley Scholarship Award of $100 have been established at VSC by a committee of interested Valdosta citizens. Monies for the two programs will come from the Kate Bentley Trust Fund, to be managed by three trustees in this area.

Mrs. Kate Bentley, a former teacher for many years in the Valdosta public schools, had considerable interest in school children and did not hesitate to spend her own time in giving individual help.

The scholarship loan of $1,000 will be awarded to a nursing student in the junior year, with an additional $1,000 to be awarded in the senior year pending continued satisfactory academic performance. The repayment period with low interest is broken down over a five-year period or may be cancelled by full time employment as a nurse in Valdosta for one year for each loan received.

In the event the recipient attends graduate school, the obligation for the loan will be deferred during the period of enrollment for graduate courses.

Eddie is also a member of Delta Chi social fraternity, the Letterman's Club and the Psychology Club.

Outstanding College Athletes of America is sponsored by the non-profit Outstanding Americans Foundation. John Putman, one of the 10 outstanding young men of America in 1966 and president of the Foundation, said,

Buskin Sponsors Forum; Awards Liles, Carellas

by Kay Williams

The thirteenth quarterly speech forum was held in Pound Hall auditorium May 13 at 7 p.m. The forum is sponsored by Sock and Buskin, VSC's speech and drama club.

Speakers were judged in two divisions, persuasive and entertaining. The judging was done on the basis of speech content and elivry.

Malcolm Liles captured first place in the entertaining division with his speech entitled "Rebel Yell."

Connie Carellas won first place in the persuasive category for her speech on "Capital Punishment."

On May 8, 9, and 10 "The Lady's Not for Burning" was presented on the stage at Pound Hall to a totally involved audience. The players were almost completely successful in portraying their characters; and with the team effort the story unfolded as a wonderfully wry comedy.

In only a few instances were comic situations lost to faulty cues or under-reaction by another actor. Actually, in many instances the audience would miss one line because it was still chuckling at the last one.

Another minor flaw the production was found in the blocking, which was rather stiff in a few places. An example of this was in the final scene where Annie Skippis, played excellently by Nancy Hamlin was brought in. She was roaring drunk, but the rest of the people on stage seemed rooted to their places as if she had been as sober as the Reverend Mother.

Graceful and articulate, Larry Long portrayed the Character of Thomas Mendip with skill and deep insight into the personality of this discharged and frustrated soldier. Playing opposite him, Bronwyn Clarke enacted the role of Jennet Jourdemayne convincingly.

In another romantic coupling, that of Alizon and Richard, the acting was equally touching and well done. Sally O'Leary, late heroine of "The Pajama Game," played the role of the naive and lovely convent bred schoolgirl Alizon. The orphaned clerk Richard was a delightfully entrancing character as played by Danny Peterman.

The Devize family, representing the hypocrisy in the world which was driving Thomas to the gallows, was played by a talented trio of people. Marcia Owens, as Margaret, dripped motherly affection on her two boys who were Nicholas, played by Harvey Ray and Humphrey, played by Riley Howard.

The host to this weird assemblage was Mayor Hebble Tyson, or Clifton Young. He moaned and berated; he cried and commanded; he sniffed and he snorted; he portrayed a person with an innate weakness, one who compensated for himself in each of his public statements. And Mr. Young played it convincingly and well.

In her return to the stage since "After the Fall," Valerie Chapman had the part of the Reverend Mother. Wrinkled and wise with age, this character was regarded as an annoying but comic relief to the other residents of Cook Clary; whereas the audience saw her in her further dimensions, those depth and sage.

Edward Tappercom, Steve Seyfried, was the epitome of wryness in the story. His delivery of intricate and pointed lines was articulate and well timed. For those of the audience who were listening closely enough, he provided a great number of laughs, as well as points to ponder.

Equally important as the Dramatis Personae are those who work back stage before, during and after a production. This group did an excellent job in the production.

The set, sans players, was tranquil and beautiful, with the "Moon" glowing onto the muted orange-ish arches and windows. The beauty of the set and costumes were effectively off set by the lighting which was designed by Caroline Veal and controlled by Paul Moemon.

Mr. Joel Boatright was dynamism non-ending during the preparations for this production. Under the title of Technical director he supervised the carpentry of Bob Sutton, and the make-up work of Vickie Vickers, and in general "set the stage" for the final production of "The Lady's Not for Burning."

The multi-stepped operation of painting was headed by Steve Seyfried. Ed Green supervised the sound effects, well timed and accurate.

Costuming, an almost indispensable department of any back-stage crew, was headed by Frances Rowe. She designed, and supervised the tailoring of all the costumes.

All in all, Director Nelson Hitchcock and Assistant Director and Stage Manager Sherron Long can and should be proud of their success with "The Lady's Not for Burning."

Foundation Drive Tops Goal

by Maureen Quinn

The Foundation Drive, held on May 13 was a tremendous success. The total monies collected by the various organizations amounted to $2,230.73, to be matched on a nine to one basis by the government. This brings the total amount to be available for scholarships to the sum of $23 thousand dollars.

The proceedings started at 2:30 on Thursday afternoon. For the occasion classes were cancelled enthusiastically, down North Patterson Street to the end point at the City Hall.

Along the route of march, demonstrators from the various organizations including the Sock N' Buskin Club and the Greek groups went into stores soliciting donations from the shopkeeper that hour for all students. The drive started with a Demonstration composed of about 300 students merging on the lawn in front of West Hall. Cameras from a local television station were present to record the event. The march proceeded, gay and

The four foot nine inch trophy was presented to the Delta Chi Fraternity, which collected a total of $356.21. The first runner up in high collections was the Phi Mu Sorority with a total of $333.52.

The VSC Foundation is a chartered, non-profit organization composed of south Georgia friends of Valdosta State College. This year, the money, collected and matched, will be used for the following purposes: for Nursing Scholarships; for an Endowment Fund which serves as a buffer to an institution during periods of tremendous growth as VSC is now experiencing; and for a General Fund.

In keeping with the light but purposeful spirit of the march, the marchers wore the brightly colored sweatshirts of their sororities and fraternities.

Sock N' Buskin came arrayed in costumes of all periods and all moods, from 'ye old court jester' to the monkey and the organ grinder. It was this last costume duo that won the $5.00 prize for the most original display.

Ed Lightsey, member of the VSC Veteran's Association and leader of the march with Walter Harvey, was enthusiastic about the support given the march and the drive by the students and by the community in general.

Summer Resembles Death Valley - Entire Campus Becomes Dormant

From what I have learned through conversations with students who have attended summer school at VSC, the campus is even more dead in summer than during the other three quarters. I am attending summer school for the first time this year and certainly do not look forward to this.

Most educators agree that extra-curricular activities are very important to the development of a well-rounded person. At a dialogue recently, Dean of Student Affairs George Young even said that the tendency today was to call extra-curriculum "intra-curriculum."

If this is the case, why then are intra-curricular activities almost completely neglected summer quarter at VSC?

It appears that no clubs on campus are active during the summer. There are no dramatic productions offered by the speech and drama department.

No cultural events are planned for the college, and the Campus Canopy is not printed. (The latter is understandable for there is no news to print when nothing is happening.)

There are no athletic events to attend during the summer months, nor are there any intramural sports in which to participate.

Student government officers are elected to serve for four quarters. What do they do during the summer months other than collect their checks? It is most likely that they are working on preparations for the new academic year. It seems as if students attending summer school deserve more attention than they are given.

Perhaps I should ask the Student Union Board what it does summer quarter. Other than the swimming pool and a couple of dances, what do the students get from their activities fees during summer quarter? It is quite nice to swim during the day, but what is there planned for students to do during the evening?

Can't something be done to prevent this summer from being as dead as previous summer quarters at Valdosta State? Someone is neglecting his responsibility. Is it you?

Letter to Editor

Prof. Clarifies Curriculum Issue

To the Editor:

The article which, I believe, appeared in your last issue concerning my views about an interdisciplinary program has apparently given the impression that such a program exists now at VSC, or has been implemented so that it is to be offered soon. This is not the case. There is no such a program in the books. For such a program to become a reality, it must be formally proposed to the academic council, every aspect of it hashed out by the proper committee and it must eventually be voted upon by the academic council. All of this takes time.

I therefore wish you would make clear that this program is really no program at all but just something I wish for as an addition to the curriculum here at VSC.

SGA Senate Minutes

By Karen Luke

The S.G.A. Senate held a call meeting on Wednesday night, May 14. Several proposals were discussed including the possibility of the student body sponsoring an academic scholarship for a student not financially able to attend college. Another proposal was that of the establishment of a public relations committee for students.

Also discussed was the need for the bulletin board outside the Student Union which was suggested in a previous issue of the Canopy by Mr. Stan DeHart. This display would provide a central information center which would be easily accessible to students.

The Senate voted to abolish the Student Religious Council, an action which was based upon the recommendation of the council's advisors, Dr. Hunter and Mr. O. C. Dean who said that the organization served no useful purpose.

Plans for an S.G.A. workshop during the week prior to Freshman Orientation were announced. Mike Strom was appointed to the position of Parliamentarian. Howard Freeman gave a report on some faulty lighting in certain areas of the campus. The library has been dimly lit lately because the pipes from the gaslights had to be shut off due to the construction which is going on for the new dorms. Howard also reported that a floodlight has been placed outside of the library, and that another one is planned for a location closer to West Hall.

President Charlie Howell told the Senate that Student Court appointments will be presented for consideration and approval at the next SGA meeting.

The SGA members wish to stress that their meetings are open to any student at VSC. Every office as well as every member of the SGA needs the support of each and every individual student during the coming year.

New Residence Assistants Posted

by Maureen Quinn

Senior Ronnie Williams and junior Jim Jennings will be the Resident Assistants in Lowndes Hall.

In Reade Hall the assistants will be senior Becca Giles; senior Reba Luke; sophomore Carolyn Herin; and Sharon Costello, a junior.

Miss Grey Johnson, the director of the program, wishes to stress that the emphasis of the Resident Assistant Program during the following year will be on student contact, rather than on student discipline, as it has been in the past. The responsibilities of the Resident Assistants will fall into five general categories.

The first is to "establish a pleasant environment in the residence hall." Assisting the individual student is the second goal. The third area of responsibility is that of "advising and supporting residence hall activities such as intramurals and homecoming."

The last two functions of these students are directed toward administrative tasks, one being to enforce the rules and regulations of the college and the residence hall, and the other item is assisting with administrative details.

This program has been carefully planned by the administration and the office of student affairs. The participants in the program have been attending workshops and lectures and question-answer sessions for some time now. It is the hope of the Office of Student Affairs that The Resident Assistant Program will be successful in every way as well as beneficial to the resident student body.
